To multiply the effectiveness of his own and his employes' labor, he installed modern equipment—tractors, trucks, cultivating and harvesting machinery.

To run these machines gasoline, kerosene, lubricating oils, and greases were absolutely necessary. To get them the farmer would have been forced to take hours of time going to town were it not for the distributing facilities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Company brought the products he needed to the farm, even to the tractor in the field.

It is this kind of service which has brought the farmer and the Company into such close and such friendly relations. It is this kind of service which emphasizes the usefulness of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant.

The Mission of Swift & Company

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs—and the men have the right to answer:

To promote the production of live stock and perishables and increase the food supply;

To reach more people with more and better meat;

To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their capital, and to provide for the future development of the business;

To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;

To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

These are the purposes and motives of the men who direct the policies and practices of Swift & Company.

LOCAL MARINE HAS FRENCH WAR CROSS

LEO MILLAR DECORATED FOR BRAVERY IN ASSISTING WOUNDED.

The only Pennington county soldier who has thus far returned from the war with a decoration is Leo Millar, a member of the Second division of the Sixth Marines. He was with a company that was twice ordered over the top—once at St. Mihiel and again at Chateau Thierry.

On June 6 he was with his command when an important point in their front was captured. They went over at five in the morning and had gained their objective by nine. Millar and a man named Nelson, hailing from Seattle, were not wounded and turned in to help some of those who were, being all the time exposed to the fire of the enemy. They assisted their comrades to a dressing station and the following morning both were awarded the French war cross.

Millar says that the securing of this decoration was largely luck. He is very modest about it and is sure that any number of fellows in his company were as much entitled to the honor as was he and his partner. In spite of decorations or anything else he wants no more war.

While young Millar was in the army his father, the late Alexander H. Millar, died in this city, but his mother was on the old place to welcome him.

Young Folks Married.

Judge N. W. Tarrant on Saturday performed the marriage ceremony for two young couples, the proceeding being of more than usual interest because of the youth of the contracting parties. Obert Henry Morbin was married to Mathilda Rose Zavoral, both being below the legal age and needing the consent of their parents to the union. James A. Smith was married to Hiren M. LeSage, the groom being less than 21 years of age.

All these young people are well known and much respected in the city where they have resided many years.

BOY SCOUTS WANT GROWN ASSOCIATES

CAMPAIGN ON TO SECURE 51 MEMBERS IN PENNINGTON COUNTY.

G. Howard Smith has been named Pennington county chairman for the drive to be carried on during the week of June 8 to 11 for the purpose of securing 1,000,000 associate members in the country for the boy scouts. The county's quota is 51. Mr. Smith has appointed the following committee to have the solicitation in charge: Rev. J. A. Orrock, R. M. Sheldon, Dr. L. F. Fisher, L. H. Lawrence and Carl Sundahl. This committee will meet at the office of Chairman Smith at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening for the purpose of adopting plans.

The people of the country are asked to assist in this movement as a recognition of the scouts' work during the war, particularly the assistance given by them in the sale of Liberty Bonds and stamps. In the first four loan campaigns the boys sold $287,000,000 worth of bonds and they have been the agents in disposing of $42,000,000 worth of the smaller securities. They located 52 carloads of black walnut for use in manufacturing gun stocks and collected 100 carloads of fruit pits.

They are now in need of money in order to maintain their organization and it should be freely forthcoming.

Dancing Party.

Miss Caspara Gran entertained a number of friends at her home, 319 Conley avenue north Wednesday evening. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all partaking, after which a delicious lunch was served at midnight.

MEMORIAL TABLET PLACED IN SCHOOL

ROLL OF HONOR CONTAINS 185 NAMES—FOUR GOLD STARS.

The memorial tablet provided by the class of 1919 in honor of the former students of the Thief River Falls high school who served in the great war was yesterday hung in the assembly room of the Lincoln building. It contains the names, alphabetically arranged, of all those who formerly were students at the institution and who answered the call. There are 185 young men represented, their names being [illegible] on brass strips and attached to the [illegible] of [illegible]. Four names are followed by stars, [illegible] who died in the conflict. They were Oscar Bakken, Audley Caldwell, [illegible] and George Poston.

There are quite a number of families from which more than one member had a hand in the big fight. The Provenchers and McCrums lead the procession, there being four from each household. Philip Zeh comes next with three boys in some branch of the service. A rather unusual fact in connection with these 11 representatives of our city is that all of them are coming back, only one having been wounded and he but slightly.

LIQUOR REPEAL IS NOT VERY LIKELY

BILL MAY NOT BE REPORTED OUT OF COMMITTEE PRIOR TO JULY 1.

Notwithstanding President Wilson's recommendation for repeal of wartime prohibition, insofar as it relates to wines and beers, the opinion seems to gain ground at Washington that all repeal measures would be kept in committee until after July 1.

In the meantime, however, prohibition leaders plan to enact legislation for enforcement of the wartime prohibition act and the constitutional amendment. Senator Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas, author of the wartime act, said today he was confident enforcement legislation would be passed before July 1.

There was no disposition on the part of the majority leaders, it was said, to hasten consideration of a repeal measure, nor were they impressed with the argument that it might be well to test out the saloon system from which hard liquors are to be eliminated when the whole country is to become dry by constitutional amendment next year.

The only apparent move was by prohibition leaders who were outspoken in their opposition to the president's recommendation, regardless of party lines. They let it be known that they would oppose any substitute liquor bill and would make every effort to prevent favorable committee action on any measure that would delay national prohibition.

MAVIE

Mr. Speller, a business man of this place may be a good merchant, but he is not much of a butcher. Several days ago he tried to kill a cow at the local yard. After shooting bossy dead as he thought, he took the gun back to the shop and when he returned to the scene of battle he found the gentle bovine calmly grazing on the lawn.

A large crowd gathered at the Mavie hall last Saturday night to step the light fantastic. An orchestra from Goodridge furnished the music and a good time was had by all present.

The callers at the Tally home last Sunday night were: Corp. Edward Sehle, Jerry Hruby, Emma Ptacek, Alice Hruby, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ptacek and Bob Oski. They were entertained with music and games.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Holman and the Geo. Gunderson family visited at the Sehle home Sunday evening.

Pte. Alex Svensgaard was kicked by a horse some time ago and was so severely injured that he has been confined in bed ever since the accident happened.

Henry Klockman and John Oski made a fast trip to Thief River Falls Sunday night, but they had lots of hard luck coming home. They had two punctures in town and a couple of blow-outs on the road.

SECURE THREE ARMY TRUCKS AS ROAD AIDS

COMMISSIONERS MAY ALSO RENT GAS TRACTOR TO HANDLE MATERIAL

FAIR HELP IS CUT SHORT

APPROPRIATION REDUCED TO $200—HALF AS MUCH FOR GOODRIDGE FAIR

Three army trucks will be employed on the state roads in Pennington county this summer. The commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday decided to make application for the use of these contrivances and they will be put to work as soon as they arrive from St. Paul. The county pays no rental for the machines, the only cost being the transportation charges to this city and the upkeep.

The matter of renting a tractor was also favorably considered, although no definite action was taken with regard to this matter. The argument was advanced that it would be necessary to hire a competent man to take charge of the trucks and he could as well look after the tractor at the same time.

Fair Appropriation Cut.

The board evidently believes that the county fair ought soon to have reached a point where it is self-sustaining as they cut the usual appropriation of $600 down to $200, but added another hundred to the sum, this last to be used in assisting the Tri-County fair at Goodridge.

Build Connecting Link.

The commissioners authorized the laying out of a piece of road running straight north from Oklee and connecting with State road No. 4 east of St. Hilaire. This will bring a fine section of country into Thief River Falls trading territory.

Two and a half miles of grading was also ordered done on the Pembina trail, starting at the intersection of that highway with State road No. 6.

School Application Refused.

A number of citizens of Mayfield township were present to urge the formation of a new school district in their section. The petition was denied on the ground that the district is at present unorganized and comprises a part of Red Lake county. In case the petition was granted it would leave the people residing in the last named county without school facilities and the board did not consider the matter of sufficient importance to put this inconvenience upon them.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR HOLSTEIN SIRE

HANS ANTON SELLS FINE ANIMAL FOR NEAT SUM OF $1,500.

Another forceful illustration of the fact that it pays to raise the very best live stock was furnished this week when Hans Anton, local breeder of Holsteins, sold a sire for the unusual sum of $1,500. The purchaser is C. L. McNelly of Dodge Center, county agent of Dodge county, who will place the animal on his farm near Erskine.

This Holstein bull is three years old and has been the property of Mr. Anton for the past two years. His official name is King Ormsby Korndyke Bess, and his registry number 185,697. In addition to the large sum of money received for the animal, Mr. Anton has in his herd something like 25 head of fine young Holsteins sired by this exceptional bull. For this reason it is difficult to reckon the value of such an animal in dollars and cents.

Mr. Anton is not, however, without a sire to head his herd as a result of this sale. He has another Holstein, Ormsby Beaut Clothilde, which Mr. McNelly wanted and for which he offered the same price as the one secured. Mr. Anton would not sell the animal at any price, feeling that he could not afford to reduce the standard of his herd through the sale of his best sire.

COUNCIL OPPOSES HIGHWAY CHANGE

MEANS PROPOSED TO IMPROVE PRESENT COURSE OF JEFFERSON ROAD

The city council is of the opinion that it would be a serious mistake to change the course of the Jefferson highway so as to have it run north and enter the city by way of First street west. It is feared that such a change will tend to keep tourists from passing through the city, making it easier for them to take the road along the western outskirts of the city until the Jefferson road leading west is reached. A committee consisting of Aldermen Froseth, Brumund and Brandon was appointed to meet with the county commissioners to see what can be done toward improving the present course of the highway in such a manner that it would become unnecessary to make the proposed change in the routing.

Aside from this and the theatre ordinance, business at the council meeting Tuesday evening was mostly of a routine nature. L. D. McAdams was given the contract for constructing the cement sidewalk at the east approach of the bridge across Red Lake river, making a bid of $1,925 for the work.

The application of Hilma Lidgn, deputy city clerk, for a raise in salary of $10 per month was laid on the table. A carload of poles to be used by the electric light department was ordered and will be utilized in making extensions recently determined upon by the council.

A new sewer was ordered on Kendall avenue between Johnson and Taft streets, and on Tindolph avenue between James and Nora streets. Water mains were ordered laid on Kendall and Tindolph avenues, between Taft and Johnson and between James and Nora streets. Mains also were ordered placed on Knight avenue south on Zeh street to Duluth avenue, on Duluth between Zeh street and Backe street, and from Duluth to Riverside on Backe street.

After passing the usual batch of bills, the council adjourned until the next regular meeting.

ARE PREPARING FOR A TRI-COUNTY FAIR

FIRST EXHIBIT WILL BE HELD AT GOODRIDGE SEPT. 22 AND 23.

The tri-county fair idea has taken firm hold of the people residing in the eastern part of Pennington county, southern Marshall county and western Beltrami. The citizens of these districts have a great deal in common and have decided that they should have a fair devoted to the display of their products alone and not in any way connected with the regular county fairs, from which they are often far removed. The dates for the first of these tri-county exhibits are Sept. 22 and 23, and it will be held at Goodridge.

The people of the hustling village to the east are already preparing to make this the gala event of their history. A committee composed of R. Morin, M. G. Thorson, Nick Bundhund and J. P. Jensen, is working out the details and have gotten part of the program under way. In order to raise funds for the defraying of a part of the expense there will be a public auction held there on June 20, at which time all persons interested are asked to bring in something to put up for sale and donate the proceeds to the common cause. There will be a big dance in the evening, the money taken in by this means also going to help the fair.

The Pennington county commissioners showed their good will toward the enterprise by making an appropriation of $100 to help cover expenses.

May Lose Arm.

Nels Benoit, manager of the Red Lake Falls Milling company's elevator at St. Hilaire, was seriously injured last Wednesday afternoon while at work in the elevator. While attempting to clean up under the elevator when the machinery was still in motion his sleeve was caught in the revolving machinery and his arm dragged into the worm conveyor. Two fingers were taken off by the machinery and the flesh stripped from his arm from the elbow down. At last reports the surgeons were in hopes of saving the member.

Attending Firemen's Convention.

Fire Chief Paul Midderigh, W. J LaBree and Harry Roberts left Monday night as delegates to the state firemen's meeting at Red Wing. They will be gone about a week and in the meanwhile everybody will kindly refrain from starting any fires or creating any business for the sheriff's office.

BALLARD IS GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

E. C. Ballard, formerly president of the Farmers State bank of Grygla, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny at the June term of the district court being held at Warren. Judge Andrew Grindeland has not yet pronounced sentence and Ballard is out on bail, being permitted a short time in which to arrange his private affairs.

Ballard disappeared last winter under circumstances that caused the directors of the bank to investigate his accounts. It was found that these were in bad shape and a search was instituted for the missing president, but he eluded pursuit for some time. While in St. Paul, ostensibly on a business trip, he disappeared one day and was not heard of for some time. Later he returned to this city, was placed under arrest and has since been out on bail.

HAY TO SPEAK AT BIG PICNIC ON SATURDAY

GOOD PROGRAM OF SPORTS

CASH PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN WINNERS IN THE VARIOUS CONTESTS.

The third annual community picnic of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association will be held at Squaw Point, Thief River Falls, next Saturday, June 14.

This annual event was last year held at Highlanding and brought out one of the largest crowds ever seen in the county. The picnic is one in which the farmers are particularly interested, but the attendance of townspeople has always been large and it is expected that both classes of citizens will this year be more in evidence than ever before.

Hay Principal Speaker.

The program committee this week completed its labors and County Agent J. J. McCann has given out the result. J. H. Hay, formerly superintendent of schools in this city and now assistant commissioner of agriculture for Minnesota, will deliver the principal address, which is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon. This will be the first public appearance of Mr. Hay since his appointment and he is expected to have something of interest to impart concerning the aims of the department with which he is connected. Hans Anton, president of the Farm Bureau association, will be chairman of the meeting.

Lunch will be served at 12 o'clock and the music will be furnished by at least three bands.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR DR. GAMBELL

A farewell banquet in honor of Dr. F. H. Gambell was given on Friday evening at the Hotel Evelyn, the affair being in the nature of a testimonial for his work in behalf of the Red Cross during the war. There were about 50 guests present.

Thos. A. Way, chairman of the Pennington county chapter, officiated as toastmaster, and gave an interesting talk on the work done by the organization in the county in the past and outlined plans for the future. He paid a high tribute to the share taken by Dr. Gambell in the society's activities and predicted for him a successful career in his new undertaking.

Rev. R. L. Barackman thanked Dr. Gambell for the deep interest he has always taken in church work, particularly that of the Presbyterian church. Dr. O. F. Mellby referred to the work of the guest of honor while a member of the school board, while Dr. A. J. Paulson and Dr. Jacob Biederman spoke of the excellent understanding that has always existed between the other resident physicians and Dr. Gambell and praised him as a fellow-worker. C. L. Hansen spoke for him as a citizen and a man, being particularly qualified to do so by reason of their long association in business affairs. Dr. L. F. Fisher, who takes over the offices and business of Dr. Gambell, said he hoped to prove in some measure worthy of the honor and respect his predecessor had enjoyed in the city.

In replying Dr. Gambell showed that he was deeply affected by the many expressions of confidence and friendship of which he had been the subject. He said but little of his work in the community during the 25 years he has been a resident here, but referred feelingly to the many kindnesses shown him. He said he was not saying good-bye as he wished everyone to understand that he was coming back just as soon as his agreement with the Red Cross has been fulfilled. He has not severed connections with Thief River Falls merely because he has chosen to absent himself for awhile, he said, being certain that no other place on earth would ever seem to him like home.

He left Monday afternoon for Seattle where he will arrive in time to catch the last boat of the season for Vladivostock. Mrs. Gambell and the children are spending the summer at their cottage near Detroit but are expected to return and make Thief River Falls their home during the absence of the doctor.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS, ATTENTION.

You are cordially invited to attend the Thief River Gun Club Trap-Shooting Tournament to be held in Thief River Falls June 14 and 15. Guns and shells may be secured on the grounds. Be sure to come.

FINALLY ABANDON CELEBRATION IDEA

CIRCUS COMING ON FOURTH AND OTHER MATTERS INTERFERE.

Thief River Falls will have no rousing celebration of July Fourth this year. This decision was reached at a meeting held at the commercial club room yesterday afternoon when representatives of the club, the Merchants' association and other civic bodies came together to talk the matter over.

Chairman Albert Lieberman of the finance committee, reported that the response had been more than liberal and that there was not a doubt but that the plan could be carried out as far as the money part of it was concerned. Secretary G. Howard Smith called attention to the fact that a license had been issued permitting a circus to show in the city on that day and asserted that anything else in the way of an attraction would most certainly receive but scant attention. Another reason advanced for abandoning the plan was that the Warren fair is being held during the first days of next month and it has been the custom for many of our people to visit the neighboring county seat at that time. This helps the Pennington county fair held here a month later.

In place of a Fourth of July celebration there will be a great homecoming jubilee later in the season in honor of the boys who have returned from the war. This plan was unanimously endorsed at the meeting.

There will be plenty doing in Thief River Falls on the Fourth anyway and the decision will meet with general approval.

LOCAL POST IN AMERICAN LEGION

RETURNED SOLDIERS HAVE SIGNED UP AND APPLIED FOR CHARTER.

A petition has been forwarded to the headquarters of the American Legion by a number of returned soldiers in Pennington county asking that a charter for a post of the organization be granted this city. As soon as the necessary credentials are received there will be a meeting for the purpose of organization.

The only qualification for membership is that the applicant shall have been in the service since April 6, 1917, that he has been discharged and is an American citizen.

The American Legion seems to have absorbed all the other war veteran organizations, some of which were started as soon as the boys began returning. It is the only one that has any standing whatever and is being joined by men all over the country. A meeting for the organization of the men in the Ninth congressional district will be held at Crookston on July 1 at which time the different counties are expected to send delegates. It is announced that Gen. Leonard Wood, Gov. Burnquist and Congressman Steenerson will be present to make addresses.

According to the Crookston Times, organizers have already started out through the district for the purpose of getting new posts under way. J. Harry Sylvester and A. V. Cornelius will be in Thief River Falls on Friday for this purpose.

National Rifle Shoot.

The national board for the promotion of rifle practice will hold its annual shoot at Caldwell, N. J., during July and August this year, and all arms of the service will be represented. NO ACTION ON SUNDAY SHOWS BY CITY DADS

TIE VOTE ON MOTION DELAYS SUNDAY THEATRE ORDINANCE INDEFINITELY.

POSTPONEMENT IS ASKED

ALDERMEN LISTEN TO ARGUMENTS PRO AND CON AT TUESDAY MEETING.

Both sides in the Sunday motion picture controversy stand today exactly where they stood before the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening. A delegation representing those favoring the ordinance was present at the meeting and requested that the third and final reading of the document be postponed until the first regular meeting in July. No reason was given for this request but it was intimated that the Sunday closing advocates were desirous of postponing action until the return of Alderman M. N. Benson to his place on the council. Mr. Benson recently underwent an operation at the local hospital and therefore was unable to be present at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Alderman Froseth moved that action on the ordinance be postponed until the first meeting in July, and the motion was seconded by Alderman Olson. These two voted in the affirmative, while Alderman Brumund and Brandon voted no.

Motion Declared Lost.

The vote being a tie, the motion was declared lost. Alderman Brumund then made a motion to have the ordinance come up for immediate action, but this also failed to carry as the vote stood two to two. Brandon and Brumund voted yes, while Froseth and Olson took the negative side. O. L. Ihle, president of the council, did not vote.

This leaves the matter just where it stood before, and the ordinance will come up in regular order of business at the next meeting of the council.

Considerable Speechmaking.

E. M. Stanton addressed the council in opposition to the ordinance, and dwelt particularly upon the legal phases of the matter. Mr. Stanton presented several arguments against the proposed ordinance, taking the stand that interference with the amusements of the common people during these times of social unrest is little short of dangerous. He maintained that Sunday movies do not interfere with church attendance and that no good reason can be advanced for taking away from the laboring man the movies as his Sunday recreation.

Alderman Brumund spoke briefly in defense of Sunday pictures, saying that a large number of traveling men, who now make Thief River Falls their Sunday headquarters would go to other cities where they are offered more in the way of recreation and pastime for Sunday. The speaker maintained that the hotels of the city face a serious loss of business if Sunday movies are discontinued.

Advocates Have Inning.

Short speeches in favor of the ordinance were made by several ministers who were present. Among these were Rev. R. L. Barackman, Rev. Albin A. Larson and Rev. I. T. Aastad. They argued the question from a standpoint of morals and religion, and maintained that such an ordinance if passed would be entirely legal in spite of the opposition's contention that it might be declared unconstitutional. Mr. Stanton made the claim that it disagreed with a decision of the supreme court in the matter of Sabbath breaking, and in addition enlarged upon the penal code of the state by defining as a crime an act which is not so recognized by the laws of Minnesota.

The ministers further asserted that out of approximately eight hundred heads of families in Thief River Falls, more than six hundred had indicated their disapproval of Sunday movies by signing petitions favoring the proposed ordinance.

Petitions Presented.

Mr. Stanton presented to the council several petitions which favored Sunday movies. He asserted that one contained the names of nearly seven hundred property owners and tax payers of the city, while another was signed by about 70 returned soldiers and sailors. Mr. Stanton stated that no special effort had been made to secure signatures in the residence districts of the city.

It is understood the advocates of Sunday closing also have petitions with a large number of signatures, but these were not presented at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Fourth Bank at Red Lake.

The newly chartered Citizens State Bank of Red Lake Falls will open for business on June 16. This will make the fourth bank in the city. The shareholders whose names appear in the articles of incorporation are: Geo. T. Whalen, Delore Champeau, W. J. Quesnell, Henry Gerlach, Ferment Derosier, Gilbert Marchildon, James G. Jensen, Chas. E. Boughton, Ildaige Baril, Dan Champeau and Ovila Robillard.

Attorney Chommie Returns.

Hans O. Chommie, who resigned as county attorney for the purpose of entering the army, arrived the first of the week from St. Paul, accompanied by his family. He has decided to again cast his lot among his former neighbors and will for the present share the offices of Attorney E. M. Stanton in the Scandia block.

Lieut. Chommie has been a resident of St. Paul since his discharge, having offices in the Merchants National bank building. In looking the situation over, however, he came to the conclusion that Thief River Falls was the only city in the state really worth living in and returned as soon as he could get his affairs into shape. He will engage in the general practice of law.

Long Auto Tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frye, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cosgrove and children, expect to leave today on an automobile tour of considerable proportions. They plan on driving through to Mason City, Ia., in the former's trusty little Ford, and will also visit several other places in this state and Iowa on the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Cosgrove will go from Mason City to Ottumwa by rail and will spend several days there at the old home of Mr. Cosgrove. If the weather permits and roads prove favorable the tourists anticipate a splendid outing trip.

Saturday is Flag Day, an annual event particularly important in the estimation of members of the Elks' fraternity. Every year this organization takes the lead in honoring the Stars and Stripes and holds public services for the purpose of impressing upon the minds of the people generally the significance of the national emblem.

The observance in Thief River Falls will this year be conducted at the auditorium, and everyone is invited to attend. The address for the occasion will be delivered by E. M. Stanton of this city, the program being as follows:

Elks' Tribute to Flag E. O. Mogensen
Recitation .... Miss Una Nelson

There will be a parade in which all who can possibly do so are invited to take part. The procession will form at the auditorium at 7:30 sharp and will disperse at the same point.

Similar services will be held under auspices of Elks' lodges all over the United States. It is a beautiful and fitting tribute and all should lay aside their business for the length of time necessary to attend.

A Correction.

At the eighth grade exercises last week the diploma of Gladys Dybvik was mislaid and could not be presented with the rest. Some of the young lady's school mates thought for this reason that she did not graduate, but this is an error. Miss Alma Peterson, the principal, has requested The Times to correct this impression in justice to Miss Dybvik.

FAIR IMPROVEMENT PLANS SUBMITTED

BIDS FOR CONSTRUCTION WILL BE OPENED BY BOARD ON JUNE 20.

A. M. Foker, an architect connected with the state engineer's office, was in Thief River Falls on Friday for the purpose of looking over the fair grounds and laying before the board plans for the general improvement of the premises. The plans were accepted and Secretary G. Howard Smith was ordered to advertise for bids for the construction of the needed buildings.

Mr. Foker went over the premises carefully and gave his opinion as to what would best serve the purpose intended. His plans are for three stock buildings and one woman's cottage and rest room. The latter is to be made up of about one-half screened-in porch, the remainder being devoted to any other uses the women themselves may elect.

Bids for the construction of the buildings will be opened at the office of Mr. Smith on Friday evening, June 20, at 8:30 p. m., at which time there will also be a joint meeting of the directors and building committee.

The fair premium list is out and is being mailed to interested parties. There are but few changes in the amount of the awards, but a greater variety has been added on which premiums will be paid. Copies of the list may be had by addressing Mr. Smith.

EXPERTS WITH SHOT GUN WILL DISPLAY SKILL

NINE EVENTS FIRST DAY

Good citizens of Thief River Falls, don't be alarmed Saturday and Sunday and think that the war has started again when you hear the rattle of fire-arms in your midst. It's the Thief River Gun Club holding its trap shooting tournament on the fair grounds and the sounds you hear come from the guns of the shooters of Thief River Falls and their guests who come from all parts of the Northwest for the purpose of demonstrating the efficiency of the shotgun for bringing down flying objects.

Sport Very Popular.

Ever since General Pershing and his Yanks showed the frightened Huns what the American Shot Gun in the hands of trained marksmen could do by exploding in mid air the bombs intended for the boys in the trenches, trap shooting with shot guns has been greatly stimulated in this country. At the present time it is estimated that there are over one million of these shooters in the United States.

Squire System Governs.

The Thief River tournament will start promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and continue for two days. Nine events of 15 targets each will be shot the first day and the balance of the program the following day. The events will all be in the nature of prize winning contests. The entrance fee is $1.80 for each event and to this is added $15.00 by the Gun Club. The prize money is divided by the Squire Money Back system, whereby each contestant receives 10 cents for each target broken. The balance of the prize money is divided among the four highest scores. The highest receiving 40 per cent, the next 30 per cent, the next 20 per cent and the next 10 per cent. All ties divide.

A General Invitation.

There will be a plentiful supply of shells on the grounds and any member will cheerfully loan his gun to anyone wishing to participate. Returned soldiers and sailors are particularly invited to be present and every courtesy will be extended to them. The gun club also promises to show a mighty interesting time to all spectators and participants.

SEEDLING BLIGHT DANGER NOW PAST

BUT ONE FIELD FOUND WHERE ANY DAMAGE HAD BEEN DONE.

In certain sections of the Northwest seedling blight has attacked the wheat fields to a greater or less degree, but the damage reported is slight, particularly in the counties in this neighborhood. The plants have now attained such growth that there is no farther danger and the loss will be no greater than it is at present.

Eight Pennington county farmers reported to County Agent J. J. McCann that their wheat fields were dying out in spots. Samples of the affected grain were sent to the plant pathology department of the state university and the trouble pronounced seedling blight. Mrs. E. C. Stakeman and Miss Lucy McInnis were sent to Thief River Falls and made a number of visits to the fields attacked. They advised the plowing under of the grain where the blight had made the greatest inroads, but the treatment was applied in only one case so far as known. A rainstorm struck the territory about this time and served to assist in checking the trouble.

Seedling blight attacks plants only while they are very young and tender, failing to do any damage to more mature fields. The grain has now reached a point where no further trouble from this source need be anticipated. It is, however, inadvisable to plant wheat in any field where the blight has made its appearance for at least two years.

MANY SOLDIERS RETURN

Quite a bunch of overseas men arrived in Thief River Falls last evening. Omer Anderson, Geo. Borden, Henry Rogers, Richard Joringdahl and Andrew Feragen, 20th engineers; Chester Tvedt, Goodridge, and Corp. Moritz Brink, city, signal corps; Elmer Zeh, engineers.

Lieut. Thomas H. Rowan, who has been with the American railway expedition in Siberia for about two years, also returned last evening.

HELP FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

The situation caused by the failure of thousands of soldiers crippled in the war to fully understand their rights, particularly re-education at Government expense in callings suited to their disability, is a serious one. Large numbers of disabled men were discharged from hospitals before the Federal Board for Vocational Training could begin functioning and it is with the utmost difficulty that these men, scattered throughout the country, are being reached wih information of what the Government is not only willing but anxious to do for them.

In a circular issued by Col. Arthur Woods, assistant secretary of war, citizens and newspapers are urged to assist the department in acquainting crippled soldiers with their rights. There is absolutely no excuse for their begging or becoming a burden to relatives and friends. The government will take them in hand and train them in some occupation suited to their abilities with the aim of making them self-sustaining. The headquarters office for the handling of this matter is at 742 Metropolitan Bank Building, Minneapolis, and those in charge will be obliged if any cases of neglected crippled soldiers are brought to their attention.

HELP THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

There will be no trouble in securing the fifty-odd associate members of the boy scouts which is Pennington county's quota, but there should be many more than that. The organization has time and time again demonstrated its willingness to serve in any capacity where its help would prove of value. Members have undertaken many little jobs right here in the city and have performed them in a way that has spoken well for their earnestness and willingness.

But this is not so much the idea of the boy scouts movement. The helpfulness they are now able to show is not so particularly valuable in itself perhaps, but the idea that it is a part of a good citizen's duty to look upon matters of this kind as pertaining to him personally is one which will make better men of the boys. The training is the main thing, the service itself, while acceptable, being a matter of secondary importance.

The boy scouts are all right and deserving of every encouragement. It will only cost one dollar to become affiliated with them as an associate member and the money could not be spent for a more worthy purpose.

HAVE THE WRONG IDEA.

The people of Minnesota should not allow themselves to be misled concerning the purpose of the Babcock paved highway amendment, no matter from what source the opposition emanates. That there will be an attempt made to turn the farmers of the state against the proposition seems certain, and they should be on their guard.

In certain quarters it has already been stated that in case this work of paving the main highways of the state is undertaken it will mean that lateral roads and branch highways will be neglected. So far from this being true, it is absolutely certain that the exact opposite will be the case. The laterals will receive more attention than ever before by reason of the proposed program. The Babcock plan does not provide for the touching of one penny of the road funds now available. Instead of taking money needed on the laterals and employing it in building and maintaining main lines the new plan provides another method of raising money for the trunk systems, leaving all now raised for the neighborhood roads. This is one phase of the matter that should not be overlooked by the voter.

It does not seem probable that any great number of farmers will be found to oppose the proposed amendment. They have been clamoring for better roads for so long that anything that promises relief should be welcome. The Babcock plan not only provides the roads, but provides for a plan of payment that certainly gives the farmer all the best of it.

Already more than twenty Minnesota counties have anticipated the passage of this amendment and are requesting permission to go ahead with the work. St. Louis county will shortly vote on the question of issuing $7,000,000 worth of road bonds and begin the work of building paved highways at once. Other counties are doing the same thing, only the amount required is smaller.

Three new buildings are going up in the business section of the city and there will be two more before long. The summer is the most active in building work of any for some years, proving that our people have better sense than to wait for lower prices. There are no idle men, at least none who are willing to work, and there is far more likelihood of a shortage than a surplus. It will not be many weeks before the harvest is on and then there will be a scramble for help. With plenty of work for the laboring man, the promise of an unusually bountiful harvest, good prices for both labor and produce and the prospects of getting the streets of the city paved, there is every reason why the citizens of Thief River Falls should feel confident of the future.

WE REALLY SHOULD CELEBRATE.

It begins to look as if there would be a celebration of the Fourth in Thief River Falls. The Merchants' association committee to which was alloted the task of sounding out public sentiment on this question reports that there is a decided demand for an appropriate observance of the nation's birthday. Quite a respectable sum of money has already been raised and more is being added every day.

A very good suggestion has been made in this connection. It is proposed that any money received for street concessions and thru other sources at this celebration be turned into a fund for defraying the expenses of a home-coming blowout for the soldiers later in the summer. Everyone realizes that there will have to be something of the kind, and this Fourth of July surplus would make a nice nucleus for the expense fund.

It is a little difficult to arrange for a home-coming celebration in such manner that everyone will be satisfied. The aim would naturally be to have as many of the soldiers and sailors as possible present—all of them, if such a thing could be arranged. The trouble is that those of the boys who came home first will in many cases have departed for other fields by the time anything in their honor can be arranged, while it may be impractical to await until all have returned. But the idea is allright anyway. The Merchants' association naturally does not wish to keep any money received over and above the actual expenses, and it is certain that the surplus could not be put to better use.

BUT THE NATURAL OUTCOME.

Labor strikes are deplorable, particularly when they assume the proportions of that at Winnipeg. To thus tie up every activity of the chief city of a great province or state is a serious matter and something that should have been avoided at almost any reasonable cost. Things are pretty well straightened out again and it is likely that the only visible result is the loss of an immense sum of money by both sides.

There are plenty of evidences of unrest right in this country. Yesterday the commercial telegraphers employed by the Western Union walked out and threaten to involve others. Trouble in other directions has been narrowly averted. The representatives of the interests involved seem to have approached the subject under controversy in a much more conciliatory spirit than was the case on the other side of the border, however, which is a most hopeful sign.

It is perhaps only natural that there should be a certain amount of unrest. The situation thruout the country and the world is unusual. We are just emerging from the shadow of a great war; industrial conditions have been upset for four years and it is not surprising that there should be a certain amount of difficulty in getting them readjusted. Wages are good but prices are high. It is in striking a balance between these two items that the trouble arises. The laborer considers himself entitled to a larger share of the proceeds of his labor, and where his demands are reasonable this should be granted. We have the machinery for insuring a fair hearing by both sides and the general public is not disposed to stand much nonsense from either. The outlook in the United States is in this respect much better than in almost any other country in the world.

TRIES NEW PLAN.

It is daily becoming more and more evident that big corporations are finding it to their advantage to take a greater interest in the welfare of their employes. Perhaps no big corporation has been more roundly denounced by the general public than the Standard Oil company. That much of this denunciation was in times past deserved is undoubtedly true, but there has been a change and the company is now in the forefront among those who wish to establish a closer relationship and better understanding between employer and employe.

The Standard has inaugurated a department of Industrial Relations composed of one representative chosen by ballot by the workers and one selected by the company. The chronic fault finder who sees in this only another scheme to further the ends of the company may be interested in knowing that the representative of the employes can be recalled at any time by a majority vote of those on whose behalf he is acting if they believe that he is not looking after their interests properly. The party so chosen will have a voice in all matters pertaining to the welfare of employes when these are under consideration by the directors and is expected to offer such suggestions as he believes will be of benefit to his fellow-workers.

The idea is decidedly attractive and both laborers and employers in other lines of business will watch the outcome with a great deal of interest.

A FINE BUNCH OF SPORTSMEN.

Thief River Falls will on Saturday and Sunday be host to the largest company of expert marksmen congregated at any point in Minnesota during the present year. The trapshooters of the Northwest will be here for the gun club tournament and it will be worth our while to see that they have a good time.

Trap shooting is real sport. A degree of science and expertness is required that is not needed in many other outdoor recreations. No pastime could be cleaner or more unobjectionable. The brutality of the live-bird shoot is entirely lacking, the gross damage being a number of broken clay saucers.

The Thief River Falls club has gone to considerable expense and a great deal of trouble to put on this two-day contest and the public should show its appreciation of the efforts put forth by attending the exhibition. It will be a good one.

It will not be long before the whir of the mowing machine will furnish the music for many of the proceedings on the farm. One man who ought to know what he is talking about says that this year there are three blades of grass growing in Pennington county where only one grew before.

There is no possible chance for a knocker to get by in Thief River Falls these days. Any man found with a hammer is immediately put to work. The same holds good in the case of a saw or a shovel.

Make arrangements now to spend the Fourth in Thief River Falls. If we make up our minds to have a celebration you can make up your mind that it will be a good one.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

M. Bothun and others presented a petition to the city council asking that a right-of-way be secured for a road across the land of John Hemmingson west of the railroad track for the purpose of constructing a graded road. The petition was granted and the land ordered bought at a price not to exceed $150.

Joseph Jerome, Philipl Zeh and P. O. Berg, councilmen, were appointed a committee to arrange for a boat landing on the river at the foot of Atlantic avenue.

St. Hilaire base ball team defeated Thief River Falls by a score of 12 to 4.

An athletic entertainment was given at the city hall at which telegrams were received telling of the progress of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight in New York.

The Marguerette, Capt. Bushe's new boat, made her maiden trip to the agency during the week, when within a few miles of the outlet the main drive wheel was broken, necessitating a layup for repairs.

Among the visitors at Crookston during the week were Mayor and Mrs. C. L. Dobner and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins.

Carl Kretzschmar shipped more than a ton of wool during the week.

Ed. Evenson had the honor of being the owner of the first raft of lumber ever brought across the lakes and down the river to this city. It required 22 hours to tow the raft across the lake from the mouth of the Tamarack river and five days to bring it down the river. It contained 100,000 feet of pine lumber.

Ten Year Ago.

County Treasurer O. T. Tandberg, a resident of Thief River Falls, died at a St. Paul hospital on June 7 and the remains arrived in this city for burial on the 8th. Deceased was born in Norway in 1855.

Conrad N. Erickson of Crookston, and Miss Pauline Lind were married at the home of the bride in this city.

The retail merchants of the Red River valley held a meeting in this city for the purpose of forming an organization.

The Great American Railroad company, incorporated under the laws of South Dakota, sent representatives to the city with a view to looking over the transportation situation. The idea was to make Thief River Falls an important point on a new trans-continental line.

Daniel Shaw, county commissioner from the Fourth district for more than four years, submitted his resignation to the board. The demands of his personal business made it impossible for him to serve for a longer period.

Company L, Minnesota National Guard, started for Lake City on their second trip. They expected to remain in camp ten days.

James Farr returned during the week from Quebec to which city he had taken Tom Cribbs who was arrested here at the request of the Canadian government.

George Curran returned from a three-weeks' visit to points in Indiana and Wisconsin.

Mrs. W. W. Prichard and children left for Tacoma, Wash., to join Mr. Prichard. The family intended making the western city their future home.

Mrs. Severn Brandon left on a two-weeks' visit to friends and relatives at Lankin, N. D.

Pleasant Surprise.

Miss Gerda Mortensen, who has been teaching in the Central school for the past term, was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening by the young people of the Zion Lutheran church, at the home of Carl Freseth, 121 Horace avenue north. Rev. Geo. Larson in behalf of her friends presented her with a beautiful ivory clock and a small purse of money as a token of appreciation of her work in church activities during the past months. The evening was pleasantly spent by playing games, after which a delicious two course supper was served. The rooms were beautifully decorated with white lilacs.

In Honor of Dr. Gambell.

A number of old-time friends and neighbors of Dr. F. H. Gambell attended a farewell [illegible] in honor of that gentleman on the lawn at the J. M. Bishop residence on West Second street Sunday evening. It was the doctor's last evening in town and the function must have been most pleasing to him, surrounded as he was by all his old cronies. The affair was informal in every respect, nothing in the way of a set program being attempted. The supper was served on the lawn and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Girls Club Meeting.

The Community Girls Club met in the Commercial rooms on Monday evening. A good time was enjoyed by all. Music and a delicious lunch was secured by the entertainment committee. The girls have decided to have a booth of some nature during the fair, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the Woman's club for the new Women's building at the fair grounds.

Entertains For Teachers.

The congregation of the Norwegian Lutheran church entertained last Friday evening in the church parlors in honor of their Sunday school teachers. A musical program was enjoyed by all and as a token of appreciation each of the twelve teachers was presented with a bible, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Swenson-Habedank.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Habedank have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Martha, to S. A. Swenson of Aberdeen, S. D., at the latter city on June 1. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the East and will be at home after July 1 at Britton, S. D.

Richardson-Kelly.

Glenn I. Richardson and Ella M. Kelly were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly at Barron, Wis., on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Both of the young people are well known in the city, Miss Kelly being a graduate of the Lincoln high school in 1915, while Glenn graduated in 1913. The groom has been employed in the Soo office for the past three years and is one of the city's promising young men. They will visit for a few days in Minneapolis and are expected the latter part of this week where they will visit for a few days at the home of the groom's parents, Judge and Mrs. Ira C. Richardson. They will leave the first part of the week for their future home in Bronson where Mr. Richardson has accepted a position as depot agent.

SUPERINTENDENT OF HOSPITAL TO WED

MISS MINA ROCK RESIGNS POSITION HELD FOR FOUR YEARS.

Miss Mina Rock, for four years superintendent at the Physicians hospital in this city, left last week for her former home, Iowa City, where she will be married to Dr. A. W. Swedenberg later in the month. The date for the wedding has not been definitely announced, Miss Rock desiring that her brother, Dr. J. J. Rock, who is serving with the medical corps in France, shall be present when she becomes a bride.

Miss Rock proved a most efficient superintendent while in charge of the hospital here. To her work is credited the establishment of a nurses' school at the institution and the placing of the hospital on the accredited list for this purpose. It is the only hospital in this section of the state similarly honored.

Dr. Swedenberg recently returned from service in the army and took up the practice of medicine in this city, where he formerly resided. He recently made arrangements for moving to Baudette and the couple will make that village their home after the wedding.

Anderson Named Chairman.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has been chosen chairman of the civilian relief committee, succeeding E. M. Stanton who resigned because of inability to give the matter the attention he deemed necessary. This arrangement is a good one for everyone concerned except, perhaps, Mr. Anderson, as he has handled practically all matters connected with the soldiers and is better acquainted with their status and situation than any other man in the county. It will entail an additional amount of labor upon him but he already has so much of it that a little more can make no difference.

Applying Tuberculin Test.

Dr. Geo. Sand, U. S. Veterinarian, is in Pennington county at the present time testing the 13 herds which reacted last fall. This work is meeting with much favor among the farmers and it is expected there will be about 3,000 head tested next October.

ALUMNI BANQUET IS SWELL AFFAIR

The annual banquet given by the alumni of the Thief River Falls high school was served at the Hotel [illegible] last Saturday evening. There were in the neighborhood of 125 graduates of the school present and the meeting was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the organization.

Miss Agnes Wilson officiated as toastmistress with dignity and charm. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Thief River orchestra and the following program was given by alumni members:

Welcome Address .... Glen Anderson
Piano Solo .... Elnor Overland
Short War Talk .... Lea Miller
Vocal Solo .... Carl Sandahl
Reading .... Grace Loken

The dinner was a three-course affair, of excellent quality and most efficiently served. The tables were decorated with wild columbine and the color scheme was maroon and gold, the colors of the 1919 class.

After the banquet the election of officers was held, the following being chosen: Agnes Wilson, president; George Werstlein, vice president; Gynther Tessum, secretary; Charles Prichard, treasurer.

MISS HOLIDAY IS SONG ENTHUSIAST

GIVES ADVICE TO THOSE WHO THINK THEY CANNOT SING.

An editorial which will be of interest to many in this city was published in the Minneapolis Journal June 8 relative to the work of Miss Lucille Holliday a former instructor at the Crookston Agricultural College, who will lead the singing at the community picnic at Squaw Point Saturday. She is community sing leader of Minneapolis, with the War Camp Community Service. She will be one of the leading figures this year in the extensive program the War Camp Community service has planned for Minneapolis.

Miss Holiday says: "Jazz, popular songs, sentimental songs are taking the place of John Barleycorn even before the old sinner is ready to depart from this world. Maybe you can't sing. Get in a crowd that is singing and do it a dozen times and if you aren't humming around the house in a week, there's something abnormal about you and you'd better see a doctor. America is singing; the average American responds to pep and there is nothing I know of that can make a people happier, and strengthen and keep their morale than community singing!"

Were in a Predicament.

Leonard DuChamp was taking a party of land buyers about the country to the east of Grygla last week when his car caught fire. One of the passengers had dropped a cigar or cigarette butt behind the seat cushion and there was serious trouble for a time. It was miles to the nearest stream and not a ditch in sight. The men fought the fire as best they could and after a heroic struggle and the employment of every means at their command they finally extinguished the blaze before the gasoline tank was reached. They were far from any settlement or even a farm house and the loss of the car would have meant a long hike.

Want to Play Ball.

The base ball team recently organized among men employed in the mechanical department of the Soo has been doing considerable practicing of late and is now in fine shape for a bunch of amateurs. Every man on the team has been placed in the position where he can do the most effective work, with the result that the organization now is able to put up a first class article of base ball. The boys are very desirous of securing games for the near future and stand ready to take on any amateur team in this part of the state.

Postmaster Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Thief River Falls on June 27, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Germantown and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $330 for the last fiscal year. Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced. The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

May Improve Service.

W. C. Ranous, general superintendent of the Soo lines, was in Duluth this week and the Commercial club at that place attempted to interest him in time freight service between the head of the lakes and Thief River Falls. Mr. Ranous stated that he would pay another visit to Duluth in the near future for the purpose of investigating the subject more closely and seemed disposed to grant the request.

The delay caused by the tri-weekly service between Moose Lake and Thief River Falls have been largely overcome by the institution of a night transfer system at Thief River Falls, according to Soo officials.

Farmers Will Help.

Editor Times:—We have been informed that a move is on foot to petition the county commissioners to appoint a District Foul Weed Overseer. This may be all good and well. But the first thing in order is to find out a "method" by which the sow thistle proposition can be successfully combatted. When this has been accomplished it is time enough to talk about the rest. The county commissioners can act as Foul Weed Overseers themselves, each for their own district. There is no need of creating a new loop-hole for someone to crawl into and fatten up on, at the tax-payers expense, in the shape of a District Foul Weed Overseer. The farmers are all ready and willing to co-operate, and do all that can be done, just as soon as the problem of eradicating the sow thistle pest has been solved, without any law enforcement.

GERMANY IN NEW WAR

Esthonians Start Military Operations Against Huns.

Superior Teuton Detachment Forces Retirement of Defenders, Says Dispatch From Helsingfors.

London, June 10.—A Helsingfors dispatch to the Daily Mail says the Esthonian general staff considers itself forced to start military operations against the Germans.

This action is in consequence of the action of the Germans in the Riga district in advancing behind the bolshevik lines for the purpose of occupying the eastern frontier of Livonia, which, with a treacherous attack upon the Esthonians by the German cavalry under orders from General von der Goltz, commander of the German forces in the Baltic region, it is said, unmasked the Germans as accomplices of the Bolsheviki.

Clash With Germans.

Stockholm, June 10. — Esthonian forces have clashed with German landwehr troops in the region east of Riga, where Lettish detachments also have been in serious fighting with the Germans, according to an official statement issued at Esthonian headquarters. The statement says:

Fighting with German landwehr forces is proceeding in the Ramosck sector. Esthonian troops sent to reinforce Lettish forces, which had been in combat with the Germans, have been forced to retire after violent fighting with superior landwehr detachments. Several detachments raised by the Baltic barons have been repulsed by our armored trains. The fighting continues.

The capture of Kreitzburg has occurred and the Esthonians captured a large number of prisoners.

WORLD LEAGUE IS INDORSED

A. F. L. Committee Report to Convention Favors Treaty.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 10.—Unqualified indorsement is given the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in its report, submitted to the officers and delegates at the opening session of the 39th annual convention.

The basic principles of a lasting peace are in the treaty and covenant, the report says, and adds that with a peace so built, "the world has in truth been made safe for democracy."

The covenant of the League of Nations, the report continues, "must meet the unqualified approval and support of the American working people."

A porch climber entered Mrs. Littauer's room while she slept and escaped with her jewel box containing gems worth that sum, according to the information.

Tobias Olson.

(Contributed.)

Tobias Olson, one of the pioneer residents of Highlanding township, passed away on Saturday evening, May 31st. The cause of his death was cancer of the stomach from which he had suffered more or less for the past 30 years. It was not until the last two months or so that he began to fail. Mr. Olson was up and around in the house until the day before he passed away, and it was not until the last day that a doctor was called out to attend him.

Thus the angel of death removed from among us, one of our old friends and neighbors; a man whose life work has been an inspiration to us. For him there was but one road to follow, one goal to aim for, one God to serve. We always found him on the side of right; we saw his name back of every righteous cause, and his whole heart and feeling beat for the good of all humanity. No man in his circumstances could have done more to help along in church doings, in school, in anything that meant for the general upbuilding of our community than Tobias Olson did.

Such men are the pillars upon which rest the glory of all good works. Without them we would be a failure. May we long remember him for what he did for us as a friend, neighbor and as a citizen.

Mr. Olson immigrated to this country from Norway about 35 years ago. He landed near McIntosh and homesteaded there on what was called the Thirteen Towns. From there he moved with his family to Garnes township and resided there some over 4 years, when he again moved to the frontiers and homesteaded on the Eleven Towns in Highlanding township, where he resided with his family up to the time of his death.

Mr. Olson lived to reach the ripe old age of 71 years. He leaves a wife, three sons and one daughter, together with a host of friends to ever mourn his loss.

Funeral services were held at the house and then again at the Oak Park church, June 3rd. A large gathering of friends and neighbors were present to pay their last respects to the dead. His coffin was nicely decorated with beautiful floral offerings. Rev. Lerfallun officiated.

WOMEN'S WOES

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Chas. Alexander, 216 Conley Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "Last fall I had been picking berries and when I got home, I was suddenly taken with a bad attack of kidney complaint. The pains across my back kept me from doing my work and such a thing as doing my washing was out of the question. I often got dizzy and was afraid to walk across the room. My kidneys didn't act as they should and I felt miserable. One of my neighbors suggested Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at the East Side Drug Store. I got entirely over the trouble and I have felt fine ever since."

SUMMER TERM AT BEMIDJI SCHOOL

FIRST SESSION AT BEMIDJI INSTITUTION OPENS ON JUNE 23.

The first summer school to be held in the new Bemidji Normal will start June 23rd, according to announcement made by Pres. M. W. Deputy, who paid his first visit to Thief River Falls last week and who is enthusiastic over the strong faculty that has been secured and the indications for a large attendance.

Arrangements have been made for a reasonable rate for board and room for the students and a list that will facilitate securing accommodations has been prepared.

Provision has been made at the summer school for those who desire academic or professional work for teachers' state certificates; credit for Normal School diploma; better preparation for principalships, normal training or work in special grades and to improve general scholarship and teaching skill.

The course will last for six weeks but by special arrangement double period classes can be arranged so that regular normal school credits can be secured.

The new building is being equipped for the summer course.

Full information regarding the subjects offered, enrollment and other details can be secured by applying to M. W. Deputy, President, Bemidji, Minn.

Crookston Summer School.

Advance registration indicates that a large number of teachers and prospective teachers will be in attendance at the special summer course which opens at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, June 23. Teachers are beginning to realize that it is profitable in many ways to attend these summer sessions. School boards are increasing salaries and have a right to ask for increased efficiency and training on the part of the teacher. On the other hand, the teacher who does secure this training is in a position to take advantage of the better situations and also render greater service to the community.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the Employee

THE relationship existing between the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and its employees has always been so harmonious as to constitute one large, happy family.

As the stronger guard and care for the weaker in the small family, just so has the Company looked after those of its employees who have grown old in the service—a liberal annuity attends the pressure of advancing years.

For those active in the service the Company provides steady employment, good working conditions and satisfactory compensation.

In return the Company has required efficiency—the kind of whole-hearted, painstaking effort which a well paid employee, working under pleasant conditions, is glad and happy to give.

It is this working spirit, developing in this highly specialized branch of industry the highest type of co-operative interest, which enables the Company to discharge its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory and beneficial to the public, and to the 4628 stockholders, not one of whom holds as much as ten per cent of the total stock.

There are 19,568 men and women in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) family, more than double the enrollment of ten years ago—yet of those who were with the Company in 1909, more than 2000 are still actively engaged in the business, while over 800 are wearing the gold button, symbolizing twenty years of continuous service.

Approved: O. F. MELLBY, President.

Special meeting of Board of Education was held in the Directors' Room at the Lincoln High School at 8 P. M., April 1, 1919.

Roll Call: Members present: Backe, Froehlich, Myhrum, Dahlen, Haynes, Mellby. Members absent: None.

The Board of Education having taken a definite action on Supt. J. H. Hay's resignation and the four members of the Board having issued the following signed statement conveying the reasons for their action:

"TO THE PATRONS OF OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS:

The undersigned members of the Board of Education wish to make the following brief statement regarding the action taken relative to the resignation of Mr. J. H. Hay as superintendent of our schools. As members of the Board of Education we are in a better position to know what constitutes a good school than the public. During the past ten years great changes have taken place in our industrial enterprises in all lines. While these changes have been going on there have also been great changes in our public school system throughout the United States. These changes have been especially rapid in the last three or four years. Our school ranks among the first ten in size in the State of Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities and Duluth. Many of these schools and many smaller ones have re-arranged their system along the newer and progressive lines. We do not want our school to remain the back number any longer. We want our school to measure up with the best of our class in the state, and to do this, it is necessary to place a man with a modern university education at its head. We have accepted the resignation of Mr. Hay after the most thorough and deliberate investigation and observation. We are firmly convinced that the future will prove the wisdom of our decision and we are willing to accept full responsibility for our action. Personally we have the most kindly consideration for Mr. Hay. He has labored in our midst for fourteen years. We are deeply appreciative of his efforts in our behalf, but the fact remains that we have taken this action for the welfare of our children without prejudice and without fear or favor.

(Signed) O. F. MELLBY
(Signed) H. W. FROEHLICH
(Signed) B. S. DAHLEN
(Signed) P. O. MYHRUM."

[illegible], it is the sense of this [illegible] that the action on the petition presented at this meeting be indefinitely postponed.

Members voting Yes; Dahlen, Myhrum, Mellby, Froehlich. Members voting No; Backe, Haynes. Motion carried.

Moved by Dahlen, seconded by Froehlich, that we proceed to elect a superintendent. Motion carried.

Moved by Dahlen, seconded by Myhrum, that we engage Mr. W. A. Ziegler for the position of superintendent of our schools for the ensuing school year at a salary of $2400.00 per year, and that the proper officers be instructed to enter into contract with him.

I Am "Granny" Chamberlain

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

Improvements of Permanent Value

IT now seems reasonably safe to predict another big crop on the farms of Pennington and adjoining counties. At present prices no farmer can permit anything he produces to go to waste. Every pound of grain represents just so much cash and should be saved. The proper housing of stock means more in dollars and cents that ever before as every pound of beef, pork or mutton represents an item of cash that no thrifty farmer will overlook.

More Buildings are Necessary

No investment the farmer can make is so safe and so certain to pay big returns as the construction of buildings. These are the permanent—improvements to his place and indicate his progressiveness and faith in his neighborhood.

Never was the need for general construction so acute. To delay is simply inexcusable. The work will cost more next summer than at present. All are agreed on this.

We are ready to serve you, no matter what is required. No order is too small to receive our most careful attention and none so large that we cannot fill it.

SUCCESS ASSURED CENTENARY FUND

METHODIST CHURCH WILL GO OVER THE TOP—OTHERS FOLLOWING.

The success of the great centenary movement whereby the Methodist church pledges itself to raise more than $100,000,000 during the next five years to defray the cost of a great religious movement thruout the world. The purpose and prospect of success of this undertaking has been set forth for readers of The Times in the following article by Rev. James A. Orrock of the church in Thief River Falls:

"The centenary movement in the Methodist church has gone over the top with flying colors. While the reports are not all in as yet it now appears that every objective has been attained with plenty to spare.

"For more than five years past the Methodist church has been preparing to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of its missionary society. Men of great vision began preparations for this forward movement before the world war brought us its problems.

"It is the most businesslike program the church has ever undertaken. A careful survey has been made of the world's needs that it was the apparent duty of the Methodist church to care for. The great cities were carefully gone over by trained experts and social and religious conditions were carefully studied. These experts determined what the needs were and planned to meet that need. Just what was needed in the shape of buildings, social centers, teachers, social workers, missionaries and preachers. Rural conditions were also studied carefully by the most expert and successful of county or rural church workers. Just how great this task was for this country can only be understood by those who have had opportunity to study these surveys, embracing as it does every class of immigrant and every condition of life found in this country and their needs.

"A like survey of the nations of the world was made, so that before anything was ever done toward putting the program over, it had been determined just what equipment, the kind and number of workers trained for specific service, together with the cost of the undertaking, was necessary in order to succeed. It was found that it would require 53,300 trained men and women and at least $105,000,000 in five years to meet Methodisms' responsibility to the world.

"A great campaign has been carried on the past year, admittedly the greatest ever undertaken by any church, to rouse the people to action. The result has been successful beyond expectations, the latest returns available showing that up to the first of last week $107,500,000 had been raised and the campaign not over as yet.

"The local church has had its part in this great program. A dozen or more have consecrated their earnings to the Lord and have agreed to set apart 10 per cent, the tithe of their income, to the Lord's service. Many have joined the covenant of prayer. One at least, possibly more, has given herself definitely for Christian service.

"While the quota of $1027 per year for five years has not quite been reached as yet, the church has almost attained the goal and may yet go over the top. At St. Hilaire the church has gone over the top with its quota with several dollars to spare and more to be heard from. But this is not all. According to an article in the current Review of Reviews, this movement has inspired other churches to undertake like things. A great sister-church federation has been formed and now 40 different denominations have gotten under way in a great world-movement, a mighty crusade, to make the church measure up to its opportunity in the stirring days of world rebuilding. For a solid, substantial and intelligent Christian foundation is the only one upon which the world can build a permanent peace and a world democracy.

"If the church fails in this crisis all is lost. The success of the centenary of the Methodist church is the promise that the church will not fail."

PAN MOTOR AGAIN FIGURES IN COURT

The Pennington county owners of Pan Motor stock will be interested in knowing that the concern is again in trouble. The newspaper report says that the Pan Motor company of St. Cloud, Minn., and its president, Samuel C. Pandolfo, were cited on Friday by the federal trade commission to answer a complaint, the first issued in the government's campaign to eliminate misrepresentation and unfair practices in the interstate sale of stocks and securities. Hearings will be held at Washington July 10.

The commission stated in the complaint that it had reason to believe the concern, which, it alleges, had taken in $4,723,811 from the sale of stock from its incorporation in January, 1917, to February 28, 1919, and its president, have with the effect of deceiving the public, circulated thruout the country false, misleading and unfair advertisements and statements concerning the assets, resources, progress and financial standing of the company.

WORLD'S RECORD IS BROKEN BY TANLAC

BOTTLES SOLD IN FOUR YEARS WOULD REACH FROM NEW YORK TO DENVER, COL.

Four years ago very few people had ever heard of Tanlac. Today it unquestionably has the largest sale of any medicine in the world, and is as well known in Canada as in this country. In the brief period of only four years time this now famous remedy has leaped from obscurity to the very pinnacle of success. Its fame in fact, has long since spread beyond the limits of the continent, and numerous inquiries regarding it are now being received from many foreign countries.

Very few people, however, fully realize what really wonderful record Tanlac has made, if it were not for the unquestionable facts and figures given out by the largest and best known drug firms of the country the story of its success would be hard to believe.

Up to January first, the total sales of Tanlac amounted to approximately twelve million bottles. The demand however is increasing, for during the first ten weeks of this year over one million bottles were sold and distributed in the United States and Canada, the exact figure being 1,306,186 in three months.

At this rate, therefore, the sales for the present year will amount to more than five million bottles. This will mean that 17,000 bottles of Tanlac will be sold during every day of the year, or 2,100 bottles for every hour of the average working day.

These figures are too stupendous for the average mind to grasp, but one may visualize what twelve million bottles mean by imagining them laid out in a single file end to end. Thus laid they would make a track of Tanlac from New York through Chicago, and on to Denver, Colorado; or they would form a double track of Tanlac from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Piled end on end they would tower 135 times as high as Pikes Peak, or rise 13,333 times higher than the Woolworth Building in New York, the tallest building in the world.

The demand for Tanlac has become so great that its sale instead of being measured by the gross as other preparations have been, is now reckoned by the carload, and even by the train load. In proof of this it is a noteworthy fact that the leading druggists jobbers everywhere now buy Tanlac almost exclusively in car load lots. To supply the Pacific Coast trade alone requires from forty to fifty car loads per year—Jobbers of the Middle West are selling from seventy to eighty cars per year.

The well known drug firm of Hessig-Ellis Drug Company of Memphis, Tennessee, has sold over forty car loads since the introduction of Tanlac in that state four years ago.

Within the past ninety days, ten car loads of Tanlac have gone to supply the demand of British Coulmbia, Saskachewan, Alberta and Manitoba, Canada.

The Owl Drug Company of San Francisco, the largest retail druggists on the Pacific Coast, state that they have sold more than 180,000 bottles at retail, which surpasses the remarkable record of the Jacobs Pharmacy Company of Atlanta, who have sold approximately 80,000 bottles at retail.

Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science. The formula complies with all national and state pure food and health laws of both the United States and Canada; and absolute merit and merit alone is responsible for its phenomenal and unprecedented success.

CREAMERY PAYING OUT $2,000 A DAY

According to the news dispatches butter has taken something of a drop during the past few days and it is probable that it will go down even farther. The price is still at a point, however, which insures the dairymen a very good return while the consumer figures that he can stand a still greater reduction without any injury.

Business at the Thief River Falls creamery is the best in the history of the institution. The average price paid for butterfat lately is about 58 cents and as the receipts are over 15,000 pounds every 24 hours it means that in the neighborhood of $2,000 per day is being distributed among the cattle owners through this source.

In order to meet the demand Buttermaker L. Haselrud has found it necessary to install a larger churn to take the place of one that has been in service for some years. This improvement cost $100. Another addition is a new cream pasteurizer which has been put in at a cost of $1,000.

With the improved pastures it is probable that the receipts of cream will continue to increase and association officials are now of the opinion that they will reach the $300,000 goal set for the year without trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hurtig of Winnipeg, arrived in the city last evening for a visit with the Charles Fiterman family, Mrs. Hurtig being a sister of Mrs. Fiterman. The couple had been spending some time in New York and other eastern points and are on their way home to Winnipeg.

NEW STATE BODY NOW AT WORK

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TO HELP FARMER AND CONSUMER.

Minnesota's new department of agriculture, created by the 1919 legislature, began activities Monday, when Commissioner N. J. Holmberg of Renville county opened offices adjoining those of the state game and fish department on the second floor of the new capitol. Assistant commissioners are Prof. J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls and Hugh J. Hughes of St. Paul.

The state department of agriculture is created to promote farming and marketing for the mutual advantages of producers and consumers. It will co-operate with county agricultural agents and otherwise strive to assist the farmers, and continuation of the work of the marketing committee of the State Public Saefty commission also will be included in its activities.

Commissioner Holmberg, recently appointed to a four-year term, will receive a salary of $4,500 a year. His deputy, Prof. Hay, will receive not to exceed $3,000, and the salary of Mr. Hughes as assistant, will be announced later. Prof. Hay, for fourteen years superintendent of Thief River Falls schools and recently engaged in chautauqua work, is familiar with agricultural problems in the Red River valley. Mr. Hughes, for many years on the editorial staff of Farm, Stock and Home, and chairman of the Public Safety commission marketing bureau, is in touch with general agricultural conditions in the Northwest.

What Is to Be Sought.

"The purpose of the department of agriculture," Commissioner Holmberg declared, "as indicated in the act creating it, is to furnish to the citizens of Minnesota, producers and consumers alike, a central agency through which they may secure the benefit that comes from better organized farming, transfer and marketing. Our immediate object is to make a beginning with these matters that come to us for adjustment and to reach out from this point, as fast and as far as the means at the disposal of the department allows.

"As the department sees it, it is much better to do a few things well than to waste our energy in an attempt to cover too wide a field. Those duties that the prescribed by the statute will receive immediate attention.

"It is not the purpose of the department to take over any duties now performed by other departments, but rather to fill in the gaps left between them, and to that end it is seeking for the full and helpful co-operation of every agricultural and business interests within the state.

"As the work of the department develops there will be opportunity for the most full and friendly co-operation, not only between the various allied state departments, but between all the interests dependent upon agriculture and the department that has been created to serve those interests.

"It is the aim of the commissioner to make the department one of service to all. That aim can be realized only as those interested come to us, confer with us, advise us, criticize us, assist us in attaining the object for which the department was created."

After the organization is completed, the commissioner said, the activities of the department will be arranged and a further statement will be made.

WANT 51 MEN TO JOIN BOY SCOUTS

IT ONLY COSTS A ONE-DOLLAR BILL TO BE A GOOD FELLOW.

The Boy Scouts is going to be one of the largest organizations in the world when the present campaign is over—that is, if they are permitted to count the associate members.

The boys need more money in order to keep their organization going. They are asking a certain quota of men in every county in the United States to join in order that the sum may be raised. The membership fee is placed as low as one dollar, although this is not the limit which may be contributed by any means. Pennington county is supposed to have 51 men who are willing to dig up at least a dollar apiece to help the lads along, and there should be a great many more.

The movement is endorsed by President Wilson and W. G. McAdoo, formerly secretary of the treasury. The latter feels he owes the boys his good offices for the splendid work they did in the various Liberty Loan campaigns and in other ways during the war.

No person who has noted the work these youngsters are doing will hesitate in coming to their rescue. A dollar is not a very large sum and will make any man an associate member.

Cut out the coupon appearing on another page of the Times this week and send it to G. Howard Smith, chairman, Thief River Falls. You will be helping a good cause along by so doing.

Visiting Day at U. Farm.

June 20 is visiting day at the university of Minnesota farm and a general invitation has been extended to the citiezens of the state to attend. President Burton, Dean Thatcher and others will speak. Visitors will be provided with a picnic dinner, to be eaten on the campus.

Bank Employes Organize.

Employees of the four local banks organized the Thief River Falls Bank Employees' club at a meeting held last night. The membership includes about fifteen junior officers and clerks. The purpose of the organization was announced to be to co-operate with employers for mutual benefit, and to encourage the get-together spirit among the employees for social and other purposes. Norman Holen was elected president, Effie Hamry, vice president and Marie Nelson secretary-treasurer.

Flower Hints.

Always pull the leaves off the stalks of flowers before putting them in water—those leaves which would be in the water, not those above it. And with flowers from any hard stalked sort of shrub the bark should be peeled off as well as the leaves.

A Hopeless Quest.

There is no such thing as perpetual motion outside of the works of God. Pursuit of it has been one of the vain quests of mankind, an unsolved problem among human vagaries, ending always in failure and often in insanity.

The Cuckoo Bee.

The cuckoo bee is so called because, like the cuckoo, it lays its eggs in the cells or nests of other bees. All the many species have slender, smooth, gayly colored bodies. They resemble wasps and emit a sweet balsamic odor.

ARE SHAPING UP FOR HIGHWAY BOOSTERS

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF THEIR COMING IS RECEIVED IN THIS CITY.

C. L. Hansen, chairman of the Jefferson Highway association for Pennington county, has received notice from State Secretary E. B. Millard of Little Falls, to the effect that the bunch is coming. Following is a copy of Mr. Millard's letter:

"My dear Mr. Hansen:—The great Sociability Run over the Jefferson Highway will start from New Orleans at 9:30 July 1st.

"Among the good roads enthusiasts from the south who will visit your city and county will be the mayor of New Orleans, his excellency, the governor of Louisiana and other big men of the south.

"It is up to all of us not only to extend the glad hand but to show them we mean it.

"The tour will arrive in your city at 5:30, July 19, cars and occupants will remain over night. Minnesota should give this Sociability Run a splendid reception—let us do it."

Crop Conditions Excelent.

Excellent crop conditions prevail throughout the Ninth Federal Reserve district, and encouraging evidences of increased business activity are reported from most sections, according to the monthly statement of the Ninth District Federal Reserve bank, issued by John H. Rich, federal reserve agent, yesterday. Prospects are for almost twice as large a winter wheat crop this year as last in Montana, and the condition in Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin is as good as a year ago, the report said.

Store Now in Place.

Contractor O. L. Ihle completed the placing of the Froseth building on its temporary site the first of the week. Bad weather and other drawbacks delayed the work somewhat, but the ticklish job was finally accomplished and the establishment is again ready for business, being located between the City Meat market and the Albert Lieberman store. The building is so long that it practically reached clear across the street and it was something of an engineering feat to get it swung completely around and backed into position.

"Pigs Is Pigs."

On Tuesday Mike Harder of St. Hilaire, brought three hogs to town and sold them to E. L. Rolland of the City Meat Market. He received 22 cents per pound for the porkers, the three head coming to something over $200. It is evident that the dealer does not get quite all the consumer pays for the meat he uses.

FARM BUREAU'S ANNUAL PICNIC GREAT SUCCESS

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF MOVEMENT IN COUNTY ATTENDS.

HAY PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

SAYS NEW STATE DEPARTMENT WILL TAKE UP MARKETING QUESTION.

The weather was ideal, the place well selected, the crowd in good humor and everybody determined to have as good a time as possible. Under such circumstances it is not to be wondered at that the fourth annual picnic of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association should be a success.

The outing was held at Squaw Point at the northern edge of the city and there were present representatives from every section of the county together with a large number from neighboring communities. It was impossible to estimate the number in the constantly shifting crowd, but to judge by the automobiles parked nearby it must have run into the thousands.

Anton First Speaker.

County Agent J. J. McCann acted as chairman and introduced Hans Anton, president of the association. The latter started out by saying that even though it was admitted that Pennington county had the best people and the best soil on earth, no one expected when the picnic idea was launched a few years ago that the affairs would assume such mammoth proportions. The loss caused by weeds was the main topic of Mr. Anton's address.

"People everywhere are discovering that they cannot raise food crops and weeds at the same time," he said, "and are turning to cattle as the solution. Right here we are now being troubled with the pest known as sow thistle, but we have the men to conquer it."

Mr. Anton asked that everyone make a special effort to eradicate the weed before any firmer foothold is secured and believed that intelligent work on the part of the farmer will soon rid the section of it entirely.

Hay Explains Work.

J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture for the state, long a resident of Thief River Falls and one of the best posted men on Northwestern conditions to be found, was the principal speaker. He said that the people today are as full of kindly sympathy and as anxious to help one another as at any time in the world's history. For awhile they seemed to forget these kindly feelings, he said, this being during the rush to settle the great, fertile Mid-western states. The trait is asserting itself again, however, as is evidenced by the attendance at these community picnics.

Tribute to Flag.

Mr. Hay called attention to the significance of the day and paid a warm tribute to the flag. He said that the emblem was at that very time receiving the attention of millions of people all over the earth's surface and it meant more to mankind now than ever before in its history.

Explains New Job.

In speaking of his new post as an agricultural director he explained at some length the purpose of the department. He said that we were dependent upon our relationship with one another for 90 per cent of necessities and that a closer study of each others needs is imperative. For this reason he believed that there was a great field open for just such department as that with which he is connected. One of the first matters to be taken up will be the improvement of marketing conditions, it being realized that these are far from satisfactory. He pointed to the egg crop of the state as an example of waste. "Eggs last year brought nearly as much as the butter manufactured in

BOYS TAKING OLD JOBS BACK AGAIN

MANY ARRIVE DURING WEEK AND MORE ARE ON THE WAY

The soldiers are returning from France at such a rate that it is impossible to keep track of them and newspapers everywhere have about given up the job. Unless the soldier himself calls attention to the fact that he has just arrived he is liable to be missed in the general shuffle.

The largest bunch returning in any one week has come back to Thief River Falls in the last few days. [illegible] Bothun and Ben Lonson arrived Sunday morning and every train since that time has brought others.

Bothun was formerly a reporter on The Times and after a short visit with his parents, who have moved to Eureka, Mont., since he joined the army, he will again be at his old job. He will be the second man to go back on The Times force when his term of service expired and there are a couple of others whose jobs are waiting for them as soon as they show up.

Among those who arrived this week are George Loken, who will assume his old post as window trimmer and assistant manager at the Loken store; Samuel Pope will in all probability go back as pharmacist at the Stebbins drug store; Lawrence Hermanson was an employe of the First State bank, later absorbed by the First and Peoples, but there is no doubt of his landing safely; Arthur Granum was with the same institution and the same holds good in his case; Carl Melby and James Havel are mechanics in the building trades and there will be keen competition for their services; Morlan Bishop had just finished his university course when he enlisted and it may be that he has not definitely decided upon his future course.

Everybody is glad to see the boys back and there will be no need of their looking farther for employment.

NEW OWNER FOR OLDEST HARDWARE

B. J. BOTTEM OF ROSEAU, BUYS PHILLIPS & LAING COMPANY STOCK.

The pioneer hardware store in Thief River Falls changed hands this week when P. J. Bottem, formerly of Roseau, purchased the business and stock of the Phillips & Laing Hardware company. The transfer was completed on Monday and the new owner took charge Tuesday morning.

This hardware business has been conducted in the McGinn building for many years and Mr. Bottem has made arrangements to remain in the present quarters.

H. G. Phillips, who has been local manager for the company owning the store for about two years, will close up his affairs and probably move to Denver, the former home of the family. He is a wide-awake, energetic business man but better acquainted with conditions in the Southwest than in this section of the country. For this reason he has for some time been desirous of making the change.

The new owner, Mr. Bottem, has up until a short time ago been engaged in the general mercantile business at Roseau. He sold out to his partner last winter and in casting about for a location decided that Thief River Falls held the most promising outlook. He is a man of long experience in the business and will make a strong bid for his share of the patronage. Mrs. Bottem and the children will join him here in a short time.

ELKS PAY TRIBUTE TO NATION'S FLAG

E. M. STANTON DELIVERS BRILIANT ADDRESS AT AUDITORIUM SATURDAY.

There were too many other things going on in the city to bring out a very large crowd for the Elks' Flag Day exercises at the auditorium last Saturday evening, and those who permitted themselves to be kept away missed a fine ceremonial. The rites attending the honoring of the national emblem by the members of this order are at all times beautiful in the extreme, and this year greater significance was attached to the proceeding by reason of what the men fighting under that flag have accomplished.

There was a vocal solo by Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher and a piano number by Miss Una Nelson, both of which were beautifully given and highly appreciated. The address for the occasion was delivered by Attorney E. M. Stanton and was without exception the finest thing of its kind ever heard in the city. In words both impressive and eloquent the speaker pictured what the American flag had stood for throughout the country's history and reminded his hearers of the deep reverence with which they should regard it and the things for which it now stands.

Injured in Auto Spill.

Martin Manum of Middle River is at the Physicians hospital with several broken ribs, the result of an automobile accident last Saturday night. With two companions Manum was coming toward Thief River Falls from the south and in crossing the railroad tracks about two miles south of the city made the turn too sudden and upset the Ford car in which the trio were riding. Alvin Holzknecht happened along and brought the injured man to the hospital, the other two being able to help themselves. Manum is getting along well and will be out before long.

Hoffmeister is Back.

H. W. Hoffmeister, formerly catcher on the Thief River Falls baseball team and later playing the same position with Crosby of the Range league, was visiting old friends in the city this week, having just been mustered out of the army. He was with the ordnance department and was in France for over a year. He has a number of offers to get into baseball again and will probably tie up with one of the range teams.

MATHIS OPENS GREAT REVIVAL HERE JUNE 29

NOTED EVANGELIST WILL HOLD MEETINGS EVERY DAY DURING MONTH.

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM

CAMPAIGN IS SPONSORED BY PRACTICALLY ALL THE CHURCHES IN CITY.

Everything has been arranged for the evangelistic meetings which will begin in the auditorium on Sunday, June 29. Evangelist Frank Mathis of Colorado Springs, Colo., the principal speaker, is reported a strong virile preacher with a message all will wish to hear.

He has with him Mr. and Mrs. George Preston, trio musical artists with a reputation extending all thru the western states. Mr. Preston will organize and direct a large chorus choir, an undertaking at which he is said to be a master. He possesses a fine tenor voice and his solo work has been highly praised by all who have heard him. For 20 years he was on the stage and at the meetings here will likely tell why he left the theatre for the platform. Mrs. Preston is the pianist, an accomplished musician who has specialized in sacred music. She is strictly high class and music lovers are promised a treat in her performance.

EVANGELIST MATHIS

For one solid month the people of this city and surrounding country will have the privilege of enjoying services that will not only be highly entertaining, but will be inspirational and helpful in every way. From the opening day to the end every day will have a feast of good things. The meetings are held under the auspices of the different churches in the city, and are non-denominational.

ROSEWOOD VILLAGE TO HAVE NEW BANK

PRELIMINARIES UNDER WAY FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF HOME INSTITUTION.

It is now practically certain that Rosewood will have a new bank some time this summer. A hearing has been called at St. Paul for June 20 to determine whether or not a charter for the bank shall be granted and chances are good for the institution as no good reason can be given why it should not be establshed.

A. D. Stephens of Crookston and Jos. Tagley of Mentor are at the head of the proposed bank and will soon decide upon a location for the new building to be used as a home for the bank. The name of the new institution will be the Farmers State Bank of Rosewood, and prospects are that it will be a successful business establishment from the start. This village is the center of a considerable area of prosperous farming country which has heretofore not enjoyed the advantages of a home bank and therefore it is assured of good patronage from the start.

BUILDING PLANS ARE LOOKED INTO

ENGINEER'S PROPOSALS GIVEN O. K. BY COMMITTEE FROM WOMAN'S CLUB.

The building committee of the Woman's club met Tuesday evening for the purpose of going over the plans submitted by the State Engineering department for the woman's building to be erected on the fair grounds this season. The plans, with a few slight changes, met with the general approval of the committee, although the location as selected by the engineer was not considered the most favorable. After being advised that it was in accordance with a general building plan covering future requirements and located to the best advantage, taking into consideration future contemplated improvements, the committee acquiesced and accepted the views of the engineer.

Plans for the new buildings have now reached a stage where it is possitively known just what will be done. Members of the Woman's club and others who have been working hard for this improvement at the fair grounds naturally feel elated to know that their labors are about to bear fruit. It is a commendable undertaking and deserves the united support of everyone concerned.

Some Swimming Feat.

Elnor Overland and Henry Aastad performed a swimming stunt last Friday that is worth recording. The boys started above the Squaw Point bridge and swam to Bridge street, a distance by river of at least ten blocks. They were in the water 40 minutes and neither of them seemed particularly tired at the end of the journey. To guard against accidents they were closely followed by Chester Dahlen in a canoe. Both boys are excellent swimmers and had the good sense to take every precaution before venturing on the long journey. It would hardly be safe for a novice to try and duplicate the feat.

MUST ANSWER TO BURGLARY CHARGE

TWO MEN ARE ACCUSED FIVE MONTHS AFTER COMMISSION OF CRIME.

Elye Hiwak and Peter E. Stenberg, employed in the car repair department of the Soo railroad in this city, were placed under arrest on Monday on a warrant sworn out by D. L. Webb, railroad detective. They were charged with having broken into a freight car on the tracks of the railroad company on the night of Feb. 1, and removing therefrom sundry articles of merchandise.

The specific charge recites that the goods stolen were two sacks of flour and a like amount of oats and bran. The accused waived preliminary examination when brought before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant and were bound over to the grand jury on a charge of burglary in the third degree.

BIRD-KILLING BOYS WARNED BUT ONCE

GAME WARDEN WM. MUNCH WILL ACT IF CALLED AGAIN.

A number of boys, ranging in age from 10 to 16 years, were rounded up on Monday and brought before Municipal Judge Tarrant by Game Warden William Munch of Crookston. They were accused of killing or attempting to kill harmless birds, the complaints becoming so numerous as to call for an investigation by the state official. Mr. Munch and Judge Tarrant both laid into the youngsters in a manner that should prove that continuing on their present course would be a most dangerous proceeding and all of them promised never to leave any grounds for complaint again.

The lads did not plead ignorance of the law, but claimed they thought the birds they were shooting were sparrows. Mr. Munch said this excuse would not go down with him as boys of their age knew as well as he did that sparrows were not found inhabiting trees in the woods. He further advised the boys to leave even the sparrows alone during the summer months if they were not able to tell these birds from other kinds.

After explaining that if another call were made upon him it would mean a fine of from $10 to $100 or a jail sentence of from 30 to 90 days and ordering them to throw their slingshots and other weapons away, the boys were permitted to go their way as neither the warden nor the judge wished to employ harsh measures. It was the last warning, however, and no mercy will be shown the next person, be he boy or man, who persists in breaking the law in this respect.

Another Soldier Returns.

Hans J. Hanson, a well known Pennington county boy, returned on Wednesday from Camp Dodge, where he had been discharged from military service. Mr. Hanson joined the army in April of last year and left for France about a year ago. He took part in the battles of St. Mihiel and Verdun, coming out of it without a scratch. After visiting for a while at Newfolden with relatives, Mr. Hanson will return to resume his former position on the farm of Chris Engen west of the city.

Bids to Be Opened.

Tomorrow, Friday, a joint meeting of the directors of the Fair association and the building committee will meet in the Commercial club rooms to receive bids for the live stock buildings and women's building at the fair grounds. The meeting will be called to order at 8:30 p. m., and officers and members of the Breeders' association are invited to attend.

SOLDIERS PLAN LEGION BRANCH IN THE COUNTY

RETURNED SERVICE MEN TO FORM PENNINGTON COUNTY POST

MEETING CALLED JUNE 28

MANY BENEFICIAL RESULTS EXPECTED FROM NATION-WIDE MOVE

Preliminary steps have been taken to secure a charter for Pennington County World War Veterans and an organization meeting will be held at the auditorium at Thief River Falls on Saturday, June 28, at 8 o'clock p. m. Every returned service man in Pennington county and those of other counties living in closer proximity to Thief River Falls than their headquarters are requested to attend and join the Pennington County Post.

Every county in the Ninth Congressional district is organizing under the direction of Major Raymond Rossberg and, although it is the policy of the American Legion to encourage the organization of many small posts to obtain the maximum strength, it is necessary that the various posts work in unison and cooperate and co-ordinate so that the full strength of the Legion can get back of any movement that will be of benefit to the members.

Membership Open to All.

Membership in the American Legion is opened to every service man regardless of what branch he was in or whether his service was overseas or domestic, and the local committee desires to have every service man in this vicinity attend the meeting and enroll in the Legion.

Temporary officers will be elected on the 28th and committees appointed. Five delegates to represent the local post at the organization meeting which will be held at Crookston on Tuesday, July 1, will be selected, the meeting at Crookston being held to to organize the posts of the Ninth Congressional district and to select delegates to the national convention which will be held in Minneapolis.

Objects of Legion.

Among the objects of the Legion is the organized assistance of all service men in securing back pay, travel allowances, the adjustment of allotment problems, the securing of proper classifications and allowances for members who have been wounded or gassed, and to assist in securing the conversion of insurance and to work out problems of employment for returned service men; to procure for service men every right and privilege that their service entitles them to, including vocational training and later on land allotments.

Example of Work.

As an example of the work conducted by the Legion, the county of Ramsey had occasion to appoint a county surveyor. Among the applicants were five returned service men who were able to present the best of qualifications but a politician was appointed. The Legion is now testing the law which compels the appointment of service men to civil vacancies wherever they are qualified and making void the appointment of others where qualified service men are applicants.

Necessary Qualifications.

The strength of the Legion depends on the strength of its various posts, and it is hoped by the committee working on the organization of the local post that every service man will enroll, and the enrollment of each man returning after organization will be obtained.

The qualifications for membership are, first: citizenship, native born or naturalized; second, service in any branch since April 6, 1917; third, an honorable discharge.

To Lecture on Poultry.

N. E. Chapman, state poultry specialist, will give a lecture in the basement of the auditorium in Thief River Falls at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, June 26. All poultry raisers of the county and any others interested in poultry growing should not miss the opportunity of hearing Mr. Chapman. He will have a set of slides with him which will be shown during the evening. Mr. Chapman states that he has heard splendid things said of the Pennington County Poultry association and hopes he may be able to add to the enthusiasm already shown in the county.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF MOYLAN FARMERS

SPEAKING, MUSIC AND GAMES ENJOYED BY LARGE CROWD SUNDAY.

The annual picnic of the Moylan Township Farmers club was held at the farm of Will Pittman in Marshall county last Sunday and was one of the most successful affairs of its kind reported in the neighborhood. A large crowd was present and the speaking and sport program much enjoyed.

The ball game between teams representing Moylan and Germantown resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 7 to 8.

Mr. Gjerling gave a vocal solo, accompanying himself on the guitar. There was a brief discussion of agricultural problems, led by Mr. Patterson of the agricultural extension division of the university of Minnesota.

Hon. H. O. Berve gave an outline of the work of the late legislative session, laying particular stress upon the importance of the measures introduced by members of the Nonpartisan league.

Emil Pladsen talked briefly on farmers' associations in general and dealt somewhat in detail on the necessity of organizing in the political field, favoring the general plan sponsored by the Nonpartisan league.

The picnic was a great success from every point of view, those present showing a keen interest in all the proceedings.

HORSE GOES INTO MILL RACE; SAVED

LANDS IN TEN FEET OF WATER WHEN PLANKING GIVES AWAY.

There was an exciting time at the Hanson & Barzen mill on Monday evening. C. L. Heinze of Holt, was hauling in a load of feed to be ground and was crossing the mill race when one of the horses crowded the other toward the edge of the bridge. The planking broke and the animal hung in the harness until released, when she dropped into the race, which is about ten feet deep. Mr. Heinze jumped down and held the horse's head above water while others rushed to open the gates, at the same time closing the flume from above. The water ran out and left the animal in no danger of drowning but penned where it could not possibly be gotten out with the apparatus at hand. A crowd soon collected and willing hands helped Mr. Heinze in every way possible.

A small hoisting derrick was secured at the plant of the Thief River Monumental works, a sort of sling made and the animal hoisted bodily out of its prison. She was without a scratch and apparently none the worse for the experience.

Mr. Heinze wishes to thank the citizens who so quickly came to his assistance. He admits that had it not been for their help he would undoubtedly have lost a valuable mare.

TAX COLLECTIONS BEST IN HISTORY

NEARLY $60,000 PAID TO TREASURER ON LAST DAY OF GRACE.

Never in the history of Pennington County have the tax payments been so large and general as for the first half of the present year. County Treasurer John Gullingsrud was nearly swamped for a few days during the latter part of May but has cleaned the work up in record time. He finds that during May there was paid into the county treasury a total of $126,808.51, or an average of nearly $4,700 for every working day. On May 31 the receipts were $58,619.82, or within $12,568.87 of one half the total for the month.

One noticeable thing about the collections at this time, according to Mr. Gullingsrud, is the number of farmers who have paid the taxes for the entire year instead of taking advantage of the two-payment provision in the law. Never before has the number of delinquents been so small.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson's force is busy making a proper division of the funds and the city, villages, townships and school districts will receive their proportion of the taxes about the last of the month.

HIGHLANDING HOST AT FARMERS PICNIC

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED TO ATTEND GATHERING ON SATURDAY.

Another of those delightful rural picnics is sceduled to be held next Saturday in G. L. Holm's grove just south of the Highlanding bridge. Preparations are being made to care for a record crowd and it is anticipated that all who attend will have an enjoyable time.

The program will begin at 1 o'clock and the leading feature will be an address by Hon. H. O. Berve, representative in the legislature. Mr. Berve will discuss the live issues of the day and his speech promises to be one which his constituents and others can ill afford to miss. B. Bjornaraa and Emil Pladsen also are on the program for talks and altogether the afternoon will be filled with good things for young and old.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Silverton band, which is ample assurance that this part of the program will be well looked after. Everybody is cordially invited to attend the picnic and to help make the occasion a complete success.

BEST GUN CLUB TOURNAMENT IN CITY'S HISTORY

FORTY VISITORS AND EIGHT LOCALS CONTEST FOR PRIZE MONEY.

RUNNINGEN HEADS LIST

ASHLEY MAN MISSES BUT EIGHT OUT OF 270 CHANCES OFFERED.

The annual tournament of the Thief River Falls Gun club, held in this city last Saturday and Sunday was a decided success in every way. Visiting experts were unanimous in the praise of the manner in which the affair was conducted from beginning to end and may be depended on to keep Thief River Falls in their memories as one of the places to be visited whenever there is a shoot going on.

Weather conditions were almost ideal. Both days were clear and warm—in fact shooters and spectators both would have been just as well pleased had there been a bit more coolness in the air.

Runningen High Man.

Some excellent scores were hung up, although it is not likely that any records were broken. H. H. Runningen of Ashley, missed but eight of the clay targets out of the 270 shot at during the two-day sessions. W. M. Hamilton of Winnipeg, was second gun, his score being 254, missing 16 out of the possible 270. J. H. Black of Winnipeg, and J. M. Ferguson of Ashley, tied for third place with 248, while C. A. Nason of Thief River Falls, was fourth man with 245.

Among the professionals who did not share in the division of the entry or added money, George E. Trent of Brainerd, was high man with 260.

The Official Score.

There were but four entries in the professional class, the result of their competition being as follows:

George E. Trent, Brainerd	260
H. C. Rinkel, Minneapolis	253
C. H. Smith, Devils Lake	235
E. E. Simmons, Minneapolis	203

Thirty men shot through the entire program of events during the two days, following being the scores hung up:

N. J. Larson, Elbow Lake	240
D. Farrell, Warren	232
W. E. Carter, Winnipeg	238
J. N. Black, Winnipeg	248
W. M. Hamilton, Winnipeg	254
M. E. Farewell, Winnipeg	231
D. N. Nelson, Manvel, N. D.	226
M. T. McFarland, city	215
C. A. Nason, city	245
E. J. Goward, Aitkin	243
J. Reigel, Deer River	231
A. Zoerb, Aitkin	227
M. Dewey, Fergus Falls	237
J. M. Torgerson, Ashley	248
W. J. Dewey, Fergus Falls	236
B. Dewey, Fergus Falls	234
A. Anderson, city	216
H. H. Runningen, Ashley	262
J. P. Krees, Baudette	228
Charles Wubbins, Baudette	224
E. Moorehead, Baudette	[illegible]
A. Stockinger, Baudette	197
W. Root, Winnipeg	[illegible]
Oscar Flatner, Baudette	194
Wm. Young, Baudette	209
L. D. McAdams, city	185
W. W. Prichard, Jr., city	204
George Unis, Grand Forks	224
H. L. Wood, Grand Forks	226
A. G. Warner, Grand Forks	242

The Short Shots.

There were a few present who entered into one or more events but who did not stay in the game long enough to count in the money. Some among them made very creditable scores at that, as the following record shows. The figures in parenthesis indicates the number shot at:

C. H. Bond, Winnipeg (195)	145
H. J. Glad, Aitkin (180)	139
Dr. Lewis (135)	107
H. W. Protzeller, city (135)	85
J. W. Jowett (135)	100
E. P. Jacoues, Aitkin (255)	209
J. H. Hay, city (135)	95
H. Eiserich, Baudette (135)	117
J. Zepple, Warroad (75)	63

Some Good Runs.

While the performance of none of the shooters could be regarded as sensational, yet there were some very good runs made. In the professional class George Trent broke 105 targets without a miss. Among the amateurs Mr. Runningen made a run of 64 on the first day and 76 on the second. Three shooters from Winnipeg made excellent records, breaking the following number in straight runs: W. E. Carter, 64; W. M. Hamilton, 59; J. H. Black, 52.

The committee had provided for every contingency and the tournament went off without a hitch. All those present stated that it was one of the best affairs of its kind they had ever attended and that they had been exceptionally well used during their stay.

Launch Party.

The Community Girls have planned a launch party for Monday evening. Five launches will be at their disposal and a good time is in store for all. The trip is one of the first of its kind and all the girls are urged to come. Meet at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church grounds.

WAS BEST PICNIC EVER.

There may be those who see no particular value in a Community Picnic like that held under the auspices of the Pennington County Farm Bureau assosiation at Squaw Point Saturday, but if such is the case they need to be jarred loose from their notions. In the opinion of most of those present the event was the best thing in the get-together line that has ever been pulled off in the county.

These community picnics provide a day's respite from the monotonous grind of farm work, and would be worth while if they served no other purpose. But this is perhaps the smallest part of their value. If we were to be questioned as to what particular feature of these annual outings we consider of greatest importance the unhesitating answer would be: The opportunity they provide for bringing about a better understanding between the farmer and the man residing in the city.

The farmer has a tendency to regard the man living in town as his natural enemy, often failing to see where the two can have anything in common. Better communication in the way of roads, telephones and rural mail delivery has to some degree dispelled this notion, but it still persists in coming to the surface on occasion.

The community picnic throws men in every walk of life together for the purpose of discussing something besides business. Each finds that the problems of the other are very similar to his own. The farmer discovers that the city man is honestly trying to help develop the section, that he is particularly interested in having the man on the farm prosper and that he may be depended on to give all the assistance within his power toward furthering anything that will prove of value. The town-dweller is surprised to find that the farmer is at bottom proud of the city which is the headquarters for his particular section and will boost for it and fight for it if need be. He has come to realize that his success and the prosperity of the city is bound up in the same package and that in trying to hurt the city he is only hurting himself. Both return to their usual vocations after a day of intermingling with a better understanding of one another, and herein lies the greatest value of these picnics.

The Pennington county event was a great success. Anything our people undertake will be a success if town and country pull together to make it so.

ERADICATE THE THISTLE.

There is no attempting to escape the fact that something drastic will have to be done in this neighborhood to eradicate the sow thistle. At the present price of farm products and with the world shortage of food supplies it is little short of criminal to permit this noxious weed to collect its enormous toll.

Pennington county is no worse off in this respect than its neighbors, but that is poor satisfaction. The fact is that unless something is done to check the inroads of this pest there will not be a county in the state safe. The thistle is moving southward at the rate of sixty or seventy miles each year and is it only a question of time until the people of the central and southern sections will be up against the same proposition that now confronts those of the north.

The thistle can be killed out. Cultivated crops or clover will clean it up in a short time, and the farmer who starts war as soon as there is an indication of its presence will be the one to profit in the end.

Nothing else thrives where this yellow menace once gets a foothold. Frost does not seem to kill it nor drought affect it adversely. It thrives after everything else has been driven from the farm.

One infested field may be the cause of a general spread. The wind carries the seed for long distances and it will take root wherever dropped. For his own protection the farmer should be on the alert. Wherever a plant is noted it should be destroyed, while fields where it has secured a foothold should be plowed up and put to something besides grain.

Nothing can be gained by minimizing the danger of permitting the weed to flourish. It is far better to face the facts and band together for its destruction.

THE KIND THAT COUNT.

Pennington county is fast acquiring the reputation of being the premier stock-raising district of northwestern Minnesota. The strides made along this line during the past few years are astounding. Not only are the stockmen here aiming at more and better cows for themselves, but they have already reached a point where the home-grown product commands fancy prices.

When one of the best known stockmen in the state comes here and pays $1500 for a three-year-old Holstein bull it proves one thing: The reputation of Pennington county stock has reached beyond the confines of the neighborhood and is attracting the attention of men who are satisfied with nothing short of the best.

The bull Mr. Hans Anton sold was undoubtedly a superior animal, but probably no better than others in the same herd. King Ormsby Korndyke Boss is the rather high-sounding name attached to this bull, and he is a scion of the famous Mercedes strain of Holstein. We are proud to know that such animals are to be found here, but prouder yet to think that we have men with the foresight and ambition to raise them.

When one lives in a section where the farmers sell bulls for $1,500 and buy stallions for $2,000 he is not going to improve his condition much by moving. The fact is more important as an indication of what the future has in store than our prospective million dollar wheat crop.

WOULD PLEASE THE FARMERS.

That was a very fine address Prof. P. H. Hay delivered at the community picnic on Saturday. Everybody said so and there is no mistake about it. This is not at all surprising, as it is one of the things the former superintendent of our schools does particularly well.

The feature of the address which has caused more comment than anything else, at least in the city, was the reference made to the importance of getting our streets paved. The farmers present gave unmistakable evidence that such proceeding would meet with their unqualified approval.

There is no doubt but that the paving of our streets would make a vast difference in the number of people coming to the city bent on business or pleasure. With the almost certain improvement of the country roads through the co-operation of the federal government, state and county, a few miles more or less will make but little difference to the man or woman on the farm. They will come to the city offering the best inducements in the way of goods, prices and comfort. We have the stores and the merchants will see to it that the prices are satisfactory. When we get the paving Thief River Falls will have everything that any other city in this section has, and a great many things that but few of them can boast.

Those who regard the permanent improvement of our streets as something that will simply increase our own comfort are mistaken. This is of course a matter to be considered, but by no means the only one. It is the outsider we wish to impress and particularly do we wish to make our town inviting to the farmer. He keenly appreciates anything that is different from what he sees every day and a clean, well-kept city attracts him even more than the man who is city-bred.

Paving is simply a matter of good business policy for Thief River Falls and the sooner we get at it the better it will be for everyone. Things are going ahead very satisfactorily and the council is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit. The members want to be absolutely certain that our streets are ready in every way before engaging on this expensive enterprise, and they are decidedly right in their attitude.

ALL EYES ARE ON DAKOTA.

There is not much question but that the people of North Dakota will ratify the laws recently passed by the legislature of that state at the referendum election to be held in the near future. Commentators all over the country have practically admitted that the people will back up the legislature and all speculation is now centered on the probable results which will follow.

The laws passed by the Nonpartisan majority in the late legislature have been the subject of more comment by editorial writers than anything that has transpired of late years, with the exception of the war. Various results are predicted, the conclusion reached depending entirely upon the viewpoint of the observer.

The opinion that the program will spell disaster is by no means unanimous. Newspapers in the eastern section of the country are far more tolerant in their discussion of the subject than are those nearer home, many of them freely admitting that the North Dakota experiments, if successful, will mean a similar upheavel in practically every agricultural state in the Union.

While some writers profess to see nothing in the Nonpartisan program but an experiment in Socialism, others fail to find anything so terribly revolutionary in the proceedings. The latter point out that no progressive movement was ever inaugurated that was not condemned as revolutionary at the outset and are evidently not at all certain that ruin will follow adoption of the laws. During the past few years, these observers maintain, there has been a decided trend toward public ownership of essential utilities and the Nonpartisan program in North Dakota simply goes somewhat farther along this line than anything heretofore attempted.

The outcome of the election will be watched with interest all over the country, but this interest will be as nothing compared with that which will attend the carrying out of the program in case it is endorsed by the people.

THE NORTHERN NORMAL.

Of course Thief River Falls should have been selected as the location for the sixth normal school, but let's forget it. Bemidji was chosen and it is now up to Thief River Falls and every other city and village in the northern part of the state to select it as the place where their high school graduates who wish to take up normal work shall complete their course.

The institution will in all likelihood be even better equipped than others in the state, as everything will of the latest. President Deputy is a live wire and is naturally ambitious that his school shall make good from the outset. The faculty has been selected with the greatest care and every other detail most carefully looked after. The people of Bemidji have made special board and room rates to students and the cost of living there will be no greater than in other normal school cities. Add to this the fact that it will cost the pupil from this neighborhood considerably less to reach the Beltrami capital than any of the other schools and there appears no reason why every normal student in this section should not select the new institution.

The entire section is interested in the success of this school. It belongs as much to Thief River Falls or Warren or Red Lake Falls as it does to Bemidji and was established for the particular benefit of the people in this section. It is to be hoped that none of our citizens will be so short-sighted as to refuse to patronize the school simply because it was not located here. We can't have everything.

A PARK IS THE NEXT THING.

There is not a city of any size in this or any other state in which the people have not at one time or another asked this question: Why did we not have sense enough to provide for a park while there were a dozen or more excellent sites to choose from? In only a few cities, and these among those of recent growth, has this important matter been given the proper consideration until after it was too late.

Thief River Falls is in grave danger of being left in the same fix. There is still time to make provision for a peoples' play ground, but the cost of good sites is rapidly rising and it will not be long before all are devoted to other uses.

For this reason the committee appointed at the community picnic last Saturday should get busy at once. The instructions are to find out just what the owners of Squaw Point want for that property, with a view to acquiring it for pary purposes. The idea is a good one whether the negotiations for this particular spot turn out satisfactory or not.

Thief River Falls should have a park. On this point everyone is agreed. It is also realized that the matter should be put off no longer. The choice of sites has narrowed down to a point where there are but two to decide between. Squaw Point is one of these and the stretch at the south end of the city known as Lovers' Lane is the other. Either would make an ideal park, the first-named being perhaps the most generally favored because of its convenient location and immunity from damage by high water.

The particular spot selected, however, does not so greatly matter. The idea is to make a start toward something of the kind.

THE TRI-COUNTY FAIR.

The first annual fair to be given by the people of eastern Pennington, southern Marshall and western Beltrami counties will be held at Goodridge on Sept. 22 and 23. The event will be one of much interest and importance.

After Goodridge is passed on the electric line from this city there are no railroad facilities whatever until the southern shore of the Red Lakes is reached. The intermediate country is naturally one of the richest in the entire Northwest and only needs adequate transportation facilities to insure its settlement by a highly desirable class of general farmers and stockmen. This fair is staged for the purpose of proving that the products grown in the section are equal to any produced anywhere.

Twenty Years Ago.

Teachers for the ensuing year were appointed by the school board as follows: Herbert Fuller, principal; Estella Stinchfield, third department; Jessie Davis, second department; Helen Wallin, first department. The enrollment for the year just past was 250 at the Central and 132 at the Knox.

A new 132-foot smoke stack was being put up at the saw mill. The stack was five feet six inches in diameter.

Phil Zeh reported a good demand for the brick turned out from his kiln in this city.

Mrs. S. V. Bailey returned from a visit to Atwater, Minn.

Mrs. Logan, wife of the pastor, conducted religious services at the Methodist church in the absence of her husband.

Rev. I. T. Aastad went to Spring Grove for the purpose of attending the meeting of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

It was decided to hold a Fourth of July celebration in the city and a committee composed of C. C. Jackson, C. L. Dobner and Chris Amundson was appointed to look after the details.

Ten Years Ago.

The mayor of Thief River Falls and the chairmen of the townships of Norden, North, Silverton, Cloverleaf, Reiner and Star met for the purpose of appointing a successor to County Commissioner Daniel Shaw, who resigned. Joseph Johnson of Star township, was elected.

Frank Furstnau, a young men employed by the Soo railroad, attempted to swim across the river at the foot of Third street and was drowned.

George and Oscar Williams purchased the cold storage plant from the Gund Brewing company on the east side of the river and converted the plant into an ice cream factory.

It was announced that O. A. Naplin and G. T. Almen would open a commercial college in Thief River Falls in the fall.

J. Q. Cronkhite and Miss Lillian Ahlberg of Henning, were married in the latter city.

The water in the river was so low that steamboating on the upper stretches was a difficult proceeding.

The county commissioners advertised for bids for the construction of the Germantown ditch, 55 miles in length.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gobler and daughter returned from a two-weeks' visit with friends and relatives in the Twin Cities and Wisconsin points.

Lian-Gustavson.

Ole Lian of Rocksbury township, and Miss Hildur Gustavson of Smiley township, were united in marriage last Saturday in the parsonage by Rev. Lundell of the Free Mission church. The bridesmaid was Miss Hannah Sjoberg, and the best man was Gus Gustavson, brother of the groom. The young couple left Saturday for Moorhead for a short visit with friends and relatives, returning to their future home in Rocksbury township on Wednesday.

Why Gamble?

IN considering Hail Insurance, many people offer the excuse that losses through storms are comparatively few in this community, and that this form of insurance is a needless expense.

AT best the cost of carrying insurance of this kind is trivial. If loss does occur, as was the case in Pennington county last summer, the money paid for premiums pays handsome dividends.

WHY gamble when protection is so sure and so economical? Call us on the telephone—today—for rates covering your property.

WAS BEST PICNIC EVER.

There may be those who see no particular value in a Community Picnic like that held under the auspices of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association at Squaw Point Saturday, but if such is the case they need to be jarred loose from their notions. In the opinion of most of those present the event was the best thing in the get-together line that has ever been pulled off in the county.

These community picnics provide a day's respite from the monotonous grind of farm work, and would be worth while if they served no other purpose. But this is perhaps the smallest part of their value. If we were to be questioned as to what particular feature of these annual outings we consider of greatest importance the unhesitating answer would be: The opportunity they provide for bringing about a better understanding between the farmer and the man residing in the city.

The farmer has a tendency to regard the man living in town as his natural enemy, often failing to see where the two can have anything in common. Better communication in the way of roads, telephones and rural mail delivery has to some degree dispelled this notion, but it still persists in coming to the surface on occasion.

The community picnic throws men in every walk of life together for the purpose of discussing something besides business. Each finds that the problems of the other are very similar to his own. The farmer discovers that the city man is honestly trying to help develop the section, that he is particularly interested in having the man on the farm prosper and that he may be depended on to give all the assistance within his power toward furthering anything that will prove of value. The town-dweller is surprised to find that the farmer is at bottom proud of the city which is the headquarters for his particular section and will boost for it and fight for it if need be. He has come to realize that his success and the prosperity of the city is bound up in the same package and that in trying to hurt the city he is only hurting himself. Both return to their usual vocations after a day of intermingling with a better understanding of one another, and herein lies the greatest value of these picnics.

The Pennington county event was a great success. Anything our people undertake will be a success if town and country pull together to make it so.

ERADICATE THE THISTLE.

There is no attempting to escape the fact that somthing drastic will have to be done in this neighborhood to eradicate the sow thistle. At the present price of farm products and with the world shortage of food supplies it is little short of criminal to permit this noxious weed to collect its enormous toll.

Pennington county is no worse off in this respect than its neighbors, but that is poor satisfaction. The fact is that unless something is done to check the inroads of this pest there will not be a county in the state safe. The thistle is moving southward at the rate of sixty or sevently mlies each year and is it only a question of time until the people of the central and southern sections will be up against the same proposition that now confronts those of the north.

The thistle can be killed out. Cultivated crops or clover will clean it up in a short time, and the farmer who starts war as soon as there is an indication of its presence will be the one to profit in the end.

Nothing else thrives where this yellow menace once gets a foothold. Frost does not seem to kill it nor drought affect it adversely. It thrives after everything else has been driven from the farm.

One infested field may be the cause of a general spread. The wind carries the seed for long distances and it will take root wherever dropped. For his own protection the farmer should be on the alert. Wherever a plant is noted it should be destroyed, while fields where it has secured a foothold should be plowed up and put to something besides grain.

Nothing can be gained by minimizing the danger of permitting the weed to flourish. It is far better to face the facts and band together for its destruction.

THE KIND THAT COUNT.

Pennington county is fast acquiring the reputation of being the premier stock-raising district of northwestern Minnesota. The strides made along this line during the past few years are astounding. Not only are the stockmen here aiming at more and better cows for themselves, but they have already reached a point where the home-grown product commands fancy prices.

When one of the best known stockmen in the state comes here and pays $1500 for a three-year-old Holstein bull it proves one thing: The reputation of Pennington county stock has reached beyond the confines of the neighborhood and is attracting the attention of men who are satisfied with nothing short of the best.

The bull Mr. Hans Anton sold was undoubtedly a superior animal, but probably no better than others in the same herd. King Ormsby Korndyke Bess is the rather high-sounding name attached to this bull, and he is a scion of the famous Mercedes strain of Holstein. We are proud to know that such animals are to be found here, but prouder yet to think that we have men with the foresight and ambition to raise them.

When one lives in a section where the farmers sell bulls for $1,500 and buy stallions for $2,000 he is not going to improve his condition much by moving. The fact is more important as an indication of what the future has in store than our prospective million dollar wheat crop.

WOULD PLEASE THE FARMERS.

That was a very fine address Prof. P. H. Hay delivered at the community picnic on Saturday. Everybody said so and there is no mistake about it. This is not at all surprising, as it is one of the things the former superintendent of our schools does particularly well.

The feature of the address which has caused more comment than anything else, at least in the city, was the reference made to the importance of getting our streets paved. The farmers present gave unmistakable evidence that such proceeding would meet with their unqualified approval.

There is no doubt but that the paving of our streets would make a vast difference in the number of people coming to the city bent on business or pleasure. With the almost certain improvement of the country roads through the co-operation of the federal government, state and county, a few miles more or less will make but little difference to the man or woman on the farm. They will come to the city offering the best inducements in the way of goods, prices and comfort. We have the stores and the merchants will see to it that the prices are satisfactory. When we get the paving Thief River Falls will have everything that any other city in this section has, and a great many things that but few of them can boast.

Those who regard the permanent improvement of our streets as something that will simply increase our own comfort are mistaken. This is of course a matter to be considered, but by no means the only one. It is the outsider we wish to impress and particularly do we wish to make our town inviting to the farmer. He keenly appreciates anything that is different from what he sees every day and a clean, well-kept city attracts him even more than the man who is city-bred.

Paving is simply a matter of good business policy for Thief River Falls and the sooner we get at it the better it will be for everyone. Things are going ahead very satisfactorily and the council is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit. The members want to be absolutely certain that our streets are ready in every way before engaging on this expensive enterprise, and they are decidedly right in their attitude.

ALL EYES ARE ON DAKOTA.

There is not much question but that the people of North Dakota will ratify the laws recently passed by the legislature of that state at the referendum election to be held in the near future. Commentators all over the country have practically admitted that the people will back up the legislature and all speculation is now centered on the probable results which will follow.

The laws passed by the Nonpartisan majority in the late legislature have been the subject of more comment by editorial writers than anything that has transpired of late years, with the exception of the war. Various results are predicted, the conclusion reached depending entirely upon the viewpoint of the observer.

The opinion that the program will spell disaster is by no means unanimous. Newspapers in the eastern section of the country are far more tolerant in their discussion of the subject than are those nearer home, many of them freely admitting that the North Dakota experiments, if successful, will mean a similar upheavel in practically every agricultural state in the Union.

While some writers profess to see nothing in the Nonpartisan program but an experiment in Socialism, others fail to find anything so terribly revolutionary in the proceedings. The latter point out that no progressive movement was ever inaugurated that was not condemned as revolutionary at the outset and are evidently not at all certain that ruin will follow adoption of the laws. During the past few years, these observers maintain, there has been a decided trend toward public ownership of essential utilities and the Nonpartisan program in North Dakota simply goes somewhat farther along this line than anything heretofore attempted.

The outcome of the election will be watched with interest all over the country, but this interest will be as nothing compared with that which will attend the carrying out of the program in case it is endorsed by the people.

THE NORTHERN NORMAL.

Of course Thief River Falls should have been selected as the location for the sixth normal school, but let's forget it. Bemidji was chosen and it is now up to Thief River Falls and every other city and village in the northern part of the state to select it as the place where their high school graduates who wish to take up normal work shall complete their course.

The institution will in all likelihood be even better equipped than others in the state, as everything will of the latest. President Deputy is a live wire and is naturally ambitious that his school shall make good from the outset. The faculty has been selected with the greatest care and every other detail most carefully looked after. The people of Bemidji have made special board and room rates to students and the cost of living there will be no greater than in other normal school cities. Add to this the fact that it will cost the pupil from this neighborhood considerably less to reach the Beltrami capital than any of the other schools and there appears no reason why every normal student in this section should not select the new institution.

The entire section is interested in the success of this school. It belongs as much to Thief River Falls or Warren or Red Lake Falls as it does to Bemidji and was established for the particular benefit of the people in this section. It is to be hoped that none of our citizens will be so short-sighted as to refuse to patronize the school simply because it was not located here. We can't have everything.

A PARK IS THE NEXT THING.

There is not a city of any size in this or any other state in which the people have not at one time or another asked this question: Why did we not have sense enough to provide for a park while there were a dozen or more excellent sites to choose from? In only a few cities, and these among those of recent growth, has this important matter been given the proper consideration until after it was too late.

Thief River Falls is in grave danger of being left in the same fix. There is still time to make provision for a peoples' play ground, but the cost of good sites is rapidly rising and it will not be long before all are devoted to other uses.

For this reason the committee appointed at the community picnic last Saturday should get busy at once. The instructions are to find out just what the owners of Squaw Point want for that property, with a view to acquiring it for pary purposes. The idea is a good one whether the negotiations for this particular spot turn out satisfactory or not.

Thief River Falls should have a park. On this point everyone is agreed. It is also realized that the matter should be put off no longer. The choice of sites has narrowed down to a point where there are but two to decide between. Squaw Point is one of these and the stretch at the south end of the city known as Lovers' Lane is the other. Either would make an ideal park, the first-named being perhaps the most generally favored because of its convenient location and immunity from damage by high water.

The particular spot selected, however, does not so greatly matter. The idea is to make a start toward something of the kind.

THE TRI-COUNTY FAIR.

The first annual fair to be given by the people of eastern Pennington, southern Marshall and western Beltrami counties will be held at Goodridge on Sept. 22 and 23. The event will be one of much interest and importance.

After Goodridge is passed on the electric line from this city there are no railroad facilities whatever until the southern shore of the Red Lakes is reached. The intermediate country is naturally one of the richest in the entire Northwest and only needs adequate transportation facilities to insure its settlement by a highly desirable class of general farmers and stockmen. This fair is staged for the purpose of proving that the products grown in the section are equal to any produced anywhere.

Twenty Years Ago.

Teachers for the ensuing year were appointed by the school board as follows: Herbert Fuller, principal; Estella Stinchfield, third department; Jessie Davis, second department; Helen Wallin, first department. The enrollment for the year just past was 250 at the Central and 132 at the Knox.

A new 132-foot smoke stack was being put up at the saw mill. The stack was five feet six inches in diameter.

Phil Zeh reported a good demand for the brick turned out from his kiln in this city.

Mrs. S. V. Bailey returned from a visit to Atwater, Minn.

Mrs. Logan, wife of the pastor, conducted religious services at the Methodist church in the absence of her husband.

Rev. I. T. Aastad went to Spring Grove for the purpose of attending the meeting of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

It was decided to hold a Fourth of July celebration in the city and a committee composed of C. C. Jackson, C. L. Dobner and Chris Amundson was appointed to look after the details.

Ten Years Ago.

The mayor of Thief River Falls and the chairmen of the townships of Norden, North, Silverton, Cloverleaf, Reiner and Star met for the purpose of appointing a successor to County Commissioner Daniel Shaw, who resigned. Joseph Johnson of Star township, was elected.

Frank Furstnau, a young men employed by the Soo railroad, attempted to swim across the river at the foot of Third street and was drowned.

George and Oscar Williams purchased the cold storage plant from the Gund Brewing company on the east side of the river and converted the plant into an ice cream factory.

It was announced that O. A. Naplin and G. T. Almen would open a commercial college in Thief River Falls in the fall.

U. Q. Cronkhite and Miss Lillian Ahlberg of Henning, were married in the latter city.

The water in the river was so low that steamboating on the upper stretches was a difficult proceeding.

Why Gamble?

IN considering Hail Insurance, many people offer the excuse that losses through storms are comparatively few in this community, and that this form of insurance is a needless expense.

AT best the cost of carrying insurance of this kind is trivial. If loss does occur, as was the case in Pennington county last summer, the money paid for premiums pays handsome dividends.

WHY gamble when protection is so sure and so economical? Call us on the telephone—today—for rates covering your property.

WAS BEST PICNIC EVER.

There may be those who see no particular value in a Community Picnic like that held under the auspices of the Pennington County Farm Bureau assosiation at Squaw Point Saturday, but if such is the case they need to be jarred loose from their notions. In the opinion of most of those present the event was the best thing in the get-together line that has ever been pulled off in the county.

These community picnics provide a day's respite from the monotonous grind of farm work, and would be worth while if they served no other purpose. But this is perhaps the smallest part of their value. If we were to be questioned as to what particular feature of these annual outings we consider of greatest importance the unhesitating answer would be: The opportunity they provide for bringing about a better understanding between the farmer and the man residing in the city.

The farmer has a tendency to regard the man living in town as his natural enemy, often failing to see where the two can have anything in common. Better communication in the way of roads, telephones and rural mail delivery has to some degree dispelled this notion, but it still persists in coming to the surface on occasion.

The community picnic throws men in every walk of life together for the purpose of discussing something besides business. Each finds that the problems of the other are very similar to his own. The farmer discovers that the city man is honestly trying to help develop the section, that he is particularly interested in having the man on the farm prosper and that he may be depended on to give all the assistance within his power toward furthering anything that will prove of value. The town-dweller is surprised to find that the farmer is at bottom proud of the city which is the headquarters for his particular section and will boost for it and fight for it if need be. He has come to realize that his success and the prosperity of the city is bound up in the same package and that in trying to hurt the city he is only hurting himself. Both return to their usual vocations after a day of intermingling with a better understanding of one another, and herein lies the greatest value of these picnics.

The Pennington county event was a great success. Anything our people undertake will be a success if town and country pull together to make it so.

ERADICATE THE THISTLE.

There is no attempting to escape the fact that somthing drastic will have to be done in this neighborhood to eradicate the sow thistle. At the present price of farm products and with the world shortage of food supplies it is little short of criminal to permit this noxious weed to collect its enormous toll.

Pennington county is no worse off in this respect than its neighbors, but that is poor satisfaction. The fact is that unless something is done to check the inroads of this pest there will not be a county in the state safe. The thistle is moving southward at the rate of sixty or sevently mlies each year and is it only a question of time until the people of the central and southern sections will be up against the same proposition that now confronts those of the north.

The thistle can be killed out. Cultivated crops or clover will clean it up in a short time, and the farmer who starts war as soon as there is an indication of its presence will be the one to profit in the end.

Nothing else thrives where this yellow menace once gets a foothold. Frost does not seem to kill it nor drought affect it adversely. It thrives after everything else has been driven from the farm.

One infested field may be the cause of a general spread. The wind carries the seed for long distances and it will take root wherever dropped. For his own protection the farmer should be on the alert. Wherever a plant is noted it should be destroyed, while fields where it has secured a foothold should be plowed up and put to something besides grain.

Nothing can be gained by minimizing the danger of permitting the weed to flourish. It is far better to face the facts and band together for its destruction.

THE KIND THAT COUNT.

Pennington county is fast acquiring the reputation of being the premier stock-raising district of northwestern Minnesota. The strides made along this line during the past few years are astounding. Not only are the stockmen here aiming at more and better cows for themselves, but they have already reached a point where the home-grown product commands fancy prices.

When one of the best known stockmen in the state comes here and pays $1500 for a three-year-old Holstein bull it proves one thing: The reputation of Pennington county stock has reached beyond the confines of the neighborhood and is attracting the attention of men who are satisfied with nothing short of the best.

The bull Mr. Hans Anton sold was undoubtedly a superior animal, but probably no better than others in the same herd. King Ormsby Korndyke Bess is the rather high-sounding name attached to this bull, and he is a scion of the famous Mercedes strain of Holstein. We are proud to know that such animals are to be found here, but prouder yet to think that we have men with the foresight and ambition to raise them.

When one lives in a section where the farmers sell bulls for $1,500 and buy stallions for $2,000 he is not going to improve his condition much by moving. The fact is more important as an indication of what the future has in store than our prospective million dollar wheat crop.

WOULD PLEASE THE FARMERS.

That was a very fine address Prof. P. H. Hay delivered at the community picnic on Saturday. Everybody said so and there is no mistake about it. This is not at all surprising, as it is one of the things the former superintendent of our schools does particularly well.

The feature of the address which has caused more comment than anything else, at least in the city, was the reference made to the importance of getting our streets paved. The farmers present gave unmistakable evidence that such proceeding would meet with their unqualified approval.

There is no doubt but that the paving of our streets would make a vast difference in the number of people coming to the city bent on business or pleasure. With the almost certain improvement of the country roads through the co-operation of the federal government, state and county, a few miles more or less will make but little difference to the man or woman on the farm. They will come to the city offering the best inducements in the way of goods, prices and comfort. We have the stores and the merchants will see to it that the prices are satisfactory. When we get the paving Thief River Falls will have everything that any other city in this section has, and a great many things that but few of them can boast.

Those who regard the permanent improvement of our streets as something that will simply increase our own comfort are mistaken. This is of course a matter to be considered, but by no means the only one. It is the outsider we wish to impress and particularly do we wish to make our town inviting to the farmer. He keenly appreciates anything that is different from what he sees every day and a clean, well-kept city attracts him even more than the man who is city-bred.

Paving is simply a matter of good business policy for Thief River Falls and the sooner we get at it the better it will be for everyone. Things are going ahead very satisfactorily and the council is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit. The members want to be absolutely certain that our streets are ready in every way before engaging on this expensive enterprise, and they are decidedly right in their attitude.

ALL EYES ARE ON DAKOTA.

There is not much question but that the people of North Dakota will ratify the laws recently passed by the legislature of that state at the referendum election to be held in the near future. Commentators all over the country have practically admitted that the people will back up the legislature and all speculation is now centered on the probable results which will follow.

The laws passed by the Nonpartisan majority in the late legislature have been the subject of more comment by editorial writers than anything that has transpired of late years, with the exception of the war. Various results are predicted, the conclusion reached depending entirely upon the viewpoint of the observer.

The opinion that the program will spell disaster is by no means unanimous. Newspapers in the eastern section of the country are far more tolerant in their discussion of the subject than are those nearer home, many of them freely admitting that the North Dakota experiments, if successful, will mean a similar upheavel in practically every agricultural state in the Union.

While some writers profess to see nothing in the Nonpartisan program but an experiment in Socialism, others fail to find anything so terribly revolutionary in the proceedings. The latter point out that no progressive movement was ever inaugurated that was not condemned as revolutionary at the outset and are evidently not at all certain that ruin will follow adoption of the laws. During the past few years, these observers maintain, there has been a decided trend toward public ownership of essential utilities and the Nonpartisan program in North Dakota simply goes somewhat farther along this line than anything heretofore attempted.

The outcome of the election will be watched with interest all over the country, but this interest will be as nothing compared with that which will attend the carrying out of the program in case it is endorsed by the people.

THE NORTHERN NORMAL.

Of course Thief River Falls should have been selected as the location for the sixth normal school, but let's forget it. Bemidji was chosen and it is now up to Thief River Falls and every other city and village in the northern part of the state to select it as the place where their high school graduates who wish to take up normal work shall complete their course.

The institution will in all likelihood be even better equipped than others in the state, as everything will of the latest. President Deputy is a live wire and is naturally ambitious that his school shall make good from the outset. The faculty has been selected with the greatest care and every other detail most carefully looked after. The people of Bemidji have made special board and room rates to students and the cost of living there will be no greater than in other normal school cities. Add to this the fact that it will cost the pupil from this neighborhood considerably less to reach the Beltrami capital than any of the other schools and there appears no reason why every normal student in this section should not select the new institution.

The entire section is interested in the success of this school. It belongs as much to Thief River Falls or Warren or Red Lake Falls as it does to Bemidji and was established for the particular benefit of the people in this section. It is to be hoped that none of our citizens will be so short-sighted as to refuse to patronize the school simply because it was not located here. We can't have everything.

A PARK IS THE NEXT THING.

There is not a city of any size in this or any other state in which the people have not at one time or another asked this question: Why did we not have sense enough to provide for a park while there were a dozen or more excellent sites to choose from? In only a few cities, and these among those of recent growth, has this important matter been given the proper consideration until after it was too late.

Thief River Falls is in grave danger of being left in the same fix. There is still time to make provision for a peoples' play ground, but the cost of good sites is rapidly rising and it will not be long before all are devoted to other uses.

For this reason the committee appointed at the community picnic last Saturday should get busy at once. The instructions are to find out just what the owners of Squaw Point want for that property, with a view to acquiring it for pary purposes. The idea is a good one whether the negotiations for this particular spot turn out satisfactory or not.

Thief River Falls should have a park. On this point everyone is agreed. It is also realized that the matter should be put off no longer. The choice of sites has narrowed down to a point where there are but two to decide between. Squaw Point is one of these and the stretch at the south end of the city known as Lovers' Lane is the other. Either would make an ideal park, the first-named being perhaps the most generally favored because of its convenient location and immunity from damage by high water.

The particular spot selected, however, does not so greatly matter. The idea is to make a start toward something of the kind.

THE TRI-COUNTY FAIR.

The first annual fair to be given by the people of eastern Pennington, southern Marshall and western Beltrami counties will be held at Goodridge on Sept. 22 and 23. The event will be one of much interest and importance.

After Goodridge is passed on the electric line from this city there are no railroad facilities whatever until the southern shore of the Red Lakes is reached. The intermediate country is naturally one of the richest in the entire Northwest and only needs adequate transportation facilities to insure its settlement by a highly desirable class of general farmers and stockmen. This fair is staged for the purpose of proving that the products grown in the section are equal to any produced anywhere.

Be a Joy-Walker, "Gets-It" for Corns

2 Drops, 2 Seconds—Corn Is Doomed!

When you almost die with your shoes on and corns make you almost walk sideways to get away from the pain, take a vacation for a minute or two and apply 2 or 3 drops of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K'd it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Why Gamble?

In considering Hail Insurance, many people offer the excuse that losses through storms are comparatively few in this community, and that this form of insurance is a needless expense.

At best the cost of carrying insurance of this kind is trivial. If loss does occur, as was the case in Pennington county last summer, the money paid for premiums pays handsome dividends.

Why gamble when protection is so sure and so economical? Call us on the telephone—today—for rates covering your property.

NEW RATES ESTABLISHED FOR LONG DISTANCE CALLS

Charges Quoted are Based on Different Kinds of Service Provided

This company will put into effect May 21, 1919, new regulations governing charges for long distance telephone calls.

These regulations are the same as have been in effect for interstate telephone calls since January 21. They have not been put in force before in Minnesota because only recently the United States Supreme Court aued the authority for making telephone [illegible] within the state.

[illegible] If the calling party [illegible] to talk to a definite person, the "person to person" rate, which is higher, is charged. Charges for "station to station" calls cannot be reversed, that is, they cannot be charged to the telephone called.

The "station to station" service is the cheapest and quickest form of long distance communication. It is furnished at a lower rate than other classes of service because it requires less work on the part of the long distance operators and "ties up" the wires for a shorter period than when a particular party must be summoned to the telephone.

"PERSON TO PERSON" SERVICE

When a toll call is made, specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, the "person to person" rate applies.

As this service requires a greater amount of operating effort and holds the wires for a longer period than "station to station" calls because a particular party must be brought to the telephone before a conversation is held, the rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate.

"APPOINTMENT" RATE

When the calling party in placing his call appoints a definite specified time at which he will talk on a "person to person" basis and the conversation is held accordingly, the "appointment" rate applies.

"MESSENGER" CALLS

When a call is made on a "person to person" basis and a messenger is required to secure attendance of the designated person at a public pay station at the distant point, the "messenger call" rate applies.

This rate is the same as the "appointment" rate for the same distance, plus any charge for messenger service.

Messenger charges incurred are to be paid even though the desired conversation is not held.

"REPORT CHARGE"

The "report charge" applies when a "person to person" call, an "appointment" call or a "messenger" call is made and the particular person desired is not in or will not talk, or when the right telephone address of the particular person desired has not been given and he cannot be reached at a telephone within one hour.

Such a charge also applies if the calling party is absent when the connection is completed within one hour, or if he refuses to talk.

The cost of handling a call where we are unable to locate the party called, is nearly as great as when the person is found and the conversation held. The "report charge" covers a portion of this expense.

"COLLECT CALLS"

"Collect calls" are calls for which the charges are reversed; that is, are to be collected from the subscriber at the distant station at which the call is completed.

"Collect calls," or reversed charges, are not allowed in connection with "station to station" calls but are with other classes of service.

STANDARD TOLL NIGHT RATES

The following rates are charged for night service on a "station to station" basis. Night rates do not apply to other classes of service:

8:30 p. m. to 12 midnight—About one-half of the "station to station" day rate.

12:00 midnight to 4:30 a. m.—About one-quarter of the "station to station" day rate.

The minimum night rate is 25 cents. Day rates apply on calls made at night when the "station to station" charge is less than the minimum night rate.

EXAMPLE SHOWING HOW THE METHOD IS APPLIED

Following are examples for a call about 150 miles distant:

"Station to station" rate	$1.00
Completed "person to person" rate	1.25
Completed "appointment" rate	1.50
Completed "messenger call" rate	1.50
Plus messenger charges
Report charge	$ .25
Rate between 8:30 p. m., and 12 midnight, "station to station" service only	.50
Rate between 12 midnight and 4:30 a. m., "station to station" service only	.25

The lowest "person to person" rate quoted is 15 cents, the minimum "appointment" rate is 20 cents, the minimum "messenger call" rate is 20 cents and the minimum "report charge" is 5 cents.

On "station to station" calls, where the rate is 25 cents or less, an initial talking period of 5 minutes is permitted without extra charge. Where the rate is higher the initial period is 3 minutes. On "person to person" calls, "appointment" calls and "messenger" calls the initial talking period is 3 minutes.

The rate for any class of service may be obtained from the long distance operator.

CREAMERY PAYS $1,000 PER DAY TO PRODUCERS

THOSE RECEIVING MORE THAN $50 FOR MONTH NUMBER 128.

BEST RECORD IN HISTORY

AN INCREASE OF 58 PER CENT IN AMOUNT PAID TO FARMERS.

Secretary Peter Engelstad has submitted his report for the month of May for the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery, and the figures show that the period was the best in the history of the institution. A total of $36,000 was paid out to patrons. Of this sum $27,500 was turned over in cash at the time of delivery, the remaining $8,500 being divided at the end of the month. This is practically $1,000 for every day, including Sundays.

Of the amount paid out in cash at the time the cream was delivered $12,100 went to herd owners whose checks were for more than $50, leaving $15,400 to be distributed among the smaller producers.

The results during the month were all secured on pasture and the actual profits are therefore larger than for any previous month of the season.

Anton Again Leads.

The Holstein herd of Hans Anton is easily in the lead, his receipts being more than twice as great as those of his nearest competitor. For second place Mrs. J. J. Berg and Peter Engelstad are close contestants, with the record slightly in favor of the former. Following is a list of those whose checks were for more than $50. Carl Gjelhaug, who was among the first to enlist in the war from Pennington county, was in the city for a short time last week. He had been visiting his folks at Baudette and was on his way back to Washington. All during the trouble he was kept at work in the medical department of the army at the capital and did not get across. Mr. Gjelhaug has not yet been mustered out but expects to receive his discharge soon. It is probable that he will remain in the employ of the government, having an offer to engage upon another line of work. He wears four service stripes on his sleeve, showing that he has served more than two years in the army.

In Select Company.

Sixty-five thousand dollars seems like a considerable price to pay for a bull of even the very highest quality, but this was the price paid for a champion Holstein at the Moorhead stock sale last week. It now develops that V. C. Noper, the Thief River Falls dairy and stockman, has a half-brother to this famous bull as the head for his herd. Mr. Noper says that his animal would not bring any such sum as did his relative but that he is a better specimen than many of those selling at a fancy figure at the Moorhead show at that.

Public Forum

Thief River Falls, Minn., June 16, 1919.—We note in a Twin City paper a writeup of the ministers of Thief River Falls because they with other citizens have been asking the city government to pass an ordinance to compel the movies and other commercialized public amusements to play fair with the churches and the business houses of the city and close on Sundays. These money-making amusement vendors are asked to be content with six days in the week. We are not concerned with the contents of the write-up, but this one sentence arouses our interest: "A subscriber sends in a copy of a local publication with the request that we answer them." Who is the subscriber of the local paper that requests the Twin City paper to discharge its malodorous slush upon the ministers and churches of Thief River Falls? Who has been so much interested in this particular copy of the Twin City paper as to give it special circulation in this community? The church people of Thief River Falls and their families have been patrons of the movies from the beginning, but when the churches ask that the movies be closed on Sunday, one day in the week for the selfevident good of the community, the above is the treatment they get.

The church people of Thief River Falls have been turning their young people over to the movies for their education. So far they have endured the Sunday show. Many of the pictures put on during each week are educational or enjoyable. But is it not time for church people to inquire whether or not the film trust has mingled with these films, pictures suggestive of crime, lust and ill-manners? Do we still want to send our young people to the movie school and to put them under the personal influence of the manager?

The ministers and the others who undertook to initiate the movement for closing the Sunday shows were quite aware of the opposition that they would have to encounter. They knew that their action would at the time probably entail personal discomfort and possible loss. They counted the cost before they began. It has been in view of the welfare of the community that they encounter such attacks as that in the Twin City paper.

What we ask is that the people of our fair city shall do their own thinking and not allow themselves to be prejudiced. The issue is simple and definite. We are asking the city government to forbid commercialized public amusements on Sunday.

We are not in this movement because we wish any one ill, but only because we seek the welfare of every one. The rules of life laid down in the ten commandments and elaborated in the sermon on the mount work well in practice. To be a sincere disciple of the One Divine Man, means on an average increased happiness and prosperity. Take a list of the business and professional men who have lived in Thief River Falls during the last ten years and check off those that have succeeded and those that have failed and see if real Christian men do not live longer and prosper more, and inquire whether or not the cause of failure as a rule is wickedness. A Sunday freed from shows would be a circumstance favorable to better and more prosperous living.

Gentlemen:

You are hereby notified that on the 29th day of July, 1910, the District Court of the Fourteenth Judicial District did order and establish Judicial Ditch Number Eighteen of Marshall and Pennington Counties, Minnesota; that the total amount of benefits assessed by the viewers on said ditch within Pennington County was $50,836.19; that the total amount of lien filed on said ditch within Pennington County was $61,507.50; that the total amount of bonds sold for such ditch within Pennington County was $64,000.00; that the total cost of said ditch within Pennington County was the sum of $73,047.78; that said ditch has been fully completed and that there remains a shortage of $8,539.98, principal and $3,757.60 interest, that has been paid by Pennington County and for which no benefit has been assessed and for which no bonds have been issued; that the said contract has been wholly completed and that such shortage is caused partly by reason of error on the part of the engineer in computing the yardage and other work pertaining to said ditch, and partly by reason of unforseen obstacles having risen after the letting of the contract thereby increasing the total cost of said ditch.

This, therefore, is to notify you of the condition that exists within this County pertaining to said ditch in order that your Board may take such action as you, in your wisdom, may deem proper and lawful in the premises.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

NEW TANLAC PLANT IS NOW COMPLETED

MAGNIFICENT NEW LABORATORY HAS DAILY CAPACITY OF 36,000 BOTTLES.

What is said to be one of the largest pharmaceutical laboratories in the United States has been completed at Dayton, Ohio, for the manufacture of Tanlac, the well-known medicine, which according to recent reports is now having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world.

The erection of the new plant was made necessary by the rapid growth of the business, as the older plant was found to be wholly inadequate to supply the ever-increasing demand which at the present rate of sale will amount to more than five million bottles for the present year alone.

By the erection of this plant the manufacturers of Tanlac are giving to the world just one more evidence of the remarkable growth and expansion of their business, and of their absolute confidence in its future.

This announcement will be read with interest not only by the many thousands of Tanlac agents scattered throughout every state of the Union and throughout Canada, but to the millions who have used it beneficially as well.

The new building occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space. It is six stories in height, practically fireproof throughout, and is of striking architectural design. It also has private railway facilities.

This beautiful new structure now stands in striking contrast beside the older buiding where Tanlac was first made.

Visitors to the laboratories are strongly impressed with the extremely modern character of the equipment. Everything is provided and splendidly arranged to promote systematic and rapid production. The very latest machinery and devices known to invention and pharmaceutical science are here used.

The interior throughout is finished in spotless white, and all of the large force of employees wear white uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the first floor are all finished in Carara marble and mahogany.

The entire process of manufacture is conducted under absolutely sanitary conditions. Even the bottles made expressly to contain Tanlac are washed and sterilized electrically by the ultra violet ray process. They are then filled by automatic machinery and the finished product is therefore never touched by human hands.

When Tanlac was introduced into Canada history repeated itself, and the demand which had been created in the United States was quickly duplicated in the Dominion Provinces. As a result, it was recently found necessary to establish another Tanlac Laboratory at Windsor, Canada which is on a somewhat smaller scale than the plant at Dayton, but is no less modernly equipped.

These new facilities give a daily capacity of 36,000 bottles, but as Tanlac is rapidly being introduced into foreign countries it's probably only a question of a few years before even large facilities will become necessary.

While the manufacturers are necessarily working for capacity production, it is a fundamental rule of the Tanlac Laboratories that the quality of the medicine shall never be sacrificed to secure quantity output.

Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists, from the time the roots, herbs and barks are received in their rough state from all parts of the globe until their medicinal properties have been extracted by the most approved processes. The finished medicine is then bottled, labelled, and shipped out to the tens of thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada, to supply a demand never before equalled for this or any other medicine.

The executive sales offices are located in Atlanta, Georgia, and occupy almost an entire floor of the Fourth National Bank Building of that city.

How We Get the News.

Day before yesterday a perfectly nice lady called up and with tears in her voice reproved us for not mentioning the fact that she had a friend visiting her last week. We told her that she had not let us know that she had a visitor. Then she said, "Well, you should have known. I thought you were running a newspaper." Wouldn't that rattle your slats? Some people think that an editor ought to be a cross between Argus and Anna Eva Fay. They seem to think that our five senses are augmented by the sixth that lets us know everything that happens, even if we see, hear, feel, taste or smell it, not. Dear lady, editors are only human, or at least almost human. If you have a friend visiting you, if you are going away, or have returned from a visit out of town, if Johnnie falls and breaks his arm, if your husband chops his toe instead of a stick of wood, if anything happens to make you glad, or sad, happy, or mad, call us up. Tell us about it. That's the way to get it in the paper.—Ex.

Iver Pladsen of Thief River Falls was the first man to address the gathering on cooperation and other matters of interest. Hon. H. O Berve, state representative from Marshall county explained the work and doings of the recent legislature and also discussed the tonnage tax laws introduced, of which the people of Minnesota are very much interested in. Bj. Bjonaraa of Hickory, associate editor of the new Scandinavian paper to be published at Grand Forks, called "Framtiden," gave us a very interesting talk in the Norwegian language comparing the Nonpartisan League laws with the "bonde" laws of Norway, or rather the laws that were the making of Norway. It was decided at this picnic that another will be arranged for in the near future at the same place, which will be an all-day affair.

Why Gasoline Prices Are Low

THE fact that gasoline prices are low constitutes the achievement of an ideal on the part of the Standard Oil Company. There are several contributing factors.

The ingenuity of the automobile engineers in producing cars at moderate prices and the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company in producing gasoline in sufficient quantities to supply the demand have placed both in the light of staples.

The demand for gasoline is steady—the supply is steady—thus enabling the Company to utilize its equipment to a maximum capacity which in turn keeps down the costs and therefore selling prices.

The Standard Oil Company through long years of experience is able to rescue and utilize all of those fractions which go to make gasoline, and to utilize all by-products for commodities of universal use.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) furthermore steadfastly adheres to a fixed policy of supplying first, the patrons of the eleven states it serves.

Thus at all times is there an ample supply for every five gallon buyer and every five thousand gallon buyer with no embarrassing demands from outside to drain the supply and force an increase in price.

It is by this husbandry that the Company is able to keep down the price of gasoline that you may run your car for the enjoyment of your family or the furtherance of your business without great expense for fuel.

You may not know that gasoline sells in this market for about one-half or one-third the price charged in Europe even under normal pre-war conditions.

Your Home

The building of a home is one of the important undertakings of a man's career. He does not expect to do it often and for this reason should be careful to see that he gets the best while he is at it.

We Americans are judged largely by the appearance of our homes. The man who owns the house in which he lives is regarded as a stable and dependable citizen. This year the number of home owners will be largely increased. Work is plenty and wages high. No better time for building that home that home can be found.

Materials are still reasonable but the price is sure to go up. He who hesitates now will pay more next year.

The quality of the material you buy is most important. The plans you make come next in order. In both instances we can aid you. Our stock is guaranteed and we have plans for every imaginable kind of building. These are at your service at any time.

Whether your order be large or small; whether you live in the city or on a farm, you will be making a mistake if you do not consult us before placing your order.

Oil Company to Build.

The Manhattan Oil company, which some time ago secured a permit from the city council for the erection of a filling station on Atlantic avenue, has finally concluded all arrangements for the grounds, etc., and the actual construction of the building will be commenced within a short time. Theo. Liden and Ben Erickson, local representatives of the Manhattan company, have secured two new trucks with which to deliver oil in the territory adjacent to Thief River Falls. The new building will be constructed along the same lines as those provided in the larger cities by the Manhattan concern, and will prove a decided improvement to the section of the city in which it is to be built.

The summertime is the time to buy coal.

This year especially, there are many reasons why you should order your winter's coal early.

You can save money by taking advantage of the lower prices offered this summer and you can be sure of prompt delivery. If you wait until fall, when every one else will be ordering coal, you may have to pay more and then be forced to await your turn in deliveries.

The kind of coal you want is now at our docks. By filling your bin now with quality coal, you can protect your home against any whim of weather and be ready to cope with any coal condition that may arise.

the state," he said, "and something should be done to prevent the great waste now unavoidable in the handling of this product. This is one of the matters which will receive the early attention of the board. Another is the combating of the sow thistle menace."

"The people of northwestern Minnesota and Pennington county should seek and Pennington county should open their eyes to the possibilities about them, continued Mr. Hay. The region is unusually favored and only needs the proper kind of husbandry to make it the garden spot of the world. Land should be selling in this county right now at from $20 to $50 more per acre than it is and it will be bringing this price before long. The thing to do is to hang on. "If you cannot make a living here under present conditions you will be a failure anywhere you go," continued the speaker amid applause.

ALL TURN OUT TO TIDY UP VILLAGE

GOODRIDGE PEOPLE GIVE FIRST ATTENTION TO SCHOOL GROUNDS.

The people of Goodridge held what they termed a "school ground bee" one day last week and as a result the appearance of the grounds surrounding their fine consolidated school building were greatly improved. Practically every able-bodied man in the village turned out with scraper, shovel, pick or rake and went over the ground to prepare it for seeding. The ladies of the village showed their appreciation of this good work by serving an excellent dinner at noon and then providing the workers with a lunch again about 3 o'clock. The property was greatly improved and there will be another bee on Tuesday, June 24, to finish the job and to plant trees and shrubs.

So well were the people satisfied with the work that they decided to call a road improvement day for last Thursday. In the task of making better roads they were assisted by residents of Cloverleaf and Reiner townships as well as a number from Moylan township in Marshall county. Many of the farmers brought teams and scrapers and there was an astonishing amount of good work accomplished.

Lands Good Contract.

C. M. Carlson of this city last week was given the contract for erecting the new school building at Greenbush. The new building when completed will represent an outlay of about $55,000, including the plumbing and heating. The contracts for the latter have not yet been let. When the building is completed Greenbush will have a school second to none in the state for a village of its size. It will be an eight-room structure, modern in all details, and built according to plans approved by the best authorities on the subject of school buildings. Mr. Carlson will begin work on the building as soon as possible and expects to rush the work to completion in the shortest time possible.

May Get Noted Band.

A special joint meeting of the directors of the Commercial club and Merchants association was held at the club rooms Monday afternoon to hear the proposition of Mr. Winters, representative of the Gopher Gunners (151st Field Artillery) band. The matter was referred to the Home Coming committee, as the directors favored the entertainment by the band as being part of the home-coming event.

SOLDIERS PLAN LEGION BRANCH FOR CITY SOON

MEETING IS CALLED FOR SATURDAY EVENING TO PERFECT DETAILS.

MOVE IS NATION WIDE

ENROLLMENT OF ALL MEN WHO TOOK PART IN WORLD WAR IS AIM.

TEN SHUN! Discharged soldier, sailor, marine and nurse.

The Pennington county organization of the American Legion will be formed at a meeting in the Thief River Falls auditorium, Saturday evening, June 28 at 8:30. This notice is a special invitation to every service man in the county, and to those service men in adjoining counties who as a matter of convenience desire to join the Pennington County Post, to attend the meeting.

Notices Mailed Out.

Notices have been mailed to a list of service men furnished by County Auditor T. P. Anderson, compiled from his records. As the list only includes selective service men and as Mr. Anderson states that all men may not have reported to him, the failure to receive a card does not mean that a soldier has been omitted but that there is no official record of his return. Those receiving notices are requested to pass the word along as the presence of every service man in the vicinity is desired.

Politics Ignored.

The American Legion is not a political organization and will in no way enter into partisan politics, but will in every way guard and enforce all rights and privileges conferred upon service men and their relatives and dependants.

Democratic Organization.

That the American Legion is truly an advocate of the Democracy for which the boys fought is borne out in the abolishing of rank in the Legion. Instead of being Private Smith, Corporal Brown and Lieutenant Jones, as a member of the Legion they will be plain Bill Smith, Tom Brown and Ed Jones, and when General John J. Pershing is discharged from the service, John Pershing will be eligible for membership in the Legion. His voice in the Legion will bear no more weight than that of the Doughboy or Gob.

ENGINEER ADVISES THE 2-TON TRUCK

WILL BE BROUGHT UP FROM ST. PAUL UNDER OWN POWER.

Roy Bliler, assistant state highway engineer, was in the city last Friday for the purpose of conferring with a committee of the commissioners concerning the state roads in the county. He stated that three trucks to be furnished by the government for road purposes here this year would soon be ready for delivery and recommended that men be sent to St. Paul to drive them the rest of the way. He pointed out where this plan would prove considerably cheaper than having the big machines come by freight and the board members agree with him. Just who will be selected to make the trip has not yet been decided.

Mr. Bliler also made the suggestion that two-tons trucks be secured instead of the three ton machines at first suggested. He said that the smaller outfit would haul three yards of gravel at a time which is all the weight new grades will stand.

The trucks at the present time have no dumping equipment but the state will make arrangements to have this added providing the counties will agree to foot the bill. The large number of outfits to be thus fixed out will enable the state to have the work done under contract and at a much lower price than would be the case if each county were to complete the machines.

CROP OUTLOOK IS BETTER THAN 1918

MOISTURE NOW SUFFICIENT TO CARRY THRU FOR LONG TIME TO COME.

While the weather admittedly has been too hot for absolute comfort during the greater part of the past week it has certainly given the crops a tremendous boost. It is claimed that the outlook is better at this time than on the same date a year ago, the abundant rains having made the section secure against even a protracted period of rather unusual heat. Men who have observed conditions here for years say that there is at the present time sufficient moisture in the ground to make the crops absolutely safe even if no more rain should fall for some time to come.

The crops never looked better. Haying will be in progress immediately after the Fourth of July and the winter rye will be ready for harvest even before the hay is gotten out of the way. The late grains are better than at any similar period for years past and there is every promise of an unusual harvest.

Potatoes are everywhere reported as doing exceptionally well while corn is in better shape than at any time since 1915. County Agent J. J. McCann will send a report to the government the first of the month showing that conditions generally are from 90 to 95 per cent perfect. Hay remains at the top of the list as the crop holding out the greatest promise.

Accept Kratka Bridge.

The county commissioners met yesterday for the purpose of considering a considerable amount of special business. In the afternoon a trip of inspection was made to the new bridge over the Red river in Kratka township and upon the return of the members in the evening the job was accepted. Isak Helseth, local manager for the Minneapolis Bridge company, accompanied the inspectors.

The bridge proper is now ready for traffic but the approaches have yet to be put in. It was expected that the contract for this work would be let last evening.

MRS. A. M. SHELDON DIES IN MILL CITY

MOTHER OF LOCAL BANKER PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

A news story in the Minneapolis Journal of Tuesday evening announces the death on Sunday in that city of Mrs. Albert M. Sheldon, mother of R. M. Sheldon, cashier of the First and Peoples State bank of Thief River Falls. Death was not unexpected and Mr. Sheldon had been called to the bedside of his mother a few days previous to her death. The article from the Journal follows:

"Mrs. Albert M. Sheldon died Sunday at the family residence, 1808 Knox avenue south. She had been ill several months. Funeral services will be conducted at the home tomorrow by Rev. H. P. Dewey of Plymouth Congregational church.

"Mrs. Sheldon was born in Chicago in 1870. In 1893 she was married to A. M. Sheldon, an early schoolmate at Owatonna. Since 1897 she had lived in Minneapolis. Mrs. Sheldon is survived by her husband, her son, Ralph, and a young grandson, the latter two living at Thief River Falls, a sister, Mrs. R. H. Bolter, of Minneapolis, and a brother, M. A. Heegaard, of Watertown, S. D."

Improving Mavie Road.

A job of road work which will be hailed with a good deal of satisfaction by the people of Cloverleaf township is now being carried out. The stretch leading from the State road to the little burg has been a source of annoyance for a long time, being practically impassable under certain conditions. It has now been graded and will receive a heavy coating of gravel which will put it on a par with the best of them.

Mavie is booming these days. There has been considerable activity in the land business and several new enterprises have located there since spring.

WAYWARD YOUNG GIRLS SENT AWAY

Two young girls, one not yet 18 years of age, arrived in the city on Monday and attracted considerable attention by reason of their disreputable appearance. They had boarded the train at Red Lake Falls, from which city they were sent by the authorities after having been placed under arrest for drunkenness.

The youngest of the pair was raised in Thief River Falls and has until a short time ago been residing with an aunt on the East Side. With her companion she recently went to Red Lake Falls, where the behavior of the two was such as to attract the attention of the police. Stating that they hailed from this city they were bundled aboard the train and returned, the local police being notified at the same time.

Their objective upon arriving here was the former home of the younger girl, but this was found closed up, the aunt having gone away on a visit. Neighbors were attracted by the attempt made to break into the building and Chief of Police E. O. Erickson notified. He brought the twain before Municipal Judge Tarrant and as there was no definite charge placed against them they were told to get out of town at once. This they proceeded to do.

Board of Equalization.

The city council met as a board of equalization on Monday and Tuesday. The tax reports of Assessor Evenson were gone over and complaints against the assessment heard. There were not a great many and in most instances the board found no good reason advanced for altering the original figures.

HOLD MEETINGS EVERY EVENING DURING MONTH

EVANGELIST GEORGE MATHIS TO CONDUCT FIRST SERVICE SUNDAY MORNING.

SPECIAL SONG PROGRAM

The Evangelistic meetings which will begin next Sunday in the auditorium are for everybody. And everybody is invited. The first service will be held at 11:00 a. m. Sunday and another in the evening at 8:30. Evangelist George Mathis will arrive Friday evening as will also Mr. and Mrs. George Preston.

GEORGE PRESTON
Musical Director.

One of the features of these meetings will be the music. A large chorus will be organized under the direction of Mr. Preston and all who can sing, young or old, are invited to join it.

MRS. GEORGE PRESTON
Pianist.

There will be services every evening, beginning at 8:30 with a song service and special music. For a whole month these meetings will continue. They are non-denominational. No hobby—nothing but the plain presentation of the gospel truths, such as all will want to hear.

Purchased War Relics.

James Havel, who recently returned from the war zone in France, brought with him two or three pairs of German field glasses. One of these he picked up himself after one of the most severe engagements of the last months of the war. Maurice Giller wanted it and James disposed of his trophy at a figure quite satisfactory. The glass is an excellent one, the case being of heavy metal and evidently intended to stand hard knocks.

REJECT ALL BIDS; EMPLOY DAY LABOR

FAIR BUILDING COMMITTEE WILL GO FAR AS MEANS PERMIT.

When the bids for the proposed new buildings on the fair grounds of the Pennington County Agricultural association were opened last evening it was found that all were too high to make their consideration possible. The set of three—the barn, rest room and toilet—would cost in the neighborhood of $4,500 and this is more money than the committee has at its disposal. It was decided to go ahead, however, and construct what buildings the funds on hand will provide by day labor.

The total sum in the hands of the committee for this purpose is about $2,500, and of this amount the people of Thief River Falls have contributed about $2,000. The lack of interest on the part of country residents will make it necessary to curtail the original program until such time as more money has been provided.

Councilmen Return.

President O. L. Ihle and Councilmen Carl Froseth and Severn Brandon returned last week from a trip of inspection to other cities of the state. Their particular mission was to acquaint themselves with the merits of the various kinds of paving material recommended and they made a rather thoro investigation. Among the places visited was St. Paul, St. Cloud and Rochester, and the verdict of city officials everywhere was in favor of either bithulitic paving or creosote blocks. The committee learned many things that will prove of value when the matter comes up for final settlement in this city.

Somewhat Muddled.

In some manner, not yet quite clear, The Times last week received the impression that Morlan Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop, was among those who would return from service in France in the near future. We are informed by the young man's parents that so far as Morlan is now able to foresee he may be on the other side for another year. He is at present stationed at the American Officers' club, Chateau de Valencay, Indre, France. It is a wonderfully beautiful country, and Mr. Bishop is having a great experience, but for all that he would be glad to find that he had been ordered home.

CARL HEDLUND MEETS DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

EMPLOYED IN THIEF RIVER

WAS WOOL BUYER FOR LOCAL CONCERN—FAMILY RESIDES HERE.

Carl Hedlund, 23 years of age, residing with his wife and one child at 110 Kendall avenue south in this city, died at the hospital in Roseau yesterday afternoon as a result of injuries received when the automobile he was driving was struck by a Great Northern train at Strathcona.

Hedlund was employed by the Thief River Hide and Fur company as wool buyer and had only been with the concern a couple of days when he met his death.

No Details Known.

No particulars concerning the accident were obtainable this morning. Hedlund was not an expert driver and the general supposition is that in attempting to cross the tracks ahead of the train his car stalled and he was unable to get started again before being run down.

Was Married Man.

Deceased was married, living with his wife and young child in the same house with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hedlund. His wife's people live at Greenbush and it is probable that they took charge of the body and will bring it to this city for burial.

ASKING FUNDS FOR TORNADO VICTIMS

MAYOR APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO SOLICIT AID FOR FERGUS FALLS.

Nearly every city and village in the state is coming forward liberally with donations of money to help those who lost everything they had in the tornado which devasted the Fergus Falls district on Sunday. The need can be imagined when it is realized that in many cases the homes and everything they contained was demollshed.

Mayor G. A. Penney this morning appointed a committee to solicit funds for this purpose in Thief River Falls and there is no doubt but that our people will respond with the same willingness as has characterized them on similar occasion heretofore.

PETKOFF DEFEATS LOCAL WRESTLER

John Oski of Mavie, lost to Peter Petkoff, champion middle weight wrestler of Duluth in a match staged at the Moose carnival in Bemidji on Saturday night.

The bout was full of action from start to finish, both men being in the pink of condition. Petkoff threw Oski after 32 minutes of the most exciting kind of work, gaining the fall by a hammer lock and toe hold.

There was a large crowd present and everyone praised the work of the Pennington county man, who after showing skill, speed and endurance, was forced to finally yield to the more experienced grappler from the head of the lakes.

START MADE IN PAVING MATTER BY RESOLUTION

SEWER AND WATER CONNECTIONS ARE ORDERED IN BY THE CITY COUNCIL.

WORK TO START AT ONCE

SPECIAL MEETING JULY 2 TO DECIDE ON HIRING ENGINEER FOR JOB

Another move forward in the paving program for Thief River Falls was made at the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening when a resolution was passed ordering property owners within the proposed paving district to provide proper sewer and water connections with the city mains. According to the resolution this work must be completed within sixty days or it will be done by the city and assessed against the property affected.

Is Preliminary Work.

The placing of proper sewer and water connections is part of the preliminary work planned in anticipation of the general paving program which will be undertaken next year. The resolution calls for such connections to be made for every lot, except in cases where the city engineer decides that fewer connections are necessary. It is obvious that where a man owns two or three lots and the property is occupied by one residence with little chance that the others will ever be utilized for residential purposes, there is no need of more than one sewer or water connection. In the business district, however, and in such parts of the residence district where lots are for sale, it will be necessary to place one connection for each 25-foot lot.

Where Work is Ordered.

The area within which all sewer and water connections must be made within the next sixty days was decided upon by the council as follows: Main avenue from the Great Northern right-of-way to Fourth street; LaBree avenue from the Great Northern to Fourth; Horace from First to Fourth; First street from the bridge to Knight avenue; Second from Atlantic to Knight, and Third street from the Soo depot to Knight avenue.

Of course it is not expected that all of this territory will be included in the first year's program of paving, but it was thought well to have all work done at this time so as to be ready for early expansion of the paved area. Experience in other cities has been that when paving once is started it is not long until it branches out in all directions from the central part of town.

More Engineers Present.

John W. Shafer of Minneapolis and a representative of the Bradley Engineering Service of St. Cloud were present at the meeting Tuesday evening and presented bids to the council for doing the engineering work in connection with the local paving job.

This makes a total of four bids submitted for the work, but the council did not feel inclined to reach a decision in the matter of engineers without further investigation. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday evening, July 2, at which time an engineer to have charge of the local paving job will be selected. Both engineers present Tuesday evening were of the opinion that a more satisfactory job of paving may be secured where all preliminary work is completed at least six months in advance of the actual laying of pavement.

New Postoffice Established.

Grygla Eagle: A new postoffice has been established at the Four Towns creamery and will be known as Four Towns. Mr. O. E. Wiseth, formerly postmaster at Anstad, has been appointed. He has a store there and is having a nice trade.

CHAPMAN TO BOOST BETTER CHICKENS

FOREMOST POULTRY SPECIALIST IN STATE WILL SPEAK HERE TONIGHT.

Pennington county has more and better chickens than any other community of similar size in Minnesota. The raising of profitable hens has become a serious business with the people in this neighborhood and they are always on the lookout for pointers that may prove of value in improving their stock.

Prof. H. E. Chapman of the extension division of the university, is recognized as one of the leading men in the poultry line in the United States, his particular specialty being chickens. He has studied them from every angle and knows more about what is necessary in order to make them show a profit than any other man in the Northwest. This evening he will deliver an address at the auditorium to which everyone is invited. It was at first intended to hold the meeting in the band room, but indications are that this will prove too small to accommodate the crowd, in which case the meeting will be held in the assembly hall.

Some idea of the importance reached by the chicken industry in this state may be gained from the statement that the total amount of money derived from this source last year was but slightly less than that reported by the creameries.

Prof. Chapman is one of the most interesting of talkers and it will be worth anyone's while to go and hear him.

Hotel Changes Management.

The Telemarken hotel in this city was this week taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Kopesh of Minneapolis, owners of the building. The place has been in charge of Carl Vicks for some time under lease. Mr. Kopesh will make a number of improvements in the hotel and make a strong bid for a larger share of the trade.

Broke His Sound Leg.

Olaus Vinje, residing about two miles from Hazel, sustained a broken leg when his team ran away yesterday afternoon. He already has one wooden leg, having lost the member some years ago, and the accident lays him up the more completely on that account.

NEW MANAGER FOR THEATRES IN CITY

A. J. LAWRENCE SELLS EQUIPMENT AND LEASE TO W. J. BROWN.

The Princess and Lyceum theatres in this city have been operating under the management of W. J. Brown since Saturday evening, A. J. Lawrence having on that day transferred all his interests in the two film houses to the new owner.

Mr. Brown recently returned to Thief River Falls after an absence of some years. He has been in Texas and other Southwestern states since leaving this section, but has decided that no part of the country offers as many opportunities as are to be found right here. He will aim to show nothing but the very best obtainable and as he has settled here for good he may be depended on to exercise all possible care in this respect.

Mr. Lawrence will return to Fergus Falls, his former home, where one of the finest moving picture theatres in the state is being erected for him.

Mr. Brown intends remaining in active charge of the properties only until such time as he can secure a competent man to look after them. His primary object in returning to Thief River Falls is to again engage in the law business and he will soon open offices here for that purpose.

INDIAN PAGEANT IS NOVEL EXHIBITION

MRS. PITKIN TELLS OF SUCCESS OF PRESENTATION AT CASS LAKE.

Mrs. C. A. Pitkin of Thief River Falls, who assisted in training those who took part in the pageant at Cass Lake during the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association last week, has returned and states that the success of the innovation was greater than its sponsors ever dared hope. The text was written by Fred T. Lincoln, formerly secretary of the Thief River Falls Commercial club and followed the facts of history very closely.

There were 200 Indians in the cast, hardly one of whom had ever attempted anything of the kind before. Mrs. Pitkin says she was both surprised and pleased with the manner in which they took to the work, the success of the undertaking being almost wholly due to their close attention to instructions.

The pageant represented the development made by the section since its discovery by Gen. Lewis Cass 130 years ago. The story itself is supposed to be a dream of John Smith, whose birth is fixed as about coincident with the arrival of the earliest explorers. From the advent of these pioneers the scenes are carried along through the lumbering decades and down to the present day.

Motion pictures were taken of the proceedings and those will be exhibited in all Northwestern states.

FIVE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY IN SHORT TIME

ARSON, BURGLARY AND GRAND LARCENY CRIMES CHARGED IN BILLS

ONE MAN PLEADS GUILTY

ADMITS BREAKING INTO BOX CAR ON SOO RAILWAY TRACKS

The grand jury for the June term of court finished its labors yesterday afternoon after having been in session since Monday morning. True bills were found against five men accused of crime, this being a larger number than for some time past. The nature of the offenses are also more serious than is usually the case in this county.

Giller Must Stand Trial.

The first case coming up was that of Maurice Giller, accused of setting fire to his store building in this city on the night of January 7. He was indicted for arson in the third degree. The date for trial has not been set.

One Pleads Guilty.

Peter Stromberg and Elye Kiwak, two section hands, were indicted on a charge of third degree burglary. They are accused of having broken into a box car on the Soo tracks at Dakota Junction just north of the city and removing therefrom two sacks of flour and other merchandise. Stromberg pleaded guilty to the charge and will be sentenced on Friday. Hiwak will be arraigned today.

Auto Thief Caught.

Carl Sather came to grief rather suddenly. He is accused by Ole Odegaard of Hazel of having stolen the latter's automobile on Tuesday night and departing for parts unknown. Sheriff W. J. LaBree was notified of the occurrence on Tuesday morning and started for Red Lake Falls, it being suspected that the young fellow would strike for that burg. The sheriff left immediately and was in the neighboring town awaiting his quarry when the latter showed up. He had made a number of visits to other places and was consequently slow in getting around. He will be arraigned this morning.

Civil Calendar Started.

The first civil case coming up for trial is that of Halvor [illegible] vs. William Parnow. The plaintiff claims that Parnow was responsible for the setting of a fire which destroyed his home and other property last summer. It is not expected that the case will be finished before evening.

There are 17 cases all told on the civil calendar, only nine of which are new, the remainder being continued from last term. The only continued criminal case is that of the state vs. Earl Long. Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren is presiding.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE ALL DAY

NOTHING DOING IN TRADING LINE HERE ON NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

President H. O. Loken of the Thief River Falls Retail Merchants association states that it has been agreed among the members of the organization that nothing in the way of business shall be transacted in the city on the Fourth of July. It has also been decided that no necessity exists for keeping stores open any longer than usual on the night of the third.

This is the first time in the history of the city that the stores have not been opened for at least a short time in the morning of the Fourth and marks a decided inclination toward modern methods on the part of our merchants.

People living in the country are urged to secure their supplies before supper next Thursday night as there is small likelihood of their being accommodated under any circumstances until Saturday morning.

FARMERS MEETING AT HAZEL SATURDAY.

The farmers in the vicinity of Hazel will meet at Hazel on July 5 at 2 p. m., for the purpose of organizing a Farmers Elevator Company at that place. Everybody interested in the Farmers' co-operative movement should attend.

In order to build a good house, lay the foundation; in order to better support the co-operative movement, begin at home. For the direct benefit of yourselves and the welfare of your own community, attend in person and pull together like the boys did on the Rhine. Likewise will we.

PALM TO PINE RUN IN JULY OVER THE J.-H.

MANY NOTED MEN FROM SUNNY SOUTH WILL BE IN PARTY.

IN THIS CITY OVERNIGHT

PREPARATIONS EVERYWHERE FOR MAKING EVENT A GENUINE BOOSTER TRIP.

Official recognition of the Jefferson Highway Sociability Run from New Orleans to Winnipeg, July 1 to 20, will be given all along the route. Each day the greatest "Get Acquainted" trip for a definite purpose, grows in importance, according to the latest advices from International Headquarters of the Association in this city.

In the first place, Governor R. G. Pleasant is making the trip as chief executive of Louisiana and not merely as a private person. Mayor Martin Behrman of New Orleans, administrator of the $1,000,000 publicity fund which that city is using to sell herself to the United States and other commercial nations of the world, will carry an official message from the City Commission of the Crescent City to the Canadians at Winnipeg, as well as to the 264 communities located on the Jefferson for a distance of more than 2300 miles.

Shreveport Mayor Coming.

Mayor J. M. W. Ford, of Shreveport, will make the trip because the city council passed a resolution "that the mayor of this city is hereby requested and authorized to return the visit of the Canadians over and on behalf of the Jefferson Highway, coordinating his trip with that of Governor Pleasant and carrying with him Shreveport's most cordial greetings to our sister city of Winnipeg and to the Province of Manitoba and all the municipalities and states on the Jefferson Highway."

Duncan Buie, Highway Commissioner of Louisiana will be of the official party. At a meeting held in Bunkie recently, R. D. Nibert, secretary of the Louisiana Division of the Jefferson Highway Association was officially designated as the representative of that county and requested to accompany the official car from Bunkie, which was accorded a place of honor as escort to Governor Pleasant's car. Other localities are making definite appointments and applying to the Jefferson Highway Association to be admitted as members of the official party.

Everywhere Entertained.

On the other hand, state, county and municipal officials will give heed to the visitors. Chambers of commerce, commercial clubs, good roads clubs and similar civic organizations are showering invitations to the Run Tourists to participate in detailed programs and celebrations that will be in order at nearly every point.

While plans are tentative to a degree, in general it now is apparent that the governor of every state thru which the "Pine to Palm" passes will personally welcome the distinguished southern visitors. At present the Run Schedule provides for the participation of Governor Hobby of Texas, Governor Robertson of Oklahoma and Governor Pleasant in ceremonies incident to dedicating the bridge across the Canadian river, which is a Jefferson Highway project.

Governors Included.

Governor Allen of Kansas will probably join the Run at Pittsburg, continuing on to Kansas City. Governor Gardner has assured the Jefferson Highway people that he wants to spend a day or two with the party in Missouri. Arrangements are under way to arrange a meeting with Governor Harding at the Iowa-Missouri line, while in all probability Governor Burnquist of Minnesota will be accompanied by Mayor Hodgson of St. Paul, to meet the travelers at the Iowa-Minnesota line, continuing to the Twin Cities, where a large delegation from Winnipeg will be ready to join the Run through Minnesota. Attorney General T. H. Johnson of Winnipeg, president of the Jefferson Highway Association will join the Run at International Headquarters at St. Joseph, and will head the Winnipeg delegation.

Triple "A" Represented.

The Jefferson Highway idea and the better road movement will also receive a deal of recognition from the officials of certain national organizations, who will either make the Run or send special representatives. It is definitely known that the American Automobile association will be represented. Several special writers for newspapers and national magazines will also be of the party, when the Run leaves New Orleans on the morning of July 1.

Several cities in Louisiana and Texas have asked that the Jefferson Highway Sociability Run be scheduled so that their city might be the host on the Nation's Birthday. Of course, only a few could be chosen and to Shreveport and Mt. Vernon, Texas, as well as the communities between these two places, fell the honor, not because of any natural advantage, but because the run must get to Winnipeg in time for the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Jefferson Highway Association, which will be held July 22.

All Day Celebrations.

Many cities are planning to have all day celebrations on the day that the Southerners pass through. Whatever local program is arranged will be stopped during the stay of the visitors, who will talk about the value of good roads, the Jefferson Highway and Jefferson Highway Neighborliness. Some very fine southern oratory is promised. At night controls there will be entertainment features provided by each city. If advance reports materialize, each night will be a bigger night than the one preceding, for the Run will gather force as it progresses, because the official party will grow in personnel.

Here on July 19.

The party will arrive in Thief River Falls from Bemidji about five o'clock on the evening of July 19 and will stay here overnight, continuing on to Winnipeg the following morning. It is expected that the commercial club will take up the matter of their entertainment at an early meeting.

CHANGES MADE IN TELEPHONE RATES

COMPANY ANNOUNCES THAT CHARGES INCREASE OWING TO ADVANCED COSTS

The Northwestern Telephone Exchange company announces an advance in telephone rates effective June 20, 1919. The old rates are as follows: Business phone, $2; residence, $1.50; two-party line, $1.25; four-party line, $1; farm lines, $1.50; service station, annual rate, $3.

The new rates are considerably higher and are as follows: Business phone, $3.50; residence, $1.75 two-party line, $3; four-party line, $1.50; farm lines, $1.75; service station, annual rate, $6.

The reason given by the telephone company for the higher rates is the advanced cost of labor and materials. Telephone officials say that because of increased cost of operation the revenues under the rates the company has charged have been insufficient to meet its financial requirements. On account of the doubt as to what authorization was necessary for changes in telephone rates, the company has not previously made changes in its rates.

However, a recent decision of the United States supreme court determined the authority for rate changes and a new schedule of rates has been made effective accordingly.

Miss Isadore Amundson returned Monday evening from Plummer where she has been visiting for a few days.

BULLET THRU BODY; LIVES TO TELL IT

HALBERT HALVORSEN RETURNS AFTER STRENUOUS EXPERIENCE ACROSS.

An unusually large percentage of Pennington county boys came out of the war without any wounds to show for their having been there, but Halbert Halvorsen is not among them. This young man, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Halvorsen of Rocksbury township, came about as near to "getting his" as anyone could without actually losing his life. He was a member of Company F, 131st infantry, 33rd division. Landing in France on June 30, 1918, he was sent up to the front at once. Some of the company were on the fighting line as early as the Fourth of July, but he was not among these, it being the first of August when he arrived. The Somme offensive was on and Halvorsen's outfit was ordered over the top. This was at 5:30 o'clock on the morning of August 9. After being in the skirmish line for two hours he was hit by a machine gun bullet which struck him in the right side and passed clear thru his body, coming out on the left. He laid in a shell hole until the following morning, when he was found and rushed to a first aid station. From there he went to a hospital in France where he stayed until after an operation had been performed, when he was sent to England. Here he stayed about five months more and was then returned to his regiment.

Jacob Greenagle, another Thief River Falls boy, was with him during the greater part of his army experience, and Ben Habedank was a member of the same company.

FARM PICNICS IN NEARBY COUNTIES

The annual picnic of the Red Lake County Farm Bureau association was held at Terrebonne on Tuesday, June 24. There was the usual program of speaking and sports, while special attention had been given to the music.

There also was a good crowd of Pennington county people at this picnic, especially among the old-timers. They always have a good time visiting with their neighbors and the latter invariably make their stay pleasant.

The farm bureau of Polk county will hold its annual meeting and picnic at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, Friday, June 27. June 27 will also be the closing day of the Women's Midsummer meetings which began June 23. The women from other counties will join with the women of Polk county, the farm bureau and other clubs in a big outdoor picnic and festival. This will be a fitting close to the activities of the Women's Week. While this is the first Women's Week ever held at the school, so many women have expressed their desire to be in attendance that a most successful week is assured.

Two Sons Return.

In referring to the Pennington county families from which more than two sons had gone forth to battle in the late war one was inadvertently overlooked by The Times. Mr. and Mrs. Olaf C. Dahl, 608 Arnold avenue, had three boys in the army, only two of whom returned. These are Edwin F. Dahl and Alfred C. Dahl, both of whom left here on June 24, 1918, for Camp Grant. The other son, Oscar M., went to Camp Lewis on Aug. 24, was rushed across and met his death in the Argonne on the last day of the war—Nov. 10. He is the second lad from this city to make the supreme sacrifice at the very close of the conflict, Oscar Bakken being the other.

DAIRY STOCK WILL BE FAIR FEATURE

GRAND FORKS SHOW WILL THIS YEAR BE BEST EVER HELD.

The recent sale of a Holstein bull for $65,000.00 makes a new high record for this breed. The sale was held at Moorhead and the animal came from a herd that has often shown in the past few years at North Dakota fairs. Advance application for stall room assures a wonderful exhibit of both beef and dairy cattle at The North Dakota State Fair, Grand Forks, July 15th to 19th. Northwestern stockmen will have a wonderful opportunity at this time to compare their holdings with record breaking herds.

Acres of tractors, heavy and light farm machinery, farm light plants and automobiles will go to make up the showing in the machinery department. This section will be at least one-third larger than in any previous year. A number of manufacturers who have not been seen as exhibitors in the Northwest for years are coming out this summer.

Will Build Church.

The Norwegian Lutheran congregation of the township of Kratka are advertising for bids [illegible] a church building to be erected in Section 2 of that township. This church will be in Rev. H. Bjornson's call.

Bids for the erection of the building will be opened on July 6 at the residence of T. Hammestvedt and must be accompanied by a certified check of at least five percent of the amount of the bid. It is stipulated that the building must be completed on or before Oct. 20.

WHAT WILL TAKE PLACE ON JULY 1?

DROUGHT OR NO DROUGHT IS VITAL QUESTION AT RED LAKE AND PLUMMER.

Is the country going dry July 1 or is there going to be a six months' extension? That is the question that is confronting Red Lake Falls and Plummer and concerns these two municipalities more perhaps than any others in Northern Minnesota, for they are the only two which are wet and where the thirsty can put a foot on the bar and legally purchase intoxicating liquors.

As things stand now it is admitted that the country is going dry unless the president postpones the date by declaring the army demobilized and war prohibition void. But people in this section of the state are taking no chances and are laying in their supplies for a long drought, so that if the country does go dry they will not be unprepared.

Stocks of Red Lake Falls liquor dealers are holding out well so far though it is probable that they will be almost entirely sold out before July 1, as the incoming shipments are few and small, while the out-going are large and heavy. Monday it took half an hour to load the liquid express shipments on board the southbound Great Northern passenger train, and the depot platform was piled high with casks, cases and barrels of liquor that was all guaranteed to be over ½ of 1 per cent of alcholic content.

There are at present six saloons and one wholesale house there. Three of the dealers whose licenses expire June 30 have applied for and have been granted licenses for another year and in case the president should let down the bars they will not be caught napping. In any event there will be but very little if any stock on their hands by July 1 as hundreds of automobile tourists are visiting the city daily and are taking away packages of the wet goods.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

THERE'S one thing you want to be sure of when you buy clothes---you want to know that they're good.

That isn't so easy if you depend on the looks of the clothes; they're all made to look nice---if they weren't nobody would buy them.

The big thing is the part you can't see; the tailoring inside; the interlinings; the all-wool fabrics. Those things give you the wear; the service.

At this store you can be sure you're getting the best of all of them; we sell Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, which are as good inside as they look outside.

MIGHT AS WELL BEGIN.

In our enthusiasm over the prospect for the most plentiful harvest in our history and the finest outlook for a successful business year that we have ever known, let's not forget that there is in all probability another winter coming. It is perfectly all right to hope that it will be a mild one but experience has proven that it is wise to make some sort of preparation for it, no matter how optimistically we may view its approach.

The best advice anyone can give at this time is: Order your coal early. The Federal Fuel Administration has sounded another warning to the effect that any person who neglects to look after this fuel proposition soon is liable to be very sorry along about the holidays. The production of all kinds of coal is far short of normal at this time and the precentage is likely to increase rather than grow smaller. Unless the coal on the docks at the head of the lakes is moved at once it will be impossible to store more against the demands of winter, and the amount now on hand is nowhere sufficient to meet the requirements. The only way in which this coal can be moved is through orders from dealers in the district served. On the other hand the dealer has only a limited amount of storage room and must sell to the consumer as fast as the fuel arrives.

The question of whether or not there shall be a coal famine in the Northwest next winter is clearly up to the man who is going to burn it. If he is forehanded and pays attention to the government's warning, buys his coal now and has it safely stowed away in his bin, he will be all right. Otherwise the chances are decidedly that he will find himself in difficulties when the mercury begins showing a preference for the bulb end of the glass.

Coal will not be cheaper than it is at present. No commodity goes down in price when the demand exceeds the supply. The consumer will protect his pocket book as well as insure comfort for his family if he is wise enough to order his coal now.

DO NOT REST ON YOUR OARS.

With manufacturing in all lines being speeded up as fast as the men to operate the plants can be found and a greater demand for articles of all kinds than ever before in the country's history, the future looks rosy for the business man. He has had difficulty in securing just the goods he requires, perhaps, but this condition will not continue long. Everything justifies one in believing that the most prosperous and active period he has ever known is at hand.

This is no time to hold back. The merchant who permits his stocks to run low because the prices are high is missing the opportunity of a lifetime. People realize that things cost more than before and are willing to pay the price, having more money than ever with which to make purchases. Merchants should make their bids for business stronger than ever before for this reason.

The one accepted way to boost business is by advertising. Never has advertising offered greater assurance of profitable results and never was there a better time for its profitable employment by progressive merchants and manufacturers. Secretary Wilson of the United States Department of Labor urges an increased advertising appropriation as the surest means of bringing about a return to normal conditions. "When you put the power of advertising promotion back of your business, you are spreading the spirit of optimism and good will," he says, and adds: "Advertising is the surest, quickest and most economical business developer known to industry. Use it."

The progressive and prosperous merchants in every community are those who advertise. The plodding, dissatisfied brother is the one who can see no value in publicity and regards advertising as a waste of money. He may linger along but never becomes a very great factor in the development of his territory.

Advertising is the cheapest thing a business man can buy when the results are taken into consideration. So well is this recognized that the man who does not go after business thru this medium is considered as being hopelessly behind the times and his goods are liable to be regarded as little up-to-date as his methods.

Long Dry Spell Coming.

Unless President Wilson declares the army demobilized and the prohibition against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors inoperative the entire country will be legally dry after 12 o'clock next Monday night. There does not seem much likelihood of his intervening and the general impression is that the order will stand. This is all the more likely for the reason that the country becomes bone dry by constitutional enactment on the first of January following in any event. The removal of the ban at this time would give a six-months leeway, but there seems to be most decided objections to granting even this.

Any man who twenty years ago would have predicted that the United States would ever abolish the liquor traffic by law would have been considered a crank or a lunatic. Even the "dry" states were not dry and most of the others did not wish to be. The change has been rapid and complete.

There is no question but that the law will do just what is intended. Those who figure that it will simply prove an incentive to illicit manufacturing and usher in an orgy of lawbreaking generally are expressing a hope rather than a prophesy. There will for a time be a certain amount of booze stowed away in cellars and other places and there is not the slightest doubt but that moonshining will be attempted on a somewhat extended scale, but in the end the supply in hiding will give out and illicit manufacturing will prove unprofitable and unsafe. John Barleycorn is doomed and there does not seem to be even the hope of a reprieve.

It is probable that a very large majority of the people of this country would be glad to see light wines and beers remain outside the proscription, but these also must go. No matter how much the wisdom of making the law so drastic may be doubted, the fact remains that "there she stands." The same people who are now saying that there will be as much liquor consumed as ever said the same thing when the states began going dry. They were mistaken then and they will be more so now that the source as well as the outlet has been dammed up.

It will be but a few years until our people will begin to wonder how it was that they tolerated the saloon as long as they did.

PUBLIC NOW TOLD ALL ABOUT TANLAC

In a recent issue of this paper announcement was made that Tanlac now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world, and that more than twelve million bottles had been sold during the past four years.

These are unusual figures, and the question naturally arises in the mind of the reader why this phenomenal success and why has this preparation so far out-stripped all other medicines of its kind. It is only natural therefore that the manufacturers should offer some explanation to satisfy public interest.

In the first place, Tanlac is manufactured in one of the largest and most modernly equipped laboratories in this country. Its formula is purely ethical and complies with all national and state pure food and drug laws. Altogether there are ten ingredients in Tanlac, each of which is of recognized therapeutic value.

Many of these ingredients have been individually known and used since civilization first began, and some of them have been used and prescribed by leading physicians everywhere, but until they were brought together in proper proportion and association as in the Tanlac formula, humanity had not heretofore realized their full value and effect.

In referring to one of the more important ingredients of Tanlac, the Encyclopedia Britanica says: "It has long been the source of the most valuable tonic medicines that have ever been discovered." In referring to others of the general tonic drugs contained in Tanlac the 13th Edition of Potter's Therapeutics, a standard medical text book, states that "they impart general tone and strength to the entire system, including all organs and tissues."

This same well known authority in describing the physiological action of still another of the ingredients of Tanlac which is of value in treating what is commonly known as "a run-down condition" uses the following expression: "It is highly esteemed in loss of appetite during convalescense from acute diseases."

There are certain other elements in Tanlac which because of their influence upon the appetite, digestion, assimilation and elimination improve the nutrition and vital activity of all the tissues and organs of the body, and produce that state of general tonicity which is called health.

In discussing another ingredient the Encyclopedia Britanica says: "It is one of the most efficient of that class of substances which act upon the stomach so as to invigorate digestion and thereby increase the general nutrition. It is used in dyspepsia, chlorosis, anemia and various other diseases in which the tone of the stomach and alimentary canal is deficient." Concerning still another ingredient this same standard authority says: "It causes dilation of the gastric blood vessels, increases secretion of the gastric juice, and causes greater activity in the movements of the muscular layers in the walls of the stomach. It also tends to lessen the sensibility of the stomach, and so may relieve gastric pain."

The United States Dispensatory makes the following comment regarding another ingredient: "It may be used in all cases of pure debility of the digestive organs or where a general tonic impression is required. Dyspepsia, atonic gout hysteria, and intermittent fever are among the many affections in which it has proven useful."

There are certain other ingredients described in the Dispensatory and in other standard medical text books as having a beneficial action upon the organs of secretion, whose proper functioning results in the purification of the blood streams passing through them. In this manner objectionable and poisonous ingredients of the blood are removed, and the entire system is invigorated and vitalized.

Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver, and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder, for it naturally follows that any medicine that brings about proper assimilation of the food and the thorough elimination of the waste products must therefore have a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system.

Although Tanlac's claims for supremacy are abundantly supported by the world's leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have really made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it, and have told other millions what it has done for them. That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade in this country, and that is also why it is the most widely talked-of medicine in the world today.

GETS CITATION FOR BRAVERY AT FRONT

Pennington county recently has added another to its list of soldiers who received special recognition for services rendered during the war. This week Anton Lian, son of Lars Lian of Rocksbury township, received from Gen. John J. Pershing a citation for distinguished and exceptional gallantry in action on October 17, 1918, in France. This citation is naturally very highly prized by the young soldier, his family and friends.

Mr. Lian returned safely home on April 20, none the worse for his experiences in chasing the Hun. He was a member of the 30th division and saw many hard battles. From the time the big drive started on Sept. 29 until Oct. 20 he was with the division which captured about 4,000 prisoners and advanced about 36 miles from the St. Quentin canal at Bellicourt to the Sanbre canal near Catillon. The boys broke the famous Hindenburg line and many other strong points.

SOCIETY and Club

Swenson-Grindeland.

At 6:30 o'clock last Saturday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Andrew Grindeland at Warren, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Elmer Earl Swenson.

The bride wore a white georgette gown with white bead trimming and a tulle veil in Dutch bonnet style, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and pink bridal roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Estelle Grindeland, sister of the bride, and Miss Gertrude Johnson of Grand Forks. The former's gown was of pink georgette and she carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas, while Miss Johnson wore a yellow gown of the same material and carried a lavender bouquet of the same flowers. The flower girls were Ruth and Katherine Mellby, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Mellby of Thief River Falls, and nieces of the bride.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. A. T. Tollevs, pastor of the Lutheran church at Warren, and was performed in an alcove created entirely of ferns and lady slippers.

Before the ceremony Miss Laura Forde played "Romance," by Jean Sibilius, on the piano, while Miss Ausilga Sorensen gave a rendition of "Canzonetta," by Ambrosio, on the violin. Engolf Grindeland sang "Beloved, It Is Morn," by Alvard, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Gladys.

After the ceremony a five-course luncheon was served, the table decorations being peonies. The guests were waited on by young girls dressed in white.

The newly married couple left the same afternoon for Grand Forks and on Monday continued their journey to Peram Lake, where they will remain for about two weeks before returning to reside at 1015 Belmont avenue, Grand Forks.

Both parties to this union are almost as well known in Thief River Falls as in Warren. The bride has for a number of terms been teacher of music at the high school in this city, while the groom is a salesman traveling for Finch, Van Slyke & McConville of St. Paul. He enjoys a wide acquaintance here and is everywhere regarded as a man of the most sterling qualities.

Mehrkens-Anton.

William Mehrkens of Benedict, N. D., and Miss Christine Anton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anton, were united in marriage at the home of the bride, southwest of the city, on Tuesday, June 24th at high noon, Rev. F. J. Seltz officiating. The bride was dressed in white voile and wore a fan-shaped veil of tulle, carrying a boquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Adeline Anton, sister of the bride, and Miss Mehrkens, sister of the groom, both wearing light summery dresses and carrying boquets of pink roses. The best men were Niss A. Anton, brother of the bride and Arthur Merkens, brother of the groom. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. Immediately after the ceremony the guests enjoyed a wedding dinner, served by girls dressed in white.

There were guests from Goodhue, Benedict, N. D., and Holt, all friends of the groom, who is a prosperous farmer from Goodhue, while the bride is well known and most highly regarded. She has been employed in the Thief River Falls creamery for several years and has gained a host of friends during her residence here. Mr. and Mrs. Mehrkens left Wednesday to visit with friends and relatives at St. Paul, Red Wing and Goodhue before going to housekeeping at Benedict.

Johnson-Berg.

Edwin R. Johnson of Yellow Medicine county and Miss Jennie Berg of Grand Forks county, were united in marriage Tuesday, June 24th by Judge Tarrant. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left that day for their future home in Grand Forks.

The Suez Canal.

The plan of water connection between the Mediterranean and the Red sea goes back to early Egyptian history. Such a canal seems to have been constructed in the reigns of Seti I, and Rameses II, about 1300 B. C., extending from the Nile to Lake Timsah and thence to the Red sea.

The Marvelous Jack Rabbit.

Westerners assert that the jack rabbit may be found, happy and fat, spending the day under a scrap of bush that makes little more shade than a fishnet. His skin is as porous as a piece of buckskin, and the heat is sufficient to evaporate every drop of blood in his body, yet he seems to get on very nicely.

PUBLIC FORUM

"Sittin' on 'Em?"

A more thorough road dragging or more complete road construction is no doubt needed on most roads in this vicinity. But there is one stretch of road in particular on which a good many Ericites have occasion to travel to reach State Road No. 2. This "road" has been worked or dragged to some extent. But, judging by the way it has been done one cannot help but hear offended travelers criticise. Some question if such road workers have any "brains" at all. Others think they have been sittin' on 'em. A good portion of gravel is due on that road, and the best remedy, however.

SOCIETY

Poland-Anderson Wedding.

The following article, giving an account of the ceremony at which Miss Florence Poland of Chapman, Kan., became the bride of Glen C. Anderson of Thief River Falls, is taken from the Chapman Headlight:

On June the tenth, the Methodist church was the scene of an unusually pretty wedding, when Mr. Glen Anderson, of Thief River Falls, Minn., and Miss Florence Poland were united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Albin.

At six o'clock Miss Mildred Ramsey sang "Beloved, it is Morn," by Aylward, after which the bridal party entered to the strain of the "Bridal Procession" from Lohengrin, played by the Steininger orchestra.

The bride was attended by little Elanor Hollinger, her cousin, as flower girl, the Misses Lucille Peck and Dorothy Hollinger, as brides maids, and Miss Mildred Pritchard of Junction City, as maid of honor.

The groom was attended by G. Adolph Fischer, A. F. C. A. G. D., of St. Louis stationed at Camp Funston.

The ceremony was performed in front of a bower of ferns and roses, and the impressive ring service was used.

The bride's dress was of satin with sleeves and over-drape of georgette crepe, banded with satin. She wore a real duchesse lace collar, a gift of Mrs. O. L. Thisler. Her veil was worn hood fashion, the hood of Duchesse lace. She carried a boquet of bride's roses with shower sweet peas.

The maid of honor was dressed in rose colored organdie and wore a black picture hat. She carried red rose buds.

The brides maids dresses were of light blue crepe de chine with panels of georgette crepe. They wore white hats and carried pink sweet peas. The flower girl was dressed in white satin and she carried a basket of roses.

The groom wore the conventional black and the best man was in military uniform.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother followed. About a hundred guests offered their congratulations to the bridal couple and were served to a two-course lap supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents including one hundred dollars in money.

Mrs. Anderson has spent most of her life in Dickinson county. Last year she was a graduate in music from the Dickinson County high school. She is one of Chapman's prettiest girls and because of her charming disposition is a general favorite in her large circle of friends.

Mr. Anderson was chief field clerk for the 10th division, stationed at Camp Funston, when he met Miss Poland. He now has a position as assistant accountant on the Soo Railway, Thief River Falls, Minn., where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on the night train for Denver, Colo., on their wedding trip..

Hendrickson-Isaacson.

Fred Hendrickson and Miss Isabel Isaacson were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Isaacson, 721 LaBree avenue north Saturday evening, June 21st, at nine o'clock, Rev. I. T. Aastad, officiating. They were attended by Miss Henrietta Isaacson, sister of the bride, and James Parenteau. The bride wore a gown of white satin and carried a shower boquet of roses and sweet peas. Peonies, roses and ferns were in profusion throughout the rooms. A delicious four-course supper was served to the friends and relatives of the young people at 10:30.

The bride, who has lived here all her life is a most estimable and highly regarded young lady, she being a graduate of the Lincoln high school in 1916, while the groom is from Tioga, N. D., returned lately from a year's service in the army.

The young couple left Tuesday morning on a short trip to various point in North Dakota, returning to Tioga, where they will make their future home.

Ebert-Fix.

Miss Minnie Fix and F. S. Ebert were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Charles City, Ia., on Monday, June 9th, at twelve o'clock. The groom is well known in the city, being one of the owners of the Thief River Music company's store for the past three years. The bride is a trained nurse, being a graduate of the Finley hospital, Dubuque, Iowa. The couple left immediately after the ceremony and visited in Chicago, Minneapolis and Detroit, arriving in Thief River Falls Thursday. They have gone to housekeeping in the Union block.

Misses Ruth Bamford, Thelma Holm, Katie Jonas, and Abbie Evenson; Rufus Barrackman, Carl Sundahl, Floyd Fuller and Charley Vorachek report having a good time at a marshmallow roast up river Tuesday evening.

Entertain.

Mrs. R. H. Ross and Mrs. C. W. Connell entertained sixteen of their friends last Thursday at the home of the former, 116 Markley avenue north. The guest of honor was Mrs. A. Rathjen of Luverne, Minn., mother of Mrs. Ross. The rooms were artistically decorated with wild roses and marguerites, and Norwegian whist was the chief diversion. Mrs. M. T. McFarland was winner of the first prize, while Mrs. Oscar Sponheim captured the second. The afternoon was brought to an end by a delicious and prettily served luncheon.

Entertains at Dinner Party.

Mrs. H. A. Brumund entertained eighteen guests at a dinner party Friday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Annie Mearow of Calloway, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. A. Mearow of Spokane, Wash. The room was beautifully decorated with pink and white peonies, while the floral scheme for the tables was carried out in large daisies. A four course dinner was served at one-thirty, the remainder of the afternoon being spent in listening to musical selections by members of the party.

Surprised.

Miss Mamie Votava, teacher in school district number 11, was pleasantly surprised by the people of her community on Saturday evening at the school house. The party was given to show the appreciation of the excellent work she has accomplished during the past term. The principal feature of the evening was Mr. L. O. Kongelf's interesting talk on the difficult problems of the rural school. A delicious lunch was served and all report a good time.

Birthday Party.

Miss Viola Beck entertained seventeen of her little friends Friday, June 20th at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Soards, 307 Duluth avenue south, in honor of her 8th birthday. Miss Viola received many pretty presents and the youngsters all report the best of times supplemented by good eats.

Pleasantly Surprised.

A number of the young people of the city pleasantly surprised the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Anderson, at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Anderson, 111 Kendall avenue south, last Friday evening. The time was spent in music and singing, accompanied with a delicious lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Sapero returned Monday evening from Chisholm, coming in by train. They started back by auto under the most promising conditions but ran into a rainstorm before going far. This made no difference to the roads between Chisholm and Grand Rapids, but to the west of that village things were not so pleasant. Just before getting to Deer River the machine got stuck in the mud and was left there, the passengers continuing their journey by rail.

Mr. Sapero says that things are booming on the range. While there the lease for the new store of the company in Hibbing was signed up and the goods for this emporium will begin arriving before long.

Practically the entire village of Hibbing is to be moved to the present location of the little town of Alice, but it will probably take four years to complete the transfer. In the meantime The Sapero company has leased one of the most centrally located stores in the old town.

Bjornaraa Again President.

B. Bjornaraa of Hickory township in Pennington county, was re-elected president of Saeterdallaget at the annual meeting of the organization held *in Crookston last week. Other officers are: Secretary, John Johnson, Kloten, N. D.; treasurer, Arne Grundysen, Fisher, Minn.; directors, Olaf K. Lasland, Kloten, N. D.; O. B. Olson, Buxton, N. D.; Sam Sorenson, Crookston; Thor Rygnsta, Thief River Falls, and T. N. Loyland, Thompson, N. D.

There were three separate Norwegian organizations holding their conventions at the same time in Crookston last week — Saetesdalslaget, Telelaget and Spelemandsforbundet. Lieut. Gov. Thomas Frankson, of Minnesota, was one of the principal speakers.

Not Rip Track Men.

In reporting the arrest of two men charged with breaking into a box car in last week's issue of The Times, it was stated that the parties were employed on the rip track at the round house here. This seems to have been a mistake, both of the accused being section hands. The rip track workers rather resent having their department in any way associated with men who would steal from their employers and demand that the error be explained. This request The Times gladly complies with.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammations and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

NO PROFIT IN SCRUB CATTLE.

(Minneapolis Journal.)

At present prices for dairy products, it would seem to the consumer impossible for a dairyman to fail in his business. Butter at sixty cents or more a pound; cheese at fifty cents and up; milk at thirteen cents—these figures seem to lift the dairyman above the possibility of failure. And, in fact, the skilled business man never handled dairy cows to such a profit as now. But never has the blundering dairyman stumbled so near to the verge of ruin. With millfeed selling at from forty of fifty dollars and hay at thirty dollars or more, good milch cows at three hundred dollars a head and land at three hundred dollars an acre, the making of butter rises into the realm of high finance.

At best the cow is a financial guess. Among scrub or nondescript cattle, no one expects to find a cow today that could be rated better than a calamity in a dairy. Among mongrel stock, a good or even an excellent animal may sometimes be found. But this individual cannot be depended on to reproduce her kind. A mongrel dairy herd of fifty paying cows, would have been selected out of so many hundred failures that the cost of the selected herd would be greater than that of pure bred stock.

The only approach to a profitable certainty is in the distinct dairy breeds. Even there wise stockmen have for years been selecting the families that show by careful tests that they can produce profitably. No animal, however fashionably bred, can gain entry to the honor roll, unless the cow herself has produced the required amount of milk and butter fat, or the sire's dam has won the place for him. No wise dairyman today will risk his money on any herd that has not, in its foundation at least, advanced registry cows.

All this has been preached again and again to the dairy farmers of the Northwest; and yet more scrub and mongrel herds than grade or pure bred are furnishing milk today to Minneapolis. In the very suburbs of this city are herds of cows, which, viewed industrially, are only fifty per cent efficient.

RACES AT THE NORTH DAKOTA STATE FAIR.

Saturday, July 19th, the closing day of the State Fair at Grand Forks will bring a dozen of the fastest dirt track drivers auto-racers in the country into competition. Fred Horey and Sig Haugdahl, two stars, have already signified their intention of entering. Both have very fast cars and will make a try for northwestern records. Horey raced at Grand Forks in 1915 and 1916 and Haughdahl in 1917 and 1918. Both of them hold world's records for dirt tracks at various distances and will furnish some excitement at Grand Forks.

Railroad Hearings.

The Commercial club has been advised that meetings of the St. Paul District Traffic committee of the United States Railroad administration will be held at 275 East Fourth street, St. Paul. At these meetings matters pertaining to revision of rates affecting shippers of this community will be taken up, and any shipper who is interested in matters coming up at the meetings is invited to attend. On June 23 rates and minimum weights on hay and straw carloads were taken up, while on July 1 rates on butter will come up for consideration.

Ordained as Pastor.

Rev. Albert O. Odegaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Odegaard of Rocksbury township, was on Sunday ordained as a minister of the Norwegian Lutheran denomination at St. Pauli church, Hazel. The ordination sermon was preached by President J. M. Sundheim of the Northern Minnesota district, who was assisted at the services by Rev. C. M. Grimsrud of St. Hilaire. A number of neighboring pastors were also present and took part in the impressive ceremonies.

Rev. Odegaard graduated this spring from Luther Seminary, St. Paul, and has been assigned to the mission field of which Blackduck, Beltrami county, is the headquarters.

If not called for within two weeks from the above date they will be sent to the Dead Letter Branch, Chicago, Ill: Amble; Miss Susie; Anderson, Miss Mabel Bru, Mr. Arthur; Cohen, Mr. Al; Dean Mr. Hugh; Haug, Fred D. JOHN MORGAN, P. M.

An Important Connecting Link.

(Oklee Herald.)

The board of county commissioners of Pennington county in session on Tuesday of last week took a very important step in the matter of road improvements. For years the people of Mayfield have been trying to get a road out somewhere but have met with very little success. Last winter they succeeded in obtaining from the Red Lake County board a conditional promise that the State road leading north from Oklee be extended to the Pennington county line. The contract for this extension has already been let and the work will be done this summer. At their meeting Tuesday the Pennington county board was fully informed by commissioner Ole O. Lee of Red Lake county as to how far his county had gone to improve the situation of the Mayfield people whose request for help or co-operation of some kind from their county, was promptly answered by the Pennington county board who then and there establishing a direct route between Oklee and Thief River Falls. Though this is of special benefit to the Mayfield people it also means a good deal to the country generally. It shows the spirit of co-operation in a broader light and insures a better feeling between the towns, the counties and all concerned. Oklee people are transacting considerable business in Thief River Falls and when we can take our cars, travel along a direct route and go and come at pleasure without depending on a miserable train service, it makes some difference. Oklee surely extends the glad hand to our neighbors to the north and the county dads across the line.

Compare Wheat With Lumber

TEN bushels or a thousand bushels of wheat will buy more lumber at the present moment than at any time except for a time during the past winter. The same amount of wheat will also buy more lumber now than it will next fall. The same holds good with beef, pork, poultry, cream or eggs.

The Price of Lumber is Going Up

There is no use blinding ourselves to this fact. Nothing can prevent it. In fact the advance has already set in. It will cost more to build now than would have been the case when we first began urging the farmers and others to build. It will go higher, and we repeat that it is a mistake to delay any longer in making needed improvements.

Save By Buying Now

Every observant agency in the country urges the people to build without delay. Secretary of Labor Wilson, says that a program of extensive construction is necessary in order to get the country back to normal conditions.

We are ready to help you with your building program. Our plans, experience and liberal business policy are at your disposal.

TORNADO TOLL NOW 52 DEAD; 300 INJURED

SEARCH FOR MISSING BODIES CONTINUES IN STRICKEN FERGUS FALLS.

DAMAGE OVER $3,000,000

FORTY PER CENT OF RESIDENCES ARE IN RUINS, SAYS MAYOR.

Identified dead, 48; unidentified, 4; still missing, 11; injured in hospitals, 101; estimated number of injured, 300; number of residences destroyed, 160; number of residences damaged, 300; estimated property loss, $3,000,000.

The above is a condensed statement of the terrible loss wrecked upon the people of Fergus Falls by the tornado which passed through there Sunday afternoon, razing the buildings of a dozen blocks and leaving death, destruction and desolation in its wake. The report was issued yesterday morning.

Mayor George Frankberg estimates the city's tornado loss at not less than three million dollars. A careful survey of the city shows the estimate of one and a half millions as first reported is too conservative and the actual loss is at least three million, says the mayor.

"Forty per cent of the residence district is in ruins" he declared, and about the same proportion of the business district. Nearly every church in the city has been destroyed. We have only one bridge out of four standing. The court house and jail are gone and other public buildings were either damaged or destroyed. I feel sure the loss will be at least three million dollars."

State Troops in Charge.

The storm broke about five o'clock on Sunday afternoon and in a few minutes the northwestern portion of Fergus Falls resembled the slashings in a saw mill yard. For blocks not a building was left standing. At least one residence was blown into Lake Alice, a small body of water located within the city limits.

The first reports reaching Thief River Falls was to the effect that more than 200 persons had lost their lives and great fear was felt for the safety of friends and relatives residing in the stricken city. So far as known all these escaped with their lives although many lost the greater part of their property.

Picked Up Entire Train.

Some idea of the force of the wind may be gained from the fact that passenger train No. 1 on the Great Northern was picked up bodily and thrown off the track. The cars were on a siding at the time and there was no loss of life.

Relief Measures Taken.

The state and nearby cities immediately set in motion relief measures and the homeless people are being provided for in every way possible.

Although heavy winds are reported from a number of places in the state at about the same time, no loss of life resulted anywhere except at Fergus Falls and in the immediate vicinity.

Hospital Notes.

Those who have entered the hospital for medical attention since last Thursday are: Mrs. G. T. DEALERS PROTEST AGAINST SODA TAX COUNTRY-WIDE CAMPAIGN WAGED TO AFFECT REPEAL OF PROVISION.

Protesting against the provisions of section 630 of the new revenue act, operators of soda fountains throughout the country are conducting a campaign to bring about a repeal of the law in an effort to lift the tax placed on all drinks and delicacies served in these establishments. Thief River Falls dealers are playing an active part in the campaign and it is expected that many protests from this section will be made to congressional representatives.

Soda water dealers ask the repeal of the law on the following claims:

1. Because it is a tax on the daily meal of a large and increasing number of people who take their luncheon at the soda counter.

2. Because it is an unjust burden on many children, whose greatest pleasure is an ice cream cone, a soda or dish of ice cream.

3. Because it is unfair to tax ice cream at fountains and in ice cream parlors and not in hotels and restaurants.

4. Because it is a clumsy and unbusinesslike method of raising revenue: an annoying and most inconvenient tax to collect, and unnecessarily expensive to the government for the amount of revenue secured.

ALL READY FOR SIGNING

Setting for Ceremony at Versailles Is Completed.

Famous Gallery of Mirrors Has Received Its Final Furnishings for Historical Occasion.

Paris, June 24.—The French foreign office stated it would be impossible to complete all arrangements for formal signing of the peace treaty before Wednesday.

Versailles, June 24.—Plans are nearly completed for signing the treaty at Versailles. Orders have been issued to have everything in readiness, although the ceremony may not take place before Thursday.

The famous Gallery of Mirrors has received its final furnishings. The carpets have been laid and the ornamental table with its Eighteenth century gilt and bronze decorations has been placed in position near where the plenipotentiaries will be seated.

There will be room for 400 invited persons. They will be given places in the left wing of the Hall of Mirrors, while the right wing will be occupied by about the same number of press representatives. Sixty seats have been allotted to the French press.

The program of arrangements, as far as they have been settled, were submitted to Premier Clemenceau. The court of honor has been cleared of captured guns. Three regiments of infantry and five of cavalry will be on duty. Republican guards in gala uniform will be stationed on the grand staircase by which the plenipotentiaries enter the hall.

According to the Havas agency diplomatic relations with Germany will not be resumed immediately on signing of the treaty, but only after its ratification. This also applies to the admission of German subjects into France.

Fronting M. Clemenceau's presidential chair will be placed a table on which the diplomatic instruments will be laid. It will be to this table that each representative is called in alphabetical order to sign his name to the treaty and affix his government seal. Although there are 100 delegates, the ceremony is expected to take at least 90 minutes.

Business is on the increase and patrons of the creamery are very well satisfied with the returns received for their cream.

THIEF RIVER GETS LUTHERAN MEETING

SELECTED AS PLACE FOR HOLDING FREE CHURCH CONVENTION IN 1920.

At the annual meeting of the Norwegian Lutheran Free church, held in Minneapolis last week Thief River Falls was selected as the place for the convention next year. The dates have not been definitely decided upon, but the sessions are always held about the middle of June.

According to Rev. George Larson, pastor of the local church, there will probably be in the neighborhood of 200 ministers and 400 lay members in attendance. Rev. Larson headed the delegation from this city, the other members of the congregation present being Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stageberg, Mrs. Gena Evenson and A. C. Lockren. Their invitation to make Thief River Falls the meeting point next year was accepted with enthusiasm.

The Minneapolis meeting was the best in the history of the church in this district. The dates fell upon the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of Augsburg seminary and this added the interest to the occasion. The meetings were held in the auditorium, the large building being filled during many of the sessions.

COAL
Order Your Bituminous and Anthracite Coal
NOW

June 10, 1919.—The Federal Fuel Administration has sounded another warning to buy your next winter's supply of Bituminous coal now. The coming of peace has naturally put people off their guard against coal shortage, but figures prepared by the Government Geological Survey shows that the production of Bitumious coal for the first five months of the present year, has been lower than for the same period of any year since 1915, the present weekly average production being approximately 27% lower than the previous year. The storage capacity is limited and it is the duty of the consumers to buy their coal now so as to relieve this condition and create work for men when work is needed.

Coal now on the docks at the Head of the Lakes must be moved, in order to make room for the present season's receipts, as it is a physical impossibility to store enough coal at the docks to take care of the coal requirements of the Northwestern states for the winter of 1919-1920.

Scattering reports from the Anthracite regions in Pennsylvania, indicate there will be a shortage of labor in the mines this winter, particularly if the weather should be severe. Estimates have also been made by the National Coal Association, which indicate about 35,000 workers in Bituminous and Anthracite mines (mostly foreign born) are preparing to return to Europe as soon as they can secure passage.

The Commission would feel remiss in its duty if it did not call the attention of the consumers of coal in Minnesota, to this statement of facts, and feels sure that if coal is ordered now, especially as cars are available to move the commodity, that considerable hardship and suffering can be avoided during the coming winter.

THE COMMISSION MOST EMPHATICALLY URGES THE BUYING OF COAL NOW BY BOTH DEALERS AND CONSUMERS.

DEFENSE OPENS IN GILLER CASE; ARSON CHARGED

STATE RESTS AFTER INTRODUCTION OF MOST DAMAGING TESTIMONY

HAVE SEEMING ADMISSION

ALLEGED CONVERSATION AT CROOKSTON HOTEL SPRUNG AS SURPRISE

Testimony for the defense in the case of the state versus Maurice Giller, charged with arson in the third degree, was begun before Judge Andrew Grindeland and a jury in the district court room on Tuesday. Attorney Hans O. Chommie, who is associated with E. M. Stanton in the defense, opened the case. He said expert testimony would be introduced to show that the fire which partially destroyed the Giller store and stock on the night of January 7, 1919, was caused by defective electric light wiring. It would further be the purpose of the defense, according to Mr. Chommie, to prove that George Allen, principal witness for the state, was at the time of the fire indebted to Giller to the extent of between $3,000 and $4,000 and that he had a personal motive in having the latter placed in a position that would make the collection of this sum impossible.

The witnesses examined up to the time of adjournment last evening were placed on the stand with a view to showing that the electric light wiring in the building was defective and that the fire originated from this source.

Will View the Scene.

Judge Grindeland announced at the time of adjournment last evening that the jury would be taken to the building this morning for the purpose of making such personal observation as is permissible. He stated that none would be permitted to touch anything or ask questions.

Shipped Goods Away.

When the case was called for trial County Attorney Theo. Quale and Lewis O'Malley of the attorney general's office appeared for the prosecution. The first and principal witness for the state was George Allen, who testified that he for some weeks previous to the fire had been shipping goods out of the Giller store with the full knowledge and consent of Mr. Giller. These goods were consigned to various points in Minnesota and North Dakota, where they were sold by the witness. The merchants purchasing these goods were placed on the stand and testified that they had bought the goods and that Allen had been paid for them.

Was Paid to Set Fire.

Continuing, Allen stated that Giller had offered him $600 to set fire to the store, which offer was accepted. Not wishing to do the job himself, however, he had secured a party by the name of Jack Johnson, a resident of Minneapolis, who for a stipulated sum offered to accommodate him. Johnson appeared on the morning of Jan. 7, and that same night set fire to the building, witness averred.

Johnson Admits Crime.

When placed on the stand, Johnson corroborated Allen's statements. He told how he had piled a lot of waste paper alongside one of the tables on which there was a quantity of clothing and placed among this rubbish a lighted tallow candle about an inch and a half in length. The state's contention is that this is what caused the fire and consequent loss.

Big Surprise Sprung.

The most sensational feature of the trial came when the state called to the stand Frank J. Gould, a court reporter with offices in St. Paul, who produced stenographic notes of a conversation overheard by him at the Crookston hotel on June 2. The report purports to be a conversation carried on between Giller and Allen while the reporter and L. V. Conley of the state fire marshal's office were in the adjoining room, the conversation being conveyed by dictaphone and transcribed in shorthand. According to the witness one of the principal subjects coming up during this conversation was the advisability of providing Johnson with sufficient funds to carry him to the Pacific coast. This Giller agreed to do if the matter could be handled for $200, according to the submitted report, stating that nothing could be proven against him, however. He would be able to show, he maintained, that he was at his home the time the fire started and thus could have had nothing to do with its origin. Allen did not urge this point, being evidently chiefly concerned with his own safety and that of Giller.

After Mr. Gould had finished reading his transcript the state rested.

Under Surveillance.

The evidence introduced against Giller was mostly gathered by L. V. Conley and E. A. Simpson, deputies in the office of the state fire marshal. They have been at work on the case almost continuously since the night of the fire.

Year at Hard Labor.

Peter A. Stromberg, a section hand, who last week pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, was sentenced to one year at hard labor in the state penitentiary at Stillwater by Judge Grindeland this week. It was charged that Stromberg and a companion had broken into a box car and stolen therefrom several sacks of flour and feed.

The convicted man is married and has a family of four children. This might have tended to leniency on the part of the court had it not been that defendant's wife was aware of his guilt and seemingly encouraged the practice. Judge Grindeland said in pronouncing sentence that it was time this stealing from railroads was stopped as there is danger of its becoming an altogether too common practice.

Flax Straw Men Here.

Jason L. Merrill and Frank Blaine, connected with the bureau of plant industry, Washington, were in the city the first of the week looking over the flax straw situation. The government is still continuing its experimentations with the fibre of this plant and there is a great future for it apparently. The investigators continued their trip into other flax regions on Tuesday.

HAMRE PLACE ALSO SOLD

IOWA PARTIES ACQUIRE CHOICE HALF SECTION—INVOLVES TRADE AGREEMENT

Well located farms in Pennington county have reached the $100 per acre class. Within the past month two separate pieces of land located near Thief River Falls have brought this sum, while a number of others have crowded the mark very close.

There has been a greater demand for lands in this immediate section during the past year than ever before, the transfers beings three times as many as for any similar period in the county's history. An advance of $10 to $20 per acre over the price at which the tracts were formerly held has not been uncommon and there have been more bidders than sellers.

Stands at the Top.

The first transfer of a Pennington county farm in which $100 per acre was the consideration was recorded recently. The Denis Connely place of 321 acres, described as the southwest quarter and the south half of the south half of the southeast quarter of section 32-154-43, and west half of northeast quarter of section 5-153-43, a tract adjoining the city of Thief River Falls on the south, was sold to S. C. Stone of Donaldson, for $32,100. The sale was made through the agency of W. H. Frederick of this city and is of more than usual interest because of the fact that the purchaser is a man well acquainted with northwestern Minnesota lands and conditions, having been located at Donaldson in Kittson county for many years. While the tract by reason of its location and quality is regarded as one of the best in the entire region, the price is an indication of what observing men think of the future of the section.

Another Big Transfer.

It is possible that when all the details are known it will be found that the T. P. Hamre farm of 320 acres adjoining the city in the other direction will be found to have brought even a better figure. This half section was purchased by a party from

TOO MUCH WHISKEY FOR ANY ONE MAN

CHARGE IS THAT DAN STOYANOFF TRIED TO SELL PORTION.

While he may only have tried to protect himself against the coming drought, it seems that other motives are attributed to Dan Stoyanoff, news agent on one of the Soo line trains. H. L. Byers, detective for the road, discovered that the newsy had in his possession six bottles of whiskey and avers that the goods were "kept in store and for sale," contrary to the law in such case made and provided. Stoyanoff was brought before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant on Monday morning to answer to the charge, and so little satisfactory did his replies appear that he was bound over to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $200 and this was furnished without any apparent difficulty.

This is the first offense of exactly this nature brought before the local court and the first illicit liquor selling charge that has been heard for some time.

WOULD PASTURE MONTANA STOCK IN MINNESOTA

AGENT OF LIVE STOCK MEN HERE TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS.

CITY TO BE HEADQUARTERS

CATTLE WOULD PREFERABLY BE SHIPPED IN FOR PURPOSE OF WINTERING.

Thief River Falls may within a very short time become the headquarters of an entirely new industry, and the prospect of harvesting the largest hay crop in years is responsible.

John M. Brander, representing a large number of Montana and western Dakota cattle raisers, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of investigating the fodder situation. In his section of the country the hay crop has been a failure and the stockmen are facing thru the probability of a heavy loss thru being compelled to sell off their herds. He states that there are several hundred thousand head of cattle and sheep facing starvation in the two states unless some way can be found to either move the stock to where the fodder is more abundant or secure the rights to cut hay in other sections and ship it west.

New Bureau Active.

The newly created State Board of Agriculture is responsible for bringing about what may prove a solution of the difficulty. Knowing that there will be a vast amount of hay, both tame and wild, in the state this year, it was figured that some plan might be devised whereby both communities might be benefitted. The fact that last year a number of cattle owners from the same section came here for the purpose of buying wild hay stumpage and shipping it to their homes was an indication that the scheme might be successfully carried out on a larger scale.

Two Plans Presented.

Because of the vast amount of fodder required and the consequent heavy cost of shipping, it has been suggested that the better plan would be to ship the cattle into this county for the winter. Sufficient shelter for their protection could in many places be provided at no great cost and they would be in the midst of the greatest feed supply. The alternative is shipping the hay to the cattle.

Would Be Headquarters.

According to the Minneapolis Journal, it is the intention of Mr. Brander to make Thief River Falls the headquarters for the movement. The eastern part of Pennington county is covered with a heavy growth of blue joint and red top hay growing wild. Much of it is on land as yet unoccupied and there is no doubt but that the stumpage rights could be secured at a very reasonable figure. The matter has already been taken up with owners and no trouble is anticipated on this score.

May Cut Reservation.

The western portion of the Red Lake Indian reservation is largely meadow. Last year the government permitted the cutting of hay there as a war measure and it is probable some similar arrangement could again be made. There are cutover sections in Beltrami and other northern counties that might be requisitioned, but none of them offer the advantages presented here.

Mr. Brander had intended making a trip to the eastern part of Pennington county Wednesday, but the heavy rain of the previous night led him to fear that the roads might prove difficult. He therefore went to Roseau to pursue his mission but will return to this city today.

Made Citizens Quick.

Two soldiers received their naturalization papers on the first day of the present term of court at the hands of Judge Grindeland. For some reason the matter had been overlooked at camp and the oversight was rectified as quickly as possible. The men were Emil Bernard Simonson of Holt and Torgrim O. Lidtveit of Mavie. Not even first papers were necessary in their case, the fact of their having been willing to don the uniform of Uncle Sam being taken as evidence that they were fit to become citizens in good standing.

The date for holding the examination for citizenship has been changed from the 25th to the 24th of July at the request of the government examiner. There are eight on the list in Pennington county.

Medical Society Meets.

The quarterly meeting of the Red River Valley Medical association was held at the Commercial club rooms in this city last Monday. The attendance was not as large as at some previous meetings, many of the members being absent on their summer vacation. The principal subject under consideration was "Tuberculosis," Dr. Milan of Oakland Park sanitorium, Thief River Falls, and Dr. Gates of Sunnyrest santorium at Crookston, leading the discussion. Dr. Onstad of McIntosh and Dr. Wattom of Warren took a leading part in the proceedings.

WILL PUBLISH WAR RECORD OF OUR SOLDIERS

AMERICAN LEGION WILL UNDERTAKE THIS WORK AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

ORGANIZATION IS FORMED

About 50 discharged soldiers and sailors who took part in the late war met at the office of County Agent J. J. McCann on Saturday evening and took the first steps toward securing a membership charter in the national organization of the American Legion under the name of Pennington County Post No. 1. All the preliminary steps were taken and a plan proposed for the securing as members all the men in the county who served in any branch of the United States military establishment and who have an honorable discharge. The following were elected as the first officers of the post:

Commander J. J. McCann; senior vice commander, L. C. Nielson; junior vice commander, Bernard Burggraf; quartermaster, Theodore Tandberg; adjutant, G. Howard Smith; staff, H. O. Chommie, Miles Jackson, Alvin Ronning and Peter Rustad.

Committees Appointed.

The first thing to be looked after is the appointment of a membership committee. This will be composed of three members from Thief River Falls, one each from St. Hilaire and Goodridge, and one from each township. Another committee of three will be named as official war record investigators and will take charge of the work of securing a true and correct record of every man who went from the county and who served in any capacity during the war. The personal history of each man while he was in the service will be sought and a book compiled containing the entire history of each man's contribution to the final victory. In this book will be included a report of what the folks at home did in the matter of assisting the accredited war auxiliaries and in the different Liberty Loan campaigns.

Another committee will have charge of the insurance claims, bonuses and other matters of a like nature upon which information may be needed.

Representatives at Crookston.

As delegates to represent the post at the district convention held in Crookston on Tuesday the following were named: Martin Langseth, Hardy Bothun, Glen Anderson and G. Howard Smith. These were the official representatives, there being many others who made the trip.

Membership Fee.

The membership fee in the organization was placed at $1.00 per year. Of this sum 25 cents goes to the national and the same amount to the state organization, the balance being retained by the post. Any soldier or sailor eligible to membership is urged to send his name and dollar to Theodore Tandberg at Goodridge, to County Auditor T. P. Anderson, or to Adjt. G. Howard Smith.

Membership Will Grow.

There will be an attempt made to include every man who is entitled to belong to the legion within its ranks and membership application cards may be secured from any member.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CAR THEFT CHARGE

LAD GETS TIRED OF WALKING AND DECIDES TO TAKE A RIDE

Coming to the conclusion that the best course to pursue would be to make a clean breast of the whole affair, Karl Sather, who had been confined in the local jail for a week on the charge of stealing an automobile belonging to O. A. Odegaard of Hazel, last evening appeared before Judge Andrew Grindeland and entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was withheld until Sather's mother, who resides at Gonvick, could be communicated with.

The circumstances connected with the case are somewhat peculiar and officials have reason to believe the young man is a trifle light in the upper story. He recently came from North Dakota, where he had been employed. On the day of the theft the lad started out afoot and walked about three miles, and claims that he became very tired. Seeing Mr. Odegaard's car he decided to appropriate it for the purpose of continuing his journey to Red Lake Falls. Instead of going direct to that village, however, Sather evidently lost his way and landed in Goodridge.

In the meantime Sheriff LaBree was notified of the theft and informed that the thief could likely be found in Red Lake Falls. The sheriff immediately set out for that place and reached his destination some little time in advance of the man he was looking for. Upon being arraigned, Sather entered a plea of not guilty but later made up his mind to plead guilty and take his medicine.

Young Man Fined.

Gilbert Groslie, 20 years of age, was picked up on the streets last Saturday by Chief of Police F. O. Erickson in a state of rather advanced intoxication. Judge Tarrant assessed a fine of $7.50 against him, which was paid.

Lightning is Prankish.

The week has been one of rather unusual electrical storms. Lightning struck three different times in the city without doing any appreciable damage. On Wednesday morning the residence of Alfred Johnson, 110 Markley avenue south was hit, but no damage worthy of note resulted. About the same time the water tank of the Great Northern railroad was struck, the result being a sizable hole in the roof. Yesterday morning about five o'clock Aga's garage was the target, the damage again being but slight. Night Patrolman Jerry Kelly discovered the blaze before it had gotten very far and notified Fire Chief Midderigh who was in his room across the street. Between them they soon had the blaze put out.

CROP DAMAGE YET CONSIDERED LIGHT

TOO MUCH RAIN FOR BEST RESULTS IS ADMITTED, HOWEVER.

The rainfall during the past week has been decidedly heavier than there was any necessity for. This is admitted even by those who are prone to look only on the bright side of things. The fields in most sections of the county could have stood a fair and even a liberal amount of moisture, but plenty has now fallen and the weather man can shut off the supply at any time without becoming unpopular.

It is possible that there has been some damage on the lowlands, but this will to a great extent be offset by the benefit the added precipitation has been to the ridges. On the higher levels the stand of grain has never been better, while even where the water has been permitted to stand for some time before running off no great harm has been done. It is something out of the ordinary for this section to find itself with too much rain at this period of the growing season and people become needlessly alarmed.

The largest crop in the history of the county was harvested in 1915 and in that year a considerable number of the fields in the eastern section were under water as late as the 24th day of June. No such condition exists now and there is not near the cause for worry that appeared at that time.

Hay is fairly bounding along and with a few days of low temperature and no more rain the other crops will be doing likewise.

JURY ACQUITS IN O'NEILL LIBEL CASE

FINDS FORMER SENATOR IS NOT ENTITLED TO $10,000 DAMAGES

A verdict for the defendant was returned on Monday by a jury in district court in the case of D. P. O'Neill against Swan Johnson. The former state senator sued Johnson, who is a farmer residing near St. Hilaire, for $10,000, claiming damages in that sum, alleging libelous and defamatory utterances made on the part of the defendant.

Johnson, according to the complaint, was accused of saying that O'Neill, while senator, had accepted a retainer for working to have the sixth normal school located at Bemidji after the citizens of Thief River Falls had raised a fund of $5,000 to be expended in securing the school for this city.

The trial took up the greater part of the day and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Senator O. A. Naplin and Theo. Quale were attorneys for Johnson.

WILL HAVE CHARGE OF HONOR BANQUET

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER HAY-O'NEILL TESTIMONIAL.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Commercial club held last week it was decided to hold the proposed testimonial banquet in honor of D. P. O'Neill and J. H. Hay whenever these gentlemen found it convenient to attend. Mr. O'Neill was recently appointed a member of the state board of grain appeals, while Mr. Hay is the assistant commissioner of agriculture of the state. Both men have for many years been highly honored citizens of Thief River Falls and as they will be compelled to leave the city, at least temporarily, it was deemed but fitting that the citizens should be given the opportunity of showing their appreciation of the splendid work they have done for the community during their residence here. It was decided that a banquet in which all could participate would prove the most fitting testimonial and committees were appointed to look after the details. Daniel Shaw was made general chairman, and the following citizens will assist him: P. J. Keating, C. L. Hansen and G. Howard Smith; lunch, Julien Provencher and Herbert Fuller; music and program, W. A. Barnard, W. W. Prichard, Jr., Dr. C. R. Crandall and E. M. Stanton; hall arrangements, Math Barzen.

The intention is to include as honor guests Mrs. Hay and Mrs. O'Neill, who will accompany their husbands to their new fields, and the ladies of the city are particularly invited to attend. The price of the banquet has been placed at $1.00 for the men and 50 cents for the ladies.

COUNCIL APPOINTS PAVING ENGINEER

R. E. BORROWMAN OF ST. CLOUD WILL HAVE WORK IN CHARGE.

At a special meeting of the city council held last evening R. E. Borrowman, of the Bradley Engineering company, St. Cloud, was appointed to have charge of the sewer and paving work upon which the city is expected shortly to engage.

Mr. Borrowman presented recommendations from cities in which he has been employed, all of which spoke of him in the highest terms of praise. He was selected from a field of six candidates after the council had carefully weighed the qualifications of each one and the members are satisfied that they have chosen a most competent man.

The new engineer will return to the city shortly for the purpose of looking over the field and signing up the necessary contract.

Back at Old Job.

Lawrence Hermanson, who recently returned from service abroad, has resumed his old position as assistant teller at the First and Peoples State bank. As has been the case with practically all the men returning he found his old position open as soon as he was ready to take it.

LEAGUE PROGRAM ENDORSED IN N.D.

ALL LAWS SUBMITTED CARRY BY MAJORITIES AVERAGING ABOUT 10,000.

The referendum election held in North Dakota last Tuesday resulted in a sweeping victory for the Nonpartisan league, the measures having been originally passed by the legislature containing a majority of that party last winter. There were seven measures in the league program upon which a referendum was requested.

The purpose of the measures submitted to a vote of the people of the state are as follows:

House Bill 17, creating an industrial commission for the management of the state bank, mills, elevators and home-building association.

House Bill 18, creating the State Bank of North Dakota.

House Bill 123, providing for a commissioner of immigration.

House Bill 124, providing for three additional district judges.

Senate Bill 67, providing for changes in the tax commission.

Senate Bill 157, providing for the naming by a special board of one newspaper in each county as the official paper.

Senate Bill 134, providing for a board of five members to manage all the penal, charitable and educational institutions of the state.

This is your opportune time to get it simply by utilizing a little of your spare time that you have been in the habit of squandering.

This will be a ligitimate enterprise to increase the circulation of The Times. The money paid for prizes would be paid to professional solicitors if we pursued that plan. You need have no misgivings. This is a very simple proposition all the way through and will be handled in an efficient and honorable manner.

We call this campaign the "Universal Auto Club," because it will be entirely different from any other campaign than has ever been put on in this community. A letter will be mailed to all those whose applications are accepted. This letter will be followed by a second letter containing all necessary supplies for starting your campaign. The second letter will also contain a return envelope so that you may advise the club manager whether or not you intend to become an active member.

No matter how much or how little work you are able to do during the campaign days, you are absolutely assured of being compensated according to your efforts. There can be no losers under our plan. Each and every member making a cash report each week of the campaign and who fails to win a grand prize will be given 10 per cent on all new subscriptions turned in. Special prizes are given from time to time during the campaign and these in no way mar your chances of winning a grand prize or interfere with getting your commission. These special prizes are offered to whet your enthusiasm, and to create more interest with the general public. We are frank about that. The first special prize offer will start next week at which time we will give a five dollar gold piece to the member turning in the most money on new or old subscriptions. A full list of the prizes, rules and regulations will also be announced at that time.

If this article has impressed you, and you want to get in on our grand prize awards, don't hesitate one minute but get in touch with the Club Manager. TREATY SIGNED; STATE OF WAR FORMALLY ENDS

CHINESE ONLY DELEGATES REFUSING TO BE BOUND BY FAMOUS PACT.

WILSON DEFENDS TERMS

IN LETTER TO COUNTRYMEN ASKS THAT ACTION BE RATIFIED.

The greatest war in history formally ended Saturday with the signing of the peace treaty.

The German delegates, Foreign Minister Mueller and Colonial Minister Bell, were ushered into the Hall of Mirrors at 3:08 o'clock. Premier Clemenceau immediately opened the meeting by assuring the Germans the treaty text was identical with the one presented to them.

Mueller was the first to sign, placing his signature on the document at 3:12. Bell followed him. President Wilson, the first of the allied delegates to sign, whote his name on the treaty at 3:14 p. m. Premier Lloyd-Georges signed two minutes later.

The Chinese refused to sign.

The signing was by delegations, in the following order:

Germans, Americans, British, (including colonials), French, Italians, Japanese and smaller nations.

Thus nearly five years after a proud and lustful monarchy started out to conquer the world, a beaten people affixed its signature to the allied bill of indebtedness and guilt.

Word of the signing, flashed to America, was followed by a proclamation from President Wilson, issued at the White House. It follows:

President's Proclamation.

"My Fellow Countrymen:

"The treaty of peace has been signed. If it is ratified and acted upon in full and sincere execution of its terms, it will furnish the starter for a new order of affairs in the world. It is a severe treaty in the duties and penalties it imposes upon Germany, but it is severe only because the great wrongs done by Germany are to be righted and repaired; it imposes nothing that Germany cannot do; and she can regain her rightful standing in the world by the prompt and honorable fulfillment of its terms.

Liberates Peoples.

"And it is much more than a treaty of peace with Germany. It liberates great peoples who have never before been able to find the way to liberty. It ends, once for all, an old and intolerable order under which small groups of selfish men could use the people of great empires to serve their own ambitions for power and dominion.

"It associates the free governments of the world in a permanent league in which they are pledged to use their united power to maintain peace by maintaining right and justice. It makes international law a reality, supported by imperative sanctions.

Exploitation Hit.

"It does away with the right of conquest and rejects the policy of annexation and substitutes a new order, under which backward nations —populations which have not yet come to political consciousness and peoples who are ready for independence but not yet quite prepared to dispense with protection and guidance—shall no more be subjected to the domination and exploitation of a stronger nation, but shall be put under the friendly direction and afforded the helpful assistance of governments which undertake to be responsible to the opinion of mankind in the execution of their task by accepting the direction of the league of nations.

Recognizes All Rights.

"It recognizes the inalienable rights of nationalities; the rights of minorities and the sanctity of religious belief and practice. It lays the basis for conventions which shall free the commercial intercourse of the world from unjust and vexatious restrictions for every sort of international co-operation that will serve to cleanse the life of the world and facilitate its common action with beneficient service of every kind.

"It furnishes guarantees such as were never given or even contemplated for the fair treatment of all who labor at the daily tasks of the world. It is for this reason that I have spoken of it as a great charter for a new order of affairs. There is ground for deep satisfaction, universal reassurance and confident hope."

Wilson Congratulated.

Acting Secretary of State Polk cabled the following message of congratulations to the president when he received news of the signing:

"Permit me to offer my heartfelt congratulations on the completion of your great work. The American people will be ever proud of what you did as their representative for the peace of the world."

Marshall Farm Agent Here.

George P. Sanders, assistant agricultural agent for Marshall county, was in the city for a short time the first of the week, looking after matters connected with the work on the peat demonstration plots. Mr. Sanders stated that the visiting day for the plots in the Grygla neighborhood would be set for some time toward the middle of August. The crops on peat lands look better this year than ever before and Mr. Sanders believes that the experiments now under way will prove that this class of soil can be made to yield splendid crops with the right kind of treatment.

The agent will visit the fair at Warren before returning to the peat plots.

Assisting Injured Man.

A collection is being taken up for the purpose of assisting Oldus Vinje of Hazel, who last week had the misfortune to break his leg in a runaway accident. The victim is additionally handicapped by the fact that he lost the other leg a number of years ago and it is therefore at the present time in an absolutely helpless condition. He is a good citizen and neighbors and the people are coming to his relief most liberally.

It was at first feared that it would be necessary to amputate the broken member, but the doctors now state that they will be able to save it.

NATION OFFICIALLY DRY SINCE JULY 1

PRESIDENT WILSON REFUSES TO DECLARE DEMOBILIZATION ACCOMPLISHED.

LIQUOR STATUS TODAY

Minnesota became bone dry today under the state prohibition law.

No beverages with more than half of 1 per cent of alcohol may legally be made or sold in the state.

The penalty for a first violation of the law is a fine of $100 to $500. For subsequent offenses the penalty is a fine and imprisonment, from 30 days to six months.

The state law is in effect permanently, unless it is suspended for a time by suspension of the federal wartime prohibition law, before the federal prohition goes into effect Jan. 16, 1920.

All saloon licenses are void under the law, but saloons may remain open to sell soft drinks. They must have licenses from the state hotel inspector as refreshment places, costing $3.50 a year.

All liquor found on the premises where illegal sales are made is to be confiscated.

Persistent violators may be tied up by injunction proceedings, after the place is declared a nuisance by the court. The premises may be closed unless the owner files a bond to guarantee that they will not be misused. Violators of an injunction are punished for contempt of court.

Transportation of liquor from place to place is forbidden by the law. The law does not provide for search of private residences, or for search and seizure anywhere without a warrant.

President Wilson decided that he could not legally lift the war-time prohibition ban and the country went dry at midnight Monday. He expects to do so as soon thereafter as his power has been made clear by the completion of demobilization, however.

In a cablegram made public at the White House last Sunday, the president said he was convinced after consultation with his legal advisers that he had no authority to act at this time.

"When demobilization is terminated," he continued, "my power to act without Congressional action will be exercised."

The message expressed no opinion as to the authority of the president, when he raises the ban, to make his action applicable only to beer and wine.

Old John Barleycorn was buried amid considerable pomp and festivity in certain sections of the country at midnight last Monday. The President's decision that he had no authority to declare the army demobilized and the sale of beer and light wines thereby permitted blasted any hope the liquor interests may have had that this much would be left to them. The prediction is made that within a month the army will all be demobilized and that the president will then exercise the right to restore the lighter beverages. So far as whisky, brandy, gin, heavy wine and other alcoholic drinks are concerned, however, the ban is irrevocable. The country will do dry, by constitutional amendment at any rate on the 16th of January next.

It is reported that days before the final closing of the saloons at Red Lake Falls and Plummer the places had been swept bare and that on Monday there was hardly a bottle to be purchased in either town. Persons who were accustomed to their nip stocked up against the long drought, it being claimed that purchases running as high as $4,000 were made. Nothing of a particular sensational nature happened in either town with the passing out of the saloons.

Attorney General Palmer at Washington, has ruled that light beer and wines may be sold in wet territory until the courts shall have had time to pass upon the case started by the brewers of New York. This will make no difference to Minnesota, according to the attorney general's office. The contention is that with the closing of saloons Monday night at 11 o'clock the Minnesota prohibition law takes effect, shutting off manufacture or sale of alcoholic liquor of any kind. Assistant Attorney General C. Louis Weeks has announced that the ruling of Attorney General Palmer would be of no value to thirsty Minnesotans, for the recent state law would absolutely prohibit sale of alcoholic liquors.

"Minnesota's law prohibits the sale of any beverage containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol," said Mr. Weeks, "and it is in effect until the wartime prohibition act may be repealed by congress or suspended by proclamation of the president. The ruling by the attorney general of the United States does not have any effect in this state."

OPEN RED LAKE INDIAN LANDS TO SETTLEMENT

PLAN SENSIBLE AND FAIR

WEST HALF OF RESERVE COULD BE MADE IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE.

The Duluth News Tribune has started a movement for the opening of at least a part of the Red Lake Indian reservation to settlement and the matter is receiving a good deal of attention. The Duluth paper shows itself rather surprisingly well acquainted with the situation and gives sound and sensible reasons for the position it takes.

No one argues that the present status of the reserve is satisfactory. A large and productive section of country is being denied development and the state is a decided loser through the withholding of these lands from settlement. The Indians themselves are receiving no benefit from this rich region the way matters now stand and some effective plan should be formulated for calling the attention of the Indian department to the situation.

The News Tribune article follows:

"Minnesota is no longer a pioneer nor frontier state. If the federal interior department will get this one fact firmly in mind it will help materially in a sensible management and final settlement of the remaining Indian problem and the remaining Indian reservations.

"Secretary Lane has had the wisest policy, as to the Indians, of any head of the interior department of this government. He believes in wiping out the ward system as fast as possible and, while protecting the Indians, placing upon them individual responsibility of citizenship. The way to do this, is to do it.

Would Help Indians.

"They should receive their allotments of land. They should not be permitted to sell these for a period of years. They should be helped to improve their land and to become self-supporting. The funds for this generally are now in the hands of the government. If not they can be provided from the sale of surplus lands left after allotment, and from still standing timber.

"One of the larger remaining reservations is the Red Lake. The western part, in Clearwater county, is mainly good agricultural land, with little timber, and available now for cultivation. Why wait to allot this part until all can be apportioned, all timber sold, and the larger swamp areas to the east drained? In fact, this drainage should not be made until settlement is assured.

The Square, Sensible Way.

"But the western part could be opened now. Such Indians as reside there, or all who desire, could get their shares now, be made self-supporting and independent. If not now, they never can be. If, after 50 years, they are not ready for this, there is no reason to believe their children will be better prepared after another 50 years under the still prevailing system.

"The surplus lands of the section could then be sold for the benefit of all; the eastern section retained for future allotment and the timber and surplus lands sold for the benefit of all. This is the square deal; it is the sensible way, and it is the only process possible by which this fine land can be made to contribute what Minnesota has the right to demand in wealth and state support.

Ward System A Failure.

"It is the only way these Indians can be given their real rights and real opportunity. The ward system has proved a miserable failure and no genuine friend of the Indians would continue it. Only the human leeches fastened on the Indians uphold it, and they have long enough sucked Indian blood money.

"If Secretary Lane knew the facts he would act. But to know these he must get beyond the screen held around him by the leeches."

WAS THROWN FIFTY FEET WHEN KILLED

CAR IN WHICH HEDLUND MET DEATH WAS COMPLETELY DEMOLISHED.

A more detailed account of the manner in which Carl Hedlund of Thief River Falls met his death when an automobile he was driving was struck by a train at Greenbush last Wednesday is given in the Roseau Times-Region. The exact cause of the accident is still a mystery and will perhaps never be known, the unfortunate being alone at the time. The Roseau paper's account is as follows:

"Carl Hedlund, buyer for the Thief River Hide & Fur company, lost his life Wednesday afternoon, when the car he as driving was hit by the east bound passenger on the crossing at Old Greenbush. The front of the car was hit full by the engine pilot and carried about 35 feet when it was thrown about 20 feet into the ditch in a badly wrecked condition. Mr. Hedlund was thrown clear of the car and he was picked up fully 50 feet from that point. The engine pilot was also badly smashed and had to be jacked up by a section crew a couple of miles up the track.

"The train was immediately stopped and the hurt man picked up and taken to the hospital at Roseau, where he died a little later without regaining consciousness.

"The unfortunate man was alone in the car so just how it happened will never be known. There is heavy timber on both sides of the road to within 60 feet of the track and it is assumed that he did not notice the train coming before right up close and probably got excited and stalled his car. He had dinner at the home of his wife's folks, three miles north of where the accident occurred and was coming from there at the time. His wife has been visiting there since last week, when she came up from Thief River Falls to attend her brother's wedding. Besides the wife he is survived by a two-months-old baby, and his parents at Thief River Falls. A brother is on the way home from France."

CHOSEN TREASURER OF CHURCH BODY

H. S. DAHLEN OF THIS CITY HONORED AT CROOKSTON MEETING.

The annual convention of the Norwegian Lutheran church for the Northern District of Minnesota was held in Crookston and was one of the best attended sessions in the history of the organization. There were 152 voting delegates and 93 pastors in attendance at Friday's meeting.

H. S. Dahlen of Thief River Falls, was elected treasurer for the district for the ensuing year.

On Saturday evening Judge Andrew Grindeland delivered a lecture on "Our Attitude Toward the Movies."

The matter of changing the name of the church, which had been discussed at the meeting in Fargo last year, was again laid over without any action being taken. Another matter laid over until next year was that of opening a school for girls at Luther seminary, St. Paul.

During the past year $75,949 was left to the church in legacies. The budget for the year amounts to $895,383.21, of which the Northen division is asked to raise $100,928.

Those attending the convention from Thief River Falls were: Rev. I. T. Aastad, Rev. A. N. Skogerboe; H. S. Dahlen.

President, Dr. Martin Anderson, Moorhead; vice president, Rev. A. E. Strom, Fertile; secretary, Rev. G. M. Rundhaug; treasurer, Mr. C. M. Berg, McIntosh; and board of directors, Rev. A. E. Tollevs, Warren; Rev. C. M. Grimsrud, St. Hilaire; Mr. N. B. Hanson, Fertile; Mr. A. C. Korsrud, Duluth; Rev. G. O. Forde, Starbuck.

The quartet of the Lutheran church rendered two anthems. Rev. J. N. Brown Austin, president of the national Lutheran league delivered the address, "Problems of the Church After the War." The meeting was largely attended with delegates present from all congregations of the district.

Duluth was selected as the place for holding the convention next year.

Local Man Honored.

President Ole L. Ihle of the city Conucil, has been notified of his election as a member of the board of trustees of the League of Minnesota Municipalities. In company with Councilmen Froseth and Brandon he attended the meeting of the League at Red Wing a short time ago and his election took place at the close of the session.

WANTS AUTOS TO MEET BOOSTERS

STATE HIGHWAY CHAIRMAN WOULD LIKE LARGE DELEGATION.

R. B. Millard of Little Falls, state chairman of the Jefferson Highway association, wants to know if Thief River Falls cannot be represented by a few cars, the plan being to meet the boosters at some point south of the city and escort them in. C. L. Hansen, chairman for Pennington county, received the request, which is as follows:

"Are some of your good road boosters planning to meet the Jefferson Highway tourists some distance south of your city and county?

"Don't you think it would be a good plan for a car from your county to go down on the Highway 160 to 200 miles and meet Mr. Clarkson and his distinguished guests? To do so would be a compliment to them and a boost for your city and county.

"There should be a number of Minnesota cars go down into Iowa to meet the parties at Mason City and Des Moines.

"Talk this over with your committee men and see if some action can be taken whereby your city and county can send a few cars."

The delegation will in in Thief River Falls on July 19 and will remain here over night.

Examined Chicken Records.

Charles Foster of the Public Examiner's department, St. Paul, was in the city on Monday for the purpose of checking up the books of the Pennington County Poultry association. This is done with all poultry associations in the state every year for the purpose of helping keep their records straight. Mr. Foster found everything shipshape in this county and left Monday afternoon for other parts on the same errand.

Expert Shoe Man Here.

In another column of this issue of The Times will be found an announcement of the opening of the new shoe department at the Loken store. Alfred Olson, an expert shoe fitter, for five years associated with the Emporium at St. Paul, has been secured as department manager and he will be pleased if those who have had difficulty in being fitted will give him a call. The policy of the "uncluttered shelf"

There's a satisfaction in dealing with a grocer who has eliminated the "doubtful" brands from his store.

You can pick up your phone and say "Send me up a can of vegetable soup and a can of peas," and then forget it. You know that they'll be just what you want. We don't carry anything we can't recommend.

Our service consists, among other things, in testing thoroughly the various food products on the market, old and new alike, and then selecting only what we are willing to use ourselves.

Take the case of RYZON, the Perfect Baking Powder. Knowing the General Chemical Company, we knew that any baking powder they would market must be of unusual quality, so we tried it and the RYZON Baking Book too.

We found we could do things with baking powder we never knew could be done. Could make boiled dumplings that you'd never know were boiled; make batter one day and use it the next—in fact we found RYZON to be thoroughly economical, always uniform and the RYZON recipes of untold value.

RYZON is 40c per pound and woth more—the RYZON Baking Book of 200 tested recipes is 30c. Ask us about them when you call.

THE AFTER-THE-WAR PROBLEM.

There is a need today of a great many manufactured articles, of goods which we were not able to manufacture during the war. Two years have entirely depleted the surplus stock in nearly every line except war munitions.

Then, Government economists, through the medium of the Department of Labor, state frankly that the American people are in an excellent position to buy. Wages were high during the war and means of expenditure were limited.

Today we have the proper conditions for a demand that will lead to large production, the revival of business and the end of any serious unemployment. As a result of which Roger W. Babson, Director General of the Information and Education Service of the Department of Labor, is urging the people to buy now in order that business may receive this needed stimulus.

Mr. Babson asks pointedly: "What are you doing, Mr. Merchant; and you, Mr. Everyday Workingman?" He then urges them to get together, to cooperate, to keep industry going.

He admonishes them to adjust their after-the-war conditions. He urges them to renew buying, to renew selling, renew producing on the new peace-time basis, and thus create jobs for our returned fighters.

He says: "You who have work, you who have money, BUY NOW—for your plant, your store, your own little home. Get going. Full speed ahead. BUY NOW!"

GERMANY MUST PAY.

The war is officially over and Germany has accepted the terms laid down by the allied and associated powers.

It is five years, lacking one month, since the Central Powers of Europe started out to subdue everything in sight. With an arrogance never before equalled the Germans attempted to force their peculiar brand of culture upon an unwilling world and at different times it looked as if their chances for success were particularly bright. Now Germany is forced to sign a humiliating peace, her armies rendered powerless, her fleet captive or sunk and her internal condition bordering on chaos. Never in the history of the world was the surrender of any first-class power so abject.

The treaty has yet to be ratified by the governing bodies of the different governments, and there is not much doubt but that this formality will be carried out without any great amount of opposition in spite of predictions to the contrary made in some quarters.

The terms which Germany was forced to accept are severe, but certainly no more so than she could expect. She is not deprived of anything that rightfully belongs to her. Everything in the shape of territory that is taken from her she has at a previous date taken from some other nation. The money indemnity will force the German people for years to exercise the utmost economy, but it is doubtful if it even then covers the cost of the damage her ruthless soldiers were responsible for.

President Wilson asks that the American people ratify the treaty without a change. He did not accomplish all he expected to in Europe, but he has been the stabilizing influenze at all times and it is certain that all nations, even Germany, is better off for his having been there.

To the very end the United States played an honorable and unselfish part in the war and it is to be hoped that the fruits of the victory gained will not be denied by reason of failure on the part of the senate to ratify the pact. The people are determined that there shall be no more such wars and the League of Nations, which will follow as a part of the final agreement between the free governments of the world, is the surest safeguard that this shall be the last conflict in which civilised nations will engage.

There are undoubtedly those who believe the terms are too severe. To such we would like to propound the querry: What do you think the terms would have been had Germany won?

ANOTHER HONOR BADGE.

The War Department has decided that some notice should be taken of the employers who without question or urging are putting the returned soldiers and sailors back in their former jobs. This is more of an undertaking than generally supposed and the men who from patriotic motives are following the practice often do so at a distinct loss.

A handsome citation has been prepared by the department and will be sent to all employers giving assurances that they will put their old men back as fast as they arrive. This citation carries with it permission for the holder to display on his firm's service flag the shield of the United States as a symbol that he will fulfill his obligations to the men who went to the defense of the country at the time of its peril.

Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, has this matter personally in charge. He states that between 70 and 80 per cent of the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors have the offer of their pre-war jobs and adds that the hero of today must not be allowed to become the hobo of tomorrow.

There are no strings to the awarding of this citation. All that is asked is that the employer write an application for it, stating that he will re-employ his old service men, addressing his request to the War Department, Washington.

There are a lot of individuals and firms in Thief River Falls who will be entitled to these citations and the possession of one would be a sort of testimonial to the fact that even in this matter our people were in the war to the end.

THE AMERICAN LEGION.

It was of course to be expected that the boys who were recently discharged from the army should form an association of some kind. The American Legion' or something similar was inevitable. Its value will depend upon the use to which it is put.

The fear is generally expressed that the legion will be used as a political club, but this does not look very reasonable on the face of it. The men who went to France to fight or who stayed in this country to work are of every shade of political opinion and will likely remain so. They figure that they can band themselves together with their comrades for mutual protection and benefit without getting their organization soiled by interference in the political activities of the country, and indications are that they will have the good sense to do so.

That unscrupulous men will attempt to use the league to further their political fortunes is to be expected. They should fail. The purpose of the order is to promote a fraternal feeling among those who won a great war and to assist the members in securing their rights. The inculcating of American ideals under any and all circumstances is the avowed purpose and so long as it so remains the organization will prosper and be of great benefit.

FOR THE FARMER'S BENEFIT.

The proposed Babcock hard surface road plan might with much reason be called "a plan to give to farmers in rural districts good roads now." Because that is what the plan will do. If the main line roads are built from a fund secured by a tax on autos and trucks, it will mean that the money now being spent on state roads will be released for use on side roads. The farmer who is opposed to the Babcock plan is opposed to giving himself a good road.

The above is from the Long Prairie Leader and is in line with what The Times has maintained right along. The farmer who permits himself to be hoodwinked into opposing the Babcock amendment stands squarely in his own light. It is the most important move toward permanent good roads ever made; and the farmer is the one who should be particularly interested in having the plan carried out. Not only will it mean paved main roads, but it will release the enormous sums now being spent for the maintenance of these arteries and make them available for use on branch roads. There may be opposition to the Babcock law but it should certainly not come from the farmer.

TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS A DAY.

Of course our people realize in a general way that the creamery located here is something of an institution, but it is doubtful if many have stopped to consider just how much of a factor in the general prosperity of the section the plant really is.

Eight years ago the creamery reported an annual business of $40,000 and was proud of the showing. Now over this amount is paid out to the cattle owners in a month, the last report of Secretary Engelstad showing that the payments had reached $1,200 per day, Sundays included. The total business of the plant this year will reach $300,000, the increase over last year amounting to more than the total business of only a few years ago.

The prosperity of the farmer can be largely guaged by the business done by the creamery in his section. There never was such thing as an off year for the man who depends on cattle. He carries through with ease where others have to struggle or where they fail entirely.

Creamery patrons are proud of their institution. This feeling should extend to other citizens as well. It is the one safe bet under any and all conditions.

TRUCKS WILL CUT COSTS.

When the three trucks ordered by the commissioners of Pennington county arrive our people will have their first opportunity of observing just what effect this kind of equipment will have on the cost of road construction. As the cost of securing these trucks is practically nothing the saving will of course be greater than if the machines had to be bought, but even in such case their use would be justified.

Itasca county last year affected a saving of $1,000 per mile on a six mile stretch of road by the use of trucks for hauling gravel. The county purchased the machinery outright and depreciation was figured in when the result was reported. If this can be done in Itasca county there is no reason for supposing that at least as great a saving cannot be made here.

Indications are that there will be a great deal of road work undertaken during the present year and the cutting of the cost by $1,000 per mile is an item well worth considering.

A CLUMSY, FOOLISH TAX.

It would seem as if the government might have found some more satisfactory way of raising revenue than that provided by taxing the ice cream cone of the kiddies. The tax is hard to collect and is a source of annoyance to both purchaser and dealer. It is probable that the cost of collection will prove so great as to leave but little actual revenue for the government in any event.

Ice cream is a food product and one of the very best. During the summer months particularly it can hardly be regarded even as a luxury and why it should have been picked out as one of the objects of a particularly cumbersome tax is a little hard to understand.

Thief River Falls dealers do not object to having taxes placed on their goods as a general rule, realizing that the government must raise an unusual amount of money just at this time. They would prefer to have the matter so adusted, however, that its collection would not be so troublesome. They further maintain that the arrangement hits the children who are in the habit of buying an occasional cone while it permits the diner in a hotel or restaurant to escape.

Protests against the law are being sent to senators and representatives from all over the country and there seems to be a fair prospect of getting this particular provision repealed.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

August Reidl, who settled in the town of Excel in 1881 and later moved to this city, died at the age of 78 years.

The engines at the new saw mill were given their trial test during the week and found to work in fine shape.

The planing mill closed down for the season. A new company intended taking charge when it was opened again.

H. Langseth returned from Spring Grove where he had been as a delegate to the Synodical conference from Rev. I. T. Aastad's church.

J. W. Wallin sold his LaBree avenue store building and was erecting a new one on Main avenue.

Ten Years Ago.

Harry C. Woolson and Miss Julia M. Nelson were married at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. J. M. Smith of the Methodist church.

Rolland brothers purchased the meat market of J. P. Forsburg.

Thomas Wood, a brakeman formerly employed by the Soo in this city, had both feet cut off by being run over by a train in Minneapolis.

The Thief River Falls creamery received 52,681 pounds of cream during the month of May. The creamery at St. Hilaire received 78,403 pounds. The average paid for butterfat at both institutions was 29 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nelson of Grand Forks, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Sponheim.

Watch For Potato Wart.

Northwestern farmers are being urged to watch closely for the potato wart. This disease cannot be detected through any difference in the vines, these remaining in an apparent excellent state even after the potato itself has been ruined. The wart causes immense losses every year in England and Ireland and it is feared that it may reach this country. The parasite which causes wart is spread most frequently by using diseased potatoes for seed.

Growers are urged to report promptly all suspicious cases to the county agent or the plant pathologist at the state university. A little care in this respect may save much trouble in the future.

A Message to Farmers About "Satisfaction Guaranteed"

We say "satisfaction guaranteed" a good deal. We would like to have you know what we mean by that phrase. Satisfaction in clothes means exactly what it means to you; you decide it.

All merchandise made by human hands and sold at any store may have defects; none of us are infallible; we can't possibly guarantee merchandise, except that we can guarantee that

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are all wool and stylish

But what we can guarantee is that the clothes will satisfy, and if for any reason they don't--- we'll make good.

Naturally we have to be pretty careful about the goods we sell, or we couldn't keep on guaranteeing satisfaction on our goods. If anything doesn't satisfy you, we give you your money back as much for your sake as for ours; we don't care to keep any money we don't give value for.

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

The Explosion of An Ancient Legend

A LETTER received last week from one who signs himself "Constant User" asks why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) insists that the gravity test for gasoline is a fallacy.

Not having his address we are answering the inquiry here.

When the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) began manufacturing gasoline the surest, safest, most practical method known for determining the quality of the product was by testing it with a hydrometer.

In those days all of the crude oil used came from a single locality. It was of the same base always and the products refined from it were uniform.

As the industry grew and oil wells were found in widely separated localities it was discovered that the crude varied so greatly even when taken from wells in the same locality that the hydrometer no longer could be depended upon to indicate the quality of the refined product with satisfactory exactness.

Some other system of measurement had to be used.

The chemical engineers employed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who were asked to solve the problem, suggested that the boiling points of the several fractions, which go to make gasoline, would give the desired result. They would be constant and the usefulness of the product would not vary so long as the range of boiling point fractions remained unchanged.

The practical usefulness of the suggestion was instantly recognized, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) immediately adopted it as the basis of their manufacturing practice.

By making its product conform to the boiling point standard, it was possible to guarantee uniform results at all times, even though the hydrometer might show variation in gravity.

We know uniformity is of the most vital importance to the ultimate consumer. That is why we insist that gravity is of no value in determining the value of gasoline as a fuel, because it can not indicate the gaps.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is steadfast in its endeavor to render the greatest service possible to the motoring public and it is constantly trying to so improve the fuel and oils it sells as to give to its patrons a greater value for the money they spend with it.

"BECOME OUR PRISONERS"

THAT IS INVITATION HELD OUT TO SCRAPPY BUNCH OF DOUGHBOYS.

That the German soldiers never understood the purpose of America in the late war is of course well known. Some of the stunts that were pulled off with the idea of showing the doughboys how foolish they were to continue fighting the Germans are decidedly laughable to the people in this country who understood the determination and spirit back of every man who went across to help clean up the mess over on the other side.

Dropped From Airplanes.

Miller Kruta is a Pennington county soldier who recently returned from the front. He enlisted on April 20, last year, and in two months was at the front, an artilleryman with the 32nd division. He was in the thick of it during the last months of the war, taking part in the Meuse-Argonne drive. He later spent five months in Germany.

Kruta brought back with him a circular printed in English and scattered broadcast among the American soldiers from airplanes. The little poster is printed on cheap paper, about 5x8 inches in size, and headed "How to Stop the War." It is chiefly of interest in showing how mistaken the German commanders were when they attempted to guage the temper of the Americans. The circular reads:

"You Can Stop It."

"Do your part to put an end to the war! Put an end to your part of it. Stop fighting! That's the simplest way. You can do it, you soldiers, just stop fighting and the war will end of its own accord. You are not fighting for anything anyway. What does it matter to you who owns Metz or Strassburg, you never saw those towns nor knew the people in them, so what do you care about them? But there is a little town back home in little old United States you would like to see and if you keep on fighting here in the hope of getting a look at those old German fortresses you may never see home again.

"The only way to stop the war is to stop fighting. That's easy. Just quit it and slip across 'No Man's Land' and join the bunch that's taking it easy there waiting to be exchanged and taken home. There is no disgrace in that. That bunch of American prisoners will be welcomed just as warmly as you who stick it out in these infernal trenches. Get wise and get over the top.

No Glory in Fighting.

"There is nothing in the glory of keeping up the war. But think of the increasing taxes you will have to pay; the longer the war lasts the larger those taxes at home will be. Get wise and get over.

"All the fine words about glory are tommy rot. You haven't got any business fighting in France. You would better be fighting the money trust at home instead of fighting your fellow soldiers in grey over here where it doesn't really matter two sticks to you how the war goes.

Better Off At Home.

"Your country needs you, your family needs you and you need your life for something better than being gassed, shot at, deafened by cannon shots and rendered unfit physically by the miserable life you must live here.

"The tales they tell you of the cruelties of German prison camps are fairy tales. Of course you may not like being a prisoner of war but anything is better than this infernal place with no hope of escape except by being wounded after which you will only be sent back for another hole in your body.

"Wake up and stop the war! You can if you want to. Your government does not mean to stop the war for years to come and the years are going to be long and dreary. You better come over while the going is good."

May Arrest Smokers.

Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant calls attention to a law passed at the last session of the legislature but which does not seem to be having the desired effect, at least in Thief River Falls. Chapter 548 of the General Laws of 1919 provides that any boy under 21 years of age found smoking a cigarette is liable to arrest and punishment. Heretofore the dealer has been made the responsible party, it being a serious offense for him to sell the pills to any person under age.

No arrests have been made under the new law but the judge believes that some of our boys are headed toward a rather severe sentence and suggests that citizens generally take it upon themselves to issue a warning when they find a lad parading the streets with a cigarette going full blast.

Auction Sale.

There will be an auction sale of cattle, horses and farm implements on the Albert Anderson place in Highlanding township, 3½ miles south and 1½ miles east of Goodridge on Thursday, July 10, at which time a large amount of personal property will be disposed of. There are three horses and eight cows, while the machinery includes two wide-tire wagons, one binder, hay rake, harrow, walking and gang plows, drill, mower, sulky plow, bob sleighs, DeLaval separator, tank heater, pump jack, hay rack, wagon box, barrel churn, cream cans, harness, horse collars, buggy pole and small farm tools. There is also some oak planks and a quantity of maple flooring. W. J. LaBree is the auctioneer, and the Goodridge State bank will clerk the sale. Usual terms.

BUSINESS BOOMING EVERYONE REPORTS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS GIVEN GREATEST CREDIT BY NATIONAL BUREAU.

The June balances of Thief River Falls merchants show that never in the history of the city has business been so good. It is simply a question of getting the goods, and thus far the local stores have been able to supply everything demanded. This condition may change in some minor detail, but on the whole they expect to be able to meet any requirement to which their stocks are subjected. It would appear that the same condition holds good practically everywhere in the country.

"Newspaper advertising seems to be solving the problems of business reconstruction," says a review just issued by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

"Immediately after the war a great increase in newspaper advertising was noticed," says the Bureau. "Each month it has continued and today it is not unusual for newspapers to report 100 per cent increase in national advertising in lineage over the same period of 1918, and there is scarcely a newspaper anywhere that does not show tremendous gains.

"For a few months after the armistice was signed this advertising would pay. Today they are wondering whether they can fill their orders and get help enough to run their factories.

"While there are still some evidences of hand to mouth buying and a disposition to 'play safe' in case of lowered prices, retail business has increased in a volume that seems to indicate an outlook for 'full speed ahead.' A Federal investigation into trade conditions just issued shows that the big retail stores in New York had a 66 per cent gain in business during April and May over the corresponding months of 1918. Reports from Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and other large cities indicate the same tremendous release of buying power.

"Many manufacturers of advertised products say that they are unable to fill demands and are running behind on orders.

"It is fair to say that newspaper advertising is responsible for a large part of this improvement in retail and wholesale business and that the newspapers will render as notable a service in the readjustment period as they performed during the war."

Attends Elks' Convention.

Andy Anderson, former exalted ruler of Thief River Falls Lodge of Elks, left Saturday for Atlantic City as a representative of the lodge at the national convention of the order. He will stop a few days in Minneapolis for the purpose of visiting his daughter, Miss Ruby, and will then go to Chicago, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New York and Philadelphia. The trip will take about three weeks.

TWO-CENT POSTAGE IS AGAIN IN EFFECT

POSTCARDS ALSO AT FORMER PRICE—TWO NEW RURAL CARRIERS.

The pre-war postal rates went into effect on Tuesday morning and a letter may again be sent to any part of the United States for two cents. The one-cent postal card rate was also re-established thus placing things practically as they were before the war. The only feature of the war measure retained is the one cent additional revenue stamp required on parcels post packages on which the postage amounts to 25 cents or more.

Postmaster John Morgan states that his office has but a small amount of the three-cent stamps to return. Some time ago he was ordered to send a considerable part of the supply on hand to other offices and he had but little more than enough to carry through.

July first is the beginning of the fiscal year at the postoffice and there have been two or three changes in the personnel. C. P. Brorby succeeds Bert R. Lufkin as carrier on the Kratka route, and Oscar Sebjornson takes the place of E. E. Peichie on the Germantown route. They started their initial trip during the heaviest downpour of the year. Both are good men and will give satisfaction to the patrons. The latter are asked to assist the new carriers in every way possible until such time as they become thoroughly acquainted with their duties.

William Sponheim, city carrier No. 3, and H. R. Pope of the office force, began their vacation period of two weeks on Tuesday. Milton G. Weeks is substituting for Sponheim while the mid-summer lull will make it unnecessary to provide anyone to take the place of Pope.

Baby DeVeling.

HAD SUFFERED 29 LONG YEARS

MRS. CLARKSON HAD RHEUMATISM SO BAD SHE OFTEN CRIED ALL NIGHT.

"My gain of thirty pounds in weight during the past few weeks just speaks volumes for Tanlac," said Mrs. Catherine Clarkson, residing at 2440 College St., Kansas City, Mo., recently.

"There has been such a pronounced change in my condition," she continued, "that my friends readily notice it and speak of it. Of course, I think my increase in weight is wonderful, and I am proud of it, but the benefit I appreciate most is my relief from suffering. I have been a victim of rheumatism for twenty-nine years, and only those afflicted the same way can know the agony I suffered. During damp weather and just before a rain sharp pains would shoot all through my body, but it was in my knees I suffered most. My right knee, especially, has been so swollen, stiff and painful during the past two years that I could not bend it. I had to have a steel brace made to fit this knee so I could walk around. The ligaments and leaders were drawn until my knees was out of shape, and I have cried all night long many a night with pain. I have often thought my rheumatism was caused by constipation, as I have always been troubled more or less in this way, having to take something constantly. I also lost weight and my general health became very bad, and while I just tried everything nothing gave me any relief.

"One day I read a statement made by a lady living on Prospect Avenue, telling how Tanlac had relieved her of rheumatism, so I began taking the medicine myself. I am just now on my fifth bottle and considering the length of time I have suffered, the results have been remarkable. The rheumatic pains have disappeared almost entirely, and I do believe Tanlac is going to clear my system of it altogether. I have been told that my right knee would never be any better, but I can bend it some already, and the pain is entirely gone. I have also been relieved of constipation, my appetite is fine, and I am feeling better in every respect than I have in many years. So I don't feel that I could say enough in praise of Tanlac. It certainly is grand medicine."

The riders got past the store alright, but only a few yards, when, Presto, the "can" capsized on the grade slant and the four juvenile occupants scarcely realized for a while that they were pinned under the machine. Outside aid had to come to their rescue and the bunch came to again, but of course the trip was abandoned for obvious reasons. As luck had it, no one was hurt. The dog which they had run onto struck out for the east so fast that he couldn't have been injured much either, and if his course was not changed for a few minutes he'd soon been well within the confines of Beltrami county. Nothing much was said by the joy-riders, except that as soon as they had all been released from under the car, one of the adventurers said to the other: "Ain't it awful, Mabel."

YANKS AND FRENCH RIOT

100 Americans Hurt, 2 Dying, in Brest After Fight.

United States Naval Officer Alleged to Have Trampled on French Flag —Beaten Till Senseless.

Brest, July 1.—During rioting here two French civilians were killed and five American sailors and soldiers injured severely, and more than 100 wounded. Two of the American soldiers may die.

The streets of Brest were put under military control.

Drunken Officer Blamed.

The casualties resulted from an exchange of shots between American military and naval police and French sailors.

The trouble began, according to available accounts, when an American naval officer, who is said to have been drinking, tore down a French flag and trampled on it. Frenchmen, it is said, kicked and beat the officer until he was unconscious. Americans went to the aid of the naval officer and the fight became general.

American Hotel Attacked.

A mob of French civilians and soldiers and sailors attempted to rush the Hotel Moderne, where American officers were quartered. They burned a sentry box and threw stones at Americans in uniforms. The Americans, it is said, retaliated.

A company of marines with fixed bayonets were hurried to the scene and the Americans soon restored order. Admiral Henri Salaun, the French naval commander at Brest, ordered the marines to return to their barracks.

As the marines marched back to their quarters, it is declared, they were pursued by a mob throwing stones and bricks. The city is quiet now.

No Better Time to Build If Site and Style of Structure Are Carefully Chosen—How to Finance the Enterprise.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

"Why pay rent when rent will pay for a home?" This is a favorite slogan of the real estate and building promoter, and has been used so much that the average renter is apt to be skeptical of its truth. Skeptical or not, it is true in the average case, as anyone with a logical mind will readily see.

The owner of investment property, or property that is rented charges for the use of a house or an apartment what he can get for them. It is true that rent should be fixed so that the owner will get a reasonable return on his investment—enough to pay the taxes, the repairs, a sinking fund to replace the building when it falls into decay, and a reasonable interest on his money. But the law of supply and demand operates in this case just as it does in most others. And just now the demand is such that the owners of rentable property are making up for lean years. They are charging what they can get and that is a plenty.

Profitable to Build.

There never was a time when it was more profitable to build a home. The return on the investment is greater now than it has been in many years, leaving out of consideration the comfort and happiness that comes from living in a home of one's own. The present day rent will pay for a home and leave something of the rent besides.

Building a home, however, is a step that should be given careful consideration. In buying a site the same care should be exercised as in buying anything else that requires a considerable investment. The location with reference to schools, the street, the character of the residents of the neighborhood and above all the probability of that locality improving in popularity, and consequently in value, and whether or not the improvements, such as water and pavements, have been made, all should be taken into consideration.

Selection of Design.

The site chosen, then comes the selection of the design for the home. It is not good policy to build a $10,000 home on a $300 site; neither should a $4,000 house be built on a $4,000 site. The house should be something like in value the others in the neighborhood, for the reason that there may come a time when it will be necessary to sell it.

Illustrated herewith is a modern wood bungalow of six rooms, a size that will provide for the needs of the average family and will be readily salable should that be necessary. The dimensions of the bungalow are 29 feet 6 inches, by 43 feet, which allows plenty of lawn and garden space on a 50-foot lot. The exterior of this bungalow is exceptionally attractive, the wide porch across the front, the long sweep of the roof and the dormer window in the attic all make it one of which any owner can be proud.

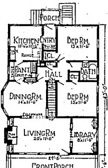
The house is of standard wood construction, set off by a porch with brick pillars and cement steps. This is economical construction and provides a good weather-tight house.

Room Arrangement.

All of the rooms in this bungalow are, of course, on the first floor, but the roof slope permits a large attic space, which helps to keep the house warm in winter and cool in summer. The floor plan shows the room arrangement. Across the front of the house are the living room and library adjoining. Back of the left end of the living room are the dining room and kitchen, while on the other side are two bedrooms with the bath between.

The living room is of good size, 20 feet by 11 feet 6 inches, while the colonnade between it and the library, 8 feet by 11 feet 6 inches, make the two practically one room. The fireplace with seats on either side and windows above are at one end of the living room, while in the library are built-in book cases on either side of the window.

The same colonnade effect is used between the living and dining rooms. The dining room is 14 by 11 feet 6 inches, and has considerable additional room in the large bay window at the end. Between the dining room and the kitchen is the pantry, with shelves and table and a chute for the clothes to be dropped to the basement, where the laundry tubs and other fixtures are located. The kitchen is 10 feet 6 inches, by 11 feet 6 inches and off it is an entryway leading to the back porch.

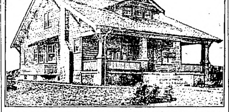


Both bedrooms and the bath open off a small hall that is reached through the dining room. Each bedroom is 13 by 11 feet 6 inches and has two large windows, permitting plenty of light and ventilation.

A narrow stairway leading out of the living room connects the first floor with the attic, which is large enough for a small bedroom, or a playroom for the children and storage of trunks, etc.

Estimating the Cost.

This bungalow was designed by an experienced architect and has given the owner excellent satisfaction. A consultation with the local builder, material man and architect will bring an estimate of its cost, which is determined largely by the location of the city or town with reference to the supply of materials and the labor situation.



Reverting to the economy of building a home or renting one, the thought naturally arises as to how to finance the building operations.

The lot owner has no difficulty in securing the money to erect a house of a cost that is commensurate with the lot. This is done in several ways, the best being to borrow from the bank on a first mortgage and paying the balance to the contractor in monthly payments, securing him with a second mortgage. In this way the monthly rent payment will in the course of a number of years secure the home for the owner.

Building a home now is an investment that no man who uses ordinarily good judgment in the selection of a lot and a design for the house will ever regret.

Velocity of Stars.

From the spectroscopic measurements made at Mount Wilson observatory to determine the radial velocity of stars (i. e., the speed with which they are approaching or receding from our solar system), it appears that the star A. G. Berlin 1366 has a radial velocity of 339 kilometers per second, the highest constant velocity so far observed for any star. Next to this comes Lelande 1966, with a velocity of 325 kilometers per second, in the opposite direction.

Talkfest.

"The gentleman who wants to rent our hall is very particularly about the acoustics."

"Lecture?"

GOOD CROWDS AT MATHIS MEETINGS

Evangelist Mathis and party arrived Friday night. Saturday a committee of men arranged the Auditorium, making a terraced platform on the stage for the large chorus which Mr. Preston organized Sunday afternoon. A speaker's dial was placed in front of the stage, and all tastefully decorated with the national colors. Sunday morning there was a good sized audience, but a much larger one in the evening.

Mr. Mathis brought two strong messages. He has a fine clear voice and a very happy way of putting things.

A chorus of about 50 voices sang at the evening service Sunday, and to judge from the applause accorded them they made a distinct hit with the audience. Everybody said the singing was fine.

Mr. Preston is a good leader with a strong, sweet tenor and his solo work is excellent. He has organized a Juniors Choir and expects to have fifty or a hundred voices in that. They have a part in nearly every service but on Saturday evening will give the entire musical program. The sermon will follow this and will be well worth hearing. Services begin promptly at 8:30 every evening except Monday, when there are no services. A song service of half an hour precedes the preaching.

Despite the unfavorable weather this week thus far there have been more in attendance than might be expected. People have been in the audience from Middle River, and thirty miles east of this city, from Sacramento, Cal., and from away down in Oklahoma.

There will be three services Sunday. The first will be at 11 for everybody. And at 3 p. m. a service for women only will be held. Every woman in the city as well as in the surrounding country should be at this service. It will sure be a hummer, and you can't afford to miss it. Services again in the evening open for everybody at 8:30.

People of all denominations are in the audience. Mr. Mathis is fair, not in the least fanatical, and stirs the best motives within the human heart to action. A number of leading business men and others who have attended endorse his work, while it is a common expression heard from those who have attended: "If you go once you will not miss it again."

Tonight Mr. Mathis will speak upon "The Devil and How He Works."

On Sunday morning the subject will be: "The Second Will."

Ole M. Melum.

Mr. Melum was born in Norway, March 10, 1859, being sixty years, three months and sixteen days old at the time of death. He came to this country when eighteen years old and has been a resident of this city for eight years, being employed by the Soo line during that time.

Iowa who paid $115 per acre for it, but his transfer involved the trading in of certain lands in Texas. Mr. Hamre a short time ago returned from an inspection of the Southwestern property and an agreement between the parties was soon reached. This is another well-cultivated and exceptionally located tract, suitable for any class of farming the new owner may elect to engage in.

Dozens of Others.

The two mentioned above are only the topnotchers. The transfers run into the dozens, the purchasers in most instances being men from other sections who have investigated conditions here and decided that the future promises all that can be asked. Peter O. Solom sold his 160-acre farm in Silverton township to Oscar Rollag of Rock county, Minnesota, the price being $61 per acre. The other quarter section of the original Solom homestead was purchased by Elmer Klungness of the First and Peoples State bank for $51 per acre. There are no buildings on this latter tract.

George Rollag, a brother of Oscar, also followed the northward trend, and purchased the Albert Halvorson quarter section in Highlanding township, payin~ therefor $7,000, or approximately $45 per acre.

Virginians Move Here.

Walter McAndress has disposed of his holdings, comprising 187 acres in Highlanding township, to O. J. Bickley, formerly a resident of the state of Virginia. The consideration was $15 per acre.

The Empire Farms company recently negotiated a deal whereby the Severt Benson quarter in Goodridge township was transferred to one of their clients for $5,000.

Mrs. A. T. Jopperud sold the family homestead in Excel township, Marshall county, to Robert McGinn and P. W. Roark for $50 per acre and purchased the former Brokke farm amout four miles distant, paying practically the same amount for the new holding.

Many Smaller Deals.

Hans O. Skogstad recently sold to D. G. Brownlee a quarter section of unimproved land in the neighborhood of Mavie, the consideration being $20 an acre. O. W. Carlson disposed of the same amount of land, in East Valley township, the price being $30 per acre.

Borden Farm Sold.

A sale which has occasioned some surprise is that whereby H. G. Borden disposed of his holdings of 440 acres in North township at a price of $62 per acre. This transaction was made through a real estate concern acting on behalf of a client.

The situation holds good with regard to the Ole Grunde place in Silverton. In this instance $58.50 per acre was paid for the quarter section.

Neighbors Increase Holdings.

Nels Amern disposed of his farm in the town of North to his neighbors, the Jorde brothers, for $75 per acre. This is a small tract situated on the river.

Many Deals Pending.

Above are only a few of the important real estate deals taking place in the county thus far this season. Others of even greater importance are pending and their consummation may be reported any day. Besides these there are scores of newcomers who have settled upon lands never before cultivated and whose advent here is of even greater importance than the transactions in improved property.

POOR SUPPORT FOR WOMAN'S BUILDING

CLUB MEMBERS ARE NOT YET "COMING ACROSS" VERY LIBERALLY.

Unless the Thief River Falls Woman's club can raise $300 to be applied toward the cost of erecting a building for women on the fair grounds the plan will fall flat. The building committee of the fair association made the proposition that there would be provided $300 from the current expense fund for this building, provided the women would raise an equal sum. Mrs. A. S. Sapero was appointed to receive 50 cents from each of the members, but thus far only $80 has been paid in. This is not a very good showing, particularly when it is remembered that the entire amount must be subscribed by July 12th if the plan is to receive any further consideration from the board.

It is realized that the indifferent showing is largely due to neglect in handing the money in, but the situation is as dangerous as though it were the intent to allow the matter to go by default. Anyone knowing how hard the ladies have worked to get this building program under way realizes that such is not the case, but the result will be the same.

Mrs. Sapero again requests those who have not already done so to leave their 50 cents with her at the Sapero store in order that she may be able to make the necessary report to the building committee on the 12th.

On Long Auto Tour.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller of Spokane, Wash., arrived in the city this week for the purpose of paying a visit to Mr. Miller's cousin, Leonard DeChamp. They made the trip the entire distance in a Hudson Super Six car, leaving their home on June 1 and arriving in Thief River Falls on the 28th, having in the meantime covered a distance of 1700 miles.

Mr. Miller is a stepson of Sam Gosselin, who was at one time foreman for the Thief River Lumber company. He left here about 15 years ago. After visiting for about a week they will return by way of Chicago, going finally to Hardin, Mont., where Mr. Miller will engage in the bakery business.

More Jurymen Needed.

The regular petit jury panel was exhausted last week and on Saturday Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund found it necessary to call a special venire of ten men. The following were chosen: Ben Erickson, Thief River Falls; J. H. Moore, Rocksbury; Alfred Arntz, Rainer; Severt Nelson, Mayfield; R. J. McKercher, Black River; Severt H. Haugen, Hickory; William Cousin, Kratka; Henry Herold, Wyandotte; A. A. Shoopman, Rocksburk; Ed Kotlan, Cloverleaf.

NO CONTRACT FOR BRIDGE APPROACH

COST OF WORK HAS DOUBLED. WILL EMPLOY DAY LABOR.

The new bridge over the Red Lake river in the town of Kratka will be ready for traffic as soon as the approaches are completed. The commissioners have decided to have this work done by day labor, considering the bid of the only contractor submitting an offer as too high. The price asked was 60 cents per cubic yard, the total cost coming to $1,252, which is a great deal more than has ever been paid for any similar work in the county. Last year when the approaches to the Highlanding bridge were built the contract price was 35 cents per yard.

The commissioners inspected the bridge last Wednesday afternoon and found it satisfactory in every respect. Not only had the specifications as to material been complied with, but the job was finished well within the time limit. Isak Helseth, local representative of the bridge company, had personal charge of the work and has turned out a job of which he has every reason to be proud.

As soon as the approaches are completed the people on the south side of the river in that particular neighborhood will be afforded marketing opportunities of which they have long stood in need.

COMPLETING WORK ON TENNIS COURT

RAINY WEATHER OF PAST WEEK HAS PROVED A DRAWBACK.

The tennis court being constructed under the direction of the Community Girls on the lot fronting the Tessum building and opposite the Soo depot is about ready for the first game. The wet weather of the past week has prevented the finishing touches being put on the grounds but these will be added as quickly as possible.

While the Community Girls have been the prime movers in getting the tennis court project carried out, they do not intend to be the only ones to benefit by it. Anyone interested in the game is welcome to use the grounds, the Community Girls reserving only one or two nights each week for themselves. Just what evenings these will be has not beep definitely decided upon. The members announce that they have made arrangements with J. H. Hermanson to furnish rackets to anyone desiring them at a very reasonable figure.

This young ladies' club is a decidedly energetic organization. Hardly a week passes by that they do not have some sort of function for their amusement. The next will be a weiner roast at the Sathre farm, about three miles from town, the date for this event being Monday evening. The members are asked to be at the Auditorium not later than 8 o'clock, when they will find that automobiles have been provided for taking them out to the farm.

Hospital Notes.

Those who have entered the Physicians hospital to receive medical treatment since last Thursday are: Carl Moon, Middle River; Mrs. Anna Stolka, Mahnomen; Anton Pederson, Gatzke; Miss Julia Easthouse, city; E. O. Waagrdahl, Holt; Mrs. Martin Strom, city, and Ole Christopherson, Oklee.

Returns From France.

Walter Smith, formerly of the local postoffice, returned Monday evening after an absence of about 18 months in France. During the greater part of his stay there he was in charge of a branch postoffice on the other side, a position for which his previous experience particularly fitted him. Mr. Smith will resume his former position in the office here when matters are again arranged after the summer vacation period.

Mrs. W. E. Baker and son, Earl, left Wednesday for a month's visit with friends and realtives in Duran, Wis., and Chicago, Ill.

Miss Jessie Barnett and sister left Wednesday evening for Minneapolis, where they will visit with relatives for a week.

Miss Tillie Sundahl left Tuesday morning for Duluth where she will visit with friends and relatives for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swenson and little son returned this week from a visit with the former's parents at Aberdeen, S. D. They autoed down and found the roads in very good condition the greater part of the way. Mr. Swenson says the crops in South Dakota are promising exceptionally well.

A jury in district court awarded Christian Urdahl $230 as the sum which should be paid him by P. P. Palmer of Goodridge as commission in a certain land transaction. The jury was out but a short time.

He leaves on the 15th and the good wishes of a large circle of friends go with him.

Misses Dorothy Bottelson and Elva Bartlett formally entertained twenty-two of their friends last Thursday evening at the home of the former, 307 Bridge street, at a dinner party. The guest of honor was Mrs. Glen Anderson, who recently came from Kansas as a bride. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers while the pink and white color scheme was artistically carried out on the dinner table. A four course dinner was served by Misses Mildred Bottelson and Ann [illegible]. After the dinner Mrs. Anderson was presented with a number of very pretty and useful gifts from the girls. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing.

Moe-Larson.

Last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Moe, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ganda Christine, to Ludovic Larson, Rev. A. N. Skogerboe officiating. The bride wore a gown of white voile and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley. The groom wore a suit of the conventional black. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers. Immediately after the ceremony a delicious six o'clock supper was served to a number of the relatives.

Both of the young people are from Agder township, Marshall county, and have a host of friends throughout the neighborhood. The couple left Saturday for Stephen where they will make their future home.

BIGGEST EVENT IN THIS SECTION OF MINNESOTA

TIMES UNIVERSAL AUTO CLUB CREATING GREAT INTEREST. SCRIPPS-BOOTH ROADSTER AND FORD TOURING CAR WITH A HOST OF OTHER VALUABLE PRIZES TO BE DISTRIBUTED AMONG THOSE WHO HUSTLE FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS. ENTER YOUR NAME OR THAT OF A FRIEND TODAY.

First Report Day Wednesday, July 23.
$5.00 in Gold Awarded at That Time

READ EVERY WORD ABOUT THIS BIG ENTERPRISE ON THE CENTER PAGES OF THIS ISSSUE. THEN FILL OUT AND MAIL THE COUPONS. THEY WILL START YOU IN THE RACE WITH OVER 12,000 POINTS. FIRST LIST OF APPLICANTS WILL BE PUBLISHED NEXT WEEK.

All preliminaries are over.

The Times is now ready to start its big subscription drive and you'll have to admit that it's about the biggest thing ever put on in this or adjacent counties. Think of it! We are offering eight valuable prizes, all of them of the highest known quality. Looks impossible, doesn't it? But there they are. Every prize is on display—the $1,200 Scripps-Booth Roadster, the Ford Touring Car, the Aeolian-Vocalion Phonograph, The Kitchen Cabinet, the Icy-Hot Set, the 26-piece set of Community-ware, the Cedar Lined Chest, and the Eastman Kodak.

All Highest Quality.

We want you to look them over. If you can find anything cheap or shoddy about this Universal Auto Club offer, we would like to know what it is. Every prize has been purchased right here in Thief River Falls and our merchants are ready to stand back of them.

This is not to be a popularity or guessing contest. It is a business proposition to everyone who is interested. Popularity is a factor, of course, in getting business in any line, but the winners in this enterprise will be the ones who are willing to infuse a little personal effort into their campaign.

Employ Spare Time.

Let us suppose you are employed by some farmer or business man, and he offered you a brand new automobile for a little extra work during your spare time. Would you wait three weeks to think it over? Well, our offer is practically the same, the only difference being that The Times is not your regular employer. To act as a Club Member in this campaign there will be no need of you giving up your regular business. That can go on just as usual. The point for you to keep in mind is that your leisure moments from now until the closing of the campaign can be turned into a great amount of profit. No matter where you live or in what section of our territory you work, your opportunity of winning one of the motor cars will be equalized. Work and personal effort are the two qualifications needed to make you a big winner.

All Will be Paid.

The fact that everyone who enters the campaign and fails to win one of the eight grand prizes, will be given 10 per cent cash commission on all new and old subscriptions turned in, provided they make a report each week, is a mighty big factor in itself. It means this much—that we are paying you to try and win one of the automobiles or one of the other prizes offered. How's that for liberality?

Get Started Early.

The first Special Prize is to be a five dollar gold piece and will be given to the Club Member making the largest report on new and old subscriptions between now and Wednesday, July 23, midnight. All reports mailed before that time will count on this offer and points will be issued on money turned in, which will apply on the Grand Prizes.

As the race is just getting under way there isn't a question but what only a few subscription orders will carry off this $5 in gold. Start immediately! Tell all your friends and acquaintances that you are in the race to win and want their support. Their patronage is to be had in this campaign just the same as it is in any business you ever engaged in. See them today before some other hustling Club Member "beats you to it."

Perseverance Will Win.

Mr. Crawford, the Club Manager, will be here until the last day of the campaign and his only duties are to assist interested parties. So it's up to you to keep him busy. Call, write or phone No. 16 for complete particulars, supplies and instructions.

The Universal Auto Club offer is to be a friendly competition of energy, pluck and perseverance, conducted in a manner that is fair, square and impartial to all. So if you live within a radius of 50 miles of Thief River Falls, you have a splendid opportunity of being the highest paid worker in Northwestern Minnesota for the next six or seven weeks.

WATER DAMAGE IS PLACED AT LOWER FIGURE

ESTIMATED AT NOT OVER 15 PER CENT IN ENTIRE COUNTY.

EAST PORTION HIT HARD

IN SOME INSTANCES FARMERS REPORT TOTAL LOSS OF ALL CROPS.

The worst rainstorm on record hit northwestern Minnesota during the first two days of July, and reports of the damage done to crops are just coming to hand. While the loss is not as serious as at first feared, it is sufficiently severe to make a considerable difference in the total output of the region. Low lands in every direction were flooded and it is even now impossible to make any reliable estimate of the loss as much of the grain which at first glance seemed totally ruined will be found to have stood the inundation in good shape. The cool weather following the downpour has had the effect of causing a more cheerful outlook to be taken of the situation.

Heaviest In History.

Reports from Goodridge are to the effect that 13 inches of rain fell during the first two days of the month, but this is probably wrong. While more water fell in the eastern portion of the county than around Thief River Falls it is not likely that any such record was attained. According to L. M. Rayson, weather reporter for the government in this city, the total fall here during the two days was 5.33 inches. Even this is the record.

Ditch Banks Gave Way.

All townships bordering on the Red Lake river to the eastward of Thief River Falls suffered more or less. The territory to the east and south of Goodridge perhaps fared the worst, the flood extending northward into Marshall county. In one or two instances the drainage ditches ran full to the brim and in at least two instances the pressure was sufficient to cause a break. Through these openings the water rushed over the fields.

Various Reports Heard.

County Agent J. J. McCann made a trip to the eastward on Monday, accompanied by Dr. J. N. Alway, soil expert of the university of Minnesota. They wished particularly to see what had happened to the peat experiment plots located about half a mile north of Goodridge, but were unable to reach them. It was when the water was at its height and they were forced to turn back without reaching their destination. The plots were found to be entirely submerged and it is feared that all experimental work done this season will be wasted.

Some Are Wiped Out.

Mr. McCann stated that while it was undoubtedly true that some farmers in the eastern part of the county had been entirely wiped out so far as their field crops are concerned, he did not think the damage in the county as a whole would exceed 15 per cent. If this estimate is approximately correct it means that the loss just about compares with the amount of new land broken up last spring. This would leave the yield about the same as last year, all other conditions being equal.

There are but few instances in which the farmer will lose his entire crop, according to those who have inspected the territory, but a number will undoubtedly face a reduction of from 25 to 50 per cent of what they expected before the storm struck. A fact to be considered in this connection is that a large part of the territory flooded was simply wild meadow on which the hay would in all probability not have been cut in any event.

Rumors Are Conflicting.

It was reported that a family named Dahl, living in the old Thief Lake basin, had hesitated too long before seeking safety and were drowned. No confirmation of this has reached this city, although many of the neighboring farmers have returned to their homes. The report that cattle were caught before they could seek the higher land also fails of confirmation.

Even in the Thief Lake district, where the flood seems to have reached its height, there are hopes of saving a good share of the crops. The water moved so fast that there was no danger of its scalding the plants and these are expected to come out all right if the weather continues measurably cool. Dr. Alway picked a number of specimens of flax right out of the water and found that they were green and apparently in the best of condition.

Other Sections Escape.

No damage is reported from directly north or west. In fact the ridges in the latter direction never looked better within the memory of the oldest settler. This fact justifies the belief that the damage caused by the unusual rainfall will have but a slight effect on the total yield in the county.

At Townley Trial.

Senator O. A. Naplin has been at Jackson this week, having been called as a witness in the case of the state against A. C. Townley, charged with making seditious utterances and attempting to obstruct the draft during the late war. Mr. Naplin was present when Mr. Townley made a speech in Stillwater last fall and it was with reference to what was said there that he was asked to testify.

THEATRES WILL CONTINUE WITH SUNDAY SHOWS

THREE MEMBERS OPPOSED

MATTER MAY BE LEFT TO REFERENDUM VOTE AT FALL ELECTIONS

A majority of the members of the city council are not in favor of closing the theatres of Thief River Falls on Sunday. By a vote of three to two they turned down an ordinance with this purpose in view at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

The matter was one of the first brought up after the reading of the minutes and similar preliminaries had been disposed of. Practically every pastor in the city was present, as were also a few ladies and gentlemen interested in the matter on one side or the other.

Called Up by Brumund.

Rev. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church presented a petition containing about 800 signatures, praying that the ordinance be passed and Sunday shows prohibited. Councilman Brumund moved that the board proceed to the third reading.

GRASSHOPPERS HIT RED RIVER VALLEY

REPORTED AS DOING DAMAGE ON THREE PENNINGTON COUNTY FARMS.

Ed. Thorpe, Jacob Olson and K. Kaushagen, farmers in the township of North, are the first to report any noticeable damage by grasshoppers in Pennington county. Thorpe and Olson reside in Section 13, while Kaushagen is in 14. They were in Thief River Falls yesterday to engage the services of County Agent J. J. McCann in combating the plague. Mr. Thorpe stated that a considerable wheat field had been seriously damaged by the ravages of the insects while in the case of the other two the loss had thus far been slight.

Grass hoppers were reported in large numbers near Grand Forks the first of the week and by Tuesday evening were present near Crookston. The commissioners of the two counties in which these cities are located at once took steps to fight the plague, providing arsenic, molasses, lemons and bran.

Rex. E. Willard, agricultural agent for Grand Forks county, states that the hoppers are breeding in the rye, alfalfa and timothy fields, from which they migrate to land containing wheat and barley.

The report of the three North township farmers is the first reaching Thief River Falls of any serious outlook by reason of the visitation. It is believed that by prompt measures the danger can be averted, particularly as the hoppers do not seem to be of the regular devastating kind but of a species more akin to the common variety which are always more or less in evidence throughout the summer.

Meeting of Directors.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Pennington county Farm Bureau association at the office of County Agent J. J. McCann on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. An auditing committee is to be elected and matters connected with the financing of the bureau for another year will also be taken up.

GILLER GUILTY JURY'S VERDICT IN ARSON CASE

FIND LOCAL CLOTHIER RESPONSIBLE FOR FIRE WHICH DAMAGED STORE.

SENTENCED TO HARD LABOR

STAY OF 20 DAYS GRANTED UPON FURNISHING OF $6,000 BOND.

After having been out since Thursday evening at five o'clock, a juyr in district court at 9 o'clock on Friday morning brought in a verdict of guilty against Maurice Giller. The defendant was charged with having caused the fire which partially destroyed his store and clothing stock on the night of Jan. 7, 1919.

One to Seven Years.

Judge Andrew Grindeland was notified as soon as the jury was ready to report and went to the court room to hear the verdict. He announced that sentence would be pronounced at 9 o'clock the following morning, but the time was extended until 1:30 o'clock at the request of defendant's attorneys.

The charge against Giller was arson in the third degree and the sentence for this crime is from one to seven years in the state penitentiary. Before pronouncing this sentence Judge Grindeland asked Giller a number of questions concerning his early life and training. These proved to have been very much those of the average boy in the United States and disclosed nothing of an unusual nature. When asked point blank by the court why he had committed this crime, Giller protested that he was innocent. A stay of 20 days was granted to allow defendant to settle his business affairs and he was released upon the furnishing of a $6,000 bond.

The Last Day.

The taking of testimony in the case came to a close about noon on Thursday. The offering of the transcript of a conversation between Giller and George Allen, principal witness for the state, alleged to have been held in a room at the Hotel Crookston, proved most damaging to Giller's chances of acquittal. In this conversation he practically admitted having hired Allen to set the fire, the latter in turn securing a man named Jack Johnson to actually touch the match. The effect of this disclosure upon the jury was very marked.

Lewis O'Mully, special assistant attorney general, who had been sent here to assist County Attorney Theo. Quale in the prosecution, took but a short time to sum up the evidence to the jury. He maintained that no doubt could exist in the mind of any person as to the guilt of the accused and only warned against permitting sympathy to sway their decision.

Stanton's Strong Plea.

Attorney E. M. Stanton for the defense, made a powerful plea for his client. He pointed out the danger of convicting any man on the testimony of such men as Allen and Johnson, and painted these as the criminals in the case. The state could do nothing to these men, said the attorney, they having hidden behind the law which makes it impossible to turn the evidence given under such circumstances against themselves. He warned the twelve men in whose hands the fate of Giller rested against rendering a verdict which they would afterward have reason to regret.

Some Held Out.

It is understood that on the first ballot the vote stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal and that this ratio continued throughout the greater part of the night. It is stated that those who were for acquittal entertained no doubt as to Giller's guilt but were averse to convicting him when there was no possible chance of treating his accomplices in the same manner.

GOODRIDGE BANNER TO WAVE AGAIN

PAPER TO BE PUBLISHED AND EDITED BY I. D. CONVERSE

Goodridge is again to have a newspaper. After being without one for about a year the people at the hustling town in eastern Pennington county have decided that the thing particularly needed is a medium of publicity.

I. D. Converse, formerly superintendent of the Grygla schools and previous to that engaged in the newspaper business, has purchased the plant formerly used in the publication of the Goodridge Banner from R. H. Ross of Thief River Falls. He is now putting the outfit in shape and the first issue may be expected any day.

Mr. Converse has the experience and ability to make a success of the venture, particularly as he will have the support of the citizens practically to a man. He will content himself with getting out a paper representative of his home town and in this manner get along first rate.

BEGIN SENDING IN LIVE STOCK LAST OF MONTH

MONTANA MAN PLEASED WITH FEEDING PROSPECTS SEEN HERE.

MAKE PLANS ON JULY 19

BREEDERS WILL SOON MEET AT BOZEMAN TO COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS.

The wonderful hay crop, both tame and wild, produced in northern Minnesota this year will probably prove the means whereby thousands of head of cattle and sheep are saved to the stock owners of Montana and western Dakota. J. M. Brander, who last week arrived in Thief River Falls to make an inspection of the grass sections with a view to recommending some course to the breeders, struck the region during one of the worst rain storms in its history, but saw enough hay and grazing land to warrant him in making a favorable report to his employers.

Visited Other Sections.

Mr. Brander went north as far as Roseau and also inspected the cutover districts around Bemidji. It is probable that parts of the latter region will be used for sheep pasturage, while the vacant lands to the north can be made available for small bunches of cattle. Sheep will also be turned onto a restricted portion of Itasca State Park, while the greater part of the cattle will be sent to sections in the immediate neighborhood of Thief River Falls.

A press report sent out from St. Paul, where Mr. Brander conferred with state officials and others, contains the following information regarding the plans of the stockmen.

Shipments Already Started.

Although thousands of cattle and sheep are in transit, the great movement of livestock from the drouth stricken sections of Montana and other western states to the green pastures of Northern Minnesota will come late this month, Mr. Brander told state and railroad officials and representatives of the livestock industry and land owners in conferences at the capitol.

Meeting at Bozeman.

"While an early movement is imperative to save the stock from starvation in the dry districts," said Mr. Brander, "arrangements must be perfected in advance and the heavy shipments will be made during the last two weeks of this month. A big meeting of stockmen is being called at Bozeman on July 19, when all plans will be made at that time and the big movement will follow immediately."

Pasturing of thousands of Montana feeders will give stock raising a great impetus throughout Northern Minnesota, in the opinion of Fred D. Sherman, state immigration commissioner.

Mr. Brander reported that while the small tracts available in Roseau county will afford attractive propositions to stockmen planning to place small lots of cattle and sheep on shares, the big stretches of pasturage near Thief River Falls and north and south of Bemidji alone will provide the acreages demanded by the important operators. He was favorably impressed with conditions in Northern Minnesota in various ways.

OWNERS WILL OPEN PRINCESS THEATRE

JOHN H. BRUMUND WILL TAKE OVER ACTIVE MANAGEMENT OF FILM HOUSE.

The Princess theatre, which has been under lease to other parties and closed since early last spring, will soon be opened to the public, according to the owner, H. A. Brumund. The latter's son, John H. Brumund, will be in active charge of the property and promises to give the people of Thief River Falls and vicinity the best there is to be secured in the line of moving pictures.

John is a Thief River Falls boy, having spent most of his life in the city. He recently returned from a year's service with the army in France and has decided to settle down again among his friends. He was the first manager of the Princess and has been associated with the show business more or less since that time.

The new manager is now in the cities arranging for an entire new equipment and also negotiating with the different film agencies for the high grade service he intends to feature. Mr. Brumund, senior, states that it will be the aim of the management to present nothing but the best, experience having proven that the theatre patrons of this neighborhood will be satisfied with nothing else. The date of opening will be announced later.

County Buys Barn.

The Knut Haugan barn just east of Main avenue on First street was yesterday purchased by the board of county commissioners as a place for keeping the new trucks which are expected to arrive in a short time. These machines are furnished by the state free to counties promising to employ them in road construction.

The price paid for the building and lot was $1,000. County Auditor T. P. Anderson had been authorized to negotiate for its purchase and left today to close the deal with the owner, who resides at Greenbush.

The lot is 50 feet square and the building in excellent condition. It was built in 1914 and will make an ideal place for keeping the machines.

The commissioners also accepted county ditch No. 63, concerning which there has been some controversy. The semi-annual meeting will be held next Monday.

Judge Watts Will Preside.

For the first time in years Judge William Watts of Crookston will preside at a term of court in Pennington county. He will arrive Monday morning for the purpose of hearing a number of court cases left on the June calendar.

Elks Have Open House.

There being nothing in the way of a celebration in the city on the Fourth, the Elks kept open house at their lodge rooms in the afternoon and evening. Cards and a fine lunch were the most noticeable features.

HEAVY GAIN IN BANK DEPOSITS FOR 2 MONTHS

AVERAGE INCREASE IS OVER $2,000 FOR EACH DAY BANKS WERE OPEN.

ADVANCE IN LOANS SLIGHT

REVERSE CONDITION GENERALLY THE CASE THIS TIME OF THE YEAR.

Just before harvest is generally a time of heavy borrowing from the banks in a farming community, but this is not the case with Thief River Falls. According to the statements of the Citizens, First and Peoples, and Farmers & Merchants, the three state banks in the city, issued under date of June 30, the opposite holds good here.

The deposits in the three banks at this time foot up nearly a million and a half dollars—$1,461,778.66 to be exact. This is an increase of $106,369.16 over what they were when the last previous call was made on May 1. The figures for the same banks at that time footed up $1,365,417.91.

Two Thousand a Day.

This means that the customers of these three banks have increased their deposits by $2,045.38 for each one of the 51 days the counting rooms were open for business during the two months. If one figures six hours as the time during which deposits may be made each day it will be seen that our people kept chucking their money into theses three banks alone at the rate of $347.59 every hour. It did not happen just that way, but the result is the same.

On the Borrowers Side.

A farmer is supposed to borrow money just before harvest in all agricultural communities, but this has upset the dope so far as Pennington county is concerned. During the period covered by the statement the loans and discounts of these banks were only increased by $17,192.67. This does not necessarily indicate anything, as on the day previous to the one on which the statement was issued this item might have been twice as great and on the day following wiped out entirely. It is not even sufficient to cover the ordinary business fluctuations in the city alone.

Are Not Borrowing.

But no matter how the figures are interpreted they prove that the people are putting a great deal of money in these three banks, and are withdrawing very little. It is a highly satisfactory condition for the depositor at least. Instead of being a borrowing section, this particular corner of northwestern Minnesota will soon be looking around for places to invest its surplus. For awhile, however, it is likely that development right at home will absorb the bulk.

SECURE OVER $500 FOR FERGUS FALLS

The citizens appointed by Mayor G. A. Penney for the purpose of soliciting funds for the people of Fergus Falls who lost their all in the storm which visited that section last month, reports that about $525 will be sent this week as the result of the efforts of the committee and the Community Girls. The solicitors were Carl Christofferson, Robert McGinn and E. O. Mogensen.

The subscriptions all come from people in the city, no attempt having been made to include those residing on the farms. For this reason the sum raised is smaller than secured for the fire sufferers last fall, which totalled in the neighborhood of $1,100.

LAD DROWNS IN MILL RACE AS MANY LOOK ON

BYRON PAWLING, 14, MEETS DEATH IN RIVER TUESDAY AFTERNOON

PALS THOUGHT HIM JOKING

WAS PROBABLY SEIZED WITH CRAMPS AND UNABLE TO CRY FOR HELP

Byron Pawling, the 14-year-old son of Mrs. Louisa Pawling, proprietor of a boarding house at 105 Main avenue south, was drowned in the Red Lake river Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The body was recovered within 35 minutes after the boy went down, but although a pulmotor was employed in the attempt at resuscitation and doctors worked over him for an hour, it was without avail.

With a dozen or more companions of about his own age the unfortunate boy was swimming in the narrow channel below the Hanson-Barzen flour mill. The water is not deep, even at the present stage, and he is believed to have been seized with cramps.

Thought He Was Playing.

The boy was wading out into the stream and had reached a point where the water was about up to his armpits, according to those with him at the time, when he was seen to go down. There was nothing unusual in this, as the boys were always diving, but something about his expression when he came up led the older among his companions to believe that all was not right. One or two tried to reach him, but before they could do so he went down and did not come up again. The alarm was quickly spread and willing hands were soon engaged in the search. In spite of the fact that the body was found only a few feet from where it went down, over half an hour elapsed before it was brought to the surface.

Worked Long in Vain.

Dr. L. F. Fisher was notified as soon as it became apparent that an accident had happened and was present with a pulmotor when the body was found. Assisted by a nurse from the Physicians hospital and Deputy Sheriff Paul Midderigh, he began work and was soon joined by Dr. A. J. Paulson, who also lent his assistance. After about an hour's continuous effort it was seen to be useless as the spark of life had fled.

Was General Favorite.

The dead boy was well known about town, was a bright, industrious little fellow and a general favorite. Besides his mother he leaves an older brother, Clarence, and two sisters, Emma and Pauline. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the Presbyterian church.

MAY BUILD THREE BARNS THIS YEAR

ONE COMPLETED AND ANOTHER STARTED AT COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS.

One cattle barn, 28x60 feet, has been completed at the fair grounds and another has been begun. If the others can be kept within the cost of the first one the entire program, which calls for three such buildings, will be carried out this year.

When it was found that the price submitted by contractors was so high as to preclude but a small part of the work being undertaken this summer the directors decided to try one building under the day labor plan. C. M. Wilson was placed in charge of the work and has progressed so well and kept the cost down to such low figures that it now looks as if the other buildings would follow and all be in readiness for the opening day of the fair.

The directors have about $2,500 with which to carry out this building project and they believe it sufficient for everything but the central pavilion. This will have to wait until more funds are available.

Whether or not the women's building will be erected depends largely upon the women themselves. They are pledged to raise $300 before a like sum will be appropriated for the purpose by the directors. The time limit for this has expired and it is doubtful if anything further will come of it at this time.

Will Notify Property Owners.

Axel Risberg, deputy county auditor, has been appointed by the city council to tabulate the names of all persons owning property within the proposed paving district of the city with a view to notifying them of the contemplated improvement. The work will be done under the supervision of City Attorney Theo. Quale, who will also see that the notifications reach the proper parties.

Sewer and Water Extensions.

The city council has asked for bids on the construction of a sewer in district No. 2 and also on the laying of seven blocks of water mains.

HIGH STANDARD ACTS SECURED FOR 1919 FAIR

NOT A CHEAP OR SHODDY FEATURE IN THE VARIED PROGRAM.

THREE DAYS OF PLEASURE

CLIFTON-KELLY PEOPLE WILL AGAIN FURNISH THE CARNIVAL ATTRACTIONS.

Complete arrangements have now been made for the great Pennington county fair to be held in Thief River Falls on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 6, 7, and 8. Secretary G. Howard Smith is authority for the statement that the committee in charge carefully went over the present standing and past history of the people who will furnish amusement for the crowd on this occasion and that nothing but the best and cleanest has been engaged.

Clifton-Kelly Again.

The opinion was unanimous among committee members that a carnival attraction of some kind would be needed in order to make the event a real fair. This action might not have been taken had not the Clifton-Kelly company been available, but the reputation of this concern is such that no apprehension is felt that anything but what is strictly correct and proper will be exhibited. The same company had charge of the amusement features at the fair three years ago and the verdict was unanimous that they were the best ever seen here. Since that time the organization has been enlarged and improved until it is now without question the best making the county fair circuit.

Free Attractions Great.

No county fair in the state will have more or better free attractions than that of the Pennington County Agricultural association. The troup furnishing these are known as Alexander Bros. and Company and are members of the Western Vaudeville association. The star act of this series is perhaps that of Miss Lillian Baldwin. This young woman performs death-defying stunts on the top of a lofty pole, her feats of balancing being such as to hold the audience spellbound. For the night performance she goes through the same acts in a dazzling spray of magnesium light.

Gymnasts and Acrobats.

The Baldwin family are a troup of wonderful gymnasts and acrobats. They are known as the wizards of the wire and some of the things they do while balanced on a thin thread of steel are unbelievable. They turn somersaults, leap and run while thus supported in midair and perform comedy stunts that keeps the audience in an uproar.

Prince Okada, a Japanese-American impersonator, slides backward on a tight wire for a distance of 80 feet, one end of the wire being fastened to a high pole and the other to the platform. He also works at night in a spray of magnesium light.

The Bosses Perform.

The Alexander Duo, comedy acrobats and skylarkers, have an act that is a scream and is guaranteed by the management to please even the most captious.

There are others, including Miss Irene Steele, vocalist, who sings four numbers accompanied by the local band. She is something of a trick singer and said to be very good.

To help furnish fun for the kiddies there is L. B. High, who goes thru some remarkable evolutions while perched on top of 15-foot stilts. He is the fill-in artist and makes himself generally useful about the grounds.

Much Money For Roads.

A special election was held in St. Louis county last week for the purpose of having the people record their wishes on the proposition that $7,500,000 worth of bonds be issued for the building of paved highways. The plans is to anticipate the passage of the Babcock law and get the benefit of these highways while that matter is under discussion. The vote was nine to one in favor of the proposition and is an indication of what may be expected when the matter comes up to be voted on by the people of the state in 1920.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

WILL PREPARE FOR HIGHWAY TOURISTS

SOUTHERNERS WILL BE GIVEN SAMPLE OF REAL NORTHERN HOSPITALITY

When the sociability run over the Jefferson highway reaches Thief River Falls on the afternoon of July 19, the tourists will be met by a reception committee whose duty it will be to see that they do not leave the city disappointed. Thief River Falls is regarded as an important central point of the great arterial thoroughfare and it will most decidedly be the intention to prove that the citizens realize the fact.

President E. M. Stanton of the Commercial club has appointed Mayor G. A. Penney as chairman of the general arrangements committee, with the following assistants: Daniel Shaw, Math Barzen and E. O. Mogensen. As a committee to see that the roads in the county are in the best possible condition have been named Mr. Shaw, A. J. Anderson and John Bratrud. These general committees will appoint assistants to aid them whenever this is deemed necessary.

The general reception committee will meet the tourists at the auditorium and direct the different parties to hotels and garages. The tentative program is for dinner at the Evelyn and Brumund hotels, this to be followed by a band concert and a speaking program at the band stand. After this there will be an informal reception at the rooms of the Commercial club.

Here the visitors and citizens will be invited to address the assembly on the general subject of good roads. All persons who are interested in this topic are invited to attend, particularly those residing some distance off the main line of the Jefferson, as there will be many things come up calculated to engage their attention.

Forder Farm Inundated.

Milton Forder, who is this summer farming in the reclaimed Thief Lake basin, came to town after the big rain and said his place was practically all under water. He has 600 acres in crop and at first was inclined to regard it as almost a total loss. After viewing the rate at which the water was being drained off, however, he felt better and is now quite certain that the outcome will not be so bad. The old basin, which was drained by a ditch being dug through the center, with its outlet in the Thief river filled up in some places to a depth of six feet, according to reports.

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Thief River Falls Citizens.

When a Thief River Falls citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerety. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Thief River Falls resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

E. T. Emerson, retired farmer, 417 LaBree Ave. N., Thief River Falls, says: "I was greatly annoyed with a lame, aching back and pains across my loins kept me in misery. My kidneys were weak and didn't act as they should. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Curtis' Drug Store and two boxes gave me splendid relief. I recommend this fine remedy highly."

Mr. Emerson gave the above statement March 16, 1912 and on December 1, 1917, he added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is permanent. I am glad to again recommend them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Emerson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

EVANGELIST MATHIS PROVES STRONG DRAWING CARD WITH ALL CLASSES.

NEXT SUNDAY'S PROGRAM

THREE MEETINGS AGAIN—ONE FOR WOMEN AND GIRLS ONLY.

The first week of the greatest evangelistic campaign ever held in Thief River Falls shows a steady increase in both attendance and interest. What was probably the largest gathering of women ever held in this city was seen at the meeting for their particular benefit held Sunday afternoon.

Sunday was a big day—all around. At the evening service there were people in attendance from all quarters of the country, some coming as far as 18 miles to attend the meetings. Most of the neighborhoods and villages around the city were represented in the audience.

Is Strong Speaker.

Mr. Mathis delivered three strong addresses. Nothing fanatical, just plain, practical common sense, applied to things religious. His messages are such that one can hardly evade the argument and compel one instinctively to seek a better way of living.

Singing Strong Point.

The singing is one of the strong features. Mr. Preston is a fine leader and Mrs. Preston at the piano is a splendid accompanist. The large chorus choir lifts up into the spirit of worship.

A special feature Sunday evening was a male chorus, and people have gone miles to hear singing that was not as good.

Another feature is the junior choir which gives a sacred concert each Saturday evening. These little folks have three rehearsals each week—more than 40 of them—and those who heard them last Saturday evening expressed great surprise at so great an accomplishment in so short a time. They will give another concert next Saturday evening at 8:30.

The address Sunday evening on "Old Debts and Bad Feelings" was one that everyone could endorse, and every business man who heard it approved it with all his heart.

Three Services Sunday.

There will be three services next Sunday: Morning at 11, when "Keen Edge" will be the subject. Everybody will want to hear this. In the afternoon at 3:00 the service will be for men only. The subject of the discourse will be "The Strong Man." Every man in the city as well as the country should hear this. Evening at 8:30: "Excuses For Sunday Night." Everybody come.

A meeting for women and girls will be held at the Presbyterian church at 3:30, led by Mrs. Preston. All ladies are most cordially invited. Mr. and Mrs. Preston will sing: "Nailed to the Cross," Sunday morning. Country folks are asked to come and bring their dinners. Tables will be arranged in the basement of the Methodist church for a picnic dinner.

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to extend our heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and after the death of our late husband and father, O. N. Mellum, and for the beautiful floral tributes at the funeral.—Mrs. O. N. Mellum, Myrtle, Anna, Norman, Henry and Walter Mellum. j10

Community Girls Busy.

The weiner roast planned to take place at the Sathre place last Saturday evening had to be abandoned because of the rain, but will be given next Saturday evening. Automobiles will be on hand at the auditorium to take members to the farm. They are asked to be there at 8 o'clock.

The tennis court received a good drenching along with everything else, but is all right again and only needs the finishing touches to put it in shape for the first game.

The executive board held a meeting this week and made arrangements for installing a booth at the fair grounds during the fair.

An ice cream social will be given by the girls on the lawn of the Central school next Thursday evening to which the public is invited. The proceeds will be used for carrying on the numerous projects in which the club is at present engaged.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

When a short time ago it was announced that the leases of the Lyceum and Princess theatres in this city had been taken over by W. J. Brown, the statement was made in good faith. Both the undersigned understood there would be no objection to the transferring of the leases and proceeded to close their deal. At this point the owner of the Princess building refused to carry out the agreement which we were under the impression he fully understood, and the plan had to be abandoned.

Mr. Lawrence will continue to operate the Lyceum as at present, dropping all connection with the Princess. Mr. Brown will not, for the time being at least, be connected with either house in any manner.

In view of the publicity that has been given this matter we deem it only right that the public should be made acquainted with the facts.

Respectfully,
A. J. LAWRENCE.

Mrs. A. Jallo of Madock, Mont., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tveten for the past few days, left Tuesday for Roseau, where she will visit with relatives for a week before returning to her home.

Ole Granum, recently discharged from Camp Grant, returned to his home in this city Sunday morning. Mr. Granum belonged to the 54th Pioneer division, and has seen a year's service. His opinions are like others, army life is alright but home and friends are better. Mr. Granum before enlisting was teller in the First and Peoples State bank, but since his return has made no plans for his future work.

Don't Give Up

THE farmers whose crops were ruined by the recent rains and flood have the deepest sympathy of this bank. The loss appears all the greater because of the wonderful prospect for a bumper crop the county offered up to a week ago.

BUT it already appears that the damage is less general and less complete than was at first estimated; and we hope that the coming week will help to strengthen that belief.

WE hope that our friends who lost heavily will not let themselves be completely discouraged by this misfortune. If the future looks black to you, and if your financial affairs trouble you, come into the bank and talk things over with us. We will do all in our power to help you out.

RATHER INCOMPLETE JUSTICE.

A Thief River Falls business man was last week sentenced to prison for having been a party to setting fire which destroyed a part of his stock. The evidence against him was such as to leave no reasonable doubt as to his guilt, yet it is understood that two or three of the jurors hung out against a sentence of guilty.

Their reason for such attitude was that two confessed criminals and accomplices were permitted by the laws of the state to escape any punishment for their share in the crime. One of them was pretty conclusively proven to be the instigator and the other the actual perpetrator. Both profited by the destruction of the goods in the building, having been paid outright for their share in the proceedings. This they admitted.

But they are left free to continue plying their trade. It may not be possible for them to start any more fires in Minnesota—they will be too closely watched—but there is nothing to hinder them from going where their history is not known and again setting up in business.

They should also have gone to prison, but because they turned on their fellow-criminal and gave evidence for the state they cannot be reached. This is not the fault of the court, the jury or even the law, perhaps, but it is a situation which people here regard as far from satisfactory and just. There is not even a semblance of sympathy expressed for the merchant who deliberately planned or weakly permitted the crime to be perpetrated—the verdict of public opinion is that he received just what was coming to him. That the others be permitted to escape is, however, something that does not set just right.

Had there existed legal machinery for reaching them there is no question as to what would have happened. As it is they are turned loose to continue to prey upon society. It is perhaps true that it was necessary to release two in order to catch one, but even so the price paid seems somewhat out of proportion.

TWELVE DOLLARS PER DAY.

It's the same old story—only worse. The shortage of labor for the harvest fields is this year more acute than ever. In the Southwest, where the wheat harvest is already on, the farmers are offering $12 per day for men. This price is exceptional, but the going wages are from 60 to 80 cents per hour.

It will not be long now before the harvest strikes Minnesota and the Dakotas. There is but slight hope that the labor situation will be improved to any great extent by that time. In fact it is liable to be much worse. The Northwestern farmer may therefore prepare himself to pay a higher price for the necessary help to get his crops in than ever before in his history.

That something in the way of unusual assistance will be required is certain. Last year the citizens of the towns in this section turned out and were of considerable help. Such relief, however, is only available near the centers of population and cannot be depended on where the farm is located any distance from town. No one for a moment believes that the situation can be materially changed by the addition of this class of labor, no matter how sincere the helpers are.

One good way for the farmer to protect himself against this threatened shortage would be for him to get hands now and put them to work building something. Men are to be had at this time and it is likely that arrangements could be made for them to stay on any job they now engaged upon until after the harvest rush. There is hardly a farm on which something or other in the line of buildings or improvements cannot be undertaken with profit at this time and the farmer wise enough to see it may be protecting himself against a labor famine later on. At any rate the plan is worth trying.

AN UNUSUAL PERFORMANCE.

When one takes into consideration the amount of water falling in this section during the early days of the present month the conclusion must be reached that our drainage system behaved remarkably well. Other sections of Northwestern Minnesota are still under water and there has been more or less crop damage there. In Pennington county the loss is not considered great nor is the area affected large.

It is unusual for the Red Lake river to prove incapable of taking care of all the water that falls during the summer months, but the downpour was also unusual. It is reported that nine inches of rain fell within a period of 48 hours, and this is some moisture to distribute over a comparatively flat country. The ditches filled and backed up, flooding a number of fields, and the outlook for some days was rather discouraging.

The occurance emphasizes the need for getting the river improved at the earliest possible moment. It is not often that anything of this kind happens, but even once in a while is oftener than is necessary. The fact that such floods do take place here, no matter how infrequently, is a drawback to the development of the country. The loss is magnified and people get the wrong impression of the amount of damage done. Prospective settlers are liable to believe the whole section under water when as a matter of fact but a narrow strip is at all involved.

The Red Lakes are reported at a higher level than for years past. This is only natural as there is more water being drained into these reservoirs than at any previous time. The vast ditching systems of Beltrami and other northern counties dump an enormous amount of flood waters into the lakes under circumstances like the present and no provision has ever been made for having the outlet correspond in capacity to the intake. If the Red Lake river, the natural evacuation artery for this vast drainage basin, had been straightened and deepened at the time the ditches were constructed all this would have been avoided.

The improvement of the Red Lake river should be the very first concern of the state. It is largely for the reason that the lakes have been made the reservoir for all surplus waters in this north country that there is occasionally more of it than can well be taken care of. Hundreds of miles of great ditches have been built in order that the state's lands might by made available for settlement and the water turned into the Red Lakes. For this reason the state should at least assist in taking care of it. The Indians, through the Federal government, stand ready to do their share and it is probable that municipalities and private enterprises would contribute toward defraying the cost.

THOSE NORTH DAKOTA LAWS.

In looking over the legislative enactments submitted to the people of North Dakota in a referendum election a short time ago, a fair-minded person cannot help wondering just how many of the men and newspapers who so bitterly opposed the measures were acquainted with their text and purpose. These were "Nonpartisan League Measures" and this seems to have been sufficient excuse for a broadside of criticism directed at the program and a vast amount of abuse of the men who defended it. The people of North Dakota, by a majority of between 12,000 and 15,000, decided that these laws should be approved, which certainly indicates that there is something about them which appeals to the ordinary voter.

We have all read of the disasters sure to follow this experiment, and from the opposition camps have come many and fulsome explanations. It is perhaps only fair that the views of the program's supporters should be permitted to appear occasionally. Following will be found an enumeration of the bills together with the explanation of their purposes advanced by their sponsors:

Industrial commission act, creating a commission to administer the state bank, mill and elevator association, home building association and other parts of the industrial program.

Bank of North Dakota act, creating a state reserve and farm loan bank, with provision for loaning to farmers on warehouse receipts representing stored farm products.

Administration bill, abolishing the board of control, board of regents and board of education and setting up in their place one board, the board of administration; proposed in the interests of economy and efficiency in state government.

The tax commission bill, abolishing the present tax commission of three men and setting up one tax commissioner; proposed to simplify the government.

The newspaper bill, making one newspaper in each county the official paper instead of three and proposing that the people, by their vote at a regular election, choose the official paper instead of the county commissioners.

The immigration act, creating a department of immigration such as is maintained in most states and making an appropriation to advertise the state and attract settlers.

Judicial redistricting act, abolishing present state court districts and creating new districts; proposed to simplify judicial procedure and equalize court work.

SAVING WESTERN STOCK.

In western North Dakota and throughout the greater part of Montana there is a hay shortage. So serious is the situation that unless something is done to supply fodder thousands of head of cattle and sheep are almost certain to starve to death. Even where the situation is not so acute at the present moment the stock owners will have to dump their holdings on the market in poor condition, resulting in a loss running well into the millions.

A plan has been suggested whereby this may not be necessary. Northwestern Minnesota has the greatest hay crop in its history. There is vastly more fodder than our own people can use or even harvest, and this surplus should be employed in saving the herds and flocks of our stricken neighbors to the west.

The extreme eastern part of Pennington county is almost one continuous meadow. The crop of bluejoint and redtop on these uncultivated acres is this year larger than ever before. This hay is never all harvested—there is too much of it—and with the wonderful yield of tame grasses it is certain that even less than usual of the wild variety will be put up. What is left standing is absolute waste, and when cattle and sheep are starving in another and not very distant section of the country this should not be permitted. The meat, wool and hide supply of the world is so short that the prices are next to prohibitive and the loss of these North Dakota and Montana herds will make this situation worse.

We have the grass and the Westerners have the stock. It is only a question of bringing the two together. This must be done either by sending the hay out there or sending the stock here. Either process is undoubtedly costly, but not to be compared with the actual loss which will result if some solution is not found.

It would seem as if the government would be sufficiently interested in this matter to permit the railroads making reductions in the cost of transporting the cattle. This would perhaps be easier than attempting the same thing with regard to the hay. Supplying sufficient fodder to meet the requirements would mean the employment of a large amount of railroad equipment at just the time of year when this is particularly needed for the transportation of other crops, nortably grain; while the cattle could be moved here and left to fatten on the lucious grasses until such time as it was desired to turn them off. As these animals are raised exclusively for their beef value they would undoubtedly be sent directly to market from here.

The winter feeding would present no greater difficulties here than in Dakota or Montana. Sufficient shelter for protection against the weather could easily be provided and the feed would be at hand. The plan has everything to commend it and should be encouraged by every agency capable of exerting any influence toward its consummation.

FEEDING SCRUB CATTLE MEANS POSITIVE LOSS

PROF. A. J. McGUIRE PROVES THAT CONSTANT HERD IMPROVEMENT PAYS.

BY PRODUCTS VALUABLE

SKIM MILK ALONE IS BIG ITEM AS FEED FOR OTHER STOCK.

The cow must be regarded as a sort of living machine. She takes the raw materials given her in the form of food and works them over into milk. If the supply of proper materials is small, the output will be small. The cow that will not repay generous feeding should be disposed of and one bought that will. There are, of course, certain inbred characteristics or natural qualities which even liberal feeding can not overcome.

That drairying can be made profitable with common cows and that a herd of dairy cattle can build up rapidly by the use of a pure sire, is conclusively proven in a bulletin just off the press, written by A. J. McGuire, former superintendent of the Grand Rapids experiment farm and now specialist in dairy extension work with the University of Minnesota.

Mr. McGuire took charge of the North Central experiment station in 1904 and remained in charge ten years. He began with a herd of ten cows and had a herd of sixty cows in 1914. The herd was built up principally by raising heifer calves from original cows and by pure bred Guernsey sires. Some of the original cows were in the herd at the end of the ten years.

Wonderful Results.

The average production of butterfat from the common cows was 196 pounds, while their heifers produced 250 pounds of butter fat. This record does not show the full increase in production since the average age of the common cow at the beginning of the record were 3.3 years of age and were tested an average of 6.8 years; while the heifers averaged 2.2 years of age and were tested 3.16 years. The common cows produced $24.78 above feed cost for the year while the daughters produced $38.95 above feed cost, or a difference of $14.75 in favor of dairy bred animals.

Disposed of Shirkers.

Another item of special interest is the fact that 40 per cent of the cows were disposed of because their production failed to pay the expense of feed, labor, etc., and only 10 per cent of the dairy animals failed to meet this requirement.

Mr. McGuire found that a production of 200 pounds of butterfat was necessary to pay these expenses. Many common cows will yield only about 100 pounds and with the best feed and good care Mr. McGuire found that they will not yield over 200 pounds. Two conclusions were drawn from this work with the common cow, first that she is often better than the feed and care she receives and second, that she may be profitable as a foundation but is not so with high priced land and high priced feed and labor.

In addition to the value of butter fat sold the manure and skim milk add greatly to the profit from dairying. On the North Central Station it was found that one calf, two pigs and ten hens could be raised profitably when the skim milk from one cow was available for food. Enough manure was produced to cover each field once every three years. With manure and clover the yield was doubled on same field in ten years. It was particularly noticeable, states Mr. McGuire, that the crop yield increased as the cows increased.

Valuable By-Products.

Clover hay and corn silage with a small amount of mill feed was fed in the winter and cut over land pastures were utilized in the summer. A mixture of clover, timothy and blue glass sown between the stumps and produced excellent pasture. This pasture yielded 40 pounds of butter fat per acre during the season. The average winter ration consisted of 10 pounds of clover hay, 30 pounds of fodder corn silage and six pounds of mill feed daily. There were no silos the first year when the following ration was fed: Clover hay 10 pounds, fodder corn 10 pounds, roots 10 pounds, shorts 6 pounds.

There are only a limited number of these bulletins available so anyone wishing a copy of the same should send in their name and address to the County Agent at once.

This coupon, accompanied by the application blank and your FIRST subscription, will start you in the race with over 12,000 points. Only one of these coupons will be credited to each Club Member.

NOT A "CONTEST"

There are no "ifs" about this newest free-for-all prize campaign, in which two 1919 automobiles and six other prizes will be given away. We are making you a plain business proposition which will once and for all eliminate all chances and do away with any prejudice you may have had against this campaign, thinking it to be a "contest." Remember—THIS IS NOT A "CONTEST."

In the ordinary sense of the word we have associated the word contest with a race in which only one person wins a big reward and the rest all lose out. Our new plan has changed all this. If you fail to win a prize you will be paid a cash commission. Is there any "contest" flavor about that? Decidedly not.

Rules and Regulations---
How to Enter

Fill out the application blank below with your name or the name of a man or woman to be nominated. Bring or mail this blank to the Club Manager and you will be credited with 2,000 points as a starter.

Any man or woman over the age of 16 years, married or single, of good character, and of the Caucasian race, may become a Club member in this campaign, and is entitled to one application credit of 2,000 points. The Club Manager reserves the right to reject all objectionable applications.

There are no obligations attached to entering this campaign, and it costs absolutely nothing to try. Club members may reside any place and participate in the campaign.

No Club members permitted to transfer their points to another Club member after receiving them for themselves.

Any questions or controversies that may arise are to be settled by the Club Manager, and his decision will be final and conclusive.

Subscriptions cannot be transferr[illegible] All subscriptions must be paid in cash before points are issued.

No subscriptions for a longer perio[illegible] five years accepted.

A new subscriber is anyone who h[illegible] been receiving The Times since July 3, 1919.

All new subscriptions will be [illegible] erified by the Manager.

Club members marking Old sub[illegible]ns as New will positively forfeit their points thereon. Be sure to fi[illegible]t, before you mark your receipt, whether the subscription is Old or New. This rule is imperative.

In accepting applications all Club [illegible]bers abide by the conditions named. The Club Manager reserves the right [illegible]ake changes and additions that are deemed necessary in the interest of th[illegible]ampaign, to the conditions or prize list. The Times reserves the right to [illegible] additional prizes on the list.

Until further notice free point cou[illegible] published each week will be good for fifty points.

All prizes will be delivered to the [illegible]inners at Thief River Falls, Minn., just as soon as the winners are announ[illegible] by the official judges.

In case of a tie for any of the priz[illegible] the Club members so tying will receive prizes identical with the one tied.

No agreements or promises, either [illegible]itten or verbal, made by solicitors other than published in The Times will [illegible] recognized.

The Times or Club Management w[illegible] not be held responsible for typographical errors, except to make proper [illegible]rrections.

Ten per cent commission on all subscriptions will be given to every Club member who fails to win a grand prize providing they make a cash report each week from start to finish of the campaign.

The Universal Auto Club is now open and will close in about 60 days.

No employe with the exception of correspondents will be allowed to compete in this campaign nor supply coupons to any Club member.

There are two ways to secure points: One by clipping the 50 free point coupons which appear in The Times; the other by securing "prepaid" New and Renewal subscriptions to The Times. Points are given in large numbers on all subscription paymens according to the scale published elsewhere.

Start your campaign for points early, so as to get the advantage of a good start. If you are already nominated you of course have 2,000 points to your credit. If you have not done this yet, use the application blank on this page. The first thing to do, then, is to tell one of your friends or neighbors that you are out to win one of The Times' fine prizes, and get a subscription. This being your first subscription, you will receive 10,000 points by using the "First Subscription Coupon" printed elsewhere, besides the regular points issued on subscription according to the point schedule.

Tell your friends who are now taking The Times to save the 50 free point coupons for you. Most of them will be glad, also, to make a payment on their subscription, which means more points for you. Every one of your acquaintances now taking The Times is a good prospect for a subscription. Once they learn of your ambitions, they will jump in and help you win. Begin NOW.

A REWARD FOR YOU

If you have no definite plan of your own as to how to go about this light work, step into The Times office and have a talk with the club manager. He is fairly bristling over with ideas and systems with which you can obtain the highest possible results with the least effort and very little loss of time. The pay is exceptionally big considering what you have to do to win one of these expensive prizes.

It's not necessary to be a subscriber to The Times in order to enter this campaign. The prizes are all free! Just gather points. That's all. Read every word of this big ad. carefully.

Never before has an offer of this magnitude been made by any weekly paper. It may never come again. Don't forget that!

EXCITING TIME CHASING VILLA ON THE BORDER

WAS UNSTEADY AT FIRST

BELIEVES HE GAVE GOOD ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF LATER, HOWEVER.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg had two sons in the army of the United States, one of whom is still serving. Raymond put in his share of time in France but Truman did not get there. In a letter received from him last week he speaks of the fact with regret, but believes he is having his share of excitement at that.

Truman is with a cavalry regiment on the border and recently had his first experience under fire. He writes an interesting letter of the Juarez scrap in which our boys took an active part.

"I suppose you saw in the papers," he writes, "that we have been fighting the '[illegible]icks' (Mexicans). It was the [illegible] sport I had in all my [illegible] [illegible] cheated out of the big fight I enlisted for, but we had a little one all our own down here. I'll tell you of it the best I can.

Shot Into El Paso.

"Villa and about 3,600 of his followers had been trying to capture Juarez for several days and quite a few shots had come across the river into El Paso. On the night of Saturday, June 14, we were all around the city and the Seventh and Fifth Cavalry and the Eighty-second field artillery went to a ford on the river about five miles below Juarez, while the Twenty-fourth infantry was held in readiness to cross from El Paso to Juarez by the international bridge. Nothing happened that night so about 8 in the morning we returned to camp.

Fighting in Juarez.

"About six o'clock that same (Sunday) evening we were again given orders to saddle up and by 7:30 we were at the same place we had quitted the night before.

"Some time between 10 and 11 o'clock we crossed the stream and about 1 o'clock we started toward Juarez. There was not much fighting on the way. None of our men were hit and as far as I know only one rebel Mexican was killed, but several were taken prisoners.

"It was not until we reached the outskirts of the city that the real fighting began. The cavalry was then rushed forward and the artillery, which had remained in the rear, turned the guns on the race track, where Villa had his headquarters at that time.

Mexicans in Trees.

"The Mexicans were scattered about among the trees so that most of the fighting was done by the patrols and I was sent out with one as soon as the fun started.

"We went away out to the right and before long the bullets were coming so fast in our direction that we had to dismount and take shelter behind a shack, leaving the horses with one man while we went forward a little ways. We got behind a low bank and returned the fire of the enemy, who were in a bunch of trees about 300 yards ahead of us. It [illegible] the first time I had been under fire and I was a little nervous to begin with. Unless I am greatly mistaken my first two shots went away wild, but before long I was as steady as ever. I never felt better in my life.

Mexicans Were Scattered.

"In about an hour and a half the firing ceased in that direction and we went forward. From that time on until morning I didn't see a live Mexican. It was only a short time after this that we met the Twenty fourth infantry, which had crossed the international bridge and were coming to our support.

"Shortly before sunrise the Seventh and Fifth cavalry and the Eighty-second artillery started southeast after the rebel Mexicans. About 10 o'clock we caught up with a bunch of about 700 of them and the Seventh cavalry, which was in the lead, attacked them. In less than half an hour the whole bunch was running in every direction trying to get away. We mounted and went after them but had so many ditches to cross that we didn't get many. The artillery was ready for action by this time and managed to land quite a lot of them.

Captured Trophies.

"Before joining the column again I caught a Mexican officer's horse and secured a fine pair of field glasses and a hair lasso for myself. Shortly after that we started back towards camp.

"We arrived about 6 o'clock and believe me, we were a tired and hungry bunch. We had nothing to eat for 24 hours and only one hour's sleep out of 60.

"Headquarters troop moved into the new barracks yesterday and regimental headquarters moved into the new administration building today. It sure is a good deal more comfortable in our new quarters."

"I'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE IT"

STEELE HAD TO QUIT RAILROADING ON ACCOUNT OF BAD HEALTH—GAINS 15 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC.

"If I could speak with everybody personally who has stomach trouble and rheumatism, I would tell them to take Tanlac, for I have tried it myself and have never seen anything like it," was the statement made by J. T. Steele of Shirley, Ill., recently. Mr. Steele, who is now employed in a general store in Shirley, was formerly a conducter on the L. & N. railroad, which position he states he had to give up on account of bad health.

"A number of years ago, while railroading," he continued, "I began suffering from stomach trouble and rheumatism and kept getting worse in spite of all I could do. My appetite left me and I would suffer terribly from indigestion and gas on the stomach after every meal. My head ached a great deal of the time. I also suffered agonies from rheumatism and felt tired, wornout and no account all the time. I simply got to where I had to be as careful as a baby about my eating, was very pale, and finally became so thin and weak and was forced to give up railroading altogether.

"About this time I began to see Tanlac recommended very highly and decided to see if it would help me as others said it had them. My stomach soon got in shape to where I could eat cabbage, beans, meats, potatoes and just anything else I wanted without the slightest trouble afterwards. So I kept on taking Tanlac and when I finished my fifth bottle my rheumatism and all my other troubles had disappeared and I had gained fifteen pounds in weight besides. That was nearly three years ago, but I have held my weight and felt fine to this good day. So I can testify to both the immediate and lasting results that come from the use of Tanlac, and I firmly believe if I had known about it in time I could have continued my railroad work. No doubt there are lots of people today suffering like I did before I took Tanlac and if I can show them the road to health I think it is nothing but right that I should do so."

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

FARMERS WARNED OF POTATO WART.

Potato wart, one of the most dangerous diseases of Irish potatoes, having been discovered in the United States, and, therefore, being a menace to Minnesota's potato industry, the plant pathology division of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, is sending warnings to farmers to be on the lookout for the disease. In case the disease is discovered it is to be reported to the county agent, to the plant pathology division at University Farm, or to the plant disease survey of the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

The disease may be recognized by the presence of rough, spongy outgrowths, brown at first but black and decayed with age, on tubers especially at the eyes.

MERCHANTS ARE URGED TO ADVERTISE BUTTER.

The Minnesota State Dairymen's association is seeking to encourage merchants throughout the state to advertise butter. W. A. McKerrow, dairy specialist of the extension division at University Farm, in cooperation with the State Dairymen's association, is sending out very attractive posters calling attention to creamery butter as a healthful and wholesome food. These are put out merely as a supplement to advertising through the press which merchants are encouraged to make use of. The idea is that merchants advertise products that compete with butter but do not advertise butter itself, whereas throughout the state much of the prosperity of merchants depends on the dairy industry.

TIME TO MARKET COCKERELS IS NOW.

"March and April cockerels, if well grown, by this time should have the appearance of nice broilers," says W. E. Stanfield, who has just resigned his position as a poultry extension specialist at University Farm to become a professional poultry adviser at the service of poultry raisers. "In order to make good broilers, however," adds Mr. Stanfield, "cockerels should be confined in a clean, airy coop, and fed a fattening mash consisting mainly of wheat, middlings, corn-feed meal, and ground oats, in about equal parts, mixed with buttermilk or sour milk. This feeding should continue for about 10 days or two weeks."

Mr. Stanfield predicts a good market for cockerels.

MANY CHURCHMEN GATHER AT WARREN

REV. O. J. LUNDELL OF THIS CITY PREACHES ANNIVERSARY SERMON.

The Swedish Scandinavian Evangelical Missionary society of the Red River Valley, held its semi-annual meeting and 25th anniversary at Warren under the auspices of the Swedish Mission church recently.

The church auditorium was used during Thursday and Friday, and the high school auditorium on Saturday and Sunday. The churches were well represented and large crowds of people were in attendance. The meals had been arranged at the church; where over 2,000 plates of food were served to the people gratis, besides the many meals that were given free of cost, at the Skandia Hotel, and the different homes. The congregation and its pastor, Rev. C. W. Olson, are to be complimented for the systematic way in which they had arranged the meals and the meetings during the conference. The system arranged and carried out would be a model for any large gathering.

The big choir, representing the different churches in the field, gave many splendid selections under the masterful leadership of C. F. Philstrom of Warren. Their singing was much enjoyed by those present and helped to make the occasion a great success.

The conference opened on Thursday at 8 p. m., when Rev. Werner Drotts of Viking, preached the conference sermon. Friday morning Rev. O. J. Lundell of Thief River Falls delivered the address of welcome. Friday evening Rev. B. A. Werklund gave a short and interesting history of the organization. On Sunday Rev. F. O. Anderson, of Baudette, addressed the Sunday school.

Rev. Lundell, president of the conference, preached the anniversary sermon Sunday afternoon, to which over 600 people listened.

The closing exercises were held on Sunday evening, when Rev. F. A. L. Lindholm preached the closing sermon after which several of the pastors and others gave short talks and testimonies. The meetings were very interesting throughout.

ALL GRAINS MAKE GAINS DURING JUNE

The crop report for Pennington county for June shows but slight changes from that of a month ago. County Agent J. J. McCann this week forwarded the field agent's schedule to Washington and it is such as to give rise to the greatest expectations.

There is only one per cent of last year's wheat crop left on the farms of the county. The condition of the growing winter wheat is given as 91 while that of spring wheat is one per cent better. Rye heads the list for condition, this being given as 100 per cent perfect. The corn acreage is given as 110 per cent, an increase of five per cent over last year. The condition is placed at 95 per cent. Oats appear four per cent better than at the corresponding period last year, scoring 96. The condition of barley is 93 and hay 98. The flax situation is not quite so satisfactory, being put at 88 per cent, with a five per cent greater acreage than last year and ten per cent lower than normal. The potato acreage is 11 per cent greater than last year and the condition 96. Clover, timothy and alfalfa are all reported as in the best condition possible.

There's a Shortage of Mine Labor

ORDER your coal now. Future delivery conditions are uncertain, because there is, already, a shortage of mine labor. This shortage will be felt next fall, when we will be asked to supply increasing demands. Foreign mine laborers leaving the mines increases the possibilities of uncertain deliveries when cold weather comes. Out of 400,000 miners in one section it is estimated that 36,000 have already applied for passports and similar applications are being registered at the rate of 1,000 a day!

The Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
and Industry

The phases of usefulness the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders as a public servant are varied.

One of the services not generally known, which the Company must render, is to assist industrial institutions in keeping down their manufacturing costs.

The Company maintains a staff of highly trained lubricating engineers, whose business it is to go into industrial plants, make a careful and thorough study of their mechanical equipment, and determine what lubricants are best suited to each machine under the prevailing conditions.

Their constant effort is to keep down manufacturing costs by specifying the particular oils and greases that will enable the machinery to deliver a maximum of service at a minimum of cost.

This is another phase of the usefulness of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant, showing the constant effort being made by the Company to discharge its obligation in a complete and satisfactory manner.

Loyalty means the same thing and stands for the same thing this year, as it stood for last year, or any time during the war conflict. Loyalty means the same thing "all the time," to those who have respect for law and order, and human rights. You can best be loyal to your country by respecting your country's laws, and you will be loyal to your neighbor in act and spirit, when you learn to know your duties to all mankind—as a loyal American citizen. But until such time your loyalty is questioned, and judged by your own acts and deeds. We have a few men in eastern Pennington county who want us to measure out their "citizenship standard," from the size of their Red Cross donations, etc., and say nothing about a little thing like playing the game of "blind pig" or boozing up an old Indian buck or squaw, altho old Uncle Sam has said this kind of work does not come in under the loyalty line. Here is where we drop the anchor. Any further law violations of this kind will be looked up and put into the hands of Uncle Sam. We are going to take your measure, and we will see to it that the coat is going to fit. Be a citizen and respect your country's laws.

MESSAGE COMPLETED

Detailed Explanations to Be Left to Departmental Representatives of Peace Commission.

Aboard U. S. S. George Washington, July 8.—President Wilson has completed his message to congress. Primarily it is expected to be a report on what has been accomplished in Paris, together with a broad analysis of the world situation following the end of the war.

The president probably will explain the guarantees of permanent peace which have been exacted, as well as the manner in which the continued blockade assures Germany's observance of the terms imposed at Versailles.

It is also believed the message will outline economic factors necessary for American business men to consider. The President is not expected to attempt detailed explanations, leaving those for the departmental representatives of the Peace commission.

Observing his usual custom, the President has written the message on his own typewriter.

Miss Margaret Wilson entertained returning troops with a song recital on the lower deck, the soldiers singing the choruses. President and Mrs. Wilson spent a part of the afternoon visiting the wounded in the ship's hospital.

TO TELL SENATE THURSDAY

Will Present Treaty and Covenant at That Time.

Washington, July 8.—President Wilson will present the League of Nations covenant and the peace treaty to an open session of the senate alone at 12:15 p. m., Thursday, it was announced at the White House. There has been some talk of his addressing a joint session of the house and senate, but this will not be done. The senate and not the house has power to ratify the treaty.

EXCITING TIME CHASING VILLA ON THE BORDER

WAS UNSTEADY AT FIRST

BELIEVES HE GAVE GOOD ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF LATER, HOWEVER.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg had two sons in the army of the United States, one of whom is still serving. Raymond put in his share of time in France but Truman did not get there. In a letter received from him last week he speaks of the fact with regret, but believes he is having his share of excitement at that.

Truman is with a cavalry regiment on the border and recently had his first experience under fire. He writes an interesting letter of the Juarez scrap in which our boys took an active part.

"I suppose you saw in the papers," he writes, "that we have been fighting the 'Spicks' (Mexicans). It was the greatest sport I had in all my life. I was cheated out of the big fight I enlisted for, but we had a little one all our own down here. I'll tell you of it the best I can.

Shot Into El Paso.

"Villa and about 3,600 of his followers had been trying to capture Juarez for several days and quite a few shots had come across the river into El Paso. On the night of Saturday, June 14, we were all around the city and the Seventh and Fifth Cavalry and the Eighty-second field artillery went to a ford on the river about five miles below Juarez, while the Twenty-fourth infantry was held in readiness to cross from El Paso to Juarez by the international bridge. Nothing happened that night so about 8 in the morning we returned to camp.

Fighting in Juarez.

"About six o'clock that same (Sunday) evening we were again given orders to saddle up and by 7:30 we were at the same place we had quitted the night before.

"Some time between 10 and 11 o'clock we crossed the stream and about 1 o'clock we started toward Juarez. There was not much fighting on the way. None of our men were hit and as far as I know only one rebel Mexican was killed, but several were taken prisoners.

"It was not until we reached the outskirts of the city that the real fighting began. The cavalry was then rushed forward and the artillery, which had remained in the rear, turned the guns on the race track, where Villa had his headquarters at that time.

Mexicans in Trees.

"The Mexicans were scattered about among the trees so that most of the fighting was done by the patrols and I was sent out with one as soon as the fun started.

"We went away out to the right and before long the bullets were coming so fast in our direction that we had to dismount and take shelter behind a shack, leaving the horses with one man while we went forward a little ways. We got behind a low bank and returned the fire of the enemy, who were in a bunch of trees about 300 yards ahead of us. It was the first time I had been under fire and I was a little nervous to begin with. Unless I am greatly mistaken my first two shots went away wild, but before long I was as steady as ever. I never felt better in my life.

Mexicans Were Scattered.

"In about an hour and a half the firing ceased in that direction and we went forward. From that time on until morning I didn't see a live Mexican. It was only a short time after this that we met the Twenty fourth infantry, which had crossed the international bridge and were coming to our support.

"Shortly before sunrise the Seventh and Fifth cavalry and the Eighty-second artillery started southeast after the rebel Mexicans. About 10 o'clock we caught up with a bunch of about 700 of them and the Seventh cavalry, which was in the lead, attacked them. In less than half an hour the whole bunch was running in every direction trying to get away. We mounted and went after them but had so many ditches to cross that we didn't get many. The artillery was ready for action by this time and managed to land quite a lot of them.

Captured Trophies.

"Before joining the column again I caught a Mexican officer's horse and secured a fine pair of field glasses and a hair lasso for myself. Shortly after that we started back towards camp.

"We arrived about 6 o'clock and believe me, we were a tired and hungry bunch. We had nothing to eat for 24 hours and only one hour's sleep out of 60.

"Headquarters troop moved into the new barracks yesterday and regimental headquarters moved into the new administration building today. It sure is a good deal more comfortable in our new quarters."

"I'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE IT"

STEELE HAD TO QUIT RAILROADING ON ACCOUNT OF BAD HEALTH—GAINS 15 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC.

"If I could speak with everybody personally who has stomach trouble and rheumatism, I would tell them to take Tanlac, for I have tried it myself and have never seen anything like it," was the statement made by J. T. Steele of Shirley, Ill., recently. Mr. Steele, who is now employed in a general store in Shirley, was formerly a conducter on the L. & N. railroad, which position he states he had to give up on account of bad health.

"A number of years ago, while railroading," he continued, "I began suffering from stomach trouble and rheumatism and kept getting worse in spite of all I could do. My appetite left me and I would suffer terribly from indigestion and gas on the stomach after every meal. My head ached a great deal of the time. I also suffered agonies from rheumatism and felt tired, wornout and no account all the time. I simply got to where I had to be as careful as a baby about my eating, was very pale, and finally became so thin and weak and was forced to give up railroading altogether.

"About this time I began to see Tanlac recommended very highly and decided to see if it would help me as others said it had them. My stomach soon got in shape to where I could eat cabbage, beans, meats, potatoes and just anything else I wanted without the slightest trouble afterwards. So I kept on taking Tanlac and when I finished my fifth bottle my rheumatism and all my other troubles had disappeared and I had gained fifteen pounds in weight besides. That was nearly three years ago, but I have held my weight and felt fine to this good day. So I can testify to both the immediate and lasting results that come from the use of Tanlac, and I firmly believe if I had known about it in time I could have continued my railroad work. No doubt there are lots of people today suffering like I did before I took Tanlac and if I can show them the road to health I think it is nothing but right that I should do so."

FARMERS WARNED OF POTATO WART.

Potato wart, one of the most dangerous diseases of Irish potatoes, having been discovered in the United States, and, therefore, being a menace to Minnesota's potato industry, the plant pathology division of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, is sending warnings to farmers to be on the lookout for the disease. In case the disease is discovered it is to be reported to the county agent, to the plant pathology division at University Farm, or to the plant disease survey of the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

The disease may be recognized by the presence of rough, spongy outgrowths, brown at first but black and decayed with age, on tubers especially at the eyes.

MERCHANTS ARE URGED TO ADVERTISE BUTTER.

The Minnesota State Dairymen's association is seeking to encourage merchants throughout the state to advertise butter. W. A. McKerrow, dairy specialist of the extension division at University Farm, in cooperation with the State Dairymen's association, is sending out very attractive posters calling attention to creamery butter as a healthful and wholesome food. These are put out merely as a supplement to advertising through the press which merchants are encouraged to make use of. The idea is that merchants advertise products that compete with butter but do not advertise butter itself, whereas throughout the state much of the prosperity of merchants depends on the dairy industry.

TIME TO MARKET COCKERELS IS NOW.

"March and April cockerels, if well grown, by this time should have the appearance of nice broilers," says W. E. Stanfield, who has just resigned his position as a poultry extension specialist at University Farm to become a professional poultry adviser at the service of poultry raisers. "In order to make good broilers, however," adds Mr. Stanfield, "cockerels should be confined in a clean, airy coop, and fed a fattening mash consisting mainly of wheat, middlings, corn-feed meal, and ground oats, in about equal parts, mixed with buttermilk or sour milk. This feeding should continue for about 10 days or two weeks."

Mr. Stanfield predicts a good market for cockerels.

MANY CHURCHMEN GATHER AT WARREN

REV. O. J. LUNDELL OF THIS CITY PREACHES ANNIVERSARY SERMON.

The Swedish Scandinavian Evangelical Missionary society of the Red River Valley, held its semi-annual meeting and 25th anniversary at Warren under the auspices of the Swedish Mission church recently.

The church auditorium was used during Thursday and Friday, and the high school auditorium on Saturday and Sunday. The churches were well represented and large crowds of people were in attendance. The meals had been arranged at the church, where over 2,000 plates of food were served to the people gratis, besides the many meals that were given free of cost, at the Skandia Hotel, and the different homes. The congregation and its pastor, Rev. C. W. Olson, are to be complimented for the systematic way in which they had arranged the meals and the meetings during the conference. The system arranged and carried out would be a model for any large gathering.

The big choir, representing the different churches in the field, gave many splendid selections under the masterful leadership of C. F. Philstrom of Warren. Their singing was much enjoyed by those present and helped to make the occasion a great success.

The conference opened on Thursday at 8 p. m., when Rev. Werner Drotts of Viking, preached the conference sermon. Friday morning Rev. O. J. Lundell of Thief River Falls delivered the address of welcome. Friday evening Rev. B. A. Werklund gave a short and interesting history of the organization. On Sunday Rev. F. O. Anderson, of Baudette, addressed the Sunday school.

Rev. Lundell, president of the conference, preached the anniversary sermon Sunday afternoon, to which over 600 people listened.

The closing exercises were held on Sunday evening, when Rev. F. A. L. Lindholm preached the closing sermon after which several of the pastors and others gave short talks and testimonies. The meetings were very interesting throughout.

ALL GRAINS MAKE GAINS DURING JUNE

The crop report for Pennington county for June shows but slight changes from that of a month ago. County Agent J. J. McCann this week forwarded the field agent's schedule to Washington and it is such as to give rise to the greatest expectations.

There is only one per cent of last year's wheat crop left on the farms of the county. The condition of the growing winter wheat is given as 91 while that of spring wheat is one per cent better. Rye heads the list for condition, this being given as 100 per cent perfect. The corn acreage is given as 110 per cent, an increase of five per cent over last year. The condition is placed at 95 per cent. Oats appear four per cent better than at the corresponding period last year, scoring 96. The condition of barley is 93 and hay 98. The flax situation is not quite so satisfactory, being put at 88 per cent, with a five per cent greater acreage than last year and ten per cent lower than normal. The potato acreage is 11 per cent greater than last year and the condition 96. Clover, timothy and alfalfa are all reported as in the best condition possible.

ORDER your coal now. Future delivery conditions are uncertain, because there is, already, a shortage of mine labor. This shortage will be felt next fall, when we will be asked to supply increasing demands. Foreign mine laborers leaving the mines increases the possibilities of uncertain deliveries when cold weather comes. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and Industry

The phases of usefulness the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders as a public servant are varied.

One of the services not generally known, which the Company must render, is to assist industrial institutions in keeping down their manufacturing costs.

The Company maintains a staff of highly trained lubricating engineers, whose business it is to go into industrial plants, make a careful and thorough study of their mechanical equipment, and determine what lubricants are best suited to each machine under the prevailing conditions.

Their constant effort is to keep down manufacturing costs by specifying the particular oils and greases that will enable the machinery to deliver a maximum of service at a minimum of cost.

This is another phase of the usefulness of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant, showing the constant effort being made by the Company to discharge its obligation in a complete and satisfactory manner.

DEER PARK

Earl Waldron of Chisholm, came up last Wednesday for a few days' outing with friends and relatives in Deer Park and Hickory.

Ole Skeland and Thos. G. Rowe transacted business at Oklee, and also took in the Fourth while there.

Swan Swanson was a business caller in Goodridge last Thursday.

The Deer Park Young Peoples society met at Sjur Stokkes' place last Sunday. A large crowd was present. A short program was rendered.

Rev. O. Kolstoe from Oklee, came over last Sunday to take in the Young Peoples meeting and to shake hands with old time friends and neighbors.

M. E. Hyland has now moved down on his recently purchased farm where he will now remain for some time.

Loyalty means the same thing and stands for the same thing this year, as it stood for last year, or any time during the war conflict. Loyalty means the same thing "all the time," to those who have respect for law and order, and human rights. You can best be loyal to your country by respecting your country's laws, and you will be loyal to your neighbor in act and spirit, when you learn to know your duties to all mankind—as a loyal American citizen. But until such time your loyalty is questioned, and judged by your own acts and deeds. We have a few men in eastern Pennington county who want us to measure out their "citizenship standard," from the size of their Red Cross donations, etc., and say nothing about a little thing like playing the game of "blind pig" or boozing up an old Indian buck or squaw, altho old Uncle Sam has said this kind of work does not come in under the loyalty line. Here is where we drop the anchor. Any further law violations of this kind will be looked up and put into the hands of Uncle Sam. We are going to take your measure, and we will see to it that the coat is going to fit. Be a citizen and respect your country's laws.

MESSAGE COMPLETED

Aboard U. S. S. George Washington, July 8.—President Wilson has completed his message to congress. Primarily it is expected to be a report on what has been accomplished in Paris, together with a broad analysis of the world situation following the end of the war.

The president probably will explain the guarantees of permanent peace which have been exacted, as well as the manner in which the continued blockade assures Germany's observance of the terms imposed at Versailles.

It is also believed the message will outline economic factors necessary for American business men to consider. The President is not expected to attempt detailed explanations, leaving those for the departmental representatives of the Peace commission.

Miss Margaret Wilson entertained returning troops with a song recital on the lower deck, the soldiers singing the choruses. President and Mrs. Wilson spent a part of the afternoon visiting the wounded in the ship's hospital.

TO TELL SENATE THURSDAY

Will Present Treaty and Covenant at That Time.

Washington, July 8.—President Wilson will present the League of Nations covenant and the peace treaty to an open session of the senate alone at 12:15 p. m., Thursday, it was announced at the White House. There has been some talk of his addressing a joint session of the house and senate, but this will not be done. The senate and not the house has power to ratify the treaty.

Natural Inheritance.

3 SMALL BRIDGES ARE SWEPT AWAY

ALL SPAN COUNTY DITCH IN ROCKSBURY TOWNSHIP. ROADS CUT UP.

The township of Rocksbury will be compelled to build three bridges in short order as a result of the heavy rains occurring throughout this section during the first days of the month. The bridges span the county ditch traversing that township and their absence makes things decidedly inconvenient. The locations are: Between sections 25 and 26, 26 and 27, 27 and 28. They were small affairs but important for all that. The bids will be opened at the office of the Thief River Creamery association at 2 o'clock, July 21.

So far as known these are the only bridges carried away by the flood in Pennington county. In a few instances havoc was raised with roadbeds, this being particularly noticeable where there is a lack of culverts. The tier of townships south of Thief River Falls were hit somewhat harder than the territory to the north and west, but outside of a few instances such as those cited above the damage seems to have been negligible.

WANTS AUDITORIUM FOR MOVIE HOUSE

CHANCE TO RENT BUILDING DOES NOT APPEAL TO CITY FATHERS

It may be that the city auditorium is not a particularly well-paying proposition, but the council does not believe it should be rented out as a moving picture theatre. At the meeting Tuesday evening, a request was received from Frank B. Anderson of International Falls for rates on the building two nights a week—Wednesday and Sunday. If the price were made right Mr. Anderson would be willing to lease the house for five years.

—The matter was not seriously considered, the council evidently having heard enough concerning theatres for one night. A motion to lay on the table was made by Councilman Brumund, seconded by Brandon and carried. Councilmen Froseth and Olson, however, were of the opinion that the matter should be discussed and voted against the motion.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR JUDGES APPOINTED

SHOW WILL BE HELD AT GOODRIDGE ON SEPTEMBER 22 AND 25

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Tri-County fair, held at Goodridge this week, the judges for the different divisions were selected, as follows: Live stock, W. V. Gouseff; grains and vegetables, A. M. Christenson; poultry, C. E. Brown. All these gentlemen hail from Crookston and have officiated in a similar capacity on many occasions before. They are among the best known men in this section in their line and this part of the arrangements will be heartily approved.

The surprise of the fair, which will represent the eastern part of Pennington county, the southeastern townships of Marshall county, and western Beltrami county, will in all likelihood be the cattle and poultry display. There have some particularly fine cows been shipped into the district in late years, both of the milch and beef variety, and these are figured on as the outstanding features of the exhibit. Poultry also has been receiving a great deal of attention and some of the best fowls in the Northwest are to be found on the farms of the territory represented at this fair.

As this is the first fair of its kind the sponsors do not feel justified in providing for any high-priced amusement features. The exhibit is intended as one at which the products of the section shall be displayed and plans for their improvement discussed. The people of Goodridge are very enthusiastic over the project and promise to put on an exhibition that will open the eyes of the outside world.

Dr. Vistaunet Ill.

Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, for many years a practitioner in this city but who since last fall has been residing at Halstad, is reported as being ill with ptomaine poisoning. Mrs. Vistaunet was called to Halstad a week ago when the doctor was first taken sick, but returned when his condition improved sufficiently to warrant his friends in believing that he had come safely through the attack. On Monday she was again notified that he was worse and left at once for his bedside.

EASTSIDERS HAVE REGULAR FOURTH

PROVIDE GOOD TIME AND GRAND SHOW FOR THE YOUNGSTERS.

Citizens residing on the East Side figured that it would hardly be proper to allow the Fourth of July to go by without having something in the way of fireworks. With characteristic energy they set about providing the funds necessary in order to provide the youngsters with at least a passable display. Others besides the kids enjoyed it, but that made it all the better.

A. J. Anderson appointed himself a committee of one to circulate among his neighbors to find out just how they would feel about making a small contribution toward an object of this kind and was surprised at the enthusiasm with which the project was greeted. The result was that sufficient money was raised to not only buy the necessary sky rockets, Roman candles and such like, but there was enough left over to provide every boy and girl with at least one ice cream cone.

The display was set off on the river bank at the foot of the Daniel Shaw lawn and was much enjoyed by the people of the entire city.

STANDARD STATION NEARS COMPLETION

GASOLINE SERVICE PLANT TO BE READY FOR BUSINESS ON JULY 26.

The new service station of the Standard Oil company at the corner of Second street and Main avenue will be open for business on Saturday, July 26, according to J. H. Hay, local agent.

The masons and cement workers are through with their part of the contract and the carpenters are rapidly finishing up. If it is possible to secure the men a larger crew will be put on at once.

The building is a beauty and adds to the attractiveness of the section in which it is located. Nothing has as yet been done toward beautifying the grounds but this work will be undertaken as soon as the building material is out of the way. The pumps are in place and the two large gasoline containers, each holding 1,000 gallons, were sunk into the ground the first of the week.

It is the intention to construct cement driveways around the building, the space not needed for this purpose being used for lawn and flowerbeds.

SOCIABILITY RUN IS ONE DAY LATE

BAD WEATHER IN LOUISIANA SLOWS UP PARTY DURING FIRST WEEK.

The Jefferson Highway sociability run which started from New Orleans on July 1, has been delayed by bad roads and is one day behind schedule out of Shreveport. This will bring the party to Thief River Falls on the afternoon of the 20th instead of the 19th as originally planned. General Manager Clarkson has telephoned all towns along the line to adjust their celebrations to fit the new schedule as it will be impossible to make up the lost time. It is even possible that there will be a greater delay as the weather in the region to be traversed is decidedly unsettled.

Gov. Pleasant of Louisiana, Mayor Behrman of New Orleans, and Mayor Ford of Shreveport, are with the party, which contains a large number of other Southern notables.

It will be the aim of Publicity Commissioner Claypool to keep the different communities on the highway advised sufficiently far ahead to permit of their changing the arrangements further should this prove necessary.

This motion was seconded by Councilman Brandon. The vote resulted as follows: For passage, Councilmen Froseth and Olson; against passage, Councilmen Brumund and Brandon, and President Ihle. The latter declared the ordinance had failed to receive the required majority and was therefore lost. Councilman M. N. Benson was not present.

Pastors Present Case.

Rev. J. A. Orrock of the Methodist church asked that the proposition might be submitted to a referendum vote of the citizens at the next general election in order that the viewpoint of the majority of the citizens might be ascertained. President Ihle agreed that this would be a highly satisfactory way in which to get the matter settled once for all. He pointed out that even if the present council should pass the ordinance there would be nothing to prevent its successor from repealing it. If the people had decided against having the theatres open on Sunday, however, it was not likely that any board could be elected favoring going back to the old system.

President Gives Warning.

At only one point did the discussion threaten to become in any manner personal and Mr. Ihle promptly warned the speakers that nothing of the kind would be tolerated.

Before the incident was closed those favoring the ordinance were given every opportunity of voicing their opinions. Rev. I. T. Aastad stated that signers of the petition were fighting for a principle which they believed was right and just. He did not believe taxes would be higher or any other disagreeable consequence follow the passage of such ordinance as that presented. In fact, said the speaker, many cities and towns had adopted the plan with marked improvement in the moral and financial condition of the people.

Others Are Heard.

Rev. Barackman stated that the movement was for the purpose of helping the morals of the community and that where the rules of right living have been heeded the people have prospered. Rev. J. A. Orrock of the Methodist church enumerated a number of cities in the state where the theatres were not permitted to run on Sunday whereupon Mr. Brumund pointed out that the situation in these cities was far different from that now existing in Thief River Falls.

Rev. George Larson stated that the churches had done more than any other agency to help build up the city and that their request should be given serious consideration. Right was on their side, he maintained, and would finally win.

Benefit Outweighed.

Rev. A. N. Skogerboe said he had taken but small part in the discussion, but that he was heartily in favor of the ordinance. He admitted that keeping the theatres open might mean a few more dollars to the city, but believed that the evil effects more than offset this.

Before leaving the council room, Rev. Barackman thanked the council for the patience and kindness in listening to arguments after a matter had been definitely settled.

Outside of President Ihle and Councilman Brumund none of the members had anything to offer, evidently considering the incident closed.

Dr. Froehlich Due Today.

Friends of Dr. H. W. Froehlich have been notified that he might be expected to return today from New York where he has been for the past three weeks taking a post graduate course in surgery.

WANT FARM LANDS IN THIS VICINITY

NEW CONCERN WILL ADVERTISE REGION AMONG PEOPLE TO THE SOUTH.

C. S. Babcock, representing the firm of Babcock Brothers, at present maintaining offices at Austin, Minn., and Manning, Iowa, has entered the real estate field in Pennington county, opening offices at Room 208, Citizens bank building.

The firm is one of the best known in the section covered by its previous operations and now seeks expansion into the field which its members consider as being due to experience the greatest development along the lines of farm land settlement of any in the country.

The concern is peculiarly well equipped for advertising this section to people now residing in the southern part of the state and in Iowa, many of them on rented farms, who wish to get into a region where land is still comparatively cheap and crops almost certain. It will be the aim to get into communication with these as quickly as suitable lands are listed.

Mr. Babcock will in all probability remain here as the local manager.

Bratrud New Director.

John Bratrud was last week elected to succeed the late Charles A. Pitkin as the Pennington county member on the executive committee of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association. It was the annual business meeting of the association and nearly every county in the district was represented. Following are the officers elected: S. M. Sivertson, Crookston, president; A. C. Mathwig, Warren, first vice president; S. E. Hunt, Red Lake Falls, second vice president; M. E. Dahl, Twin Valley, treasurer; C. H. Zealand, Crookston, secretary.

The board of directors is composed of the following: Becker county, C. C. Williams, Detroit; Mahnomen, A. L. Thompson, Mahnomen; Marshall, A. E. Pfifner, Argyle; Polk, C. N. J. Nelson, East Grand Forks; Pennington, John Bratrud, Thief River Falls.

Freight Train Wrecked.

The wrecking crew on the Soo line in this city was called out about 11 o'clock on Sunday morning and ordered to Cass Lake, in the vicinity of which town there had been a derailment. Three cars of barley are practically a total loss and there was considerable damage to the equipment. The accident happened on an "S" curve and on top of an eight-foot embankment. No one was hurt.

Locals Defeated.

The Soo Line baseball team of this city were defeated at Argyle last Sunday by a score of 4 and 2. The grounds were in very poor condition and this handicapped the Thief River Falls boys greatly. Argyle made two of its four scores on errors and neither side had a man cross the plate after the second inning.

A game was scheduled for Sunday on the local diamond with Terrebonne as the opponents of the locals, but this has been cancelled for some reason not disclosed.

Will Ride in Flivver.

Leonard Peterson, superintendent of the water and light department, has been authorized to purchase a runabout for use by the men working under him. The service has reached out so far that it takes a workman too long to go on foot whenever there is something in the way of repairs needed, and the machine will prove a money saver as well as a great convenience.

Autoed From St. Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Campeau and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Parenteau of St. Vincent, motored to this city Tuesday evening, by way of Grand Forks, for a few days' visit at the George Parenteau and R. J. Halvorsen homes. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. N. Bielemeyer of Meckinock, N. D., who joined them enroute.

Music Class.

Miss Doris Halvorson, a student of Oberlin Conservatory of Music, will take pupils in piano for the summer. She will also take a class in harmony and ear-training, providing there will be eight to a class. For information call 126. j10

Miss Doris Halvorson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Halvorson of this city, who recently returned from Oberlin college where she has been studying piano for the past two years, delighted her friends and the music lovers of the city generally with a recital on Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church. Her program consisted of numbers by Chopin, Rubenstein, Saint Saens, Grieg and Liszt.

Miss Halvorson has a sure technique, a splendid touch and a refined, artistic delivery. Her playing of the Polonaise by Chopin displayed her ability and talent to the best advantage, but every number on her program was presented in a manner which leads her friends to predict for her a great career and her future progress will be watched with much interest. It is probable that Miss Halvorson will tour with the Chicago Concert company through the summer.

Her performance on Tuesday evening proved that she possesses grace, confidence and interpretative ability of a rare order.

Appearing with Miss Halvorson on the program was Miss Ausilga Sorenson, violinist, who simply added to laurels already won by her brilliant playing. Her soulful and impressive rendition of "Kol Nidrei" by Max Bruch, won the hearty applause of those present. Miss Laura Forde, who played the accompaniment to Miss Sorenson's selections, came in for her share of praise for her keen appreciation of the requirements and characteristically brilliant performance.

Miss Una Nelson reading "A Tale," by Robert Browing, and "A Lullaby" by Paul Dunbar, proved to be among the best of the many good things of a similar character with which she has favored the people of Thief River Falls.

The piano used by Miss Halvorson was a Victor, supplied through the courtesy of the Thief River Music company.

TIMES UNIVERSAL AUTO CLUB STARTS OFF WITH A RUSH

SPLENDID ARRAY OF PRIZES ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION AND WORKERS GETTING BUSY—HAVE FRIENDS CLIP COUPONS AND SAVE SUBSCRIPTIONS—PLENTY TIME TO WIN BUT BEGIN NOW—FIRST REPORT WEDNESDAY, JULY 23rd.

60,000 Special Prize Ballot Offer Will Prove Who Real Workers Are

THIS SPECIAL OFFER IS A FINE OPPORTUNITY FOR CLUB MEMBERS TO FORGE AHEAD—REAL "METTLE" OF THOSE PARTICIPATING WILL BE TESTED BY ABILITY TO STICK TO IT. $5 IN GOLD AWARDED NEXT WED., FOR LARGEST REPORT.

Rapidly acquiring the zestful spirit of gathering subscriptions and points in The Times' Scripps-Booth-Ford automobile and prize campaign, Club Members are already beginning to campaign vigorously in their own interests.

Throughout Thief River Falls and adjoining territory for many miles in each direction the ladies and men are starting to get busy, realizing the value of an early start.

All Will Be Paid.

It is remarkable how the news of The Times great offer keeps on spreading. Not only are new names being added regularly from the city of Thief River Falls, but almost every mail brings additional entries from outside towns. That the country people are responding so overwhelmingly may be attributed to the fact that the prize list has been so arranged that all who enter and fail to win a prize will be given a cash commission. There can possibly be no losers and Club Members are at liberty to collect subscriptions and points anywhere at any time.

It is indeed gratifying to note the zest with which the workers are going about their preparations for a successful race. Real, business-like effort is evidently going to be displayed.

Fine Vacation Employment.

Practically every member who has written or called at campaign headquarters—and that means quite a few—has declared he or she was going to have the time of their lives in this campaign. They will have lots of fun, too, for it is the keenest sort of pleasure to wage a successful campaign. Always on the alert for every opportunity that spells success. It's an exhilirating influence that tests the metal in the best of us. Moreover, it's easy.

Many opportunities are presented to gain points in this campaign. Hundreds can be secured with only the clip of the shears, for each week a free coupon, good for 50 points, is published in The Times. Thousands of additional points are gained with just a little industry—by inducing your friends to take The Times for one year or longer.

A Good Way to Begin.

A good way to go about paving the way for your campign is to phone, say, twenty of your friends. Supposing they are all taking The Times. Ask each one to clip the 50-free-point coupon weekly. Figure how much that will bring you each week. While you are talking about that little coupon, be sure to ask about their subscription, too. If some of your friends are not taking The Times, so much the better for you, as they are good prospects for a NEW subscription—and NEW subscriptions count just double the points as the OLD ones.

You will find it remarkable how additional points will spring up on every side. Many thousands will come to you unsuspectedly.

Delays Are Dangerous.

But the start's the thing! If your application isn't in yet, get it in. Then do as suggested and you will surprise yourself at the result. Successful men and women who today enjoy reward, their pleasure and their joy, will tell you that the only secret to success is getting started and then keeping ever-lastingly at it. They will also tell you that there is no luck, no chance nor fortune connected with success.

The start will probably be the hardest part of your campaign, but once that is made, you may expect, if you are at all energetic, a continual stream of points.

Special Prize Ballots.

A dandy opportunity to bring ultimate victory closer are the Special Prize Ballots for this week. These ballots will be awarded to Club Members turning in the highest sums of NEW or OLD subscription money. The Member turning in the most subscription money will be given a Special Prize Ballot, good for 60,000 extra points, and the $5 in gold, the Member turning in the second highest amount of subscription money will be given 58,000 extra points, the third highest will receive 56,000 extra points and so on down, 2,000 points less than the preceding Member. Both offers close next Wednesday, July 23, at midnight. All mailed reports before that time will count on the offers. Read the page ad for particulars.

There is still time to enter and get started with the rest. No one has done a great deal as yet, and you will be starting on an equal basis, provided, you get your name in at once. Don't delay! Fill in the coupons, found on another page of this issue, and mail today without fail.

First List of Club Members.

Don't get startled and imagine all the names published below will take active part in this campaign. We know from past experience that only about ten or twelve out of the entire list will work throughout the campaign and remain for the finish of the race. This list will be cut down to the active workers as quickly as possible.

FLOOD SITUATION TO BE DISCUSSED

MEETING OF R. R. V. D. A. TO BE HELD HERE NEXT TUESDAY

President S. M. Sivertson of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association yesterday notified A. J. Anderson of this city that a meeting would be held here next Tuesday for the purpose of discussing the flood situation. It is expected that all the counties in the valley will send delegates and that the communities which have suffered by reason of the recent high water will be particularly well represented.

Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment station will be present, and some plan for assisting those who lost their crops will be one of the matters taken up.

Notices have been sent out to all townships in which any considerable amount of damage was done, asking that someone be present to render an authentic report of conditions.

There will be a meeting for the purpose of organization in the forenoon and the regular session will be held after dinner. D. P. O'Neill, who will be in the city on Monday night, will be asked to stay over in order to give the meeting the benefit of his experience in such matters.

JOIN FORCES FOR BETTER SERVICE

DR. L. F. FISHER ADDED TO FIRM OF DRS. MELLBY AND PAULSON.

Dr. L. F. Fisher, who a short time ago took over the practice of Dr. F. H. Gambell, this week allied himself with Drs. O. F. Mellby and A. J. Paulson and the firm name will hereafter be Mellby, Paulson & Fisher. Dr. Fisher has moved his office from the First National bank building and is now located in the McGinn block, his private office adjoining those of his partners.

The partnership between Dr. Mellby and Dr. Paulson was formed in February, 1918, since which time their practice has grown to such an extent that the taking into the firm of another man was deemed advisable. The change has been made entirely in the interest of the public service, the present plan making it possible for at least one doctor to be in the office at all times. On numerous occasions during the past year the outside calls have been so frequent as to make it impossible to properly attend to the very important office practice, and it is with the idea of correcting this that the new arrangement has been made.

No Visiting Day.

Prof. J. N. Alway has announced that there will be no visiting day at the Golden Valley peat demonstration farms this year. The rains during the first few days of the month practically ruined the plots so far as any work this year is concerned.

WILL MAINTAIN FARM BUREAU FOR TWO YEARS

COMMISSIONERS VOTE TO ALLOW $1,500 FOR CURRENT TERM'S EXPENSES

TWO OPPOSE THE MEASURE

HANSON AND NAPLIN VOTE "NO" ON THE SCORE OF ECONOMY

By a vote of three to two the board of county commissioners on Tuesday evening decided to appropriate the amount necessary for the maintenance of the Pennington County Farm Bureau for another year. They also agreed to appropriate sufficient funds at the proper time to carry the work through until July 1, 1921.

$1,500 Was Needed.

The sum required was $2,000 per year, but there is now in the treasury of the association about $500, which will be used to make up the required amount for the current term. This will not cover the expenses of the bureau but membership fees and the amount received from the government and state will provide a fund that will suffice.

Federal Aid Withdrawn.

When the bureau was established the federal government was appropriating about $1,800 per year as aid, this being a war provision. On July 1 this sum was practically all withdrawn, there being but $200 provided from this source. The state also allows $1,200, making a total of $1,400, but in order to secure this the different counties must pledge themselves to appropriate the bal-

PREPARE PROGRAM FOR J.-H. TOURISTS

BIG PARTY FROM SOUTH WILL BE HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Governors and mayors and highway boosters from the Sunny South will be the guests of Thief River Falls overnight next Sunday. They are scheduled t oarrive over the Jefferson Highway at 5:30 o'clock and it is not likely that they are far off their schedule. A day was lost because of rain when they first started out, but they report very favorable weather since that time.

Mayor G. A. Penney is chairman of the general committee having their entertainment in charge, his assistants being Daniel Shaw, C. L. Hansen, E. M. Stanton, Math Barzen and E. O. Mogensen.

The plan is to have the band out after the party has had supper and that there shall be a short speaking program at the band stand. After this there will be an informal reception at the Commercial club rooms, where addresses will be delivered by the visitors. These have made the trip all the way from New Orleans, starting from that city on July 1, and the members will have something of interest to say concerning roads, good and bad.

This is the first sociability run over the highway since 1917 and much interest is shown in the event all along the line. It marks the resumption of highway building in this country and as such is an occurance of great importance. The communities thus far visited have made much of the party an 'dall are having a very good time.

Large Crop of Mosquitos.

Because of the many pools of water left on the ground after the recent rains, the mosquitos are this year worse than for a long time past. Travelers along ditch grades say that they can be seen rising from the water towards evening in clouds, appearing like wreaths of smoke. Sometimes there clouds are five miles in length.

CITIZENS WILL PAY RESPECTS MONDAY NIGHT

D. P. O'NEILL AND J. H. HAY TO BE HONOR GUESTS AT BANQUET

ENTIRE COMMUNITY ASKED

WILL INDICATE APPRECIATION OF GOOD WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Every man and woman in Pennington county is invited to the banquet to be given in honor of D. P. O'Neill and J. H. Hay at the auditorium on Monday evening. The committee in charge has sent out a large number of invitations but it is impossible to reach all who may desire to participate in this reception and presentation function in this manner. Every citizen is therefore to consider himself or herself invited and to feel that they have as great an interest in the success of the affair as if they were members of the committee.

Ladies Are Invited.

The banquet is for Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. Hay as well as for their husbands. For this reason the ladies of the community are especially invited. The families have been residents of the city so long that their acquaintanceship extends to all classes and in all directions and it is the intention that this shall be a truly representative affair. For this reason all ceremonial will be laid aside and our people, no matter what their station, occupation or social status, are asked to join in making this the most memorable event of its kind in the history of the city.

The intention was to hold the banquet at the Commercial club but it early became evident that the room would hold only a small part of those who wished to attend and the largest building in the neighborhood was secured.

Begins at 8 O'Clock.

The affair will be in the nature of both a reception and presentation. Just what the program is to be has not been announced, but that it will be interesting is certain. The supper proper will be served by Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel. No set assignment of speeches has been announced and it is probable that none will be. The affair is not to be freezingly formal, but just such a gathering as the parties themselves would choose if their wishes were consulted.

In order that the committee may know approximately just how many to provide for, guests are requested to secure their tickets before Saturday evening. These have been placed on sale at all drug stores in the city or may be secured from G. Howard Smith. If a person resides out of the city a notification addressed to Mr. Smith stating that he or she intends being present is sufficient. The price has been placed at $1.00 for the gentlemen and 50 cents for the ladies.

Both Will be Here.

Mr. Hay, who is now the assistant commissioner of agriculture for the state, and Mr. O'Neill, a member of the board of grain appeals, will be here. The banquet has awaited the time when they would both be able to get away from their duties for a short spell, and this has now arrived.

Nohting need be said as to why this banquet should be tendered these two couples. Just come, that's all.

ROCKSBURY HONORS ITS RETURNED MEN

The first celebration in honor of home-coming soldier boys will be held in Rocksbury township next Sunday. The spot selected for the celebration is the school grounds at Valhalla, this being both central and excellently adapted for the purpose.

The principal speaker of the day will be Attorney Hans O. Chommie of Thief River Falls, but others will be present to give testimony to the deep feeling of appreciation the community entertains for those who went out to fight in the great war.

There are in the neighborhood of 25 returned soldiers in the township, Rocksbury having sent its full share when the call came. These are expected to be present, together with friends and relatives from all over the county.

A general patriotic program has been arranged and the people of Rocksbury are in hopes that those living in other sections will come and help them celebrate this event.

Fancy Hog Price.

O. J. Dahl of Rosewood, brought two hogs to market on Tuesday and received $152 for the pair. They were yearlings and brought 22 cents live weight. E. L. Rolland of the City Meat Market was the purchaser and was glad to secure the stock. It is not so many years ago that the $76 paid for one of these pigs would have purchased a pretty good sized beef critter.

RIVER PROJECT GETS APPROVAL OF SECY. BAKER

BUT LITTLE FEDERAL AID

INDIAN LANDS, WATER POWERS AND OTHER PROPERTY MUST PAY.

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker has sent to congress a favorable report on the proposed improvement of Red lake and Red Lake river at an estimated cost of $779,000 exclusive of locks at the outlet. If these are incuded the estimated cost is $857,000. The department states that the interests benefited by the improvement should pay the largest portion of the cost, the federal government contributing only $15,000 and $200 for maintenance. The remainder is distributed as follows: Waterpowers improvement $240,000, maintenance and operation, $3,700; Indian lands improvement, $236,800, maintenance and operation, $3,650; lands outside Indian reservation, $248,500, maintenance and operation, $3,850; municipal water supply $39,000, maintenance and operation $600.

Returned From France.

Among the boys who have recently returned from service are the Sandum brothers, Herman and Howard. The former was a resident of Montana before enlisting and belonged to the Third division, being in service for eighteen months and taking part in some of the most famous battles. He was slightly gassed in the battle of Belleau Woods. Mr. Sandum was discharged from Camp Dodge and arrived in the city on July 3. Howard was a student of the local high school before enlisting in the transportation corps. He was in training for a year and altho he has been across for the past six months he never reached the front. Landing in Boston on the 5th of July he was discharged from Camp Dodge on the 12th, arriving in the city Tuesday morning. Both of the young men will make this city their home for the present.

COUNTY LEVY FOR NEXT YEAR MADE

FOUND THAT $6,000 MORE THAN LAST YEAR IS REQUIRED

The high cost of living extends even to the cost of running the county. The commissioners at their semi-annual meeting found that it would require a levy of $6,000 more to meet expenses than was the case a year ago, and the people will be lucky if the outlay can be kept within this figure. The total is $65,100 as compared with $59,100 for the fiscal year of 1918. The sum has been apportioned among the following funds:

County revenue	$26,000
Sanitorium	30,000
Sanitorium maintenance	4,000
Sanitorium construction	2,100
Bond and interest	3,000

That the county is not quite broke is evidenced by the fact that there still remains to the credit of the five most important funds the sum of $35,068.10, divided as follows:

County revenue	$10,133.89
Road and bridge	12,201.66
Bond and interest	3,172.24
Sinking	8,029.74
Sanitorium	1,530.67

Indian Visitors Leave.

About a dozen Buffalo Indians from Buffalo Point, Can., on the north bank of the Lake of the Woods, passed through Thief River Falls last Friday on their way home from a visit to the Red Lake agency. They were the nearest approach to the old-style Indian seen in the city for many a day. A little girl papoose whose mother recently died of influenza, was a member of the party but the elders did not seem to think her particularly valuable as they tried to get some one here to take her off their hands and adopt her.

SONS OF NORWAY DELEGATES RETURN

BRAINERD MEETING WAS ONE OF BEST IN HISTORY OF LODGE.

Bernhard Knudsen, E. K. Ansen and Hans Heckne returned Monday morning from the annual convention of the Sons of Norway at Brainerd. Mr. Knudsen was the district delegate, representing all the lodges of this section, while Mr. Ansen and Mr. Heckne were local delegates. Mr. Ansen was honored at the convention by being selected as chairman of the finance committee, while Mr. Knudsen is a member of the permanent board of trustees.

The report of Treasurer Julius Sholl of Minneapolis, showed that the order was in excellent financial condition and that all insurance rates are now based on the American experience tables. The treasury reserve at the present time is aprpoximately $300,000. The lodge has come in for much commendation because of having carried its own war risks without increasing the tariff of its members. The Sons of Norway also contributed liberally toward the maintenance of the different war auxiliaries and their attitude received recognition from more than one high source.

The Thief River Falls delegates say that the meeting was most harmonious and enjoyable throughout and that the people of Brainerd are charming hosts.

COMMERCIAL CLUB PROVIDES FOOD AND BOAT FOR ITS DISTRIBUTION

SITUATION VERY SERIOUS

FAMILIES REPORTED MAROONED IN THEIR HOMES IN DRAINED AREA

Officers of the Thief River Falls Commercial club yesterday notified Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist of the serious situation confronting the farmers in the Mud Lake and Thief Lake neighborhood and requested that something be done for their relief. A statement of the conditions in the district east of Holt, so far as the facts can be gained, was also sent to J. H. Hay of the state board of agriculture, and to D. P. O'Neill, both of whom are now in St. Paul. This was done for the reason that both men are well acquainted with the lay of the country between Mud and Thief Lakes and will thus be in a position to explain matters in case anything of the kind is required.

Supplies Are Sent.

Rumors of the serious situation of the farmers in the basins of these two drained areas began reaching the city last Saturday, but nothing authentic was secured. The water showed a tendency to drop and it was thought that the worst was over. No request for assistance came from Holt or Golden Valley, although it was understood that the country between the two points was pretty well flooded. Thousands of acres were converted into a lake, the western edge of which extended to within a short distance of Holt.

As soon as the facts became known a meeting of the Commercial club was called and plans for relief set in motion. A sidewheel power boat belonging to Henry Draper and built purposely for navigating in shallow water, was pressed into commission and swung between wheels so that it could be taken overland to the stricken district. The river is so high that it would be impossible to reach Mud lake because of bridges. A truckload of provisions was also provided in case immediate relief was found necessary and Mr. Draper, Anton Langseth and Olie Warner started for the flooded region, the latter being in charge of the truck. More provisions will be forthcoming as soon as the situation as to what is needed is made clear.

Live Stock is Suffering.

J. J. Weller, a resident of the Thief Lake district, came down the first of the week, having made the greater part of the distance by boat. He said that the entire country, with the exception of a ridge all along the southern edge of Thief Lake, is covered with water to a depth of from four to eight feet. The ditch grades have been cut through in many places, according to Mr. Weller, and the water covers thousands of acres. The dumps on the sides of the ditches, most of which are about eight feet high, can only be seen at rare intervals, and Mr. Weller believes there is more water now than at high flood time in the spring of 1897.

Reports are now reaching the city of farmers wading out into the water above their waists and cutting hay by reaching down with a scythe. The severed fodder floats to the surface and it is then poled and pushed toward the high hummocks on which cattle have taken refuge. To add to the misery of the latter, swarms of mosquitoes have resulted wherever the water has stood for a short time and are driving the stock frantic. This problem of saving the valuable cows is one of the most serious which confronts the section.

No Lives Lost.

Mr. Weller says he heard of no lives being lost while on his way to this city, but cows and young cattle have succumbed in a number of instances, and two or three horses also were reported lost. One man had ten head of cattle drowned.

RETENTION OF SCHOOL BOARD AS IT STANDS

THIS SEEMS TO BE THE DESIRE OF PEOPLE IN DISTRICT NUMBER 18

NO OPPOSITION DISCLOSED

DR. MELLBY AND LARS BACKE ENTITLED TO RE-ELECTION ON RECORDS

Saturday, July 19, is the date of the annual school elections in the state of Minnesota. It is an event of considerable importance but in most districts it is permitted to pass almost unnoticed. Men selected as school trustees are generally picked for their fitness in the first place and the voters do not see why they should be replaced every time an opportunity offers for doing so.

Two to be Elected.

In district No. 18 of Pennington county, which includes the city of Thief River Falls, two members of the board are to be elected. Dr. O. F. Mellby, president of the body, and Lars Backe, treasurer, have served three years since their last election and are again candidates for the post. Both have long years of faithful service and a vast deal of experience to commend them to the voters, and it is not likely that any attempt will be made to supplant them.

Have No Opposition.

The time for filing closed on the 10th of the month and there was not even a mention of a candidate in opposition. This was a high tribute to the admitted fitness of these men to continue in their present positions. That there will be any last-minute move to place other names on the ballot is not likely. To do so would require a greater interest to be shown in school matters than has ever before been the case, and there is nothing to indicate that such condition exists.

Is Thankless Job.

Being a school director is a thankless job under the best of conditions, and when competent men are found willing to assume the responsibility and face the criticism which is sure to follow no matter how they conduct themselves, they should be retained.

Neither Dr. Mellby nor Mr. Backe will make any effort to continue in the offices they now hold. If they did not consider that they were fulfilling a duty to the community by staying on the board it is certain that they would refuse longer to serve. They have both tried it for many years and know full well the work it entails as well as the misunderstandings of motives with which they must put up. Under these circumstances there should certainly be no hesitancy on the part of the people in re-electing them as often as they will accept the post.

Are Not Drowned Out.

H. E. Mussey, publisher of the Grygla Eagle, was in the city the first of the week on business. He stated that while the rains of the early part of the month had done considerable damage, the report that his section was drowned out is entirely wrong. The territory in the immediate neighborhood of Grygla is in pretty good shape as a whole, he said, although some of the farmers are entirely wiped out. The season promised a bumper crop before the rains came, and they will still be average, according to Mr. Mussey. The roads between Grygla and Goodridge are in bad shape, he states.

TERREBONNE PLAYS RETURN GAME HERE

LOCALS ARE GOING AFTER REVENGE FOR LAST WEEK'S DEFEAT.

The Soo Line base ball team, which is the official designation of the aggregation representing Thief River Falls on the diamond this year, was defeated at Terrebonne last Sunday in one of the best games ever played in this section. The contest stretched out to ten innings, the score being 4 and 3 at the end of that time. Both teams put up a brilliant game and the score indicates that they were evenly matched.

Thief River Falls naturally smarts somewhat under the disgrace of this defeat by a nine picked up in a farming district and the boys are looking for an opportunity to show that the trick cannot be repeated. This will be given them next Sunday when the outfit from the Red Lake county town comes here for a return game, which will be played at the fair grounds and be worth witnessing.

It has been uphill work to get any enthusiasm into the baseball fans of the city thus far, and this in spite of the fact that they have a team of winners to root for. They should show their appreciation of the good work done by showing up at the fair grounds next Sunday.

NO TIME TO GET EXCITED.

There is deep sympathy expressed for the farmers of this section who lost any part of their crop through the freakish rain storm which caused the overflowing of the ditches and consequent damage during the first two days of the present month. In some instances these farmers will require assistance and this should and will be forthcoming.

The situation is not as bad as at first reported—at least not in Pennington county—but it is bad enough. Taken as a whole the crop of the county will not be reduced more than fifteen per cent of what might have been expected even under the most favorable circumstances, but this does not help the man who lost everything he had, or even a portion of it. He will have to be looked after.

The gravest danger in connection with the occurance is that the farmer who sustained any considerable loss will become discouraged, pull up stakes and move away. He is very liable to come to this decision before having thoroughly considered the matter or closely inquiring into conditions in the territory he chooses for his future home.

Where would he go in order to better himself? Is there any place less liable to visitations of this kind than Northwestern Minnesota, when one comes to think of it? The southern part of the state has been under water since early spring and it is only recently that even an attempt could be made to work the corn fields. Eastern North Dakota is in our fix exactly—a little too much water—while the western part of that state as well as Montana have had no rain to speak of this year. Western Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan are burnt up and there will be no crops worth mentioning in those provinces. Where then, would the Pennington county farmer turn in order to be any better off than he is right here? He will save something—in most instances nearly everything.

The outlook is much better at this time, than it was a day or two after the storm and it is reasonable to suppose that it will improve steadily. Potatoes have suffered most but at no time has potatoes been an important crop in Pennington county. Under no circumstances could this have turned out a bumper wheat crop. Something occurred to the grain during the early growing period to set it back and it has never caught up. This should be taken into consideration when the storm damage is computed. Many fields ruined by the storm would not have been good fields had the storm never occurred.

The yield of other grains will be about as usual while hay is far above the average. It is perfectly safe to state that the storm put but a slight dent in the general prosperity of the section.

Stick to your guns, Mr. Farmer. You are better off right here than in almost any other part of the North. You are not compelled to ship your stock to another state in order to save it for one thing, and this is a matter of some importance.

ALL SHOULD BE THERE.

There is a function scheduled to take place next Monday evening at which every man and woman in Pennington county should take pride in being present. The event is a farewell banquet in honor of two families, both long residents of the city and whose leaving will be regretted by everyone, even while it is recognized that their condition has been bettered and the usefulness, at least of the heads of these families, greatly enhanced by the new arrangement.

Daniel P. O'Neill, former representative and state senator, and J. H. Hay, former superintendent of the city schools, may be referred to as among the pioneers of Pennington county without going very far out of the way. Both have resided here for many years and have given of the best there is in them to the upbuilding of the community and section. They are perhaps the two best-known men in the county and the fame of their work extends far beyond its confines.

These men have both been called to more important posts than those to which they were attached while residents of Thief River Falls. Their value was recognized and they have been placed where they can do the greatest amount of good to the greatest number. The entire section rejoices in their good fortune.

It was suggested that the citizens should give some slight token of their regard for these men and the things they have accomplished while working among us and it has been decided that a banquet at which all who desired could be present would best serve the purpose. This has accordingly been arranged and the auditorium selected as the place. Both Mr. Hay and Mr. O'Neill have promised to be present at this time, the date having been chosen to suit their convenience.

This is a function that all should attend. It is not at all necessary that the guest shall unreservedly endorse any and every deed or utterance of either of the two men in order to be eligible to participation. The probabilities are that both of them have been most heartily disagreed with on more than one occasion by some of those who will be present, but that does not matter. The fact is that these men worked long and earnestly for the advancement and betterment of this community and are entitled to the respect and thanks of their fellow citizens for their efforts. It would perhaps be admitted even by those who rather ardently disagree with them on certain subjects that as boosters there are none at hand just at present to take their place.

You will honor yourself as well as the guests of the people by your presence on this occasion.

THE TREND OF LAND PRICES.

The sale of at least two pieces of Pennington county land at a price of $100 per acre indicates what may be expected when the farm movement now so noticeable in northern Iowa and southern Minnesota reaches this section. There has been greater activity in agricultural lands during the past year than ever before in the history of the country, but much of it has been confined to the older sections. Now the tendency is northward and westward—particularly the former—and the fertile portions of the continent heretofore neglected are coming into their own.

Men of foresight and energy are not afraid of becoming in a sense pioneers. They see nothing particularly attractive in residing where the cost of land is so high that a large share of what is received for a crop must go toward paying interest on the original investment. They have discovered that as fine crops can be grown in sections where land is still comparatively cheap.

It can hardly be argued that $100 per acre is a low price for northern Minnesota land, but most of those seeking new locations are not looking for property of this kind. They are more likely to want something at about one-half that figure, depending on their own effort to increase its value. For such as these this section holds out the greatest promise of any in the United States. It has taken a long time and much hard work to get people to realize this, but it has been accomplished and the results are beginning to show.

A well-known student of farm subjects stated in a public address delivered in this city a short time ago that Pennington county lands were worth $20 per acre more than is being asked for them today and that before the year is out they would be in demand at the higher figure. Everything goes to indicate that he knew what he was talking about.

MAY MEAN A BEGINNING.

It now seems certain that there will be thousands of head of sheep getting fat on the fodder heretofore wasted in Pennington county. None have as yet arrived but it is certain that Montana owners will select this favored section as one of the grazing places for their flocks. Many sheep have already been shipped into certain sections of St. Louis and adjoining counties, and while it is probable that the counties farther west will be turned over more particularly to cattle, there will also be a considerable number of wooly fellows quartered here.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Dr. Thomas Shaw of the University of Minnesota, was advocating the raising of more sheep on the new farms in the northern part of the state.

The new mill of the Thief River Falls Lumber company, claimed as the best in northern Minnesota, received the finishing touches of the millwrights and began cutting on the 6th. General Manager O'Day and Superintendent Rogers were being congratulated by lumbering journals all over the Northwest for the excellent work accomplished.

W. A. Kratka was negotiating for the purchase of the fine residence property of James Meehan, Jr., on Horace avenue.

The Weekly Press felt quite like a metropolitan publication because a new mailing machine had been added to the equipment, doing away with the necessity for addressing the papers by hand.

Mrs. W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls was here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Kretzchmar.

The rain on Tuesday night was the hardest ever experienced in the section. The downpour lasted for three hours without a letup.

The ball game between Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 20 to 8.

Ten Years Ago.

People were requested not to use the water in the city mains for drinking purposes.

The terms of Dr. G. A. Pinney and Dr. F. H. Gambell as members of the school board run out with the election on the third Saturday in July and as no one had up to date declared themselves as candidates it was expected that they would be re-elected without opposition.

Andrew Trovaton and Peter Flo returned from a land-seeking expedition into Alberta. They did not find things to their liking and decided that Red Lake county was good enough for them.

The Aldrich tariff revision bill passed the senate. The measure made a flat increase in the tariff practically all along the line. A number of Republicans voted against the bill, among them Senators Nelson and Clapp of Minnesota.

The election to decide whether or not the city was to secure a municipally owned telephone system, either by purchase or construction, was defeated by a vote of 127 in favor of the proposition to 179 against it.

Mayor Hamre and City Attorney Halvorson spent the week in St. Paul in consultation with the architect regarding the new armory to be built here.

Dr. Vistaunet and A. Halseth left for a three-week trip to the Pacific coast.

M. E. ROBBECKE WENT FROM BERMUDA TO ARCTIC IN THAT TIME.

M. E. Robbecke born and raised in Thief River Falls, is home on a furlough after having put in nine months in Uncle Sam's navy. He covered quite a lot of sea surface in that time and taken as a whole had rather an enjoyable time of it. He still has about a year and a half to serve under the terms of his enlistment.

"I went aboard the U. S. S. Yankton at the Brooklyn navy yard on Oct. 7, 1918," he said to The Times. "Our ship sailed on the morning of Nov. 7 and we arrived at the Bermudas first. Stayed there long enough to coal ship and the captain granted us shore leave. Bought a few souvenirs of the islands and left there without further adventure.

Hot in the Azores.

"Our next stop was at Porta del Garda, Azores Islands, and we stayed in this port for five days, having liberty to go on shore each day. A sailor sure can have a good time in that part of the world. The people, Portugese mostly, raise all kinds of fruits and vegetables and the country is pretty enough, but too hot for me.

"On the fifth day of our stay we pulled up anchor and steamed for Portsmouth, England. I didn't think we would ever see land again. We were eight days without a sight of it and when it finally did appear we sure were a happy bunch. The ship's crew started to get their blue uniforms ready for the liberty they felt sure was coming.

Didn't Like Portsmouth.

"There certainly was not much in that port for me. We only stayed there one day and that was plenty long enough. Our next stop was at Plymouth at which point is located Naval Base No. 27. Uncle Sam had a number of ships in that port and there were many British vessels of all kinds there. We took on a lot of naval supplies and had the usual liberty. Left there for Southhampton where we only stayed long enough to take a pilot before making for the Shetland Islands, where the little ponies originated. Here we saw a number of Scotch lassies in their native costumes and they certainly looked nice. Took on another pilot there.

Liked Bergen Best.

"We sailed a short ways up the coast of Norway and our first stop was at Bergen. That is one of the finest cities I have ever seen and far the prettiest I saw in my whole trip up the coast. More pilots. The reason we had to take on these guides is that the fjords in this section are not very wide—barely space enough in some places for a ship of the Chester's size to get through. The scenery is simply wonderful.

Under the Arctic Circle.

"The next port at which we landed was Hammerfest, right up under the arctic circle. It was bitterly cold here and we had about a week of it before our stay ended. Next we stopped at Murmansk, Russia, and believe me, here we found it cold in good and earnest. It was all we could do to keep warm at all. We stayed here about three months and then went to another Russian post—Alexandrovski. Here we had target practice and a landing party went back to Murmansk.

"We expected more American ships in Murmansk within a short time and I knew there would be a chance to get transferred. I put in an application to be assigned to the U. S. S. Chester knowing that this ship was headed for the good old U. S. A. The Chester is a scout cruiser with a speed of 22 knots per hour. With the cruiser Galveston we left Murmansk about the middle of March but on the coast of Scotland we parted company, the Chester continuing on to Denmark. From here we went to Hamburg and Bremershaven, Germany. Plymouth was next, where we took on a new propellor blade, then on to Brest, France, landing there on the morning of March 26. Taking on a troop of 120 officers and men we started for a sight of the Statue of Liberty. We sure were a happy ship's crew that day.

"We unloaded the soldiers at Staten Island, left New York harbor and went to the Boston navy yard, the home port of the Chester. She is now in dry dock and will be overhauled and undergo repairs for six months."

Many Attended Funeral.

The funeral of Byron Pawling, the boy who was drowned in Red Lake river, was held from the Presbyterian church last Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. The florists shops in the city ran entirely out of flowers the wreaths and pieces being many and beautiful. Rev. R. L. Barackman preached an impressive burial sermon and the junior choir of the church, under the leadership of George Preston, sang "Face to Face." Mr. Preston, who is leading the singing at the Mathis revival meetings, had but a short time in which to train the chorus, but the execution was touching in its beautiful simplicity. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery.

Don't Give Up

THE farmers whose crops were ruined by the recent rains and flood have the deepest sympathy of this bank. The loss appears all the greater because of the wonderful prospect for a bumper crop the county offered up to a week ago.

BUT it already appears that the damage is less general and less complete than was at first estimated; and we hope that the coming week will help to strengthen that belief.

WE hope that our friends who lost heavily will not let themselves be completely discouraged by this misfortune. If the future looks black to you, and if your financial affairs trouble you, come into the bank and talk things over with us. We will do all in our power to help you out.

Summer Footwear No Longer Interests the Ladies

This is where our new Shoe Department becomes a place of interest to them. Our stock is absolutely new—from the foot rests and show cases to the smallest baby boot—and we take a pardonable pride in the judgment displayed in its selection.

We do not simply aim to SELL shoes. Unless we shall have accomplished something never before even attempted in Thief River Falls in the way of FITTING, a large part of our ambition will fail of realization.

You may not be prepared to buy shoes for fall today, but we shall be glad to show what we have selected as being in our jurgment what you will want when you are ready to buy.

Fair Banners Here.

Automobile owners are requested to call on Secretary G. Howard Smith and secure a banner advertising the Pennington county fair to be fastened to their machines. This is a very good way to advertise the fair and does not cost anything—after the banners have been paid for. It is particularly desired that the farmers of the county shall secure these banners as they often travel where the city man does not go except on very rare occasions.

No Advertising Program.

The merchants of Thief River Falls will not be pestered by solicitors for advertising on any kind of fair program this year. The directors have decided that this is poor business and will employ another system. It may be that some one business house will be given the right to run its advertisement on the daily program in return for paying the cost of printing the same, but even this has not been definitely decided upon.

Secretary Smith wants someone to come forward with the loan of six show cases and a refrigerator for the fair. Anyone having these articles should get in communication with him at once.

Do Not Wait Until Lumber Advances Again

Build now while the prices of what you produce—be it farm products or labor—are high.

Lumber prices are on the upgrade and the retailer has no hand in the matter. Many mills are already unable to fill orders and it is daily becoming harder to keep up stocks.

You will make money if you begin your construction program without delay.

Order Your Coal Today

Too many people are making the mistake of waiting until cold weather sets in before attending to this important matter. Be among the wise ones and fill your bin. Prices are certain to increase later.

Are You Serving Your Grocer---Or Is He Serving You?

Do you have to take valuable time and considerable trouble to market yourself or can you rely upon your grocer to see that you get 100% satisfaction in merchandise and service?

We make it our business to relieve our customers of all troublesome details connected with the purchasing of groceries.

With our experience it is easy for us to select the purest food products the market affords—the most economical and efficient. We know just why we recommend each thing we sell because we personally test it.

RYZON is an example of this. When RYZON first became known as "The Perfect Baking Powder"—we determined to find out why. After testing it we know.

RYZON introduced a new baking era. It took the "guess" out of baking. You know beforehand just what your results will be—light cake, flaky pastry, delicious, digestible hot breads! RYZon is 40c per pound—and the RYZON Baking Book is something you'll be more than interested in.

It contains 200 tested recipes—edited by Marion Harris Neil. Original cost was $1.00—ask how to get one for 30c.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and to be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

175 CREAMERY PATRONS MAKE $50 FOR JUNE

31 PER CENT OVER 1918

June was the banner month for the Thief River Falls Creamery association. More money was paid out to patrons during the 30 days than for any similar period in the plant's history. The total was $32,799.91, or $1,093.33 per day, including Sundays and holidays. The price paid during the month was 62 cents for sweet cream and 60 cents for sour cream.

The herd of Hans Anton heads the list again this month. Mr. Anton received a check for $414.80, showing that his cows produced for him at the rate of $13.82 cents per day. The Peter Englestad herd comes next with $369.15 as the month's production, while A. J. Funnesdahl and Mrs. J. J. Berg are in third and fourth place respectively.

Probably the Zenith.

Creamery officials are agreed that the high-water mark for the year has probably been reached. Flies and mosquitoes have made their appearance in unusual numbers during the past week and are bothering cattle a great deal. This will effect the milk production. The loss of a certain amount of pasture to the north and east by floods will also have its effect in cutting down the supply. It is still evident that the creamery will run over the $300,000 goal set for the year, however.

The Big-Check Patrons.

One hundred and seventy-five patrons of the creamery received more than $50 for the month's supply from their herds. This is believed to be the largest number in this class in the history of the creamery. Many more than usual also received smaller amounts. Those whose herds brought in more than $50 for the month are as follows:

Peter Engelstad	369.15

During the recent war the world came into a full and complete understanding of the value of efficient and comprehensive organization on the part of big business.

One phase of the aid that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was able to render is interesting.

The U. S. Government called on the Company for candles, and in an incredibly short space of time the initial shipment was made.

In all, 285,000,000 candles were shipped from Whiting, Indiana, to France—about 85 candles for every man in the United States uniform.

Besides serving a most useful and necessary purpose in themselves, the manufacture of candles enables the Company to keep down the manufacturing cost of gasoline, so that you may run your car without great expense for fuel.

This is only a single and minor phase of the part played by the Company in helping to win the war, but it serves to illustrate the usefulness of the Company as a public servant, and the benefits accruing to the world at large from Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operations.

$225 Cut in Price of Titan 10-20

CASH F. O. B. Factory

$1050 when time is given

Reasonable terms will be given to any man who needs the Titan now and cannot pay cash in full. These terms are new.

WE have reduced the price of the Titan 10-20 from $1,225 to $1,000. This big cut is not justified by present prices of materials and labor, but is made in anticipation that the largely increased volume of business developed will offset the reduction. The Titan now becomes the world's most popular priced 3-plow tractor.

If you have been holding off buying a tractor because $1,000 was your limit for a good 3-plow machine, your price will now buy the best one.

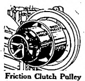
To sell the Titan 10-20 at this low price, not a single necessary feature has been taken off to be bought at extra cost. The Titan comes to you complete. The Harvester Company is too old at the business to offer you a tractor which is not 100% efficient at the drawbar and 100% efficient on the belt.

Remember, the Titan is a 3-plow tractor. Don't confuse it with low-powered 2-plow machines. For a fair comparison as to price, add one-half the cost of any 2-plow tractor to its advertised price, then add the cost of all the extras you must buy, and that will put it on a par with the Titan 3-plow tractor. Then compare values.

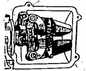
In addition, remember the Titan is a genuine kerosene tractor. Gasoline as tractor fuel is unwarranted extravagance. Don't forget that. We give you a written guarantee that the Titan operates efficiently on kerosene.

You can't make a mistake if you select a Titan 10-20 at its present low price. It will give you power satisfaction that will stand by you steadily season after season at drawbar and belt. You may rely on Harvester reputation for good service and fair dealing. Go to your dealer. Arrange for immediate shipment. This price reduction may make delivery difficult later. Place your order now.

These Features, Regular With Titan, Are Charged for Extra by Some Tractor Makers:



Friction Clutch Pulley



Governor

Friction Clutch Pulley With the Titan you get a large wide friction clutch pulley, put in the right place by a company that knows where it belongs. It is provided with a safety shield. The belt work season is on. No extra charge for Titan pulley.

Throttle Governor With the Titan you get a throttle governor. It gives you steady speed for belt work, saves fuel, prevents grain losses, works automatically and perfectly. No extra charge.

Starting and Service You get the Titan tractor without the compulsory "starting and service charge" made by some companies. Complete instruction in starting and operating is given free. No extra charge.

Drawbar With the Titan you get a convenient drawbar, adjustable side-ways and up-and-down. Fits every need. Compare it with others. No extra charge.

Fenders With the Titan you get drive-wheel fenders. They stand for safety. They also protect the engine and operator from mud and dust. No extra charge.

MORE AID NEEDED FOR FERGUS FALLS

TOAL REQUIRED WILL BE AT LEAST $300,000 SAYS STATE COMMITTEE.

The state relief committee in charge of the collection of funds for the relief of citizens of Fergus Falls whose property was destroyed by the tornado of last month, report that $300,000 will be necessary in order to relieve the situation. Of this amount Pennington county is asked to raise $1,000. The voluntary committee appointed by Mayor G. A. Penney has already sent in over $500 so that it will be necessary to secure as much more if the community is to meet the expectations.

Before the meeting was called the committee ascertained the following facts concerning the situation at Fergus Falls: Total property loss, $3,000,000; number of houses and buildings destroyed, 900; number of families needing help, 350; number killed, 56; number of injured, about 200.

Following are the allotments for nearby counties: Red Lake, $500; Marshall, $1,500; Beltrami, $1,000; Clearwater, $500; Kittson, $1,500; Mahnomen, $500; Polk, $4,000; Roseau, $500.

Henry Z. Mitchell, editor of the Thief River Falls News-Press at the time of the absorption of that paper by The Times, has been elected a director of the Security State bank of Bemidji. Mr. Mitchell has been editor of the Sentinel in the neighboring city since leaving here and is evidently prospering.

Picnic.

The Red Cross Branch of the Rocksbury township has planned a celebration for the returned soldiers of their township in the form of a picnic. The date is set for next Sunday, July 20th, at Valhalla. There has been an excellent program arranged and prospects are for a good time for all that come. Everybody is welcome. Come at one o'clock with a full lunch basket.

Pie Social.

ROCK ISLAND YARD MASTER TESTIFIES

WIFE GAIN 20 POUNDS TAKING TANLAC—"WOULDN'T BE WITHOUT IT," HE SAYS.

Still another widely known and popular railroad man comes forward with his unqualified endorsement for Tanlac. This time, it is C. D. Blatherwick, yard master for the C. R. I. & P. in Kansas City, Kansas, who resides at 341 South 11th street, that city.

"My [illegible] has actually gained 20 pounds in weight since she began taking Tanlac," said Mr. Blatherwick, in an interview recently, "and has been benefitted so much in every way that I am glad to make this statement, which I hope will be the cause of others who may be suffering, as she did getting relief.

"She has been in such a nervous, run-down condition for the past two years that she was confined to her bed a great deal of the time. She was subject to frequent attacks of sick headaches and often had spells of dizziness. She also suffered intense pain from the gas on her stomach, pains in her back and what seemed to be a complete nervous breakdown. She also had a severe attack of influenza, which left her so weak she could hardly stand up.

"She has been wonderfully benefited by Tanlac. In fact, I consider it remarkable the way she has been built up, for she is almost like a different person. She has been relieved entirely of stomach trouble, headache and backache. I am delighted more than I can tell with what Tanlac has done for her and we would not be without it now for anything. It is by far the best medicine she has ever taken."

O'NEILL BOOSTS FOR GOOD ROADS

(Okleo Herald)

Hon. D. P. O'Neill while delivering the Fourth of July oration here took occasion to give the proposed Babcock road amendment a very able boost. His explanation of the proposed law and its operation showing how the great trunk roads would be built absolutely independent of any and all road funds created under present laws, was an eyeopener to many who without much consideration have arrived at the conclusion that the Babcock roads would swallow all of the State's road funds. On the other hand he showed how present road funds would be released in a great measure by the proposed law and made available for other roads, as the great trunk road would in many places pass over State roads now in making under the Dunn law.

We hope every voter in the State will clear himself on these points at the earliest possible date in which case the Babcock amendment—the greatest road law ever proposed by man—will receive the approval of an overwhelming majority.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Mrs. "Granny" Chamberlain

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

Correct Lubrication Is Tractor Insurance

NO matter how good your tractor may be it cannot give satisfactory service unless it has proper lubrication.

This means not only plenty of oil, but the correct oil, properly applied.

After long years of experience the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has produced three oils which will correctly lubricate the entire range of tractors.

These in the order of their viscosity are:

Heavy Polarine Oil
Stanolind Tractor Oil
Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our engineering staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss. It's free to you for the asking. Address.

Lumber Prices Have Advanced!

We warned the prospective builder that such would be the case and our warning came true. The man who bought his lumber last spring saved considerable money, and the man who buys now instead of waiting until next spring will save considerably more.

The Price Trend is Steadily Upward

And yet lumber is low in price when compared with other products. It is a mistake to postpone necessary building. When lumber goes down in price other products will follow suit and the present satisfactory average may not be maintained.

Everything A Man Produces Costs More

It stands to reason that what he buys must follow suit. For this reason he is making a mistake when he delays his building program.

Build this Year!

The advice is as sound now as it was in the spring. Delay means higher costs.

Let us help you with the plans.

tance. Had the proposition failed to pass at this meeting it would have meant the abandoning of the work so far as Pennington county was concerned, while at the same time the people here would have to pay their share of the appropriations allowed other counties.

Farmers Present Case.

The matters came up on Monday evening. Farmers were present in considerable numbers from many sections of the county and were unanimous in pleading that the appropriation be made. Among the speakers were President Hans Anton of the Bureau; Fred Beerbower, R. J. McKercher, Paul Engelstad, A. J. Anderson, G. L. Sterns and others. The latter pointed out that an appropriation of $1,500 for this purpose would mean a cost of 80 cents for every quarter section of land in the county. Mr. Anton explained what had been accomplished by the bureau in the past and told something of the program for the future. Mr. McKercher believed that the work of the organization in the matter of cow testing alone was worth more than its entire cost. Mr. Engelstad said that the members who went into the organization when it was first launched paid dues for two years and it would be a hard matter to explain to these parties that they had been deceived. County Agent J. J. McCann presented a statement showing what had been attempted during the past year. He said that those who criticised the agent for not coming to their places were themselves to blame as it was only necessary to notify him and he would certainly be there.

No Vote Taken.

It was evident that in the absence of Chairman O. J. Peterson of the board, a vote would result in a deadlock, Commissioners Robert McGinn and J. S. Roy favoring the project, while their two colleagues opposed it. The latter stated that while they were in favor of progressive measures, they figured that the cost of the bureau was greater than the benefit derived. It was finally decided to lay the matter over until the next day when the full board would be present.

Peterson Breaks Tie.

It was Tuesday evening before the matter was again reached. After supper Mr. Peterson stated that there was no use beating about the bush—it had to be settled one way or another. He also said it would be better for all concerned if the action taken were unanimous. Mr. Roy moved that the request of the farm bureau association be granted and this was seconded by Mr. McGinn. Commissioners Naplin and Hanson stood by their guns and voted "no," while Mr. Peterson voted with the affirmative. He stated that it was evident that a large number of farmers in the county wished the bureau continued and as they were the taxpayers he hardly felt justified in denying their request.

ANNUAL OUTING OF S. OF N. SUNDAY

SNORRE LODGE WILL JOIN WITH NEIGHBORS FOR A GOOD TIME.

All the Sons of Norway lodges in this section of the country will hold a joint picnic at Maple Lake on Sunday. This is an annual event and looked forward to with a great deal of interest and pleasure by all members.

The great feature of this outing is the presence of all the singing societies connected with the organization. The men's singing societies from Thief River Falls, Crookston, Grand Forks, Fertile, Ada, Climax, Halstad, Fisher, Eldred, Gary and many other places will be on hand and there will be instrumental music as well.

Thief River Falls always sends a large delegation to these picnics and if the weather is favorable the crowd will this year be larger than ever.

FINE PROGRAM AND ADDRESSES FOR LAST WEEK

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT AUDITORIUM STILL BRING OUT GOOD CROWDS

"There can be no double standard," says Evangelist Mathis. "Common sense demands that a man shall live just as clean a life as he expects his wife to live." Stress is being placed upon clean and righteous living and every reasonable person will say that it is right.

Sunday night closes the third week of the series of Evangelistic meetings. Next week will be the last.

Concert Saturday.

Next Saturday evening there will be a concert given by the adults and Mr. Preston has something good in store for music-lovers. After the concert Mr. Mathis will preach on the subject, "Blocking Angels."

There will be three services Sunday: Morning at 11 for all; afternoon at 3 for men only, and 8:30 a service for everyone. There will be a meeting for women at the Presbyterian church at 3:30.

The attendance the second week was more than double that of the first, and this week is better than last. There were four great services last Sunday.

In a few minutes the amount necessary to cover the expenses of the campaign aside from the Evangelist's offering, which will be taken the last Sunday, was raised.

Service for Men.

The service for men was a good one. A large number were present and listened to an address that every man in the city should have heard, while a good company of women gathered at the Presbyterian church to hear Mrs. Preston.

Little Folks' Concert.

The concert given by more than 50 of the little folks last Saturday evening was one of the best ever. Lois Vistaunet, Alice Gobler, Ariel Kinghorn and Harold Will rendered solos in a delightful manner. The flag song and drills as a closing number was one of the finest ever seen here.

Sunday evening a special feature was the song by the male chorus.

Rural School Notes

The returns for the March and May examinations, after considerable delay, have now been received. The High School Board Certificates will be sent out from this office this week. All pupils passing the required subjects for graduation, will receive their diplomas at a later date.

The county graduation exercises, which were planned on being held must now be dispensed with, as nearly all the teachers of the rural schools are now in attendance at summer schools. The credit to a great extent is due to the diligent and untiring work of these teachers. The pupils of the rural schools of the county feel that their teachers should be present at these exercises. Since this is not now possible we must abide by this decision, caused by the delay of the state department in forwarding the returns.

The following is a list of names of all pupils together with the names of their teachers, who took either the March or May examinations or both and received a credit of passed or passed plus as the case may be:

bitions are aroused—

Times' Automobile and Prize paign, which started with a flour- and promises to be intensely interesting and exciting. The already famous free-for-all prize distribution in which a snappy Scripps-Booth Roadster and a Ford Touring car with many other prizes are the awards to be plucked are plunging the Club Members into the merry point-getting with such vigor and enthusiasm that startling developments are expected. Instead of interest abating, as one would naturally think after the first big blow-off had passed, interest is still growing.

The campaign's meteoric career has covered Pennington county—and beyond—for inquiries have been received from most every town and community for miles around. Verily the wonderful prize offer has been heralded by the public as the biggest thing of its kind that ever happened in this section. The increased spirit with which voting is progressing is also perceptible. Club Members are getting down to business now, it appears, and subscriptions and points are coming in in quantities. They are busying themselves in nearing step by step the coveted goal. You can't blame them, though, for voting so energetically. Those eight costly prizes that await the ambitious ones, are certainly worth putting forth every ounce of energy for.

Wants to See the Car.

An indication of the interest that the list of prizes has created, is the fact that some of the dealers have told the Club Manager of instances where club members and their friends called at the dealer's store to inspect the prizes.

Mr. Streeter of the Peoples Auto company, in commenting upon such an incident the other day, said:

"The young lady came in and asked if we would mind showing her the Scripps-Booth Roadster The Times will give away. I told her we were glad, indeed, to show her, and explain all about the car. She stood before the car for several minutes in silent admiration.

"I asked her how she liked the Roadster. She said: 'Like it! Why I think the Scripps-Booth is the peachiest little car and I like it fine. I want it—and believe me—I'm going to win it or know why.'"

That's about the way the other club members feel about the half dozen prizes that will be distributed. Any one of the prizes offered is worth many times the effort it will take to win it.

Club Members Determined.

A notable feature of today's point standings are the impressive number of workers who are just beginning to show signs of activity. A short time ago nobody thought they would be contenders. Over night, almost, they suddenly sprung into action. Today —who knows but what THEY may be the ones to win the valuable prizes?

Thus far this week there have been particularly noticeable signs of "getting busy" in the country territory. One Club Member had 2,000 points last time the list was published. She got busy, and phoned nine of her friends for subscriptions, and got seven, which won her a prize ballot and today she is among the leaders.

Don't feel that you are getting a late start if you haven't jumped out of the free point class. No one has done a great deal yet and the "winning points," are still to be colected. The offer this week of 25,000 extra points for each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in, means this much, that you can start now and still be a big winner. The energetic person who realizes a good thing will find it in our plan. You will find it a pleasing and successful venture. It will pay and give you confidence in doing things. Whether you choose to enter the campaign or not, you cannot settle the question by inaction. Your decision in starting is merely putting the matter to the performance test.

Time Is Valuable.

It is remarkable the way people are taking such a deep interest in the campaign and the Club Members. Lots of workers get points from the most unexpected sources—often from friends who see their name in the list. Only yesterday the Club Manager received a letter from Norfolk, Va., containing points that the writer wished placed to the credit of a certain Club Member.

New workers continue to enter from day to day. Others start out to gather their first points and find it so interesting that they jump into a high position. To be in a high position at the close of this campaign, means that you will share in one of the most remarkable prize distributions in the history of Pennington county. It will be all over in a few weeks. That's why time is so valuable now!

Extra Point Offer This Week.

Starting today (Thursday) and closing Wednesday, July 30th, at 6 p. m., we will award 25,000 extra points on each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in. Turn in as many $20 subscription clubs as you wish. No limit. Every one will count you 25,000 extra points. The more clubs you obtain the more extra points you will receive. And the regular schedule of points shown on the receipt books are in addition to these extra points. Get right out now. This is your one big chance to get in the lead. Don't wait too long. Time flies, figuratively speaking, and the rest won't wait for you to catch up with them. You can do it now in just a short time. Later it won't be so easy.

The list of names and points will be published again next week. Try and see if you can't have MORE POINTS by that time. Then your friends will know that you are made of the qualities that WIN—pluck and perseverance. That's all you need in this race.

CONTRACTS ASSURE PRICES TO FARMERS

Reflection to farmers of the guaranteed prices for wheat is assured by contracts made by the United States Grain corporation with millers and grain dealers, whereby purchases of wheat are to be made at the guaranteed price based on proper grade and dockage, at the terminal most advantageously reached, according to Washington dispatches.

To avoid difficulties over grading, overnment is arranging a stan- ion of grain grades to be in- r all localities and to re- [illegible] direction of the United States department of agriculture.

The government contracts with the grain men and millers, the dispatches said, provide that farmers or buyers are privileged to submit a sample of wheat, over which there is a dispute, to the vicepresident of the grain corporation in their district and obtain from him a review of their case. Final decision may be made by the wheat director.

WANT BAND BACK TO OLD STANDARD

FORMER A. E. F. MEN TO LOCATE HERE IF POS[illegible] SECURED.

"We want to bring the band [illegible] for several returned musicians of the A. E. F. who are desirous of locating here, Conductor Cordes believes it will be possible for Thief River Falls to again possess a first-class musical organization as it did in 1914.

At this time there are several fine musicians who are in communication with the local band and will come here as soon as a position can be found for them. Mr. Cordes believes there is no bigger or better advertisement for a town than a good band and he is desirous of working up the present band to a high standard.

During the month the band has been augmented considerably with the return of Lawrence Hermanson, alto; George Loken, clarinet; Perry Froseth, trombone, and Arthur Granum, drummer, all of whom held down first chair in their respective departments of the 352nd Infantry band, 88th division. These young men have had over a year's straight playing with this high class military band and have gained many new ideas which will be installed in the local band. Peter Peterson, deputy city clerk, who has recently returned from overseas, will be on the job here shortly and will again take his seat with the band.

Several sections of the local musical organization are not as strong as is desired at this time and it is the intention of the leader to strengthen these with experienced men. The band would be very glad to assist local business men and cooperate with them in securing help when they need it and would in this way accomplish a double purpose by giving band men first place.

The band if it can be worked back to its old standard promises to give the public some excellent concerts during the winter months to come, a feature which has always been highly appreciated by Thief River Falls people. This was shown at concerts by the band before it was broken up as the result of the war declaration when most of its members signed up with Uncle Sam.

SALVATION ARMY TO ERECT HOME COSTING $12,000

THIEF RIVER FALLS SELECTED AS SITE FOR COMMUNITY HOME.

CAMPAIGN STARTS AUG. 3

COUNTY WILL BE EXPECTED TO RAISE $4,000 DURING WEEK FOLLOWING.

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign will be launched in Pennington county on Sunday, August 3, the aim being to raise $4,000 during the six days following. The county is a part of District No. 26, of which L. A. Lampert of this city is chairman and which comprises the counties of Kittson, Marshall and Roseau, besides Pennington. The chairman in charge of the local drive is L. H. Lawrence, and both have perfected plans for a rapid, intensive campaign.

The Salvation Army committee in charge of the selection of sites for community houses has chosen Thief River Falls as the place where one will be located. The cost of this structure when completed will be in the neighborhood of $12,000 and will be devoted entirely to public welfare work. There will be hundreds of these buildings scattered over the country and they will form a chain of welfare stations from one end of the land to the other.

Elks and Community Girls.

The members of the Elks lodge have everywhere become interested in the success of this enterprise and are giving the army most valuable support. A regular drive for funds will be headed by members of that organization, and anyone knowing of the reputation of these men for getting what they go after will entertain no doubt of the success of the campaign.

The Community Girls have thrown their weight in with that of the Elks and are going to give the move every assistance in their power. The two organizations will have a booth at the county fair, for instance, and practically the entire proceeds will go to the Salvationist's fund. At this booth the girls will preside while the Elks stay on the outside and drum up trade. Everything from hamburger sandwiches to toy balloons will be sold and it is certain that business will be brisk.

Soldiers Will Help.

There is one bunch of boosters that may be depended on to go the limit in assisting the Salvation Army to raise this money. The soldiers just back from France will not be slow in coming to the front when anything affecting the "doughnut girls" is under consideration. The Salvation Army earned the eternal gratitude of the fighters over on the other side and the latter will take this opportunity of showing their appreciation.

There should be no difficulty in raising the required sum either in the county or district.

Big Features For Fair.

Secretary G. Howard Smith, of the fair board, announced today that the entire cost for amusements at the fair to be held on August 6, 7, and 8, will total the sum of $5,000. Attractions to be staged before the grandstand will cost probably more than the entire gate receipts of last year's fair. He also announced that owing to the high cost of the program to be [illegible] before the grandstand it would [illegible] to eliminate all compli- [illegible]. Secretary Smith is [illegible]

DRAINAGE UNITS ONLY SOLUTION FLOOD PROBLEM

$50,000 AID FOR FARMERS

RED CROSS AND DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE.

The formation of drainage districts under the Cliff law of 1917 presents the most dependable guarantee against a recurrence of the annoying and costly floods in this section of the state, according to the best authorities on the subject, and steps will at once be taken to organize two such districts for northwestern Minnesota. One will embrace the watershed of the Red Lake river while the other will serve the district drained by the Roseau.

Well-Attended Meeting.

The meeting called by President Severtson of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association for the purpose of considering relief measures for those who had suffered loss by reason of the recent floods was held at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Tuesday. It was perhaps the most representative gathering of the kind ever seen in this section and there is every reason to believe that its deliberations will result in some well-defined plan of action.

State Engineer Speaks.

Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment farm, Crookston, was elected chairman at the organization meeting in the forenoon, and he appointed a committee to confer with J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, with regard to a plan of relief to be followed in the case of the settlers in the Mud lake basin whose crops had been destroyed by the high water. This committee was composed of the different county agents in the district and two farmers from each of the townships affected.

Flood Was Unprecedented.

State Engineer J. E. Willard was present and stated that no drainage system devised could have taken care of the water falling during the first two days of the present month, but that improvements could undoubtedly be made which would insure a more rapid disposal of the surplus. He advocated the forming of a drainage district under the Cliff law of 1917, and the first steps toward this end were taken at the afternoon session.

Mr. Willard explained the plan of assessment under the Cliff law and the system employed in getting the matter started. His information was supplemented by Mr. Selvig who explained the different sections of the act more in detail.

Herbert A. Hart of Fargo, drainage engineer for North Dakota, told of what had been done in carrying out the Tri-State project about the headwaters of the Red River of the North in the vicinity of Big Stone and Tra-

DITCH SITUATION IS PARTLY GONE OVER

COUNTY BOARD MAKES TOUR OF INSPECTION TO EAST END.

Imperfect Page

Before final adjournment on Wednesday the county commissioners considered it advisable to make a trip of inspection to the eastern end of the county in order to see for themselves just what damage had been done by the recent floods and also to see if some plan could not be evolved for preventing a recurrence of the trouble. All the members and County Auditor T. P. Anderson made the trip and a rather thoro investigation was made.

The board members are unanimous in the opinion that relief could be had by the continuation of ditch No. 13 westward to a point on the north center line of section 30 in Silverton township. This is a distance of 15 miles and the suggested ditch would traverse a good share of the county, running a short distance to the south of Goodridge and Mavie. At the point of termination it would empty into a natural coulee which would make it an easy matter to turn the water into the Red Lake river. The distance from the end of the ditch to the stream is only four miles and the ditching of this distance presents no difficult engineering problems. This would do away with the unsatisfactory northward turn of ditch No. 18 and relieve the pressure on that overtaxed artery. It would also mean that the demands made upon the Thief River would be greatly reduced through the turning of the large amount of water now forced onto that stream into the Red Lake.

The commissioners were only concerned with the feasibility of the plan, as anything in the nature of an actual demand for the improvement must come from the residents of the territory to be served.

Prichard Bid Accepted.

Bids for furnishing the city of Thief River Falls with 300 tons of coal for the season of 1919-20 were opened at the council meeting on Tuesday evening. The Prichard company's bid was accepted, they agreeing to furnish the coal for the entire season for $8.70 per ton. The bid of [illegible]

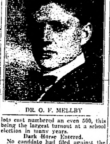
MELLBY, BACKE RE-ELECTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

FORMER HAS MAJORITY OF TWENTY-FIVE OVER W. A. BOREEN.

LEVY IS AGAIN $45,000

SAME AS FOR PAST TWO YEARS IN SPITE OF INCREASED COST.

Dr. O. F. Mellby and Lars Backe were elected to succeed themselves as members of the school board of District No. 18, in which is located Thief River Falls, at the anual election last Saturday evening. The ballots cast numbered an even 500, this being the largest turnout at a school election in many years.



DR. O. F. MELLBY

Dark Horse Entered.

No canddate had filed against the present officials up to the legal date for the expiration of such declaration and it was figured that there would be no opposition. At the last minute, however, W. A. Boreen was entered over the sticker route, it being the understanding that he was in the race against Dr. Mellby. This brought forth special efforts on the part of the latter's friends, with the following result: Backe, 352; Mellby, 256; Boreen, 231. There were 12 spoiled ballots and a considerable number carrying the name of but one candidate.

LARS BACKE

Levy Remains the Same.

Before the meeting was opened to balloting, the annual reports of Clerk P. O. Myhrum and Treasurer Lars Backe were read and the levy for the ensuing year decided upon. The same sum as for the past two years—$45,000—was asked for and voted without a dissenting voice. That a larger amount was not deemed necessary is rather surprising when the advanced cost of everything is taken into consideration. The sum will not quite meet the pay roll for the year, even after leaving out the janitors.

Money to Pay Bonds.

The total outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district is $158,800. All these bonds with the exception of one for $6,800, due Nov. 1, this year, and a refunding issue due July 1, 1932, are drawing interest at the rate of four per cent, the exceptions noted drawing five per cent. There is money available with which to meet the bond payment on Nov. 1 and this will be retired.

Receive Increased Aid.

The district starts the year with a cash balance of $12,716.10 in the treasury. This added to the levy is not sufficient to meet the requirements but it is expected that with the federal and state aid the matter may be managed. The district will come in for a considerable sum by qualifying under the Smith-Hughes act and a number of departments are being equipped to meet the specifications of this legislation. This is extended under certain conditions to the agricultural, manual training and commercial divisions. A new man is to be added as teacher of the latter course, as it is felt that one cannot do justice to the large number of pupils selecting it as part of their high school work.

The affairs of the district are in very good condition and all are looking forward to a successful school year.

most of them stopped with friends and it was impossible to secure their names. H. Mayne Stanton, until recently editor of the Daily Pioneer and now secretary of the commercial club, was on the job. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stanton and they were visitors at the home of E. M. Stanton while in the city. The new secretary is one of the best boosters in this section of the state, being thoroughly acquainted with nearly every part of it and having a faith in its future that nothing is ever permitted to overshadow. When the Bemidji club selected Mayne as the party to do all the hard and at times disagreeable work connected with their organization they picked out the one man who may be depended on never to shirk. Mr. Stanton recently returned to Bemidji after having served his turn in the army and is more than ever convinced that northern Minnesota is the best place on earth.

Big Ditches Are Finished.

Judge William Watts at Roseau on Monday accepted a judicial ditch constructed at a cost of approximately $340,000 and draining lands for 13 miles in northwestern Roseau county. A final hearing was held previous to the acceptance of the work. One thousand dollars was withheld from the contractors, the Northwestern Drainage company of this city, so that the places in the ditch where "caving-ins" have been found can be repaired. The excavation work alone cost $263,551.53.

Back From Service.

Edward Karwand, who before his entry into the military service was cashier of the Hazel State bank, has returned from the discharge camp and is visiting in the city until the last of the month, when he will return to Hazel to take up his former position. Mr. Karwand spent several months in France before the close of the war and was later sent with the American forces to Coblenz, Germany. He was in the air service.

FAIR MANAGERS SWITCH SHOWS, SECURING BEST

ORGANIZATION CARRYING 550 PEOPLE AND 22 CARS IS BOOKED.

NEW AND NOVEL FEATURES

The directors of the Pennington county fair have arrived at the conclusion that the people are entitled to the best there is in the line of amusements at the annual show. Every member has long realized that the ordinary run of carnival troups do not quite come up to expectations, no matter how carefully their past history is looked into. At the same time it is recognized that something in the line of amusement features must be provided. It has been decided that the best was none too good and old agreements therefore cancelled. Now a regular amusement organization will have charge and the people will see something worth their while during fair week.

The Worlds Fair Shows.

On Monday a contract was closed with M. G. Dodson, general manager of the Worlds Fair Shows, whereby that company will furnish the special attractions. The troupe will come here direct from a very successful run at Virginia, where they are at present furnishing the attraction for the Elks Home Coming Week. After their dates in Thief River Falls have been filled the company goes to Hibbing for a week.

Have Special Train.

Just to prove that this is no small outfit it is announced that they travel in their own special train of 22 cars and carry 450 people. There are a total of 11 high class shows.

The predominating feature and one that has created a great deal of interest wherever the company has appeared is the big Liberty Circus, or educated horse show, where Prof. Otis Loretta exhibits King Alcyone, the equine wonder in feats of musical ingenuity that are hardly conceivable and heretofore never attempted in animal training. Another feature is the big black bear that rides the bucking mule until the latter is thoroughly conquered. This particular act is one of the funniest ever offered and is especially interesting and entertaining to the ladies and children. Other attractions to be found along the big, glad pike, with its ten thousand electric lights, is the "whip," one of the very latest riding devices. There is also a ten thousand dollar Parker three-abreast carousal, a big ferris wheel, athletic show, honeymoon trail, trip to Hell, circus side show, illusion show, through the trenches, Hell's Half Acre, Anita Beautiful, Ten-in-One, big city cabaret, etc. There is also Prof. Cole's All-American band of 15 pieces.

According to reports received from places where this company has appeared it is something altogether different from the usual run of fair attractions.

Spend Evening With J-H. Party.

A party from Red Lake Falls consisting of Mayor and Mrs. LaBissionere, Dr. N. M. Watson, Miss Marie Findeisen and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harren motored to Thief River Falls Sunday to spend the evening with Governor Pleasant of Louisiana and his party.

WILL CUT 5,000 TONS OF WILD HAY NEAR HERE

CHAIN OF MONTANA BANKS BUY STUMPAGE ON INDIAN RESERVE.

LOCAL FIRM HAS CONTRACT

BALED ON GROUND AND HAULED BY TRACTOR TO GOODRIDGE.

A representative of a chain of Montana banks was in Pennington county this week and made arrangements for the cutting of 5,000 tons of wild hay on the Red Lake Indian reservation. The contract was let to Swartz & Johnson of this city, who will take over the entire job, from cutting the crop to placing it on cars at Goodridge.

Bought Stumpage Outright.

The Montana representative purchased the right to cut the crop on the reservation from the government direct, paying one dollar per ton for the stumpage rights. The contract for the work of putting up the hay is not given out but it is known that the fodder will be rather expensive by the time it reaches points at which it is to be fed to the cattle.

Baled on Ground.

Baling machines will be erected at convenient points near the supply and the hay will be hauled to Goodridge, the nearest point at which the railroad can be reached. The distance will average 20 miles and as this is farther than the product can be profitably transported with horses it is likely that tractors will be employed. The contractors figure that they can hitch at least five loads of two tons each behind one of these machines and make the journey in comparatively short time.

Will Take Three Months.

The contractors will use about 50 head of horses on the job and will employ all the men they can get. The horses will be hired from the farmers of the neighborhood as far as possible but it will probably be necessary to secure some from other sources.

It will take at least three months to finish the job and weather conditions may delay its completion even beyond that date. Three hundred cars will be required in the transportation of the fodder, this part of the program taking up one entire month even though it is found possible to ship out ten cars per day. All shipments will be made over the Minnesota Northwestern to Thief River Falls, from which point they will go westward over the Soo.

More May Follow.

The 5,000 tons secured by this combination is only a small part of the hay available in the eastern part of Pennington county and on the Red Lake reservation, and it is probable that others will be on the ground before long for the purpose of securing a portion of what must otherwise go to waste. Sections of meadow are still showing the effects of high water, but these are fast disappearing and unless there should come an unusual amount of rain a large part of the wild hay in that region can be salvaged.

COUNCIL FAVORS CLOSING OF ALLEY

Because passing drays and other vehicles disturbed children while at study, ruined the playground and even involved danger to small children while at play, the city council Tuesday evening voted in favor of closing the alley in block 19.

Attorney Hans Chommie appeared before the city dads and presented the petition of Independent School district No. 18 and pointed out the reasons why the school board wished to have the portion of the alley running across the school grounds closed to traffic. Attorney Chommie said that as the matter stood the playground was spoiled by the passing over the grounds of drays and other vehicles and that there was danger of injuring small children, and believed it was the proper thing to close the alley.

Supt. Peterson of the light department, speaking in behalf of the city, said that at some future time the electric wires may be put in the alley and he wished to have a reservation made at this time allowing the city to install a pole on the grounds should they ever make the change in the future, thus avoiding trouble in time to come. All the councilmen voted in favor of the petition with the exception of Alderman Froseth, who said he would vote "yes" if the new outlet gave one enough room to make a turn with a vehicle.

Dr. Mellby of the school board said the board guaranteed to give them enough room to make the turn, saying that the present space of fifteen feet could be enlarged to 20 at the curve. Dr. Mellby also told the council that the Central school grounds had always been an eyesore and that it was the intention of the board to improve the grounds and [illegible] ing around the place [illegible]

ance. Had the proposition failed to pass at this meeting it would have meant the abandoning of the work so far as Pennington county was concerned, while at the same time the people here would have to pay their share of the appropriations allowed other counties.

Farmers Present Case.

The matters came up on Monday evening. Farmers were present in considerable numbers from many sections of the county and were unanimous in pleading that the appropriation be made. Among the speakers were President Hans Anton of the Bureau; Fred Beerbower, R. J. McKercher, Paul Engelstad, A. J. Anderson, G. L. Sterns and others. The latter pointed out that an appropriation of $1,500 for this purpose would mean a cost of 80 cents for every quarter section of land in the county. Mr. Anton explained what had been accomplished by the bureau in the past and told something of the program for the future. Mr. McKercher believed that the work of the organization in the matter of cow testing alone was worth more than its entire cost. Mr. Engelstad said that the members who went into the organization when it was first launched paid dues for two years and it would be a hard matter to explain to these parties that they had been deceived. County Agent J. J. McCann presented a statement showing what had been attempted during the past year. He said that those who criticised the agent for not coming to their places were themselves to blame as it was only necessary to notify him and he would certainly be there.

No Vote Taken.

It was evident that in the absence of Chairman O. J. Peterson of the board, a vote would result in a deadlock, Commissioners Robert McGinn and J. S. Roy favoring the project, while their two colleagues opposed it. The latter stated that while they were in favor of progressive measures, they figured that the cost of the bureau was greater than the benefit derived. It was finally decided to lay the matter over until the next day when the full board would be present.

Peterson Breaks Tie.

It was Tuesday evening before the matter was again reached. After supper Mr. Peterson stated that there was no use beating about the bush—it had to be settled one way or another. He also said it would be better for all concerned if the action taken were unanimous. Mr. Roy moved that the request of the farm bureau association be granted and this was seconded by Mr. McGinn. Commissioners Naplin and Hanson stood by their guns and voted "no," while Mr. Peterson voted with the affirmative. He stated that it was evident that a large number of farmers in the county wished the bureau continued and as they were the taxpayers he hardly felt justified in denying their request.

Flood Sufferers, Attention.

Blanks for reporting all losses from the rains and flood have been received at the Farm Bureau office from Deputy Commissioner J. H. Hay. Mr. Hay is anxious to secure the names of all who have suffered any loss from the recent floods. If any damage has been caused farmers are asked to call at the Farm Bureau office and secure blanks to be filled out and sent in to the commissioners department.

All the Sons of Norway lodges in this section of the country will hold a joint picnic at Maple Lake on Sunday. This is an annual event and looked forward to with a great deal of interest and pleasure by all members.

The great feature of this outing is the presence of all the singing societies connected with the organization. The men's singing societies from Thief River Falls, Crookston, Grand Forks, Fertile, Ada, Climax, Halstad, Fisher, Eldred, Gary and many other places will be on hand and there will be instrumental music as well.

Thief River Falls always sends a large delegation to these picnics and if the weather is favorable the crowd will this year be larger than ever.

"There can be no double standard," says Evangelist Mathus. "Common sense demands that a man shall live just as clean a life as he expects his wife to live." Stress is being placed upon clean and righteous living and every reasonable person will say that it is right.

Sunday night closes the third week of the series of Evangelistic meetings. Next week will be the last.

Concert Saturday.

Next Saturday evening there will be a concert given by the adults and Mr. Preston has something good in store for music-lovers. After the concert Mr. Mathus will preach on the subject, "Blocking Angels."

There will be three services Sunday: Morning at 11 for all; afternoon at 3 for men only, and 8:30 a service for everyone. There will be a meeting for women at the Presbyterian church at 3:30.

The attendance the second week was more than double that of the first, and this week is better than last. There were four great services last Sunday.

In a few minutes the amount necessary to cover the expenses of the campaign aside from the Evangelist's offering, which will be taken the last Sunday, was raised.

Service for Men.

The service for men was a good one. A large number were present and listened to an address that every man in the city should have heard, while a good company of women gathered at the Presbyterian church to hear Mrs. Preston.

Little Folks' Concert.

The concert given by more than 50 of the little folks last Saturday evening was one of the best ever. Lois Vistaunet, Alice Gobler, Ariel Kinghorn and Harold Will rendered solos in a delightful manner. The flag song and drills as a closing number was one of the finest ever seen here.

Sunday evening a special feature was the song by the male chorus.

Rural School Notes

The returns for the March and May examinations, after considerable delay, have now been received. The High School Board Certificates will be sent out from this office this week. All pupils passing the required subjects for graduation, will receive their diplomas at a later date.

The county graduation exercises, which were planned on being held must now be dispensed with, as nearly all the teachers of the rural schools are now in attendance at summer schools. The credit to a great extent is due to the diligent and untiring work of these teachers. The pupils of the rural schools of the county feel that their teachers should be present at these exercises. Since this is not now possible we must abide by this decision, caused by the delay of the state department in forwarding the returns.

The following is a list of names of all pupils together with the names of their teachers, who took either the March or May examinations or both and received a credit of passed or passed plus as the case may be:

The subscription money turned in on this offer varied but a few dollars among those who made reports. The Prize Ballot winners will be announced by letter.

[illegible] week—
[illegible] bitions are aroused—
[illegible] mination springs forth—
[illegible] re made—
[illegible] appear—

[illegible] Times' Automobile and Prize [illegible] aign, which started with a flourish and promises to be intensely interesting and exciting. The already famous free-for-all prize distribution in which a snappy Scripps-Booth Roadster and a Ford Touring car with many other prizes are the awards to be plucked are plunging the Club Members into the merry point-getting with such vigor and enthusiasm that startling developments are expected. Instead of interest abating, as one would naturally think after the first big blow-off had passed, interest is still growing.

The campaign's meteoric career has covered Pennington county—and beyond—for inquiries have been received from most every town and community for miles around. Verily the wonderful prize offer has been heralded by the public as the biggest thing of its kind that ever happened in this section. The increased spirit with which voting is progressing is also perceptible. Club Members are getting down to business now, it appears, and subscriptions and points are coming in in quantities. They are busying themselves in nearing step by step the coveted goal. You can't blame them, though, for voting so energetically. Those eight costly prizes that await the ambitious ones, are certainly worth putting forth every ounce of energy for.

Wants to See the Car.

An indication of the interest that the list of prizes has created, is the fact that some of the dealers have told the Club Manager of instances where club members and their friends called at the dealer's store to inspect the prizes.

Mr. Streeter of the Peoples Auto company, in commenting upon such an incident the other day, said:

"The young lady came in and asked if we would mind showing her the Scripps-Booth Roadster The Times will give away. I told her we were glad, indeed, to show her, and explain all about the car. She stood before the car for several minutes in silent admiration.

"I asked her how she liked the Roadster. She said: 'Like it! Why I think the Scripps-Booth is the peachiest little car and I like it fine. I want it—and believe me—I'm going to win it or know why.'"

That's about the way the other club members feel about the half dozen prizes that will be distributed. Any one of the prizes offered is worth many times the effort it will take to win it.

Club Members Determined.

A notable feature of today's point standings are the impressive number of workers who are just beginning to show signs of activity. A short time ago nobody thought they would be contenders. Over night, almost, they suddenly sprung into action. Today—who knows but what THEY may be the ones to win the valuable prizes?

Thus far this week there have been particularly noticeable signs of "getting busy" in the country territory. One Club Member had 2,000 points last time the list was published. She got busy and phoned nine of her friends for subscriptions, and got seven, which won her a prize ballot and today she is among the leaders.

Don't feel that you are getting a late start if you haven't jumped out of the free point class. No one has done a great deal yet and the "winning points," are still to be colected. The offer this week of 25,000 extra points for each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in, means this much, that you can start now and still be a big winner. The energetic person who realizes a good thing will find it in our plan. You will find it a pleasing and successful venture. It will pay and give you confidence in doing things. Whether you choose to enter the campaign or not, you cannot settle the question by inaction. Your decision in starting is merely putting the matter to the performance test.

Time Is Valuable.

It is remarkable the way people are taking such a deep interest in the campaign and the Club Members. Lots of workers get points from the most unexpected sources—often from friends who see their name in the list. Only yesterday the Club Manager received a letter from Norfolk, Va., containing points that the writer wished placed to the credit of a certain Club Member.

New workers continue to enter from day to day. Others start out to gather their first points and find it so interesting that they jump into a high position. To be in a high position at the close of this campaign, means that you will share in one of the most remarkable prize distributions in the history of Pennington county. It will be all over in a few weeks. That's why time is so valuable now!

Extra Point Offer This Week.

Starting today (Thursday) and closing Wednesday, July 30th, at 6 p. m., we will award 25,000 extra points on each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in. Turn in as many $20 subscription clubs as you wish. No limit. Every one will count you 25,000 extra points. The more clubs you obtain the more extra points you will receive. And the regular schedule of points shown on the receipt books are in addition to these extra points. Get right out now. This is your one big chance to get in the lead. Don't wait too long. Time flies, figuratively speaking, and the rest won't wait for you to catch up with them. You can do it now in just a short time. Later it won't be so easy.

The list of names and points will be published again next week. Try and see if you can't have MORE POINTS by that time. Then your friends will know that you are made of the qualities that WIN—pluck and perseverance. That's all you need in this race.

CONTRACTS ASSURE PRICES TO FARMERS

Reflection to farmers of the guaranteed prices for wheat is assured by contracts made by the United States Grain corporation with millers and grain dealers, whereby purchases of wheat are to be made at the guaranteed price based on proper grade and dockage, at the terminal most advantageously reached, according to Washington dispatches.

To avoid difficulties over grading, [illegible] overnment is arranging a stan[illegible] tion of grain grades to be in[illegible] all localities and to re[illegible] direction of the United States department of agriculture.

The government contracts with the grain men and millers, the dispatches said, provide that farmers or buyers are privileged to submit a sample of wheat, over which there is a dispute, to the vicepresident of the grain corporation in their district and obtain from him a review of their case. Final decision may be made by the wheat director.

WANT BAND BACK TO OLD STANDARD

"We want to bring the band [illegible] for several returned musicians of the A. E. F. who are desirous of locating here, Conductor Cordes believes it will be possible for Thief River Falls to again possess a first-class musical organization as it did in 1914.

At this time there are several fine musicians who are in communication with the local band and will come here as soon as a position can be found for them. Mr. Cordes believes there is no bigger or better advertisement for a town than a good band and he is desirous of working up the present band to a high standard.

During the month the band has been augmented considerably with the return of Lawrence Hermanson, alto; George Loken, clarinet; Perry Froseth, trombone, and Arthur Granum, drummer, all of whom held down first chair in their respective departments of the 352nd Infantry band, 88th division. These young men have had over a year's straight playing with this high class military band and have gained many new ideas which will be installed in the local band. Peter Peterson, deputy city clerk, who has recently returned from overseas, will be on the job here shortly and will again take his seat with the band.

Several sections of the local musical organization are not as strong as is desired at this time and it is the intention of the leader to strengthen these with experienced men. The band would be very glad to assist local business men and cooperate with them in securing help when they need it and would in this way accomplish a double purpose by giving band men first place.

The band if it can be worked back to its old standard promises to give the public some excellent concerts during the winter months to come, a feature which has always been highly appreciated by Thief River Falls people. This was shown at concerts by the band before it was broken up as the result of the war declaration when most of its members signed up with Uncle Sam.

THIEF RIVER FALLS SELECTED AS SITE FOR COMMUNITY HOME.

CAMPAIGN STARTS AUG. 3

COUNTY WILL BE EXPECTED TO RAISE $4,000 DURING WEEK FOLLOWING.

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign will be launced in Pennington county on Sunday, August 3, the aim being to raise $4,000 during the six days following. The county is a part of District No. 26, of which L. A. Lampert of this city is chairman and which comprises the counties of Kittson, Marshall and Roseau, besides Pennington. The chairman in charge of the local drive is L. H. Lawrence, and both have perfected plans for a rapid, intensive campaign.

The Salvation Army committee in charge of the selection of sites for community houses has chosen Thief River Falls as the place where one will be located. The cost of this structure when completed will be in the neighborhood of $12,000 and will be devoted entirely to public welfare work. There will be hundreds of these buildings scattered over the country and they will form a chain of welfare stations from one end of the land to the other.

Elks and Community Girls.

The members of the Elks lodge have everywhere become interested in the success of this enterprise and are giving the army most valuable support. A regular drive for funds will be headed by members of that organization, and anyone knowing of the reputation of these men for getting what they go after will entertain no doubt of the success of the campaign.

The Community Girls have thrown their weight in with that of the Elks and are going to give the move every assistance in their power. The two organizations will have a booth at the county fair, for instance, and practically the entire proceeds will go to the Salvantionist's fund. At this booth the girls will preside while the Elks stay on the outside and drum up trade. Everything from hamburger sandwiches to toy balloons will be sold and it is certain that business will be brisk.

Soldiers Will Help.

There is one bunch of boosters that may be depended on to go the limit in assisting the Salvation Army to raise this money. The soldiers just back from France will not be slow in coming to the front when anything affecting the "doughnut girls" is under consideration. The Salvation Army earned the eternal gratitude of the fighters over on the other side and the latter will take this opportunity of showing their appreciation.

There should be no difficulty in raising the required sum either in the county or district.

Big Features For Fair.

Secretary G. Howard Smith, of the fair board, announced today that the entire cost for amusements at the fair to be held on August 6, 7, and 8, will total the sum of $5,000. Attractions to be staged before the grandstand will cost probably more than the entire gate receipts of last year's fair. He also announced that owing to the high cost of the program to be [illegible] the grandstand, it would [illegible] to eliminate all compli[illegible]. Secretary Smith is [illegible]

DRAINAGE UNITS ONLY SOLUTION FLOOD PROBLEM

RED CROSS AND DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE.

The formation of drainage districts under the Cliff law of 1917 presents the most dependable guarantee against a recurrence of the annoying and costly floods in this section of the state, according to the best authorities on the subject, and steps will at once be taken to organize two such districts for northwestern Minnesota. One will embrace the watershed of the Red Lake river while the other will serve the district drained by the Roseau.

Well-Attended Meeting.

The meeting called by President Severtson of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association for the purpose of considering relief measures for those who had suffered loss by reason of the recent floods was held at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Tuesday. It was perhaps the most representative gathering of the kind ever seen in this section and there is every reason to believe that its deliberations will result in some well-defined plan of action.

State Engineer Speaks.

Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment farm, Crookston, was elected chairman at the organization meeting in the forenoon, and he appointed a committee to confer with J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, with regard to a plan of relief to be followed in the case of the settlers in the Mud Lake basin whose crops had been destroyed by the high water. This committee was composed of the different county agents in the district and two farmers from each of the townships affected.

Flood Was Unprecedented.

State Engineer J. E. Willard was present and stated that no drainage system devised could have taken care of the water falling during the first two days of the present month, but that improvements could undoubtedly be made which would insure a more rapid disposal of the surplus. He advocated the forming of a drainage district under the Cliff law of 1917, and the first steps toward this end were taken at the afternoon session.

Mr. Willard explained the plan of assessment under the Cliff law and the system employed in getting the matter started. His information was supplemented by Mr. Selvig who explained the different sections of the act more in detail.

Herbert A. Hart of Fargo, drainage engineer for North Dakota, told of what had been done in carrying out the Tri-State project about the headwaters of the Red River of the North in the vicinity of Big Stone and Tra-

COUNTY BOARD MAKES TOUR OF INSPECTION TO EAST END.

Before final adjournment on Wednesday the county commissioners considered it advisable to make a trip of inspection to the eastern end of the county in order to see for themselves just what damage had been done by the recent floods and also to see if some plan could not be evolved for preventing a recurrence of the trouble. All the members and County Auditor T. P. Anderson made the trip and a rather thoro investigation was made.

The board members are unanimous in the opinion that relief could be had by the continuation of ditch No. 13 westward to a point on the north center line of section 30 in Silverton township. This is a distance of 15 miles and the suggested ditch would traverse a good share of the county, running a short distance to the south of Goodridge and Mavie. At the point of termination it would empty into a natural coulee which would make it an easy matter to turn the water into the Red Lake river. The distance from the end of the ditch to the stream is only four miles and the ditching of this distance presents no difficult engineering problems. This would do away with the unsatisfactory northward turn of ditch No. 18 and relieve the pressure on that overtaxed artery. It would also mean that the demands made upon the Thief River would be greatly reduced through the turning of the large amount of water now forced onto that stream into the Red Lake.

The commissioners were only concerned with the feasibility of the plan, as anything in the nature of an actual demand for the improvement must come from the residents of the territory to be served.

FORMER HAS MAJORITY OF TWENTY-FIVE OVER W. A. BOREEN.

LEVY IS AGAIN $45,000

SAME AS FOR PAST TWO YEARS IN SPITE OF INCREASED COST.

Dr. O. F. Mellby and Lars Backe were elected to succeed themselves as members of the school board of District No. 18, in which is located Thief River Falls, at the anual election last Saturday evening. The ballots cast numbered an even 500, this being the largest turnout at a school election in many years.

DR. O. F. MELLBY

Dark Horse Entered.

No canddate had filed against the present officials up to the legal date for the expiration of such declaration and it was figured that there would be no opposition. At the last minute, however, W. A. Boreen was entered over the sticker route, it being the understanding that he was in the race against Dr. Mellby. This brought forth special efforts on the part of the latter's friends, with the following result: Backe, 352; Mellby, 256; Boreen, 231. There were 12 spoiled ballots and a considerable number carrying the name of but one candidate.

LARS BACKE

Levy Remains the Same.

Before the meeting was opened to balloting, the annual reports of Clerk P. O. Myhrum and Treasurer Lars Backe were read and the levy for the ensuing year decided upon. The same sum as for the past two years—$45,000—was asked for and voted without a dissenting voice. That a larger amount was not deemed necessary is rather surprising when the advanced cost of everything is taken into consideration. The sum will not quite meet the pay roll for the year, even after leaving out the janitors.

Money to Pay Bonds.

The total outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district is $158,800. All these bonds with the exception of one for $6,800, due Nov. 1, this year, and a refunding issue due July 1, 1932, are drawing interest at the rate of four per cent, the exceptions noted drawing five per cent. There is money available with which to meet the bond payment on Nov. 1 and this will be retired.

Receive Increased Aid.

The district starts the year with a cash balance of $12,715.10 in the treasury. This added to the levy is not sufficient to meet the requirements but it is expected that with the federal and state aid the matter may be managed. The district will come in for a considerable sum by qualifying under the Smith-Hughes act and a number of departments are being equipped to meet the specifications of this legislation. This is extended under certain conditions to the agricultural, manual training and commercial divisions. A new man is to be added as teacher of the latter course, as it is felt that one cannot do justice to the large number of pupils selecting it as part of their high school work.

The affairs of the district are in very good condition and all are looking forward to a successful school year. [illegible]

most of them stopped with friends and it was impossible to secure their names. H. Mayne Stanton, until recently editor of the Daily Pioneer and now secretary of the commercial club, was on the job. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stanton and they were visitors at the home of E. M. Stanton while in the city. The new secretary is one of the best boosters in this section of the state, being thoroughly acquainted with nearly every part of it and having a faith in its future that nothing is ever permitted to overshadow. When the Bemidji club selected Mayne as the party to do all the hard and at times disagreeable work connected with their organization they picked out the one man who may be depended on never to shirk. Mr. Stanton recently returned to Bemidji after having served his turn in the army and is more than ever convinced that northern Minnesota is the best place on earth.

Big Ditches Are Finished.

Judge William Watts at Roseau on Monday accepted a judicial ditch constructed at a cost of approximately $340,000 and draining lands for 13 miles in northwestern Roseau county. A final hearing was held previous to the acceptance of the work. One thousand dollars was withheld from the contractors, the Northwestern Drainage company of this city, so that the places in the ditch where "caving-ins" have been found can be repaired. The excavation work alone cost $263,551.53.

Back From Service.

Edward Karwand, who before his entry into the military service was cashier of the Hazel State bank, has returned from the discharge camp and is visiting in the city until the last of the month, when he will return to Hazel to take up his former position. Mr. Karwand spent several months in France before the close of the war and was later sent with the American forces to Coblenz, Germany. He was in the air service.

FAIR MANAGERS SWITCH SHOWS, SECURING BEST

NEW AND NOVEL FEATURES

The directors of the Pennington county fair have arrived at the conclusion that the people are entitled to the best there is in the line of amusements at the annual show. Every member has long realized that the ordinary run of carnival troups do not quite come up to expectations, no matter how carefully their past history is looked into. At the same time it is recognized that something in the line of amusement features must be provided. It has been decided that the best was none too good and old agreements therefore cancelled. Now a regular amusement organization will have charge and the people will see something worth their while during fair week.

The World's Fair Shows.

On Monday a contract was closed with M. G. Dodson, general manager of the Worlds Fair Shows, whereby that company will furnish the special attractions. The troupe will come here direct from a very successful run at Virginia, where they are at present furnishing the attractions for the Elks Home Coming Week. After their dates in Thief River Falls have been filled the company goes to Hibbing for a week.

Have Special Train.

Just to prove that this is no small outfit it is announced that they travel in their own special train of 22 cars and carry 450 people. There are a total of 14 high class shows.

The predominating feature and one that has created a great deal of interest wherever the company has appeared is the big Liberty Circus, or educated horse show, where Prof. Ottis Loretta exhibits King Alcyone, the equine wonder in feats of musical ingenuity that are hardly conceivable and heretofore never attempted in animal training. Another feature is the big black bear that rides the bucking mule until the latter is thoroughly conquered. This particular act is one of the funniest ever offered and is especially interesting and entertaining to the ladies and children. Other attractions to be found along the big, glad pike, with its ten thousand electric lights, is the "whip," one of the very latest riding devices. There is also a ten thousand dollar Parker three-abreast carousal, a big ferris wheel, athletic show, honeymoon trail, trip to Hell, circus side show, illusion show, through the trenches, Hell's Half Acre, Anita Beautiful, Ten-in-One, big city cabaret, etc. There is also Prof. Cole's All-American band of 15 pieces.

According to reports received from places where this company has appeared it is something altogether different from the usual run of fair attractions.

Spend Evening With J-H. Party.

A party from Red Lake Falls consisting of Mayor and Mrs. LaBissionlere, Dr. N. M. Watson, Miss Marie Findeisen and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harren motored to Thief River Falls Sunday to spend the evening with Governor Pleasant of Louisiana and his party.

WILL CUT 5,000 TONS OF WILD HAY NEAR HERE

BALED ON GROUND AND HAULED BY TRACTOR TO GOODRIDGE.

A representative of a chain of Montana banks was in Pennington county this week and made arrangements for the cutting of 5,000 tons of wild hay on the Red Lake Indian reservation. The contract was let to Swartz & Johnson of this city, who will take over the entire job, from cutting the crop to placing it on cars at Goodridge.

Bought Stumpage Outright.

The Montana representative purchased the right to cut the crop on the reservation from the government direct, paying one dollar per ton for the stumpage rights. The contract for the work of putting up the hay is not given out but it is known that the fodder will be rather expensive by the time it reaches points at which it is to be fed to the cattle.

Baled on Ground.

Baling machines will be erected at convenient points near the supply and the hay will be hauled to Goodridge, the nearest point at which the railroad can be reached. The distance will average 20 miles and as this is farther than the product can be profitably transported with horses it is likely that tractors will be employed. The contractors figure that they can hitch at least five loads of two tons each behind one of these machines and make the journey in comparatively short time.

Will Take Three Months.

The contractors will use about 50 head of horses on the job and will employ all the men they can get. The horses will be hired from the farmers of the neighborhood as far as possible but it will probably be necessary to secure some from other sources.

It will take at least three months to finish the job and weather conditions may delay its completion even beyond that date. Three hundred cars will be required in the transportation of the fodder, this part of the program taking up one entire month even though it is found possible to ship out ten cars per day. All shipments will be made over the Minnesota Northwestern to Thief River Falls, from which point they will go westward over the Soo.

More May Follow.

The 5,000 tons secured by this combination is only a small part of the hay available in the eastern part of Pennington county and on the Red Lake reservation, and it is probable that others will be on the ground before long for the purpose of securing a portion of what must otherwise go to waste. Sections of meadow are still showing the effects of high water, but these are fast disappearing and unless there should come an unusual amount of rain a large part of the wild hay in that region can be salvaged.

COUNCIL FAVORS CLOSING OF ALLEY

Because passing drays and other vehicles disturbed children while at study, ruined the playground and even involved danger to small children while at play, the city council Tuesday evening voted in favor of closing the alley in block 19.

Attorney Hans Chommie appeared before the city dads and presented the petition of Independent School district No. 18 and pointed out the reasons why the school board wished to have the portion of the alley running across the school grounds closed to traffic. Attorney Chommie said that as the matter stood the playground was spoiled by the passing over the grounds of drays and other vehicles and that there was danger of injuring small children, and believed it was the proper thing to close the alley.

Supt. Peterson of the light department, speaking in behalf of the city, said that at some future time the electric wires may be put in the alley and he wished to have a reservation made at this time allowing the city to install a pole on the grounds should they ever make the change in the future, thus avoiding trouble in time to come. All the councilmen voted in favor of the petition with the exception of Alderman Froseth, who said he would vote "yes" if the new outlet gave one enough room to make a turn with a vehicle.

Dr. Mellby of the school board said the board guaranteed to give them enough room to make the turn, saying that the present space of fifteen feet could be enlarged to 20 at the curve. Dr. Mellby also told the council that the Central school grounds had always been an eyesore and that it was the intention of the board to improve the grounds and [illegible] ing around the place and [illegible]

ance. Had the proposition failed to pass at this meeting it would have meant the abandoning of the work so far as Pennington county was concerned, while at the same time the people here would have to pay their share of the appropriations allowed other counties.

Farmers Present Case.

The matters came up on Monday evening. Farmers were present in considerable numbers from many sections of the county and were unanimous in pleading that the appropriation be made. Among the speakers were President Hans Anton of the Bureau; Fred Beerbower, R. J. McKercher, Paul Engelstad, A. J. Anderson, G. L. Sterns and others. The latter pointed out that an appropriation of $1,500 for this purpose would mean a cost of 80 cents for every quarter section of land in the county. Mr. Anton explained what had been accomplished by the bureau in the past and told something of the program for the future. Mr. McKercher believed that the work of the organization in the matter of cow testing alone was worth more than its entire cost. Mr. Engelstad said that the members who went into the organization when it was first launched paid dues for two years and it would be a hard matter to explain to these parties that they had been deceived. County Agent J. J. McCann presented a statement showing what had been attempted during the past year. He said that those who criticised the agent for not coming to their places were themselves to blame as it was only necessary to notify him and he would certainly be there."

No Vote Taken.

It was evident that in the absence of Chairman O. J. Peterson of the board, a vote would result in a deadlock, Commissioners Robert McGinn and J. S. Roy favoring the project, while their two colleagues opposed it. The latter stated that while they were in favor of progressive measures, they figured that the cost of the bureau was greater than the benefit derived. It was finally decided to lay the matter over until the next day when the full board would be present.

Peterson Breaks Tie.

It was Tuesday evening before the matter was again reached. After supper Mr. Peterson stated that there was no use beating about the bush—it had to be settled one way or another. He also said it would be better for all concerned if the action taken were unanimous. Mr. Roy moved that the request of the farm bureau association be granted and this was seconded by Mr. McGinn. Commissioners Naplin and Hanson stood by their guns and voted "no," while Mr. Peterson voted with the affirmative. He stated that it was evident that a large number of farmers in the county wished the bureau continued and as they were the taxpayers he hardly felt justified in denying their request.

Flood Sufferers, Attention.

Blanks for reporting all losses from the rains and flood have been received at the Farm Bureau office from Deputy Commissioner J. H. Hay. Mr. Hay is anxious to secure the names of all who have suffered any loss from the recent floods. If any damage has been caused farmers are asked to call at the Farm Bureau office and secure blanks to be filled out and sent in to the commissioners department.

All the Sons of Norway lodges in this section of the country will hold a joint picnic at Maple Lake on Sunday. This is an annual event and looked forward to with a great deal of interest and pleasure by all members.

The great feature of this outing is the presence of all the singing societies connected with the organization. The men's singing societies from Thief River Falls, Crookston, Grand Forks, Fertile, Ada, Climax, Halstad, Fisher, Eldred, Gary and many other places will be on hand and there will be instrumental music as well.

Thief River Falls always sends a large delegation to these picnics and if the weather is favorable the crowd will this year be larger than ever.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT AUDI-

Rural School Notes

The returns for the March and May examinations, after considerable delay, have now been received. The High School Board Certificates will be sent out from this office this week. All pupils passing the required subjects for graduation, will receive their diplomas at a later date.

The county graduation exercises, which were planned on being held must now be dispensed with, as nearly all the teachers of the rural schools are now in attendance at summer schools. The credit to a great extent is due to the diligent and untiring work of these teachers. The pupils of the rural schools of the county feel that their teachers should be present at these exercises. Since this is not now possible we must abide by this decision, caused by the delay of the state department in forwarding the returns.

The following is a list of names of all pupils [illegible], with the names of their teachers, who took either the March or May examinations or both and received a credit of passed or passed plus as the case may be:

The O. D. O. Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. H. O. Loken at her home, 315 Second street west. The guests of honor were Mrs. Ole Torrison and Mrs. C. H. Borne of Minneapolis, and Mrs. R. E. Fillmore of this city, who will soon leave for Gladstone, Mich., where she will make her future home. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers taken from Mrs. J. M. Bishop's flower beds. The afternoon was spent in needle work and music with a delicious three course luncheon served at five o'clock.

Weiner Roast Success.

Those who attended the weiner roast given by the Girls Community club, Monday evening at the F. T. Satre home a few miles south of the city, report the best of a time. Altho it was a continual battle with the mosquitoes the girls managed to roast their weiners outside at a large bonfire, but were more than willing to make their escape to the house for the rest of the lunch. They were entertained during the entire evening with music, and returned to the city in cars about eleven o'clock when the party was broken up. About fifty members attended.

Times' Automobile and Prize paign, which started with a flourish and promises to be intensely interesting and exciting. The already famous free-for-all prize distribution in which a snappy Scripps-Booth Roadster and a Ford Touring car with many other prizes are the awards to be plucked are plunging the Club Members into the merry point-getting with such vigor and enthusiasm that startling developments are expected. Instead of interest abating, as one would naturally think after the first big blow-off had passed, interest is still growing.

The campaign's meteoric career has covered Pennington county—and beyond—for inquiries have been received from most every town and community for miles around. Verily the wonderful prize offer has been heralded by the public as the biggest thing of its kind that ever happened in this section. The increased spirit with which voting is progressing is also perceptible. Club Members are getting down to business now, it appears, and subscriptions and points are coming in in quantities. They are busying themselves in nearing step by step the coveted goal. You can't blame them, though, for voting so energetically. Those eight costly prizes that await the ambitious ones, are certainly worth putting forth every ounce of energy for.

Wants to See the Car.

An indication of the interest that the list of prizes has created, is the fact that some of the dealers have told the Club Manager of instances where club members and their friends called at the dealer's store to inspect the prizes.

Mr. Streeter of the Peoples Auto company, in commenting upon such an incident the other day, said:

"The young lady came in and asked if we would mind showing her the Scripps-Booth Roadster The Times will give away. I told her we were glad, indeed, to show her, and explain all about the car. She stood before the car for several minutes in silent admiration.

"I asked her how she liked the Roadster. She said: 'Like it! Why I think the Scripps-Booth is the peachiest little car and I like it fine. I want it—and believe me—I'm going to win it or know why.'"

That's about the way the other club members feel about the half dozen prizes that will be distributed. Any one of the prizes offered is worth many times the effort it will take to win it.

Club Members Determined.

A notable feature of today's point standings are the impressive number of workers who are just beginning to show signs of activity. A short time ago nobody thought they would be contenders. Over night, almost, they suddenly sprung into action. Today—who knows but what THEY may be the ones to win the valuable prizes?

Thus far this week there have been particularly noticeable signs of "getting busy" in the country territory. One Club Member had 2,000 points last time the list was published. She got busy and phoned nine of her friends for subscriptions, and got seven, which won her a prize ballot and today she is among the leaders.

Don't feel that you are getting a late start if you haven't jumped out of the free point class. No one has done a great deal yet and the "winning points," are still to be colected. The offer this week of 25,000 extra points for each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in, means this much, that you can start now and still be a big winner. The energetic person who realizes a good thing will find it in our plan. You will find it a pleasing and successful venture. It will pay and give you confidence in doing things. Whether you choose to enter the campaign or not, you cannot settle the question by inaction. Your decision in starting is merely putting the matter to the performance test.

Time Is Valuable.

It is remarkable the way people are taking such a deep interest in the campaign and the Club Members. Lots of workers get points from the most unexpected sources—often from friends who see their name in the list. Only yesterday the Club Manager received a letter from Norfolk, Va., containing points that the writer wished placed to the credit of a certain Club Member.

New workers continue to enter from day to day. Others start out to gather their first points and find it so interesting that they jump into a high position. To be in a high position at the close of this campaign, means that you will share in one of the most remarkable prize distributions in the history of Pennington county. It will be all over in a few weeks. That's why time is so valuable now!

Extra Point Offer This Week.

Starting today (Thursday) and closing Wednesday, July 30th, at 6 p. m., we will award 25,000 extra points on each $20 worth of new and old subscriptions turned in. Turn in as many $20 subscription clubs as you wish. No limit. Every one will count you 25,000 extra points. The more clubs you obtain the more extra points you will receive. And the regular schedule of points shown on the receipt books are in addition to these extra points. Get right out now. This is your one big chance to get in the lead. Don't wait too long. Time flies, figuratively speaking, and the rest won't wait for you to catch up with them. You can do it now in just a short time. Later it won't be so easy.

The list of names and points will be published again next week. Try and see if you can't have MORE POINTS by that time. Then your friends will know that you are made of the qualities that WIN—pluck and perseverance. That's all you need in this race.

CONTRACTS ASSURE PRICES TO FARMERS

Reflection to farmers of the guaranteed prices for wheat is assured by contracts made by the United States Grain corporation with millers and grain dealers, whereby purchases of wheat are to be made at the guaranteed price based on proper grade and dockage, at the terminal most advantageously reached, according to Washington dispatches.

To avoid difficulties over grading, the government is arranging a standardization of grain grades to be in [illegible] for all localities and to re[illegible] from year to year. [illegible] The standardisation [illegible] compiled from special [illegible] by committees of [illegible] direction of the United States department of agriculture.

The government contracts with the grain men and millers, the dispatches said, provide that farmers or buyers are privileged to submit a sample of wheat, over which there is a dispute, to the vicepresident of the grain corporation in their district and obtain from him a review of their case. Final decision may be made by the wheat director.

WANT BAND BACK TO OLD STANDARD

FORMER A. E. F. MEN TO LOCATE HERE IF POSITIONS ARE SECURED.

"We want to bring the band to the old standard and even surpass it if it is possible," said Conductor [illegible] this morning to The Times [illegible] for several returned musicians of the A. E. F. who are desirous of locating here, Conductor Cordes believes it will be possible for Thief River Falls to again possess a first-class musical organization as it did in 1914.

At this time there are several fine musicians who are in communication with the local band and will come here as soon as a position can be found for them. Mr. Cordes believes there is no bigger or better advertisement for a town than a good band and he is desirous of working up the present band to a high standard.

During the month the band has been augmented considerably with the return of Lawrence Hermanson, alto; George Loken, clarinet; Perry Froseth, trombone, and Arthur Granum, drummer, all of whom held down first chair in their respective departments of the 352nd Infantry band, 88th division. These young men have had over a year's straight playing with this high class military band and have gained many new ideas which will be installed in the local band. Peter Peterson, deputy city clerk, who has recently returned from overseas, will be on the job here shortly and will again take his seat with the band.

Several sections of the local musical organization are not as strong as is desired at this time and it is the intention of the leader to strengthen these with experienced men. The band would be very glad to assist local business men and cooperate with them in securing help when they need it and would in this way accomplish a double purpose by giving band men first place.

The band if it can be worked back to its old standard promises to give the public some excellent concerts during the winter months to come, a feature which has always been highly appreciated by Thief River Falls people. This was shown at concerts by the band before it was broken up as the result of the war declaration when most of its members signed up with Uncle Sam.

THIEF RIVER FALLS SELECTED AS SITE FOR COMMUNITY HOME.

CAMPAIGN STARTS AUG. 3

COUNTY WILL BE EXPECTED TO RAISE $1,000 DURING WEEK FOLLOWING.

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign will be launched in Pennington county on Sunday, August 3, the aim being to raise $1,000 during the six days following. The county is a part of District No. 26, of which L. A. Lafayett of this city is chairman and which comprises the counties of Kittson, Marshall and Roseau, besides Pennington. The chairman in charge of the local drive is L. H. Lawrence, and both have perfected plans for a rapid, intensive campaign.

The Salvation Army committee in charge of the selection of sites for community houses has chosen Thief River Falls as the place where one will be located. The cost of this structure when completed will be in the neighborhood of $12,000 and will be devoted entirely to public welfare work. There will be hundreds of these buildings scattered over the country and they will form a chain of welfare stations from one end of the land to the other.

Elks and Community Girls.

The members of the Elks lodge have everywhere become interested in the success of this enterprise and are giving the army most valuable support. A regular drive for funds will be headed by members of that organization, and anyone knowing of the reputation of these men for getting what they go after will entertain no doubt of the success of the campaign.

The Community Girls have thrown their weight in with that of the Elks and are going to give the move every assistance in their power. The two organizations will have a booth at the county fair, for instance, and practically the entire proceeds will go to the Salvationist's fund. At this booth the girls will preside while the Elks stay on the outside and drum up trade. Everything from hamburger sandwiches to toy balloons will be sold and it is certain that business will be brisk.

Soldiers Will Help.

There is one bunch of boosters that may be depended on to go the limit in assisting the Salvation Army to raise this money. The soldiers just back from France will not be slow in coming to the front when anything affecting the "doughnut girls" is under consideration. The Salvation Army earned the eternal gratitude of the fighters over on the other side and the latter will take this opportunity of showing their appreciation.

There should be no difficulty in raising the required sum either in the county or district.

Big Features For Fair.

Secretary G. Howard Smith, of the fair board, announced today that the entire cost for amusements at the fair to be held on August 6, 7, and 8, will total the sum of $3,000. Attractions to be staged before the grandstand, will cost probably more than the entire gate receipts of last year's fair. He also announced that owing to the high cost of the program to be given before the grandstand, it would be necessary to eliminate all complimentary tickets. Secretary Smith is [illegible] securing the services of [illegible] this time to begin the [illegible] all the weeds on the [illegible] also to give the build[illegible]

DRAINAGE UNITS ONLY SOLUTION FLOOD PROBLEM

RED CROSS AND DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE.

The formation of drainage districts under the Cliff law of 1917 presents the most dependable guarantee against a recurrence of the annoying and costly floods in this section of the state, according to the best authorities on the subject, and steps will at once be taken to organize two such districts for northwestern Minnesota. One will embrace the watershed of the Red Lake river while the other will serve the district drained by the Roseau.

Well-Attended Meeting.

The meeting called by President Severtson of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association for the purpose of considering relief measures for those who had suffered loss by reason of the recent floods was held at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Tuesday. It was perhaps the most representative gathering of the kind ever seen in this section and there is every reason to believe that its deliberations will result in some well-defined plan of action.

State Engineer Speaks.

Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment farm, Crookston, was elected chairman at the organization meeting in the forenoon, and he appointed a committee to confer with J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, with regard to a plan of relief to be followed in the case of the settlers in the Mud lake basin whose crops had been destroyed by the high water. This committee was composed of the different county agents in the district and two farmers from each of the townships affected.

Flood Was Unprecedented.

State Engineer J. E. Willard was present and stated that no drainage system devised could have taken care of the water falling during the first two days of the present month, but that improvements could undoubtedly be made which would insure a more rapid disposal of the surplus. He advocated the forming of a drainage district under the Cliff law of 1917, and the first steps toward this end were taken at the afternoon session. Mr. Willard explained the plan of assessment under the Cliff law and the system employed in getting the matter started. His information was supplemented by Mr. Selvig who explained the different sections of the act more in detail.

Herbert A. Hart of Fargo, drainage engineer for North Dakota, told of what had been done in carrying out the Tri-State project about the headwaters of the Red River of the North in the vicinity of Big Stone and Tra-

DITCH SITUATION IS PARTLY GONE OVER

Before final adjournment on Wednesday the county commissioners considered it advisable to make a trip of inspection to the eastern end of the county in order to see for themselves just what damage had been done by the recent floods and also to see if some plan could not be evolved for preventing a recurrence of the trouble. All the members and County Auditor T. P. Anderson made the trip and a rather thoro investigation was made.

The board members are unanimous in the opinion that relief could be had by the continuation of ditch No. 13 westward to a point on the north center line of section 30 in Silverton township. This is a distance of 15 miles and the suggested ditch would traverse a good share of the county, running a short distance to the south of Goodridge and Mavie. At the point of termination it would empty into a natural coulee which would make it an easy matter to turn the water into the Red Lake river. The distance from the end of the ditch to the stream is only four miles and the ditching of this distance presents no difficult engineering problems. This would do away with the unsatisfactory northward turn of ditch No. 18 and relieve the pressure on that overtaxed artery. It would also mean that the demands made upon the Thief River would be greatly reduced through the turning of the large amount of water now forced onto that stream into the Red Lake.

The commissioners were only concerned with the feasibility of the plan, as anything in the nature of an actual demand for the improvement must come from the residents of the territory to be served.

Prichard Bid Accepted.

Bids for furnishing the city of Thief River Falls with 300 tons of coal for the season of 1919-20 were opened at the council meeting on Tuesday evening. The Prichard company's bid was accepted, they agreeing to furnish the coal for the entire season for $8.70 per ton. The bid of Swartz & Johnson was $8.61 per ton, but as this quotation would vary [illegible] with the [illegible] of coal [illegible]

MELLBY, BACKE RE-ELECTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

FORMER HAS MAJORITY OF TWENTY-FIVE OVER W. A. BOREEN.

LEVY IS AGAIN $45,000

SAME AS FOR PAST TWO YEARS IN SPITE OF INCREASED COST.

Dr. O. F. Mellby and Lars Backe were elected to succeed themselves as members of the school board of District No. 18, in which is located Thief River Falls, at the anual election last Saturday evening. The ballots cast numbered an even 500, this being the largest turnout at a school election in many years.

DR. O. F. MELLBY

Dark Horse Entered.

No candidate had filed against the present officials up to the legal date for the expiration of such declaration and it was figured that there would be no opposition. At the last minute, however, W. A. Boreen was entered over the sticker route, it being the understanding that he was in the race against Dr. Mellby. This brought forth special efforts on the part of the latter's friends, with the following result: Backe, 352; Mellby, 256; Boreen, 231. There were 12 spoiled ballots and a considerable number carrying the name of but one candidate.

LARS BACKE

Levy Remains the Same.

Before the meeting was opened to balloting, the annual reports of Clerk P. O. Myhrum and Treasurer Lars Backe were read and the levy for the ensuing year decided upon. The same sum as for the past two years—$45,000—was asked for and voted without a dissenting voice. That a larger amount was not deemed necessary is rather surprising when the advanced cost of everything is taken into consideration. The sum will not quite meet the pay roll for the year, even after leaving out the janitors.

Money to Pay Bonds.

The total outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district is $158,800. All these bonds with the exception of one for $6,800, due Nov. 1, this year, and a refunding issue due July 1, 1932, are drawing interest at the rate of four per cent, the exception noted drawing five per cent. There is money available with which to meet the bond payment on Nov. 1 and this will be retired.

Receive Increased Aid.

The district starts the year with a cash balance of $12,715.10 in the treasury. This added to the levy is not sufficient to meet the requirements but it is expected that with the federal and state aid the matter may be managed. The district will come in for a considerable sum by qualifying under the Smith-Hughes act and a number of departments are being equipped to meet the specifications of this legislation. This is extended under certain conditions to the agricultural, manual training and commercial divisions. A new man is to be added as teacher of the latter course, as it is felt that one cannot do justice to the large number of pupils selecting it as part of their high school work.

Good Bemidji Delegation.

There were a number of good roads boosters over from Bemidji Sunday night, they having accompanied the Jefferson [illegible] most of them stopped with friends and it was impossible to secure their names. H. Mayne Stanton, until recently editor of the Daily Pioneer and now secretary of the commercial club, was on the job. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stanton and they were visitors at the home of E. M. Stanton while in the city. The new secretary is one of the best boosters in this section of the state, being thoroughly acquainted with nearly every part of it and having a faith in its future that nothing is ever permitted to overshadow. When the Bemidji club selected Mayne as the party to do all the hard and at times disagreeable work connected with their organization they picked out the one man who may be depended on never to shirk. Mr. Stanton recently returned to Bemidji after having served his turn in the army and is more than ever convinced that northern Minnesota is the best place on earth.

Big Ditches Are Finished.

Judge William Watts at Roseau on Monday accepted a judicial ditch constructed at a cost of approximately $340,000 and draining lands for 15 miles in northwestern Roseau county. A final hearing was held previous to the acceptance of the work. One thousand dollars was withheld from the contractors, the Northwestern Drainage company of this city, so that the places in the ditch where "caving-ins" have been found can be repaired. The excavation work alone cost $263,551.53.

Back From Service.

Edward Karwand, who before his entry into the military service was cashier of the Hazel State bank, has returned from the discharge camp and is visiting in the city until the last of the month, when he will return to Hazel to take up his former position. Mr. Karwand spent several months in France before the close of the war and was later sent with the American forces to Coblenz, Germany. He was in the air service.

FAIR MANAGERS SWITCH SHOWS, SECURING BEST

ORGANIZATION CARRYING 550 PEOPLE AND 22 CARS IS BOOKED.

NEW AND NOVEL FEATURES

The directors of the Pennington county fair have arrived at the conclusion that the people are entitled to the best there is in the line of amusements at the annual show. Every member has long realized that the ordinary run of carnival troups do not quite come up to expectations, no matter how carefully their past history is looked into. At the same time it is recognized that something in the line of amusement features must be provided. It has been decided that the best was none too good and old arrangements therefore cancelled. Now a regular amusement organization will have charge and the people will see something worth their while during fair week.

The World's Fair Shows.

On Monday a contract was closed with M. G. Dodson, general manager of the World's Fair Shows, whereby that company will furnish the special attractions. The troupe will come here direct from a very successful run at Virginia, where they are at present furnishing the attractions for the Elks Home Coming Week. After their dates in Thief River Falls have been filled the company goes to Hibbing for a week.

Have Special Train.

Just to prove that this is no small outfit it is announced that they travel in their own special train of 22 cars and carry 450 people. They are a total of 14 high class shows.

The predominating feature and one that has created a great deal of interest wherever the company has appeared is the big Liberty Circus, or educated horse show, where Prof. Otis Loretta exhibits King Alcyone, the equine wonder in feats of musical ingenuity that are hardly conceivable and heretofore never attempted in animal training. Another feature is the big black bear that rides the bucking mule until the latter is thoroughly conquered. This particular act is one of the funniest ever offered and is especially interesting and entertaining to the ladies and children. Other attractions to be found along the big, glad pike, with its ten thousand electric lights, is the "whip," one of the very latest riding devices. There is also a ten thousand dollar Parker three-abreast carousal, a big ferris wheel, athletic show, honeymoon trail, trip to Hell, circus side show, illusion show, through the trenches, Hell's Half Acre, Anita Beautiful, Ten-in-One, big city cabaret, etc. There is also Prof. Cole's All-American band of 15 pieces.

According to reports received from places where this company has appeared it is something altogether different from the usual run of fair attractions.

Spend Evening With J-H. Party.

A party from Red Lake Falls consisting of Mayor and Mrs. LaBissioniere, Dr. N. M. Watson, Miss Marie Findeisen and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harren motored to Thief River Falls Sunday to spend the evening with Governor Pleasant of Louisiana and his party.

To Locate Permanently.

Mrs. A. Sommerfelt and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, arrived last Thursday from Hendrum and will make this city their future home. Dr. Sommerfelt has been in practice here for the last few months.

WILL CUT 5,000 TONS OF WILD HAY NEAR HERE

CHAIN OF MONTANA BANKS BUY STUMPAGE ON INDIAN RESERVE.

BALED ON GROUND AND HAULED BY TRACTOR TO GOODRIDGE.

A representative of a chain of Montana banks was in Pennington county this week and made arrangements for the cutting of 5,000 tons of wild hay on the Red Lake Indian reservation. The contract was let to Swartz & Johnson of this city, who will take over the entire job, from cutting the crop to placing it on cars at Goodridge.

Bought Stumpage Outright.

The Montana representative purchased the right to cut the crop on the reservation from the government direct, paying one dollar per ton for the stumpage rights. The contract for the work of putting up the hay is not given out but it is known that the fodder will be rather expensive by the time it reaches points at which it is to be fed to the cattle.

Baled on Ground.

Baling machines will be erected at convenient points near the supply and the hay will be hauled to Goodridge, the nearest point at which the railroad can be reached. The distance will average 20 miles and as this is farther than the product can be profitably transported with horses it is likely that tractors will be employed. The contractors figure that they can hitch at least five loads of two tons each behind one of these machines and make the journey in comparatively short time.

Will Take Three Months.

The contractors will use about 50 head of horses on the job and will employ all the men they can get. The horses will be hired from the farmers of the neighborhood as far as possible but it will probably be necessary to secure some from other sources.

It will take at least three months to finish the job and weather conditions may delay its completion even beyond that date. Three hundred cars will be required in the transportation of the fodder, this part of the program taking up one entire month even though it is found possible to ship out ten cars per day. All shipments will be made over the Minneapolis Northwestern to Thief River Falls, from which point they will go westward over the Soo.

More May Follow.

The 5,000 tons secured by this combination is only a small part of the hay available in the eastern part of Pennington county and on the Red Lake reservation, and it is probable that others will be on the ground before long for the purpose of securing a portion of what must otherwise go to waste. Sections of meadow are still showing the effects of high water, but these are fast disappearing and unless there should come an unusual amount of rain a large part of the wild hay in that region can be salvaged.

COUNCIL FAVORS CLOSING OF ALLEY

Because passing drays and other vehicles disturbed children while at study, ruined the playground and even involved danger to small children while at play, the city council Tuesday evening voted in favor of closing the alley in block 19.

Attorney Hans Chommie appeared before the city dads and presented the petition of Independent School district No. 18 and pointed out the reasons why the school board wished to have the portion of the alley running across the school grounds closed to traffic. Attorney Chommie said that as the matter stood the playground was spoiled by the passing over the grounds of drays and other vehicles and that there was danger of injuring small children, and believed it was the proper thing to close the alley.

Supt. Peterson of the light department, speaking in behalf of the city, said that at some future time the electric wires may be put in the alley and he wished to have a reservation made at this time allowing the city to install a pole on the grounds should they ever make the change in the future, thus avoiding trouble in time to come. All the councilmen voted in favor of the petition with the exception of Alderman Froseth, who said he would vote "yes" if the new outlet gave one enough room to make a turn with a vehicle.

Dr. Mellby of the school board said the board guaranteed to give them enough room to make the turn, saying that the present space of fifteen feet could be enlarged to 20 at the curve. Dr. Mellby also told the council that the Central school grounds had always been an eyesore and that it was the intention of the board to improve the grounds and put a curbing around the place and [illegible] would be begun as so[illegible] would close th[illegible]

SOLDIER BANDS HAS GREAT REPUTATION

MILLION DOLLAR ORGANIZATION WILL BE HEARD HERE JULY 31.

Uncle Sam's Million Dollar band, premier musical organization of the United States army overseas forces, which saw service in France and Germany and which is composed of 35 efficient musicians, every man a soldier, is going to demonstrate to local citizens, just how, by inspiring musical numbers, they sent the battling Yankees into victorious warfare and through the German stronghold. This band will appear at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, July 31.

Led by Harold Bachman, whose guiding hand conducted their actions in the shadows of the battle lines, the Million Dollar musical organization, so christened by General Liggett, after he had heard them play in France, is on a tour of the principal cities of the United States.

By far the most famous of all military bands which saw service in France and Germany, the aggregation of musicians, affiliated with the 116th Engineers during wartime fury, has been granted a special privilege by high officials of the war department. Permission to tour the country in concert work, under the title given them in war, and clad in their khaki colored uniforms, was obtained by Director Bachman soon after the unit had reached the shores of America.

Land Contest Heard.

A land contest case was heard by Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant of the municipal court last week. Olaf Torger Ness, who has a claim in the Mud lake district, was contested by Herbert Carl Severson, the claim being put forth that the entryman was not a citizen of the United States. J. M. Bishop appeared for Severson, while O. A. Naplin represented Ness. The evidence has been submitted to the officials of the general land office at Crookston.

Another Yank Home.

Alf Krohn returned to the city Tuesday morning after an absence of several months in France with the American expeditionary force. Young Krohn went overseas with a number of replacement engineers and landed in October, 1918, and started moving towards the front when Jerry signed up to end hostilities. Krohn was later transferred to the railroad heavy artillery, with which organization he returned to the United States. He will make this city his home with his father.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF AMERICAN GRAVES

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WORKERS TO SEND PHOTOS TO RELATIVES.

The thousands of mothers and fathers of the heroic American soldiers who died in England, France, Belgium and Germany, will soon receive photographs of the graves where these boys lie.

Recently the Knights of Columbus workers decorated all the mounds with laurel wreaths, and so many letters were received from heart-broken parents wives and sweethearts asking for a description of the last resting place of their loved ones that the "Casey" workers decided to photograph all the graves and send them to the nearest relatives of the fallen fighters.

Above each mound, in serried rows, white crosses mark the graves and on each cross is plainly painted the name of the dead American, his company and the date he was killed.

After the armistice was signed a large number of American colored troops were put to the task of removing American dead from their burial spots on old battlefields to large cemeteries, which are to be cared for by French women in the future.

Colonel Charles C. Pierce, formerly an army chaplain, and now of the quartermaster corps, arrived in the United States last Saturday from France to assume charge of the registration of soldiers' graves service at Washington. Colonel Pierce, who held a similar office in France, announced he believed there was little chance that bodies of American soldiers buried in France would be returned to this country.

Mrs. A. T. Thorson of Rosewood arrived Monday evening to visit a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. Erickson.

BLAME DA[illegible] FOR FLOOD SITUATION

FARMERS IN HOLT NEIGHBORHOOD CLAIM WATER IS BEING HELD BACK.

Saturday of last week about a dozen farmers from the neighborhood of Holt were in the city attempting to get relief from the floods in their neighborhood by having the power dam at this point opened to a greater extent. They went to City Attorney Theodore Quale with their grievances and he explained that there was nothing could be done here that would in any manner affect their situation.

At that time there was perhaps two feet of water going over the dam and it was demonstrated that even at this level the backwater did not extend above five miles up the valley. The ordinary flowage is about four miles on the Thief river and five on [illegible] resided [illegible] 20 miles up the [illegible] can't make no difference [illegible] was no obstruction at this point whatever.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Sentiment and business do not as a rule mix particularly well. Theory and practice are also sometimes widely at variance. No matter how completely this incontestable proposition may upset the notions of those who follow the bent of their own reasoning, even when experience has proven their premise unsound, the fact remains that final outcomes are not always in line with early promises.

This applies particularly to public ownership of general utilities. The theory that the people should own the facilities upon which they are absolutely dependent is essentially correct. That such ownership is invariably the best thing that could be brought about is open to serious question, however. In some instances it has proven a very good thing and has been followed by highly satisfactory results, in others the outcome has been the reverse.

Whether or not the people of Thief River Falls should retain their lease on the power dam in the river at this point depends entirely upon which one of these definitions happens to fit the case here. If the present status is satisfactory and profitable, well and good—it should be continued. If the city would be better off to have the power-producing plant in the hands of private parties, no amount of theorizing should be permitted to stand in the way of an immediate change in policy.

Those who are of the opinion that the dam lease should not be revoked under any circumstances point to the low cost to the city of the power generated. But of what value is this when current costs as much or more here as in neighboring towns? It is a known fact that the power furnished by the dam has been but a small factor in the total required for some time. During the recent high water the auxiliary plant was depended on entirely and when there is a low stage in the river the same situation holds good. For more than a year the dam furnished no assistance whatever in the production of electric current.

But the rental goes on just the same. This fact is overlooked by those who point to the low cost insured through the city's lease.

It has come to a point where the oil engines are the dependable factors in the generating system while the dam has become the auxiliary. It will drop lower and lower in the scale of usefulness as time goes on, it being impossible for the owners to keep it up to the efficiency required by the city's needs because of the enormous outlay involved. The dam has become of less and less use to the city for a number of years past and at times has been a positive detriment.

Under these circumstances, is it worth while for the municipality to insist on the carrying out of its contract with the owners for five years more? There is now an opportunity presented for an entirely new arrangement, and it should be given the most serious consideration. A company of capitalists will take over the dam, purchasing the equity of the present owners, improve the service and guarantee an ample supply of power for all the city's needs. The present owners cannot do this and the people have on more than one occasion shown conclusively that they will not. What then is to become of the property? Everyone is agreed that something will have to be done, even though it is decided to allow things to drift for four or five years. The owners will in all probability be in no better shape for undertaking an extensive improvement program at that time than they are now, while it is not likely that the city will be any more anxious to buy. It is certain that the present rate will be raised to the legal limit and that the city will have to pay. Is it not the wise thing to give this other proposition careful consideration? A long-time contract at a fair rate will in this manner be assured and the city will still be in control of its electric light system.

That is one of the things connected with this matter many people overlook. They are of the opinion that the proposition involves the sale of the electric light plant, when nothing of the kind is intended. The city would continue to be the merchant so far as all light and power is concerned. The new company would simply furnish the power on the switchboard, leaving the distribution as at present arranged.

The sole question to be considered therefore, is: Will the new company furnish the necessary power at a price that will still leave the city a profit? If this is answered in the affirmative and as a further inducement is added the assurance that enough surplus energy will be developed by the improvement of the dam to furnish manufacturing enterprises with the current needed, then the proposition would seem to be worthy of consideration at least.

The company now investigating the matter is satisfied that current can be delivered on the switchboard of the city at a cost of seven cents per kilowat hour for lighting and at from three to four cents for power. At the present rate charged this would leave the city a margin of from two to four cents on lighting and about the same on power. This does not at first glance look like a particularly liberal spread, but it might suffice. That would be a matter for experts to determine.

Superintendent Peterson states that the cost of current delivered on the switchboard is, to the best of his judgment, about one and a quarter cents per kilowat hour. If such is the case the people of this city are paying vastly too much for their light and power. It does not alter the case to say that the money thus paid goes back to the city anyway—the consumers pay it and it does not in the least matter to them whether the extra sum is collected in the form of a light bill or as taxes. Sugar-coating the pill with a large surplus in the electric light treasury may make it easier to swallow but the contents are the same.

The idea that this dam is something handed down through the ages and given into the special keeping of the citizens of Thief River Falls is all poppycock. Some people seem to think that we are under a sort of moral obligation to maintain our present relationship toward it, no matter how irksome or unprofitable the connection may become. They are wrong. The dam should be made use of in the interests of the public, it is true, but it does not follow that the present system is the best by any means. In fact there is a steadily growing tendency toward the belief that any plan which would [illegible] city the benefits of the water power [illegible] without involving it in the endless embarrassment and vexation should be given at least a respectful hearing.

There is nothing reactionary about the proceeding. The village of Grand Rapids, for instance, last week turned its electric light plant over to a supplying company after a quarter of a century of public ownership. The system there was pronounced by the state utility commission as the best managed and most modern in the state. Yet it was costing the people too much and was turned over to a concern with sufficient capital to get the full advantage of all its possibilities, thus reducing the rate and permitting of needed enlargement and expansion. The cases are not exactly similar, there being no question of water power involved in the Grand Rapids transaction, but it goes to prove that public ownership is not always a success.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

The result of the school election is what might have been expected and is surely in line with what was hoped for by the toughtful citizens of the community. Attempting to spring a surprise candidate at the last minute did not dovetail with what most fairminded folks regarded as a square deal and they indicated their disapproval of such tactics.

There is no fault to be found with either the personality or capability of Mr. W. A. Boreen, who was brought out at the eleventh hour as a candidate against Dr. O. F. Mellby. He has served on the school board before and made an excellent record. It was the idea of having him brought forth to serve as the weapon with which Dr. Mellby was to be punished for his stand at the time of the change in superintendents that was objected to by the general run of citizens. It was recognized that with his past experience and record as well as the considerable personal following he could command, Mr. Boreen would prove a strong candidate—and he did. The spirit of fairness prevailed, however, and Dr. Mellby was returned as school trustee for another three years.

This is as it should be. Important changes have taken place in the manner of conducting our schools during the past year. A superintendent who had served the district for years has been replaced by another man, an act lacking in a rather decided degree the sanction of a majority of the people. The board stood pat, however, and the change was made. It is best that those responsible for the new arrangement should have charge of affairs while it is being tried out. If it fails the blame will be theirs. If it succeeds they should be given credit for foresight and courage.

The opposition was centered on Dr. Mellby, Lars Backe appearing on both tickets. The plan of campaign followed by the supporters of the opposition ticket was hardly calculated to inspire confidence in the purity of their motives, but that is a matter best forgotten now.

Dr. Mellby has been a member of the school board for nine years. He has been a conscientious worker for the upbuilding of our educational system and it would have been a mistake to remove him at this time. Mr. Backe, his running mate, has been on the board so long that there are now few residing in the district who can recall his predecessor. This fact is a sufficient testimonial of his acceptability and general competency.

Just to prove that the squabble growing out of the change in superintendents is a matter no longer considered of importance, the people elected one man who stood by the former head of the schools and one who was unalterably opposed to his retention.

WANTED—A SWIMMING POOL.

The story is told by old-timers in this neighborhood of a squaw who, becoming enraged at some real or fancied slight on the part of the first white residents here, prophesied that as a punishment for their misdeeds one of their kind would be claimed by the river every year. The story has probably no foundation in fact, but the river seems bent on claiming its annual victim just the same.

For years past there has been at least one drowning in the stream during the swimming season, and people are beginning to ask if this waste of young life is necessary. The question was brought forceably to mind when a boy was drowned within a few feet of shore a short time ago.

There are a hundred places along the river bank suitable for the construction of a swimming pool that would be as near safe as it is possible to make an affair of this kind. It has been suggested that Lover's Lane presents the best spot, but this is unavailable for the reason that the sewer outlet is only a short distance above that point. It is, however, not necessary to go so far from the center of the city. A site could be chosen almost any place between the two bridges and the place made measurably safe by providing a watchman or caretaker. There would be some slight expense attending the enterprise, perhaps, but it would be cheaper than having boys drown.

It may be argued that the young fellows should stay away from the river, but the argument is absolutely no good. No successful plan has ever yet been devised for keeping a boy away from water on a warm day in midsummer and it is not likely that any ever will. Nor is it desirable that the boys should be denied this healthful pleasure. Swimming is a useful accomplishment and bathing considered advisable by most persons.

But the toll is too heavy as things are at present conducted and the sacrifice absolutely unnecessary. Some different plan should be devised.

CHEAP PAPERS AND GOOD PAPERS.

There are a number of cheap newspapers and magazines in the United States, but in the majority of cases it is only necessary to take one look at them to realize they are cheap in quality as well as price, says the American Press. To put out a good publication takes money and unless the publisher asks a price in keeping with other things today it is only reasonable to look for a deterioration in the quality.

There are a few, a handful, of weekly newspapers in the country which still sell for 75 cents a year. There are some few others which sell for a dollar a year. But the great bulk of the weekly newspapers sell for $1.50 and $2 a year and are daily increasing in price, running all the way up to $5 a year. Invariably these newspapers are the better class of newspapers. They are the papers which bring the most of inspiration and spirit of good citizenship in the home.

There are and always will be "cheap" newspapers. They are cheap in the first place because they know that they cannot compete with the better class papers at the same price. Often they are owned by political office holders or by men who are desirous of ofice. These men are often willing to give their paper away practically for nothing, merely to get an opportunity to keep themselves before the public.

The cost of everything the publisher of a newspaper must buy has increased from 50 to 100 per cent during the last ten years. Is there any reason why he should not increase his prices accordingly?

T[illegible] 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The council by resolution voted to pay the city attorney $16.66 per month.

The gutters in certain sections of the city were ordered planked and the cost assessed against the abutting property.

Only about ten per cent of the voters turned out to cast their ballots at the annual school election. Hans Nelson was re-elected treasurer for the district in which the Central school was located while for the Knox school Joseph Jerome was elected director in place of August Brown, whose term expired. There were 24 persons present at the annual meeting in the evening.

Henry Gorkey was in from his farm northwest of the city and reported having seen four fine moose near his home a couple of days previous.

Active preparations were begun for the next season's lumbering in the lake region. Both men and teams were shipped from the city every day.

Ten Years Ago.

The Ramrods (Leans) and Butterballs (Fats) were scheduled to play a game of ball at the fair grounds. Among the names found in the lineup are the following: T. P. Hamre, Judge Bishop, O. A. Westin, E. M. Stanton, George Williams, W. J. LaBree, John Morgan, Chris Porter, F. J. Stebbins, Robert McGinn, Phil Zeh and Jay Ralston.

Dr. G. A. Penney and Dr. F. H. Gambell were elected as school board trustees for the three year term. The sum of $15,000 was voted as the school fund for the ensuing year, an increase of $500 over the year previous.

B. Dan Bjorkman purchased the Model Steam Laundry from Mrs. Hawkinson.

Bad washouts were reported to the south of the city and trains on the Soo were having a hard time to get through. A foot of water fell at Mahnomen.

The county commissioners at their semi-annual meeting voted to levy a four mill tax for the c[illegible] a court house.

The bridge across the county ditch south of St. Hilaire was washed away by the rains in the early part of the week.

O. L. Bakken and Ole O. Nyhus left for an extended visit to Pacific coast points.

H. K. Strand returned from a visit to relatives in Trampleau county, Wis. Mrs. Strand remained for a more extended visit.

Dr. F. H. Gambell returned from an extended visit to Iowa and Missouri, going as far south as the Ozarks on the trip.

W. E. Baker and Sig Becken returned from a trip to the western section of the country. They registered at Kalispell, Spokane and Cour d' Alene but they figured that their chances of getting in on the distribution of lands was about one in a hundred.

The Thief River Falls creamery received 94,000 pounds of cream during the month of June and paid out $7,860.07 for butterfat. The average price paid to the farmers was 28 cents per pound.

Wheat was selling for $1.23 per bushel in the local market. Flax brought $1.57, eggs 18 cents and potatoes 45 cents.

Miss Florence Shetler, who has been teaching school near Pine Creek for the past six weeks, returned to her home in this city Friday.

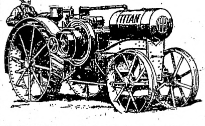
Titan 10-20 $1,000 Cash F. O. B. Factory $1,050 on Time

We have reduced the Titan 10-20 price $225. You can now get the world's standard 3-plow tractor for $1,000.



THERE is no "joker" in this price. We are not telling you one story in this advertisement and then leaving it for our dealers to break the sad news that the advertised price won't buy a tractor unless you pay extra for a lot of necessary features. The Titan dealer won't charge you extra for "starting and service" before he can deliver the tractor. He won't show you a machine stripped of many essential parts—belt pulley, fenders, platform, governor, drawbar, tools—and then tell you that you can have these things by paying extra for them. The Titan at this advertised price is a complete 3-plow kerosene tractor.

Then there is another thing. We are not experimenting at your expense when we sell you a Titan 10-20. There is real farm machine and tractor manufacturing experience back of it. We have been in the farm machine business for 88 years and have been supplying tractors for 14 years. Not another company in the world knows the farmer's power and machine requirements as the Harvester organization does.

Would you entrust your bank account to a man who had never had any experience in handling money? Will you risk your farm profits in a tractor built by designers whose knowledge of farming is limited to books and a drawing board? It will pay you to think about these things when you buy your tractor.

Starting and Instruction Service

Another "joker" of some tractor concerns is to charge you a large "starting and service" fee—extra. This is another way of getting a low price for advertising purposes. But you can't get the tractor without paying this charge. They make it compulsory. The International dealer gives you this service without asking you to pay extra for it when you buy a Titan 10-20. Free tractor schools inaugurated by us, also benefit Titan purchasers in all parts of the country.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY OF AMERICA INC.
CHICAGO U S A

Friction Clutch Pulley

A large, wide friction clutch pulley, made in five sizes, equipped with safety shield, is mounted directly on the crank-shaft of the low-speed, steady Titan engine and delivers the full power to the driven machine. The Titan 10-20 can be quickly backed into the belt because of the location of the pulley and the belt clears the front wheels and other parts of the tractor by a generous margin. It is not necessary to dig holes for the front wheels to get belt clearance. The Titan pulley was not put on as an afterthought. The designers did not overlook it in the first place. Some tractor builders committed this very serious error, due to lack of farm knowledge and experience. To remedy this error, they designed a small make-shift pulley, in one size only, attached it in an awkward place, and charge you $35 to $40 for it. The Titan 10-20 friction clutch pulley is furnished without extra charge.

Throttle Governor

Some tractors are sold without governors because, perhaps, the designers did not know that one was needed. Which is the best economy—to pay an operator a salary just to sit on the tractor and adjust the fuel to the load variations when engaged in belt work or let a throttle governor do it without extra cost?—do it automatically, perfectly. The Titan throttle governor saves fuel, prevents grain losses by delivering uniform power to your thresher and lengthens the life of both tractor and driven machines. You get this governor without extra charge.

Drawbar Some tractor builders put a hook and eye affair on the tail end of their tractors—and call it a drawbar! They seem to have overlooked the fact that a farm tractor not only pulls plows but also mowers, hay loaders, grain binders, harvester-threshers, etc., each requiring different hitch adjustment. Perhaps they didn't know about these other machines. Look at the Titan drawbar. Note the provisions for a wide range of adjustment both up and down and sidewise. The Titan drawbar fits every need and it is furnished without extra cost.

Fenders The designers of some tractors evidently did not know that the drive wheels throw dirt, dust or mud over the operator and machine unless fenders prevent it. The Titan 10-20 has such fenders. They are also a "safety first" feature. The state of Michigan has passed a law prohibiting the sale of fenderless tractors. Titan fenders are furnished without the $40 to $50 extra charge made by the "low-price" manufacturers.

Platform Some tractor designers apparently never sat in a tractor seat ten hours a day or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time. You will appreciate the Titan 10-20 platform that enables you to do this. It is a comfort feature furnished regularly with every Titan 10-20 tractor—no extra cost.

Tools A complete set of sixteen tools is furnished with every Titan 10-20. This handy tool-kit is provided in spite of the fact that Titan 10-20 tractors get out of order less frequently than any other tractors in the world. Some tractor concerns whose tractors really need frequent adjustment and repairs, furnish nothing but two or three wrenches. They tell you that their product is so good that it doesn't need adjustment. Do you believe this? As a matter of fact, they omit necessary tools for the same reason they omit the essential features described above—to make a low "camouflage price"! The Titan 10-20 c[illegible] plete tool kit is furnished without extra charge.

For Tractor Lubrication

Heavy Polarine Oil
Stanolind Tractor Oil
Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Stanolind Tractor Oil has been found, through severe and thorough tests, to be the best lubricant for more than one-half of the tractors made.

This oil is one of great durability. It stands the high temperature developed in a tractor engine without change in body.

It has the correct body to thoroughly lubricate the remotest frictional surfaces, eliminating scored cylinders and undue wear.

Where mechanical conditions or design make it desirable to use a slightly heavier, or slightly lighter, oil than Stanolind Tractor Oil, Extra Heavy Polarine Oil or Heavy Polarine Oil is recommended.

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our engineering staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss. It's free to you for the asking. Address

SURVEY REPORT COMMENTED ON BY STEENERSON

CONGRESSMAN EXPLAINS FULLY WAR DEPARTMENT'S RIVER PLANS.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION ASKED

REALIZED THAT RED LAKE RIVER SHOULD RECEIVE ATTENTION AT ONCE.

In an interview at Washington last Thursday, on the subject of the report on the survey of the Red Lake river, recently made to Congress by the secretary of war, and which has just been published as House Document No. 61, Congressman Halvor Steenerson said:

"In the last 25 years there have been 10 or 12 different surveys of Red Lake and Red Lake river by the War department. The object of all these surveys was: "First, to improve the navigation of the river; and second, to provide storage reservoirs in a comprehensive scheme to prevent floods in the valley of Red river. Aside from some drainage and improvement of the river above Thief River Falls no work was done, for the reports in the later years were all to the effect that the navigation was not sufficient to justify the government undertaking the work, and that the reservoir system of flood prevention was not feasible. In later years the attention of the Interior department was directed to the reclamation by drainage of Indian lands in the Red Lake reservation, and a couple of surveys were made with that object in view, but resulting in no action, although the surveys pointed out the feasibility of such drainage.

Survey Authorized.

"In recent years the Red Lake river on several occasions overflowed its banks and destroyed a large area of crops in the region between Thief river and Red Lake, and also along the shores of the lake. These unusual floods were by many attributed to the development of drainage ditches emptying into the Red lake and Red Lake river, and an agitation was started for a comprehensive plan to control the lake level and the storage of water to prevent the recurrence of those disastrous floods. It was also pointed out that not only were the agricultural lands on the reservation and adjoining Red Lake and Red Lake river to be benefitted by such improvement, but also water power and municipal supply, as well as navigation. In response to this public agitation for some relief, Congress, in the River and Harbor Act of 1916, authorized a survey, the bill containing the following clause:

"'With a view to devising plans for regulating works whereby the level of said lake and the flow of said stream may be controlled in the interest of navigation, and in making such examination and survey any proposition by local interests for participation in the expense of said project shall be taken into consideration.'

Survey Now Completed.

"This survey is now completed and the report is published as House Document No. 61, Sixty-sixth Congress. The estimated cost of the improvement is $779,300, exclusive of locks at the outlet. If these are included, then the cost, it is estimated, will be $857,000. The benefits to all interests were estimated, and the contributions determined accordingly as follows:

The first figures show cost of improvement, while the second give cost of maintenance and operation.

Water powers	$240,000	$ 3,700
Indian lands	236,800	3,650
Lands outside Indian reservation	248,500	3,850
Municipal water supply	39,000	600
Federal Government for Navigation	15,000	200
	$779,300	$12,000

Navigation Not A Factor.

"It will be seen that the contribution of the United States on account of improved navigation is only $15,000 and $200 annually for maintenance. The rest of the money will have to be raised by the interests benefitted. This, of course, involves a difficult task. The largest contribution would be from the water power companies; the next from the agricultural lands outside of the reservation; the next from Indian lands; then the municipalities, and then the United States for navigation. Presumably privately owned lands could be made to contribute through the organization of draining districts, but the contribution for the Indian lands would have to come through the recommendation of the Interior department and authority of Congress. The water power companies and the municipalities would probably have to make voluntary arrangements. In any event, before the Federal Government would undertake the work the funds to be contributed by these interests must be raised or secured. Whether this extensive co-operation can be secured remains to be seen. The report has been sent to the different localities interested, and no doubt public meetings will be called to discuss the matter.

A Lesson Taught By Recent Flood

(Crookston Times.)

The need of planning a system of drainage and flood control in the Red River valley and the water sheds of rivers flowing into the Red river was never so strikingly evident as now after one of the heaviest rains in the history of the Valley. The loss and disaster wrought brings losses of hundreds of thousands of dollars as well as compelling many to abandon their homes.

It is not to be presumed that any system of flood control will entirely prevent all losses. The great rains which reached 13.5 inches at one point were unusual. Something will have to be done in place of the lack of action in the past. Instead of controlling flood water the number of ditches emptying into the larger streams as outlets has been constantly increased, pouring the water in unprecedented quantities very soon after a downpour. If the rain be general the result has been that flood-waters gathered thru innumerable county and judicial ditches come rushing down carrying loss and desolation in their wake.

The state legislature and the federal congress have been appealed to for funds in vain. The requests are referred back with the recommendation that the people concerned initiate and carry thru the needed work. Some years ago this would have been impossible but it is possible now. The states of Minnesota and South and North Dakota can unite in control of floods arising from the Red river or its tributaries. The flood control act passed a little over two years ago provides the place of organization needed in each state or in each district of the state concerned. Suggestions have been made for the organization of a flood control district in northwestern Minnesota and steps are being taken to investigate this matter.

OFFER PASTURAGE TO MONTANA MEN

MILLION ACRES AVAILABLE IN NORTHERN MINNESOTA SAYS J. H. HAY

Minnesota farmers have offered nearly one million acres of land as pasturage for Montana cattle, it was announced at the old state capitol, where a conference of live stock men was held the first of last week to consider the Montana drought situation. The federal department of agriculture called the conference and stockmen from the northwestern states were in attendance.

Speakers emphasized the necessity for immediate relief for ranchmen in Montana. George M. Rummel, chief of the bureau of animal industry of Washington, D. C., who presided, estimated there are 50,000 cattle, 370,000 old sheep and 50,000 lambs in Montana which must be saved.

J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of the Minnesota state department of agriculture, declared "450,000" acres of state land was available and said several hundred thousand acres of land less suitable for pasturage also could be used in an emergency.

Agents representing the Montana cattle and sheep men are to be stationed at Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Brainerd, Duluth, Hinckley, McGregor and possibly at many other Northern Minnesota county seats.

According to Mr. Hay, 500,000 acres of pasturage and hay land have been tendered by owners to relieve the situation in Montana. The urgency was expressed by one Montana cattleman who said to Mr. Hay that "the whole state of Montana will have to move this year."

Should Have Dressed the Hogs.

The Times made a slight mistake in giving the price of two hogs sold by O. J. Dahl of Rosewood, to E. L. Rolland last week. The article stated that the animals brought 22 cents per pound on the hoof whereas it should have read 22 cents "dressed." That makes some difference and gave the wrong impression.

Farm Notes

UNIVERSITY OFFERS FARM BUILDING PLANS

Plans for farm houses, barns, implement sheds, hog houses and poultry houses, prepared by the division of agricultural engineering, to aid in class work in the college and school of agriculture, have been sent to the county agents of the state to help them in meeting the demand for advice as to better farm buildings. The set includes plans of 15 houses, 10 barns, 2 implement sheds, 1 hog house. Blue prints of any of these may be had at the nominal cost of 10 cents each by any resident of Minnesota. Before making application for a blue print, however, the prospective applicant should consult the county agent's set to determine which of the plans in any case he prefers. If this is not convenient, full information as to the kind of house, barn, or other building desired, should be forwarded directly to the Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul, with 10 cents to cover cost.

QUALITY TO FIX PRICE OF EGGS

Minnesota eggs hereafter are to be bought and sold on a quality basis, says N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist of the agricultural extension division, University of Minnesota. This is the meaning of a bulletin just sent out by N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture, giving the grades according to which eggs must be marketed in Minnesota, as suggested by Mr. Chapman.

Grades: "Firsts" or fresh eggs that are clean, full, strong-bodied, sweet, and uniform in size, weighing 24 ounces a dozen; "Seconds" or fresh eggs reasonably full, strong-bodied, sweet, weighing less than 24 ounces but not less than 20 ounces a dozen; "Dirties" or eggs with shells dirty, soiled, stained, smeared, or washed; "Checks" or eggs with shells cracked, checked, or dented, misshapen or thin shelled or undersized; "Rejects" or eggs unfit for human food.

Eggs are also classified for the further guidance of dealers and consumers as "fresh gathered," "held," "refrigerator," "processed."

MAKING PLANS TO STANDARDIZE SEEDS

Representatives of the crop improvement associations of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, North Dakota and South Dakota, met at University Farm, Friday, July 11, to consider the possibility of standardizing varieties and qualities of seeds. The meeting was called at the suggestion of C. P. Bull, secretary of the Minnesota association, and discussed the questions: What per cent of other grains shall be allowed in registered seeds? What kinds and what per cent, if any, of weed seeds shall be tolerated? What per cent of mixture of varieties shall be allowed in corn, rye, etc? Shall fixed prices be established for registered seed? Should central bureaus for cleaning, selling, and similar services be recommended? A plan will be submitted at a conference to be held in Chicago early in the coming winter.

WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

MRS. HARRINGTON FEELS LIKE GOING OUT TELLING EVERYBODY ABOUT TANLAC.

"I would just like to go from house to house and tell the people about Tanlac," said Mrs. Mollie Harrington of 111 Third street, Peoria, Ill., in a recent statement which she requested published for the benefit of others.

"My health gave way years ago," Mrs. Harrington continued, "and I had long since despaired of ever getting any better. I was very weak and pale—hardly had the color of blood in my face—suffered terribly from stomach trouble and was extremely nervous. I was really in a browndown condition and being past fifty-eight years of age, which I thought was against me, I had no hope of getting well and nothing to look forward to but the end, which I often felt was drawing near.

"Then I got to reading about the wonderful results others were getting from Tanlac and yet, I could not make up my mind at first to try it, as I had little idea it could help a person of my age, especially, one in such a low state of health. But somehow I was influenced to buy a bottle and that was about the luckiest day of my life, for when I finished taking it there was a wonderful improvement in my condition.

"Then I had something to look forward to—hope of complete recovery—so I bought a few more bottles of Tanlac and now I don't have to tell my friends I am well again for they can see that from my looks and often speak of it. I am more thankful to Tanlac than I can express, for now I am enjoying life and good health, which I never expected to enjoy any more, and I want this testimonial published in all the papers in Illinois that everybody may know what Tanlac will do, for I feel that I ought to tell all suffering people about this wonderful medicine."

✣ FARM BUREAU NEWS ✣
✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

A circular containing the following general advice has been sent out by Agent J. J. McCann of the Pennington County Farm bureau. Each of the three items below should receive the most careful attention on the part of our farmers and a strict adherence to the instructions they contain may result in the saving of a vast amount of trouble and much money:

Cut All Noxious Weeds.

Three localities have reported as working together in eradicating their noxious weeds. Copies of the weed law have been sent to each township chairman which requires that all weeds must be cut before July 21. It will be impossible to destroy all the weeds in growing crops, but where the sow thistle is so bad that the crop will amount to very little the entire vegetation should be cut before the thistle goes to seed. An effort has been made to secure more sheep for Pennington county as by the introduction of more livestock and following a crop rotation the sow thistle will become less troublesome.

Poison the Grasshoppers.

Grasshoppers have become quite troublesome in a few localities near Thief River Falls. Several farmers have been assisted in mixing the poison bran mash for killing the hoppers. In many places they are attacking the rye and wheat where a field of timothy alongside has been cut. The following is the formula for the poisoned bran mash: 25 lbs. bran, 1 lb. paris green, 2 quarts black strap or cheap molasses, 6 lemons or oranges, 1 lb. salt. Enough water to make crumbly mass. First mix the bran and paris green together, thoroly, getting the paris green scattered throughout the mass. Add the salt and mix again. The entire lemons or oranges should be ground up, preferably in a meat chopper, getting it as fine as possible. These should then be added and then the syrup. When this mass is stirred add a little water gradually, being careful not to get the mass too wet. It should be stirred continually and when a mass is placed in the hand no water should be squeezed out. It should crumble into flakes. A galvanized tub is a good mixing vat for small amounts and for larger portions a wagon box, floor or canvas will prove satisfactory, using shovels and rakes for mixing and stirring the ingredients. Care must be taken to mix the mash in a place where stock cannot reach it as it will prove disastrous should farm animals eat it.

STATION FINDS PEAT VALUABLE AS FERTILIZER

SOIL HAS POSSIBILITIES

RESULTS MUCH THE SAME AS ON PLOTS IN NORTHWEST SECTION.

Exceedingly interesting experimental projects which are being carried on at the North Central Experimental station with peat are showing that the peat lands of northern Minnesota have great value as agricultural lands, provided they are treated right and that the tillers of the soil do not ask them to do the impossible, says the Itasca County Independent, published at Grand Rapids.

Land Is "Skinned."

Supt. Otto I. Bergh of the state farm has been carrying on these experimental projects for several years, and is more than pleased with the results.

The first peat project which the visitor is shown is a unique one. Peat land is ordinarily covered with a heavy growth of what is called "leather grass," on account of the tough, leathery texture of the leaves and this has to be "skinned" off. Often, however, it has been burned off, in which case the peat land is immediately available.

As Manure Absorbant.

The first place where the peat is used on the farm is in making an absorbant for the liquid manure in the gutters of the stables, and as bedding for the stock. In this capacity it fills a remarkably valuable function, in that practically all the liquid manure which would otherwise be a nuisance and often wasted, is saved. When it is remembered that 90 per cent of the potash and 50 per cent of the nitrogen, as well as many other fertilizing elements in the manure are in the liquid excretions, it will be seen that saving it all is an important feature. Aside from this, the peat used in this form furnishes considerable humus to the soil, and releases for feed large quantities of straw which would otherwise have to be used as bedding and absorbant. A shed, built loosely after the fashion of a corn crib, is used to store and dry the peat.

Down on the peat bogs experiments in the effects of fertilizers on peat lands are being carried on. Plots four rods wide, and extending in length across a field some ten or twenty rods across, are divided off and different kinds of fertilizers applied. On the first there is phosphate alone, on another, the bare peat is left unfertilized, on the next lime alone, on the next potash and on the next barn yard manure. Other plots have combinations of these fertilizers, while others have them in different quantities, so that a wide range of information is being compiled from the projects.

Astonishing Results.

The results are astonishing and one is compelled to wonder at the lack of elements necessary for growths of forage corps on these lands. The fact of the matter is that the land is exceedingly acid, so much that the necessary sweetness is not present in the ground to start decomposition of the vegetable matter to change it into what is usually known as soil. The application of lime removes this acidity, as is attested by the fact that on every plot on which lime is applied, clover made a rank growth, while it scarcely came at all on the other plots.

Timothy grows well on most of the peat land, this being especially true after an application of phosphate has been made, the other fertilizers adding to the productiveness of this grass. Various other hay and pasture crops have been grown with remarkable success on lands fertilized in various manners.

The peat lands being invariably in low places, are not adapted to the growth of corn, tomatoes, melons or other easily frozen crops, and forage crops, such as fodder corn, are not recommended for these lands, not only because of the frosting probabilities, but also because they do not seem to do well on such soil. However, for silage, sunflowers make a rank growth on the black peat, and they are not easily frosted, so that even the silage of the dairy farmer could be grown on the peat. Grain crops do well, especially where the land has been fertilized with barn yard manure or lime, but the cultivated crops, such as potatoes, etc., do not do as well.

The data being gathered in connection with these experiments will in time be invaluable to settlers in this section, who will want to avail themselves of the extensive peat lands to be found in the northern part of the state.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

DAM PURCHASE PROPOSAL LAID BEFORE COUNCIL

MATTER DISCUSSED AT LENGTH BUT NO ACTION TAKEN TUESDAY.

ENGINEER IS SUGGESTED

PRESENT COST OF DELIVERING CURRENT NOT DEFINITELY KNOWN.

While the city council did not actually go on record as refusing to secure an engineer for the purpose of ascertaining the exact cost of placing electric current on the switch board of the municipal plant, neither did the members evince any particular enthusiasm in complying with the request that they do so. The matter was discussed at the meeting on Tuesday night, but no action taken.

Promoters Appear.

T. P. Hamre and E. O. Mogensen, who with C. L. Hansen were appointed a committee to wait on the council by the citizen's meeting held last Thursday for the purpose of hearing the proposition of those who have interested themselves in the water power at this point, were present and stated the situation as they understood it. The first step to be taken, according to the committee members, was the ascertaining of just what it was costing to generate electricity at this time. Unless this is known it is a hard matter to decide upon what is best for the future.

Mr. Josselyn Present.

At the meeting on Thursday F. H. Josselyn of Green Bay, Wis., who is at the head of a number of water companies in Wisconsin and other states, together with R. S. Grossman, engineer, and M. H. Grossman, fiscal agent for the enterprises, were present for the purpose of laying their proposition before a meeting of citizens. One drawback to any further negotiation is the fact that the plant here is operated under the direct current system. This knowledge had the effect of considerably dampening the enthusiasm of the promoters of the new plan, but did not by any means kill it entirely. Engineer Grossman pointed out that it would be to the interest of the city to change to an alternating system whether the company's proposal is accepted or not. This would cost between $7,000 and $10,000, but the expense would be entirely wiped out in about five years through greater economy in operation.

Would Develop Property.

Mr. Josselyn stated that it would be the intention of the company to develop the property by installing the most modern machinery and improving the dam. He figured that the work would cost in the neighborhood of $125,000, but that when such sum had been invested the property would be one of the best in this entire section. He believed that not more than one-quarter of the potential power of the Red Lake river at this point is being developed at present.

The proposition has been the principal topic of conversation about town since the visit of the promoters. It is pointed out that if the existing lease with the city is cancelled, thereby permitting the sale of the property by the Kretzschmar-Schreiter interests, there is nothing in the way of the deal being consummated at an early date. Whether or not the city would be justified in this step is the question.

Costly Period Coming.

Should the dam be sold it would not only mean an immediate expenditure of more than $100,000 for improvements, but it would also throw the burden of providing the share of the power plant at Thief River Falls for the contemplated dredging and straightening program to fall on the new owners. The sum divided among the water powers is $240,000, of which the plant at this point would naturally have to pay its share. This the present owners would be unable to do and it is not likely that the city would care to make the investment. The matter is of great importance to Thief River Falls, however, as the improving of the river would mean adding a quarter million acres to its trading territory.

Would Take Deisels.

The new concern would also be willing to enter into an agreement with the city for taking over the Deisel engine plant used as an auxiliary.

It is not thought that anything further can be done in the premises until definite figures as to present costs are obtained.

REFUSE TO LIVE IN CHICKEN COOP

Declaring that he would rather shoot himself than return to Grygla township and be supported by township funds, A. Strassburg, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city Monday from the east country telling of the pitiful conditions under which they have lived since last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Strassburg left for the Grygla country about two years ago and were located on a piece of land for a short time. They spent the winter in Thief River Falls last year, their expenses being paid by the city, and the latter was reimbursed by Marshall county after their departure for Grygla.

On their arrival in Grygla it appears they again fell back on the township for support. Mr. Strassburg declared they were given a chicken coop to live in, and this was infested very badly with chicken "cooties" and mosquitos. The old couple was allowed $12 a month for food and clothes and Mr. Strassburg declares they were only able to buy some potatoes and bread before their sum was exhausted.

On arriving in the city they sought aid from Rev. M. J. Noesen, who immediately took the matter up with the authorities, and the elderly couple given a home at the poor farm [illegible] matter is taken over by [illegible] county officials. GOSS SEMI-ROTARY MACHINE TURNS OUT THIS WEEK'S ISSUE OF PAPER

DONE IN ONE OPERATION

ONLY ENGLISH WEEKLY IN THE STATE EQUIPPED IN SUCH MANNER

The new printing press, announced some time ago as having been purchased by The Times company, is being employed for the first time in getting out this issue of the paper. After numerous delays in transportation and by reason of strikes in the plant of the manufacturer, the machine is finally in running order, much to the relief of all concerned.

Is Wonderful Machine.

The Goss Semi-rotary web perfecting press is the only one of its kind in the state employed in turning out a weekly paper in the English language. In fact there are but few machines of its class in the West, although they have for some time been the preferred presses among the publishers of the East where population is more dense and newspaper circulation consequently somewhat larger.

Is Mechanical Masterpiece.

The papers are printed direct from a roll, and four, six, eight or ten pages can be turned out at one time at a speed of four thousand completed copies per hour. As is the case with The Times today, when more than ten pages are wanted, it is necessary to make an additional press run, but so great is the speed at which the machine is capable of turning out the papers that this entails but a slight loss of time. Even with the 4,000 circulation of The Times it is only a matter of an hour's extra running to produce the additional pages.

Where Time is Money.

The press used for many years in printing the paper is still in excellent condition and where the requirements are not so severe will answer the purpose for which it is intended for many years. For a publication the size of The Times, however, it was no longer practicable—it cost too much to operate it. This may sound like a strange statement, but it is a fact. Merely the press work on 4,000 copies of a 12-page paper meant three different runs of four pages each; or a total of 12,000 impressions. An ordinary cylinder press cannot be made to do satisfactory work at a greater speed than 1,000 impressions per hour, which meant that it took 15 hours at least to turn out each issue of the paper, counting time necessarily lost. All this can now be accomplished by the new machine in two hours at the outside. This is a saving worth considering.

The new arrangement will also permit of better service to the public. Heretofore it has often been impossible to find space for everything that it was desired to print. The reason for this was that in order to get out on time two-thirds of the paper would have to be printed before Wednesday evening, whereas now the entire issue goes to press at once. This permits of last-minute alterations in the make-up and a changing around of matter to suit the demands of the occasion.

In New Quarters.

The installation of this machine means a greater outlay than is represented by the entire investment of a majority of the printing offices in this neighborhood. It could not have been undertaken were it not that the publishers have an unbounded faith in the future of the section and at the same time a determination that The Times shall keep pace with its development. Thus far the paper has kept rather ahead of the legitimate demands upon it and this policy will be continued. It has been found that an honest effort to produce the best there is in its class was appreciated by subscribers and advertisers alike, otherwise any such improvement as the addition of this machine would have been impossible. The paper will now be in better position than ever to serve its constituency and there will be a greater effort put forth on the part of the publishers to be worthy of the confidence indicated.

The press has been erected in the basement of the Union block, to which building the remainder of The Times plant is this week being moved. The location is more central and the quarters larger and better adapted to the purposes of a printing and manufacturing concern.

Welcome "Fest" For Soldiers.

A successful welcome "fest" was staged by Oak Ridge congregation on Sunday, July 13, in honor of the returned soldiers of that community. Rev. C. M. Grimsrud held a mission service while the choir assisted with the service and rendered several excellent numbers. A "Mission Duet" was sung by Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Lockrem with their daughter, Judith at the piano. The welcome "fest" was under the direction of Corp. [illegible] Aasaby and the returned soldiers marched into the church as the [illegible] rendered "Home Again." An address of welcome was given by Rev. Lockrem, and Mr. Tandberg related his experiences while in France with the A. E. F. A quartet composed of Mr. Tandberg and his sister, August Anderson and Miss Esther Anderson with Miss Alma Anderson at the organ sang two songs and were very well rendered. Dinner and refreshments were sold and the money received was to be divided among the Oak Ridge church and the "Heathen Mission."

Four More Big Ones.

In giving the list in last week's edition of June creamery patrons, who received checks from the Thief River Co-Operative creamery for $50 and over four particularly good farmers were omitted from the list. They are as follows: Ed. Klappenbach, $105.00; Oscar Swanson, $101.15; F. J. Satre, $100.72; John Meyer, $70.50. Buttermaker Lars Hazelrude states that business is again on the advance although a slight slack resulted after the exceptionally heavy rains but things are now springing up better than ever before.

SOCIALILITY RUN TO BOOST COUNTY FAIR

PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

The Thief River Falls Commercial club has not sponsored a sociability run since before the war. Previous to that time these delightful visits were made quite often and prompted much good feeling throughout the neighborhood.

It is now planned to have one of these excursions at once and others later on. The first would be northward toward the Lake of the Woods, taking in Greenbush, Badger, Roseau and Warroad. The object would be to advertise the wonderful fair to be held in Thief River Falls for three days beginning on Wednesday, Aug. 6. In case there is sufficient interest shown to make the proposition look like a go it is the intention to take the band along and start out with a string of autos a mile long. Stops would be made at all intermediate points and the night spent at Warroad.

It was at first intended to make this run during the present week, but there was some fear of the roads not having recovered from the rains. Assurances have now been received that there is no longer any fear need be felt on this score and the matter has been revived.

A joint meeting of the Commercial club and Merchants' association will be held at the club rooms next Monday evening for the purpose of discussing the subject.

TAX ROLLS ARE FULL OF FUNNY FEATURES

ONE SEWING MACHINE IN A TOWNSHIP; TWO CALVES IN ANOTHER.

Serving on the board of equalization may be a rather drab, unexciting occupation, but it also presents opportunities for numerous smiles and not a few hearty laughs. The Pennington county commissioners have this week performed this annual task and as usual found things with which they are not entirely satisfied.

Chairman O. J. Peterson is of the opinion that the citizens of Kratka township must have experienced such an unprecedented attack of prosperity that they no longer find it necessary to either mend or make clothes. If they still pursue these occupations they must do all their sewing by hand as there is only one machine for this purpose listed in the entire town. This is owned by the family of Rev. H. Bjornson, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran mission field in that district.

Sanders township is falling behind in the livestock industry, if the assessment rolls are to be believed. There are but two calves in the entire district, both owned by Soren Sorenson. This is a sad state of affairs as the farmers there will be compelled to buy their milk unless they do better in keeping up their herds.

Commissioner Naplin says that most of the farmers down in Polk Center must be using oxen to do the work, keeping the horses for show purposes. If such is not the case they must be pulling the loads by a string attached to the horses' tail. The board found that there is exactly 45 cents worth of harness for each horse in the township, which will not go far at the present price of leather.

Yes, the commissioners all admit that the tax assessments are sometimes amusing.

HERE ARE RULES OF SILVER CUP AWARDS

STATE DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION TO GIVE CUP FOR BEST HERD AT FAIR

A beautiful silver cup has been hung up by the Minnesota State Dairymen's association for the best exhibit of dairy cattle at the Pennington county fair to be held Aug. 6-7-8. Indications are that some fine herds will be brought to the exhibition to compete for the honor. Cattle shown at the large state fairs are barred from the Pennington county show and holders of former cups will not be allowed to compete.

The rules laid down are as follows:

No cattle shown at the state fair will be permitted to enter the contest at the county fair in 1919.

Exhibitors winning a cup in 1918 will not be permitted to enter the contest in 1919.

Herds must consist of one purebred (registered) sire over one year old, any dairy breed, and four females, grades or purebred, of the same breed, to consist of one mature cow, one two-year-old heifer, one yearling heifer, and one heifer calf under one year old.

All stock must be owned by the exhibitor and be in his possession before July 6, 1919. Ages of stock will be based from Aug. 1.

The stock must be judged by a competent judge, the selection of whom must be approved by the Minnesota State Dairymen's association.

The cup will be awarded only where there is competition of two or more dairy herds, and no state institution will be permitted to enter stock in competition.

Each county fair offering these cups must secure at least 12 memberships to the Minnesota State Dairymen's association and said members will receive the cloth-bound annual report of the association.

The contest will be held under the direction of J. J. McCann, county agent, and the stock will be judged by W. A. McKerrow of the University Farm school.

Annual W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will be held in the basement formerly used by the United Lutheran church on Horace avenue north, Tuesday, July 29, beginning at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. As this will be the most important meeting of the year all members are requested to be present.

Delicate Mechanism

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

TOURISTS HAVE QUIET EVENING VISITING HERE

JEFFERSON HIGHWAY ENTHUSIASTS TIRED OF BANQUETING AND SPEECHES.

MAKE RUN ON SCHEDULE

AGREE MINNESOTA ROADS AS A WHOLE ARE THE BEST.

Making a run of 2,200 miles without even a minor mishap and arriving at their destination within a few minutes of the time announced at the outset, the Jefferson Highway excursion from the South breezed into the city on Sunday afternoon. They were scheduled to arrive in time for supper and were at the hotels, all trimmed and ready when the doors were open. A day was lost at the very start of the tour by reason of the heavy rains in Louisiana, but barring this one drawback, the stops were made on the dot.

Would Have No Fuss.

Major J. D. Clarkson, president of the highway association, was in charge of the party and is entitled to much of the credit for the excellent record made. He is an organizer who manages to infuse others with his enthusiasm so that they seem to rather enjoy having him boss them around. He gets results, and that is the main thing in an expedition of the kind he sponsors.

Something in the nature of a program for the entertainment of the excursionists had been contemplated here, but they vetoed the suggestion and simply asked that they be permitted to visit around awhile. The evening previous they had been at Bemidji and on the following night would be at their journey's end in Winnipeg. Besides this it was Sunday and a particularly appropriate time for resting anyway.

Informal Reception.

After supper the freedom of the city was offered the visitors and most of the gentlemen of the party gravitated toward the commercial club rooms. They were very willing to engage in conversation with anyone who wished to speak to them, but emphatically refused to make any speeches. Explaining that they had been talking and feasting almost continually since leaving their homes they asked that they be permitted to [illegible] for one night.

Praised Our Roads.

Every member of the party said the roads in Minnesota were without exception the best encountered on the trip, as a general thing. One stretch in Clearwater county is a disgrace, and there is danger of the route of the highway being changed unless [illegible] gets busy and improves things. A bad stretch was also encountered in Red Lake county [illegible] was being worked and its condition was excusable.

Governors and Mayors.

It was a distinguished party. Gov. [illegible] G. Pleasant of Baton Rouge, was the guest of honor all along the line, sharing the attention with Mayor [illegible] Behrman of New Orleans, and Mayor J. McW. Ford of Shreveport. These officials were enthusiastic over the trip and the possibilities opened up by the highway and stated that they would not have missed the excursion for anything. They are fine Southern gentlemen and made a decided hit with our people. Mayor L. C. Hodgson (Larry Ho), mayor of St. Paul was a member of the party, continuing on to Winnipeg with the rest.

The Last Lap.

Major Clarkson had his caravan up in good order Monday morning and it was only 7:30 o'clock when they started on the last lap of the journey. Daniel Shaw, Math Barzen, John Morgan and A. J. Anderson, in the Shaw car, took the lead from here and accompanied the party as far as Karlstad. They returned the same evening and stated that the trip schedule would no doubt be maintained to Winnipeg.

A CHILDREN'S TENT AT FAIR GROUNDS

WILL HAVE DEPARTMENT ALL TO THEMSELVES AT COMING SHOW.

Special provisions have been made for the children's exhibit at the coming fair. A tent will be provided for the entries in all classes instead of having them displayed in a corner of the woman's building as heretofore. Excellent prizes are provided for the handiwork of the youngsters and it is hoped that even more interest than usual will be shown in this department.

Any boy or girl who wishes to become an exhibitor and has not a premium list may consult one by applying to Miss Granum at the library. She will also furnish such other information as may be required concerning the rules of entry and the lines of articles eligible to competition. Premiums will be awarded for cooking, sewing, penmanship, manual training products, drawing, paper-making, etc. Miss Frizell and Miss Sandberg are also on the committee to look out for the children's interests and will be glad to furnish any information of which the latter may stand in need.

Kicked by Horse.

Anton Anderson, age 40, was brought to the Physicians hospital Monday evening from his farm six miles east of Thief River Falls as the result of being kicked in the face by a horse. Practically all of Mr. Anderson's teeth were knocked out by the blow and he also received an ugly gash in his chin. He is still at the hospital and is getting along as well as can be expected.

Bennes Misses Accident.

E. M. Bennes, local representative for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, returned the latter part of last week from Walker, where he had attended the annual outing of about 240 head officials, general and special agents and banker agents of the company. The outing was marred however by the accidental death of Dr. B. A. Barlow, associate medical examiner of the Insurance company. The machine in which the doctor was riding turned turtle near the Great Northern crossing on the Walker-Cass Lake road pinning him underneath the machine and killed him instantly. Just before the ill-fated car left the Chase hotel for Glengary three other members of the party, of whom Mr. Bennes was one, left the automobile and the doctor and driver started the trip alone.

Rates Cut to Dry Regions.

In order to save the livestock from the effects of the drought, reduced rates have been ordered between Mississippi and Missouri valley points to and from Montana and western North Dakota. The new freight rate is approximately half the former rate and feed is to be shipped into the drought stricken territory also at a lower rate.

HAY AND O'NIELL ARE HONOR GUESTS

The banquet tendered J. H. Hay and D. P. O'Neill at the auditorium last Monday evening was a very pleasant affair. The attendance was not as large as expected, but this is accounted for in many ways.

Daniel Shaw acted as toastmaster and on behalf of their friends presented Mr. Hay and Mr. O'Neill with diamond stick pins as a token of the regard in which they are held by their former neighbors. The gathering was simply for the purpose of visiting, said Mr. Shaw, and no depressing formality would be permitted. He spoke highly of the service rendered the community by these two men and the audience gave every indication of agreeing fully with him.

Mr. O'Neill was the first speaker. He said he would always feel that the people of Thief River Falls and Pennington county had honored him far beyond his deserts and that he would try in the time to come to prove his appreciation of the fact. He was humorous at times and most decidedly serious at others, laying particular stress upon the statement that he was not to be considered as having ceased to be a citizen of the county.

Mr. Hay said that he felt just as some of the boys must have felt when he had them brought on the carpet at the high school. He had a speech in his system that was a steamwinder, he said, but somehow he did not feel like delivering it and had probably forgotten it anyway. He spoke of the work he is now engaged upon and promised that he would not neglect the old town and old friends when it came to a point where he could do something to repay the many kindnesses shown him.

A short program preceded the speaking. Miss Laura Forde gave a piano solo; Miss Ausilga Sorenson rendered a selection on the violin and Mrs. O. F. Melby sang an appropriate song in a highly acceptable manner. Just before the banquet was announced the entire company rose and sang Auld Lang Syne.

SOCIETY and Club

House Party.

In days before the war it was quite the custom for a number of the young folks of this city to spend a week of real fun at the summer cottage of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Penney at Union Lake. For the past two years this party has been neglected because the boys were all in the war either here or overseas. But to the great joy of all concerned Uncle Sam has made it possible for Dr. Penney to again entertain the boys and girls. The bunch, Misses Dorothy Miller, Alice Lee, Margaret Austad, Alice Hanson and Ruth Brown, and Jordan Penney, Clarence Dybvick, Charles Prichard, Alvin Holzknecht and Ambrose Zeh, left Saturday and will spend a week at the cottage. The time will be passed as in all other house parties, canoing, dancing, singing, swimming, lots to eat and plenty of sleep.

Community Girls Meeting.

The Community Girls held their weekly meeting Monday evening in the Commercial Club rooms. The forepart of the evening was spent in discussing whether or not to have a booth during the fair. They have abandoned that plan and have decided to put every ounce of their effort towards helping in the Elks' drive for the Salvation Army. The Elks will have a booth and will give the girls a certain percentage of the net proceeds. A meeting concerning this affair will be held August 4th, and all Community girl members wishing to help are urged to attend the meeting. The rest of the evening was spent in listening to musical selections.

Elks Dance Fair Week.

The Elks have secured the Auditorium for dancing parties during two evenings of the Pennington county fair—Wednesday and Thursday nights. The best music obtainable has been engaged and the dancing parties will be the best of the summer season. All the appointments will be in line with the Elks' reputation and there will be good times stirring.

Dance.

The big dance at Maple Lake last Monday evening was an event that will live long for those who attended it. Many motored to the lake from this city, as well as from Crookston, Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire and other neighboring towns. The music—enufsaid. The Harmony Kids of this city played. There has never been a better crowd or time at Maple Lake.

McNamara-Sundmark.

John J. McNamara of Marshall county and Miss Lydia Sundmark, of Pennington conuty, were united in marriage at the municipal court rooms Tuesday afternoon, Judge Tarrant performing the ceremony; M. C. Burns and Joseph Johnson acted as witnesses.

Cone Sale.

The Community Girls will sell ice cream cones this evening [illegible] tral school grounds [illegible] apiece and all you can [illegible] band concert will entertain [illegible] devouring them.

Mrs. Charles C. Swartz.

Mrs. Charles C. Swartz, 507 Knight avenue north, passed away Wednesday morning after an illness of three days death being due to eclamplsia convulsions following child birth. The deceased was taken ill Monday and although her condition was not considered very serious, she began to sink rapidly, death ensuing yesterday morning. At the time of going to press no arrangements for funeral services had been made, owing to the fact that information regarding burial had not been received from the deceased's parents at Hanover, Pa., and it is not known whether the remains will be taken to her girlhood home or buried in this city.

Mrs. Charles C. Swartz was born March 4, 1886 at Hanover, Pa., making her age at the time of death 33 years, 3 months and 8 days. She received her education at Hanover and practically grew up in the city.

Mrs. Charles Swartz, whose maiden name was Elnora L. Little, was united in marriage to Charles Swartz on June 6, 1904 at Hanover, and to this union were born three children all of whom survive as follows: Donald, age 14; Doris, age 6, and the baby daughter four days old. The deceased is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Little of Hanover, Pa., two brothers and two sisters.

In the death of Mrs. Swartz a dear and beloved mother has been called away and a vacancy has been made in the home that can never be filled. She was a Christian woman, a woman of rigid honesty, sterling worth of character and unfailing friendship and will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends. Her sudden passing from this earthly life came as a distinct shock to everyone and The Times joins with the friends of the deceased in extending its most sincere sympathy to the bereaved members of the family and relatives.

LAST WEEK OF GOSPEL SERIES AT AUDITORIUM

INTEREST INCREASES AS FAME OF EVANGELIST MATHIS SPREADS.

NEW LEADERS OF SINGING

PRESTONS LEAVE AND ARMSTRONGS TAKE CHARGE OF MUSICAL END.

The great revival campaign which has been under full swing for the past month will close Sunday with three rousing services for everybody in the auditorium.

Mr. Mathis will deliver a special message to farmers Sunday morning. And farmers are urged to come, bring their families and their dinner, and stay all day. Last Sunday was the greatest day for the series thus far, large and enthusiastic audiences attended all services. The meeting Sunday evening was probably the largest of its kind ever held in the city. The address on "Pilate's Question" stirred the large audience and many at the close declared their intention of leading a Christian life.

Fine Meeting Saturday.

On Saturday evening the senior concert drew a large crowd and the sermon on "Blocking Angels" showed plainly the hindrances which God places in the way of a man's going wrong. Solos by Miss Helen Barackman and Miss Zella Zeh and a duet by Mr. Bjorkman and Mrs. Nason were well received and much appreciated. The first service for this week which was on Tuesday evening, drew a large audience, while last night the evangelist delivered one of his strongest addresses on "The Cards and Dance."

New Chorus Leaders.

Much to the regret of their many friends Mr. and Mrs. Preston were obliged to leave the first of the week to fill a previous engagement. During their stay here they have captivated the hearts of the public by their Christian lives and delightful singing. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong of Lexington, Ky., arrived to take their place the first of the week and are proving themselves all that could be asked for those who love good music will indeed make a mistake if they fail to hear them.

Sacred Concert Saturday.

Mr. Armstrong is preparing a sacred concert by the juniors for Saturday night which promises to be the best of the entire series and should be greeted by a full house. To miss it would be to miss one of the best treats of the season. The full program follows:

Thursday.................."Heaven and Hell"
Friday ...."Home"

All the surrounding towns and country are invited. Bring your dinner and stay all day.

DRAINAGE UNITS ONLY SOLUTION FLOOD PROBLEM

verse lakes. He believed that the district plan was the best, as it would insure sufficient outlet before any other part of the program was undertaken.

Afternoon Session.

Chairman Selvig called the meeting to order at 1:30 p. m., and Mr. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, said the committee reports of Beltrami, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Clearwater and Red Lake counties had been accepted. Having gone over the flooded district personally, Mr. Hay stated that the Mud Lake situation was the most serious to confront, while at other places in Marshall county there was from 10 to 50 per cent loss. The farmers in these last mentioned instances, however, were able to care for the stock as they had the feed. He also said there were approximately 250 families in the Mud Lake region ready to sell their stock. Mr. Hay further reported that the committee had adopted a resolution calling for $60,000 for immediate relief from the Red Cross and development association.

Supt. Selvig suggested that a permanent committee should be named to handle the affair until it is settled. The question as to whether the Red Cross was able to use funds for the purpose of relief was brought up and Scott Laird, secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, notified the meeting that a wire had been received in the city from Northern division headquarters at Minneapolis saying that the Red Cross should assist in the relief work.

The following motion was made by Mr. Umland of Clearwater county and seconded by Mr. Peterson of Pennington county:

Ask Red Cross Surplus.

"That the local Red Cross chapters of the Red River valley be called upon to contribute one-half of their surplus funds to a committee appointed by them to work in conjunction with a similar committee appointed by Red River Valley Development association, which shall administer funds thus raised by the various counties of the valley through the Farm Bureau association, to be contributed through the Red River Valley Development association for flood relief in the valley and that a representative of the Red Cross be appointed for the valley and the representative for the Development association constitute a committee to [illegible] charge of the disbursement of all funds."

Mr. Mills Speaks.

Mr. Mills, a representative [illegible] Great Northern railroad, who [illegible] he had been battling with water [illegible] the past 36 years, made a short talk on his experiences with floods and drainage systems. He related several cases were the railroad company had lost heavily when large concrete and steel bridges over ditches had been washed away as the result of no thought having been given to an outlet by ditch builders.

Chapter 442 of the Cliff Law of 1917, which prevents ditches being constructed in uplands to overflow the low lands, was discussed and it was decided that petitions be started and brought before the district judge, who would name commissioners. It was pointed out that the Roseau river region should organize as one district and that about Red Lake river as another, making the districts small and thus insuring faster work for relief.

Ditch From Mud Lake.

Enthusiasm and interest in the meeting was running high in their efforts to try and bring about some sort of relief. Mr. Hay suggested in his usual optimistic manner that a ditch be dug direct from Mud lake to the Red river. This was received with much applause.

Chairman Selvig said: "It would be a calamity to go home today without doing something in the way of aiding the condition after pulling along for 35 years. Here is a condition that must be solved. There are three things we can do. Go home and do nothing; leave the matter go for some one else, or organize for work in the counties under the law."

A motion was immediately made "that the drainage district be organized to comprise the water shed of the Red Lake river and that it be left to the present committee to confer with attorneys if it could not be begun under the laws."

Start Work at Once.

Chairman Selvig said the committees of the various counties would visit the farmers circulating the petition, the county board to pay the expenses. Mr. Selvig said he believed the meeting had accomplished its purpose and that the organization would be backed up by all the people of this part of the state. A Roseau delegate suggested that the Roseau river be separate from the Red Lake river district and a motion was made and seconded to that effect. The same committee would have charge but a branch committee would work especially on the Roseau river district. A recess was called for twenty minutes during which time the various committees for the six counties named the committee to circulate the petitions.

Speaks on Relief.

Mr. Hay again gave a short talk on the relief work for people in the inundated section and pointed out that the people of northwestern Minnesota should assume part of the load and carry them through the difficulty until the time when they will be back on their feet again. Mr. Hay said that prosperity marked the Red River Valley and that the banks never bulged with so much money as at the present time. He remarked about the fine spirit manifested at the meeting and believed the people are ready to correct mistakes of the past and profit by them.

In closing Chairman Selvig thanked the citizens of Thief River Falls on behalf of the Development association and especially the Commercial club for the active part taken in the flood relief.

Reception For Soldiers.

The congregation of the Zion Lutheran church is the first to celebrate in any form the return of their soldiers. On Monday evening in the church parlors the returned soldiers of their congregation were entertained by the members. A fine program was given consisting of several excellent musical selections with a very appropriate address by Prof. Snesrude of Bemidji. A delicious lunch ended the evening for all. The rooms were patriotically decorated with flags of all sizes and finished off with beautiful bouquets of flowers. All soldiers included surely appreciated the kindness and thoughtfulness of the people.

ERROR IN UNLUCKY 7TH LOSES GAME

TERREBONNE COPS GAME IN HARD FIGHT—ARGYLE HERE ON SUNDAY.

A costly error in the seventh inning—an overthrow from first base to the home plate—resulted in disaster for the Soo line team last Sunday at the fair grounds in their game with Terrebonne. The locals walked the plank to the tune of 4 to 3, exactly the same score as was made in the game on the previous Sunday at Terrebonne.

The game was hotly contested throughout and in the 7th inning the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the railroaders. Up to this time both teams were playing real ball and it looked as if the Soo men would emerge victors and realize their revenge which they sought after being defeated in their previous game at Terrebonne. Unfortunately a wild throw from first baseman Jean Hance to the home sack allowed two of the visiting aggregation to cross the home plate, boosting the score to 3 to 2 and followed up by another score in the next two innings.

Orval Herron was in the pitcher's box for the Soo men and Peggrin Nelson caught. Herron's pitching was of a high order and the visitors did very little hitting, while the fielders were "johnny on the spot." All around the locals put up a good exhibition and if the costly error had been omitted the contest would have undoubtedly resulted in a 3 to 1 score for the locals.

Argyle Sunday.

On Sunday, July 27, the local boys will take on Argyle and they are preparing for a win. Several new men will apear in the line-up for the offensive which will start at 3 o'clock. Argyle is reputed to have one of the fastest teams in this section and those who enjoy a fast exhibition of the national pastime should be at the fair grounds next Sunday. The admission for the game and including grandstand seats will be twenty-five cents.

DRAIN OR OIL ALL STAGNANT POOLS

PEOPLE CAN HELP KEEP DOWN MOSQUITO PEST—FLIES ALSO.

There are more mosquitos in evidence this summer than for many years past. The water left standing in pools all over the land is almost entirely responsible for this and not much can be done about it. Here in the city, however, the people can help considerably in keeping the nuisance down. By draining or oiling the pools much of the trouble can be avoided.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich has called attention to one spot right in the heart of the city where nine billion mosquitos are hatched every 40 seconds. It is where an excavation was begun for a building on the corner of LaBree and Second. There is just enough water left there to make an ideal breeding place for the culicedea, which is the highbrow name for an unmitigated nuisance. Ten cents worth of kerosene oil and an old sprinkling can would forever put to sleep any ambition the mosquito might have of entering society. It would not be much of a trick to provide this.

Another prolific source of production is the numerous tin cans found in the alleys of certain more or less sovlenly citizens. These cans catch a few tablespoonfuls of water and a nest for mosquito hatching is provided. If any person must have empty cans in their yard it is desirable that they be thrown out the back door in such manner as to light on their head.

Manure heaps in the country are responsible for flies. Here again a little kerosene would do the business. It does not take much and it does not affect the mass for other purposes. A little care in these matters would add materially to the health and comfort of the entire population.

Wanted, Boys to Take Tickets.

Secretary Smith of the fair association is desirous of enlisting the services of four boys between the ages of 14 to 16 to receive tickets at the gates during the fair. Boys wishing to take this up should see the secretary at their most early convenience. A refrigerator and six show cases are also needed at the grounds and anyone who can help the association out in the matter should notify Secretary Smith.

S. OF N. TO FROLIC AT MAPLE LAKE

NORGE SOCIETIES TO GATHER SUNDAY FOR ONE BIG TIME.

The annual picnic and song festival of the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges in this section of the country at Maple Lake, will be held Sunday, July 27.

The start from this city will be made at 8 a. m., and all those who plan on making the trip should assemble at the Auditorium. The local lodge will have a full representation and will be accompanied by the Brage chorus. One of the big features of the annual meeting is the presence of all the singing societies connected with the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges. Singing societies from Crookston, Grand Forks, Fertile, Ada, Climax, Fisher, Eldred, Gary and many other places will be there for the occasion.

Attorney Hans O. Chommie, who has addressed the meetings in former years, will again be present to give them a short talk.

As no step has been taken in regard to transportation of those desiring to go, everyone will have to look out for themselves.

Returns From Convention.

Andy Anderson, delegate to the Elks convention from Thief River Falls lodge number 1308, returned this week from Atlantic City, where the meetings were held. Mr. Anderson says that a feature of the session was an address by Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, who asked the assistance of the Elks in carrying out the welfare program about to be launched. Strong resolutions condemning Bolshevism were adopted and it was decided to strive for a big increase in membership. Frank L. Bain of Fairbury, Neb., was elected grand exalted ruler, and Chicago chosen for the convention in 1920.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETE FOR BIGGEST COUNTY FAIR IN NORTHERN MINNESOTA

Eighteenth Annual Exhibit of Pennington County Agricultural Society Opens Wednesday.

[illegible]ABORATE NIGHT PROGRAMS A FEATURE

[illegible]pecially Arranged For Those Who Must Attend to Work of Harvesting During the Day.

Secretary G. Howard Smith this morning received word from Lieut. Kiser stating that he had met with an accident and will not be able to fill his dates at the Pennington County fair. Every effort will be made to secure Lieut. Bacon of Grand Forks to take his place. No stone will be left unturned in an effort to secure an aviator to make the flights as advertised.

For years the Pennington County Agricultural society has striven to lift the annual county fair at Thief River Falls out of the rut generally followed by exhibitions of this kind and so well has the management succeeded that the fame of the event has spread far and wide. That there are other good fairs held in this section is admitted, but the exhibition here [illegible] long been regarded as the prem[illegible]. Interest in it is not confined to residents of the county, visitors from a large section of country regarding it as the one big outing opportunity of the season.

These being the facts as they apply to fairs of former years, the exhibition of 1919 should place the county so far ahead of its neighbors as to establish its preeminence without a doubt. Everything in any manner pertaining to the show has been prepared on a scale never before attempted and the interest is keener than at any previous time. Nothing has been left undone by the management and the success of the undertaking now depends entirely upon the exhibitors and the appreciation shown by the people generally.

Fine Night Programs.

The fair dates this year hit a little too close to the busy harvest season to suit the convenience of everybody, but these things could not be forseen when the primary arrangements were made. It will perhaps be inconvenient in certain cases for farmers to leave their work for the purpose of [illegible]ing present at the fair, and the management, recognizing this fact, has made its arrangements accordingly.

The entire day program will be repeated at night. Provisions have been made for the lighting of the grounds by electricity, thousands of bulbs and clusters making the scene as light as day and even more beautiful. One of the amusement features in particular depends largely upon the lighting effects for its success. Night scenes at the fair grounds will be wonderful and fully as attractive as during daylight.

The Farm Exhibit.

A greater variety of the products of farm, field, garden, dairy, orchard, school and home will be on exhibition than ever before in the county's history. The probabilities are that the keenest interest will center about the new livestock buildings, but every department is certain to receive its full share of attention. Special efforts have been made to interest the children and their department will be well worth a visit.

The different farm clubs will be in evidence with group displays, substantial premiums being offered for the best.

The Amusement Program.

The World's Fair Shows, reputed to be the cleanest and best of their kind, will furnish the greater part of the amusement attractions at the fair. Shows will be given both afternoon and evening, the performance being identical on both occasions.

The free-attraction offerings are the best ever seen in this section. Every afternoon there will be novel and startling acts given in front of the grand stand, the program being as follows:

Alexander Duo, 2:10 p. m. "They turn the world upside down."

Prince Okada, Japanese hand balancing and water spinning. Sliding backward 80 feet on high wire.

The Baldwin Troupe, "Wizzards of the Wire."

"Illumino." The most wonderful high-wire act ever seen in this or any other country.

Miss Lillian Baldwin, sensational high pole act.

World's Fair Shows. The cleanest and most meritorious attraction in the amusement world.

Sensational Airplane Flight.

The above program will be carried out each afternoon and evening. During the day there will also be daylight fireworks, "bombs bursting in air," a sight both novel and exciting.

On the last two afternoons of the fair—Thursday and Friday— Aug. 7 and 8—Lieut. Daniel Kiser, recently returned from service in France and one of the most successful and daring of all the American aviators, will give an exhibition of acrobatic flying such as has never before been witnessed at a county fair. This one act alone is worth coming miles to see as it is different from anything of the kind ever before attempted as an amusement feature. Lieut. Kiser loops the loop, flies upside down, volplanes gracefully and ascends in spirals with such speed that the eye can scarce follow him. This part of the program is liable to prove the sensation of the big show.

The Motorcycle Races.

Excitement of a different nature will be furnished by the motorcycle races. Five expert riders are entered in these events, which will take place on the last two afternoons of the fair, beginning about 3:30 o'clock. Included in the quintet of riders are some of the best known speed demons in the West, each one having a long list of victories to his credit. Following are the riders, with home city and the make of machine they will employ in this contest: Speed Johnson, Fargo, "Excelsior;" Shorty Thompson, Moorhead, "Indian;" Fred Green, Winnipeg, "Indian Special," 8-valve; Red Olson, Grand Forks, "Special;" Dewey Kiewel, Crookston, "Harley-Davidson." The first race will be a one-mile time trial, and the second a two-mile event for which a purse of $50 has been hung up, going $35 to first and $15 to second. The third contest will be for five miles and the prize money divided as fololws: First, $40; second, $30; third, $20. The fourth race will be the big event of both afternoons. It will be for 16 laps or eight miles and the purse totals $100, divided as follows: First, $50; second, $30; third, $20.

World's Fair All Week.

The World's Fair Shows will arrive in the city Sunday evening and will exhibit on the fair grounds all week, opening Monday evening.

TO AUGMENT BAND FOR WEEK OF FAIR

DAILY CONCERTS TO BE GIVEN BEFORE GRANDSTAND AMPITHEATRE.

No special sized band has been called for by the fair board to furnish music for the big three-day exposition to be held in Thief River Falls next week, but it is the intention of Conductor Cordes to augment the present organization with outside men so that there will be at least thirty men playing.

[illegible] good band has always been one of [illegible] features of the Pennington fair, with the exception of last year when the organization was badly depleted as the result of most of its members being in the military service. All of the old time members are now back and holding down their former places.

At the regular band rehearsal held Monday night the matter of bringing bandmen here for the three days was taken up and it was decided to get several players to bolster up the different sections.

The band will be on the job all afternoons playing everything [illegible] operatic grandioso to the late popular numbers of the day. [illegible] special shipment of all the latest [illegible] numbers has arrived from the [illegible]

[illegible] the band will play [illegible] popular concerts at [illegible] of LaBree ave[illegible] the numbers to be rendered are a few of Conductor Cordes own compositions.

CHILDREN, ATTENTION.

Be sure and bring something for exhibition in the department set aside for you at the fair. The committee in charge is anxious to have the children's display in keeping with the remainder of the greatest fair the county has ever held; but cannot do this without the co-operation of all.

Bring or send your exhibits from 6 until 8 o'clock in the evening.

PRIZES FOR DAIRY JUDGING HUNG UP

First prize, $7.00; second, $5.00; third, $3.00; fourth, $3.00; next six $2.00 each. There must be at least six [illegible] in each team and at [illegible] of dairy cattle must [illegible] the two highest county [illegible] be eligible to a state contest between all counties putting on this project and their expenses will be paid to St. Paul and return by the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association. The three highest winners in the state will have their expenses paid to the International Livestock show at Chicago to participate in the national contest. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 18 wishing to take part in this contest should register at the farm bureau office.

RETURNED YANK KILLED DURING STORM TUESDAY

JENS A. PRESTBY STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AND INSTANTLY KILLED.

ONE HORSE ALSO VICTIM

THE OTHER KNOCKED DOWN BUT ESCAPED WITHOUT APPARENT INJURY.

Jens Arthur Prestby, 22 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Prestby, was instantly killed by lightning while mowing hay on his father's farm in Kratka township Tuesday afternoon. The young man but recently returned from France where he served with the American forces and had only a short time previous to his death taken up the work on the farm.

Horse Also Killed.

No one was near at the time of Prestby's death and it is not known how long he remained on the field before being discovered. As near as the family can figure it out the death-dealing bolt must have struck him about 3:30 in the afternoon, there being a violent electric storm over the region at that time.

One of the horses attached to the mowing machine was also killed. His mate was knocked down by the shock but is showing no further effects of his experience. In falling the dead horse pinned the legs of the other to the ground in such a manner that he could not get up and the entire outfit was discovered in one tangled mass when the boy's father went out to investigate his long absence.

Clothing Burned Off.

There was not a mark on the dead horse, but the young man had been quite badly burned, not a vistage of clothing remaining on his body.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the Norwegian Mission church in this city and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Four brothers, besides the parents, survive.

PRINCESS THEATRE TO OPEN SATURDAY

LOUISE GLAUM IN "SAHARA" WILL BE FIRST PICTURE OFFERED.

The Princess theatre, completely remodeled and refitted, will be opened to the public under the management of John Drumund on Saturday evening. The popular play house has been undergoing repairs for a month past and Mr. Brumund returned last week from the cities where he made all arrangements for the opening.

The new equipment includes a full complement of golden grain chairs, two new Simplex projecting machines, Idealite screens and other accessories employed in the best theatres of the larger cities. The ventilating system has been improved, and everything brought strictly up to date.

A powerful, imaginative new producer of motion pictures has sprung into the front rank to challenge world recognition in J. Parker Read, Jr., whose first big emotional drama, "Sahara," starring Louise Glaum in a story by C. Gardner Sullivan and supervised by Allan Dwan, is the attraction for Saturday at the Princess. "Sahara" is hailed everywhere as being the big production of the year in motion pictures; a rich luxurious emotional drama of Paris, Cairo and the Egyptian desert, from which it derives its colorful name. "Sahara" is released by the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation and sets the level to be maintained by the man whose foresight and courage are responsible for the high state of motion pictures throughout the world today.

Mr. Brumund has applied to his house the name "Temple of the Silent Art," and it will be the aim to show nothing but the latest and best.

Something of a particularly special nature is promised at this theatre during the three days of the fair next week.

Attend the Pennington county fair Thief River Falls, Aug. 6, 7 and 8.

Greatest of All Trips.

The people of Baudette want their Thief River Falls neighbors to pay them a visit on the first sociability run of the year. So much in earnest are they over this matter that they yesterday sent a delegation of representative citizens down with a special invitation and a promise that the visitors would receive the warmest welcome of their lives if the hustling north-Beltrami metropolis is made the objective of the journey. The delegation was made up of the following: W. T. Noonon, editor of the Region and the best booster for northern Minnesota now in captivity; Chief of Police Jack Dundas, E. H. Moorhead, a prominent business man and G. A. Schultien, the latter hailing from Bemidji but willing to assure everyone that in going to Baudette the Thief River Falls excursionists would be picking out the best and most sociable spot on earth.

Plan Well Received.

The Baudette delegation immediately rounded up the committee in charge—or as many of the members as could be found—and made the following proposition: They would return at once and make all preparations for the reception of the boosters. Suggested that a half day be added to the time originally set as the limit for the excursion, which would give them an entire day among the thousands of islands in the Lake of the Woods. The people of Baudette would meet them with open arms, no matter what time of night they arrived, said the spokesmen, and from that time on the town as well as all the surrounding country that has helped make it famous would be at their entire disposal.

A Wonderful Opportunity.

Noonan, as might be expected, said no other trip in America compared with a day's sail among the islands of the lake, and he was so earnestly backed up by his colleagues that all who heard him became convinced that he was telling the absolute truth. He did not go so far as to intimate that it is nothing to our credit that we are not better acquainted with the most beautiful lake and region in the entire country when it lies practically at our doors, but he rather left this feeling nevertheless.

Back Monday Morning.

Baudette is only about two hours distant from Warroad by auto. The road between the two points is in excellent condition and the run in the early evening would in itself be considerable of a treat. There is no question as to what the reception would be at Baudette. The people there are noted far and wide for their hospitality, and being proud of their location and prospects, are anxious that the visitor shall see all there is.

Making this addition to the original plan would entail no hardship and hardly any loss of time. Instead of getting back Sunday night as at first intended, two nights would be spent on the trip, everybody being back at their usual avocations after dinner on Monday. The opportunity is too good to pass up.

Are Our Friends.

There is not a town in this section with which Thief River Falls is so closely connected in a business way as Baudette. There is hardly an event of any note takes place in this city to which the people there do not send large and enthusiastic delegations. It is so with our fairs, stock sales, gun club shoots and everything else. It would be rather a shabby show of appreciation did not our people in turn pay a visit to the other city when they are within a few miles of it anyway.

Thirty Cars Going.

Thirty automobile owners have signified their intention of joining the cavalcade on Saturday. All will go as far as Warroad and about 20 have thus far stated that they will extend the trip to Baudette. Secretary Smith will this afternoon notify the committee just how many they may expect on Saturday evening and every provision will be made for them.

In order that there may be something definite to go on, all those who wish to make the trip should notify Mr. Smith as soon as they have made up their minds. It is not necessary that they be members of the Commercial club as this is [illegible] sociability run and all are welcome. Make up your mind that this is as good a time as any to take a short vacation and join the excursion. You will never regret it.

Those Who Are Going.

Those who thus far have sent their names in to Secretary Smith stating that they will be members of the party are the following auto owners. As each machine will carry at least five passengers it will be seen that a rather respectable delegation will make the trip: C. L. Hansen, A. J. Anderson, Robert McGinn, George Loken, Carl B. Larson, O. L. Ihle, F. J. Stebbins, Thos. A. Way, John Morgan, T. P. Hamre, C. A. Nason, J. H. Hay, R. H. Ross, F. S. Ebert, J. F. Farr, Perl W. Mabey, J. H. Hermanson, J. E. Robinson, G. L. Streeter, John Vorachek, A. E. Olson, Kiewel Brewing Company, Mayor G. A. Penney, J. J. McCann, Chas. Fitzerman, T. P. Anderson, Math Barzen, Babcock Bros., at least one member of the firm of Drs. Mellby, Paulson & Fisher.

There will be others and most of them will wish to make the journey clear to Baudette.

And everybody will boost for our county fair.

SHERIFF AND POSSE SEARCH FOR MAD MAN

OF MOROSE DISPOSITION

HAD THREATENED TO TAKE HIS LIFE ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree and a posse of thirty men have been combing the country for several miles around Mavie since Sunday in an attempt to locate the whereabouts of August Harvey, a farm hand, employed by Pat Gavin, but their efforts have proven in vain.

Harvey, who has been employed for a long time at the Gavin farm, suddenly disappeared last Saturday and no trace has been found of him up to this hour. The young man has been acting strange during the past few months and those closely connected with him were unable to discover the reason for the derangement of his mind.

Inspect Residence.

The young man resided in a house on a piece of land adjoining the Gavin farm and after he had been absent for several days from his duties a search was made of his place of residence. From all appearances there had been no one on the premises since his sudden disappearance and Sheriff LaBree was notified.

Scour the Country.

A posse of thirty men was formed by the sheriff and the country around Mavie has been scoured for miles around since Sunday. At first it was feared he had wandered towards the river and perhaps drowned but this theory has been given up. The authorities now believe that Harvey has travelled into the woods north of Mavie and suicide is feared.

Had Made Threats.

The reason for the suicide idea comes from the fact that on several occasions in the past Harvey had made threats to end his life. The search is still on and it is believed that he will be found either dead or alive.

Insanity Suspect Released.

On complaint of several farmers in Star township, Alfred Lomans, a farm laborer, was brought to the city Sunday evening by Sheriff LaBree for examination. When Lomans appeared on Monday morning before an examining board he showed no signs of mind derangement and was allowed to proceed to his home at Bertha, Minn.

Pastor's Family Visits.

Rev. and Mrs. M. Hartman and children, of St. James, arrived Tuesday morning. They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Aga, 117 Main avenue south, and expect to visit for a week. They made their trip in a Buick six and report absolutely no trouble.

HARVEST OF WHEAT AND RYE IS BEGUN

WORK HAS STARTED IN ALL PARTS OF COUNTRY; RYE IN FULL BLAST.

The harvesting of wheat, barley, rye and oats has commenced while the cutting of wheat and rye is in full swing. The harvesting of rye is practically completed in Pennington county and wheat that has been affected with black rust has also been cut in many places as it will not fill any further if the black rust has completely covered the stem. The harvest of barley and oats has also begun and reports have been sent in that these are giving very good yields this year. Work of cutting wheat was begun on the Patton farm on Monday and likewise at the Barzen farm. J. O. Thorstad, of Sanders township, reports having cut 30 acres of barley with a very good yield and all of his wheat is also down.

Many men are being put to work on farms and there is a labor scarcity in some instances. County Agent McCann is bending his efforts towards securing a part of the surplus farm hands from Montana for Pennington county and it is believed that all calls from farmers for labor will be filled within a short time.

Spurting Ahead in Race For Times' Free Prizes

HIGHEST AMOUNTS OF SUBSCRIPTION MONEY TURNED IN BY AUGUST 6th, 6 P. M., WILL WIN BIG POINT BONUS. EVERY DAY SHOULD BE A VOTING DAY FROM NOW ON IF YOU INTEND TO WIN. DON'T PUT OFF YOUR WINNING WORK UNTIL LAST MINUTE.

Each Person You Meet is a Prospective Subscriber and Should Be Approached With This Fact in Mind

CLUB MEMBERS BEGIN TO HAVE VISIONS OF FUN IT WOULD BE TO DRIVE THEIR OWN MOTOR CAR. IT WILL BE FAR EASIER TO WIN LATER ON IF YOU WILL ONLY PUT IN SOME GOOD HARD LICKS RIGHT NOW. DON'T FOLLOW THE LEADERS—LEAD THE FOLLOWERS.

Going up!

Swinging into line, all a-tingle with ambition, club members working in The Times great free-for-all automobile and prize campaign, are pushing forward vigorously.

The workers will be spurred on by the possibilities offered this week of the 85,000 prize ballot offer, and will quickly take advantage of this opportunity to collect as much subscription money as possible before the close of this most liberal special offer. Read the advertisement which appears in this issue for particulars.

Extra Points Valuable.

That these extra point offers make possible a rapid and worth-while advance towards winning one of the fine prizes, was proven only last week, and the standings of the club members today, show that great gains were made.

There are to be no dull moments in this campaign. All over the territory the energetic ones are fired with enthusiasm—determined to pluck one of the elegant prizes or get a cash commission as their reward in this wonderful gift distribution that is only a few weeks distant.

Beautiful weather is having its effect in bringing club members to a realization of the joy to be had in possessing a dandy motor car. So far during the campaign, the weather has been almost perfect, and quite naturally the thoughts of the workers in the race turned to a contemplation of the coming fall—and what it would be with a fine automobile of one's own.

All Over Sept. 13.

All of which serves to make busy days at campaign headquarters. Be it known that the two automobiles and six other prizes we will give away are to be distributed on Saturday, September 13th—right at the beginning of fall time. Then, comes months of undiluted pleasure for those who have the foresight to hustle in the interim.

The foresight is there, rest assured. The workers who are already participating in the race will take immediate advantage of the big 85,000 prize ballot offer now in affect, and as a consequence, they will rapidly build up many points between today and Wednesday, August 6th, at 6 p. m.

Finds Work Easy.

"I was undecided for a long time," explained one young lady as she handed in her first subscription last week. "Finally I made up my mind that if those other club members could win a prize, so can I. My father offered me my first subscription order as a starter, but I told him I wanted to test it out and try someone else.

"I then rang up a friend, who lives a short distance from our house, and asked if I could have their subscription. The answer came back 'you bet'! We've been watching your name in the paper and wondered if you were going ahead so we could help you.'"

Since the world began, it has been a case of "workers will be winners" and "loafers will be losers." Once you get in the lead it isn't a hard matter to hold that position until the finish. It's the best finish that will win the best prizes, and not how well or how poorly you started winning. It's true, every worker on the list today stands a good chance in the race for first honors and reward. Some may not realize now what a mighty good chance they really have, until the campaign days have slipped by and no more winning can be done.

Loafing Means Losing.

You would no doubt regret your misfortune for many days to come if you would just loaf along and lose the biggest and best prize, the Scripps-Booth car, by only a small margin of points. Of course, the same mistake has happened in other campaigns of this kind, but he who profits by the mistakes of others, is a wise man. "I could have won," stated one club member who lost a valuable motor car by only a few subscription orders, in a similar campaign, but what good does anyone get from being a "might-have-been"? All the regrets in the world couldn't bring back the opportunity that member had before the race came to a close.

It is difficult to see how any person with the ordinary amount of ambition, can fail to reach the summit of success in this campaign. The prize to be won depends entirely upon the person working. The harder the effort, the bigger the prize will be. Club members themselves have the power to decide which prize shall be theirs. All that is needed is points, and these are gotten with ease—by far easier than most workers at first anticipated.

At the county fair, August 6, 7, and 8 will be the place for all club members to meet their friends and acquaintances. Be on hand every day at the fair grounds and reap a harvest of subscriptions and points.

PEOPLES AUTO COMPANY BUYS AGA'S GARAGE

DEAL CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON AND POSSESION WILL BE GIVEN TUESDAY.

Representatives of the Peoples Auto company, which about three months ago entered the automobile supply field in this city, yesterday closed a deal whereby they become the owners of the building now used for similar purpose by J. J. Aga & Sons, located at Main avenue and First street. The transfer includes the building and lots.

G. S. Streeter, vice-president of the Peoples Auto Co., and manager of the Thief River Falls branch, has for a long time been on the lookout for a suitable location. The concern has enjoyed an excellent business since locating here and will take all necessary steps in order to increase it. They are the local agent for the General Motors line of automobiles, which includes such well known makes as the Buick, Scripps-Booth, Franklin, Oakland, Chevrolet and Reo. They also handle the Samson tractor in this section and have worked up a considerable demand for this machine.

Take Charge Tuesday

Mr. Streeter will move into the new quarters on Tuesday morning. On Monday the Aga people will sell all the rebuilt and second hand cars, tractors and engines on hand at auction, thus clearing the floor for their successors. They have no intention of leaving the city but will continue in the general machinery repair business as heretofore. The machine shop was not taken over by the Peoples concern, although it is probable that such department will be added later.

Arthur LaBudde Returns.

A. F. LaBudde, former assistant cashier at the First National bank, returned to Thief River Falls Wednesday morning after an absence of eighteen months, during which time he was in the military service. Mr. LaBudde left this city in August, 1917 and joined the air service at St. Louis, Mo., after which he was assigned to the 816th Aero Squadron stationed at Detroit, Michigan. Although he was among the first to join, Mr. LaBudde's outfit never reached the other side of the Atlantic but their services were nevertheless put to good use on this side. He received his discharge at Detroit on April 1st but remained there in civil service work until June 1st, when he resigned and left for Alcott Lake, Wis., to pay his folks a visit. Enroute to this city he stopped off at Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis visiting with friends and relatives. Mr. LaBudde resumed his old position at the bank this morning.

COUNTY HAD BUT 18 FIRES DURING 1918

Eighteen fires occurred in Pennington county druing the year 1918, according to the twelfth annual report of State Fire Marshal Sanborn. Buildings valued at $67,830 were damaged to the extent of $33,838 and insurance in the amount of $28,100 was carried.

Henepin county leads the counties in the largest number of blazes there being 714 fires, all told, 699 of these occurring in the city of Minneapolis alone. Ramsey follows with 437 fires, while 421 of the blazes were in St. Paul.

There were 1,148 dwellings in the state that suffered from fire, while barns destroyed comes next, totalling 421. There were four jail and fire halls in which there were blazes and 14 ice houses.

During 1918 there were 635 fires caused from burning forests and leads the list. After this the unknown causes total 460 with 111 suspicious cases. In 200 instances the blazes were caused from sparks flying from chimneys and 131 cases where carelessness with matches was the cause.

An idea seems to prevail among a large per cent that a great many fires are caused from exploding gasoline, gasoline stoves, but in the marshal's report there are but 6 instances of this kind. Two fires resulted from Christmas trees while 100 fires resulted from lightning.

ELKS TO ASSIST SALVATIONISTS IN FUND DRIVE

BIG ORDER PLEDGES SUPPORT OF MEMBERS IN WORTHY UNDERTAKING.

$4000 IS COUNTY'S SHARE

CITADEL COSTING $10,000 TO BE ERECTED IN THIEF RIVER FALLS.

A Salvation Army citadel which will be a social center for the community as well as headquarters for the Army's work in Thief River Falls will be built and equipped as the result of the Home Service campaign which is now going forward in Minnesota and which will be intensified between August 10 to 18. The citadel, after the general plan of the Salvation Army buildings, is to be erected as headquarters for both the evangelistic and welfare work of the Salvation Army. It will contain a large auditorium for religious or social meetings, offices and meeting rooms from which the work may be directed, and sleeping quarters for the officers.

For Returned Soldiers.

Returned soldiers and sailors who through the world war found the "Army" so helpful, will be provided with social and recreational rooms where games, music and various forms of amusement will afford them pastime. In the citadel the needy from the surrounding counties may enjoy baths, showers and sleeping accommodations. A cafeteria where the lowest possible prices for food will prevail, will form an important feature of the new building. Rest rooms for out-of-town women, especially those who come from near-by farms, will eliminate unnecessary fatigue from a "trip to town."

Important Community Factor.

The work carried on in the citadel will be constructive and will become an important factor in the community life. The building will bring the Salvation Army work together under one roof and will solidify and strengthen its influence, according to state and national leaders. The money for the erection of the building, $10,000, will come from the funds raised in the Home Service drive by the people in district No. 26. The campaign is distinctly a Home Service one and the money will be used effectively for home work.

The Elks have completed their organization in district No. 26, and are working their hardest, under the leadership of L. A. Lampert of Thief River Falls, for the best results in the drive. L. H. Lawrence will have charge of the campaign in the city and will have his canvassing teams ready on the opening day.

Community Girls Help.

This campaign will be inaugurated by the Community Girls, who will work in conjunction with the Elks and start on their rounds of soliciting Friday noon. Be prepared for them and ready to do your share in this good cause.

STORES WILL CLOSE.

Next Thursday all stores in Thief River Falls will be closed from 12 o'clock until 6 in order to give the employes an opportunity to visit the fair. In order to accomodate the public the business places will keep open from 6 until 8 o'clock on that day.

U. S. ARMY MEN TO PLAY TO-NIGHT

LIEUT. GEN. LIGGETT TERMED ORGANIZATION THE "MILLION DOLLAR BAND".

A band concert of exceptional high order will be given at the Auditorium this evening when "The Million Dollar Band," pride of the Sunset Division, will appear.

During war-time fury the bandmen were affiliated with the 116th Engineers and on landing on American soil the band was given special permission to make a tour of the principal American cities at concert work. The name of the organization came about in a rather queer manner and ever since Lieut. Gen. Liggett made the statement that the band was "worth a million dollars to the United States Army," such it was called. Praise from the general helped to inspire the boys and an order was soon issued authorizing Conductor Bachman to draw on any of the A. E. F. bands for added talent. The band holds a diploma of honor from the French government, an honor that no other band holds. At the annual musical fete in Paris the pride of the Sunset Division was entered and they acquitted themselves with credit.

At their concert this evening the program will contain both classical and popular music, and in this way will satisfy the two classes of music lovers. Playing the identical numbers which sent many a soldier to victory or death on the battlefields of France, the "Million Dollar Band" members will no doubt thrill lovers of good music at their concert tonight.

The members are artists from all over the country while Fred and Robert Bruce are featured. They are two Indians, unusually talented. The former appears in cornet work and the latter in clarinet solos. These young men were born on the White Earth reservation near Mahnomen and since their early college days at Carlisle, both have been accomplished musicians.

A dance will be given following the concert.

Tom Lonson Returns.

Thomas Lonson, who arrived in the United States July 12 from overseas service with the A. E. F., reached Thief River Falls Tuesday morning for a visit with his mother, sister and friends. Before going into the service, Mr. Lonson was employed in a bank in North Dakota. He went overseas as a sergeant-major with the 827 Aero Squadron and was stationed in England for six months after their arrival on May 16, 1918. The squadron reached the shores of France on November 1, eleven days before the war ended and it was then stationed at a large air supply base. He returned with the 101st Balloon company, and received his discharge at Camp Grant. Mr. Lonson expects to take up his old position after a short vacation.

ROOM FOR WOMEN AT FAIR GROUNDS

LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSE COMES TO RESCUE WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS.

The Woman's Club was not successful in its attempt to raise sufficient funds for a building to be used exclusively by the ladies visiting the fair, but such a place will be provided for them nevertheless. The failure of the woman's campaign is not to be understood as resulting in the abandonment of the project, but a postponement will be necessary.

Recognizing the need for such improvement, Manager H. C. Johnson of the Nortz Lumber company has provided a substitute that will prove most welcome. It is his intention to properly equip a large tent on the grounds, providing tables, chairs, etc. for the accommodation of the ladies.

There will be newspapers, magazines, fair premium lists and other printed matter of interest supplied and the place fixed up as comfortable as possible.

A toilet and wash room is being built and with the tent provided by Mr. Johnson the women visitors at the fair will be better cared for than at any time in the past. A competent nurse will be in charge of the department to look out for the welfare of visitors.

A Successful Burglary.

While Mrs. Anna Kretschmer, 212 LaBree avenue south, was away on a visit, someone broke into her home and carried away considerable valuable property. Mrs. Kretschmer has not been in the city since early spring and there is no way of knowing just when the robbery was committed. The first known concerning it was when she notified the police upon her return. Among the articles gone are included a considerable quantity of silverware, clothing and bric-a-brac. The amount of the loss is not stated, although it is understood to be considerable.

The thief had gained entrance through the back door of the house and could without any great danger of detection carry the plunder away at his leisure.

Notice.

After waiting for a long time in the hope that costs of materials and labor would be reduced to such an extent that an increase in the price of tonsorial work would not be necessary, we now find that our prices must be raised in order to enable us to meet the higher cost of everything that enters into our business. On and after August 1, 1919, the following prices will therefor be charged:

Haircut	50c
Shave	25c

IMPORTANT.

J. D. Clarkson, president of the Jefferson Highway commission has a very important message to deliver to the members of the Thief River Falls Commercial club and the Merchants' association. It is a matter of supreme importance to everyone in the community.

The meeting will be held at the Commercial club rooms this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock sharp, and the largest possible attendance is requested.

2 CONTINUED CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

CASE OF RESON & YOHN AND SCHOOL SUPT. HEARD BEFORE JUDGE WATTS.

Two cases continued over from the regular court session were heard at the district court rooms on Monday and Tuesday, Judge William Watts of Crookston, presiding.

The first case to come up was an accounting case of Reson & Yohn, formerly engaged in the livery and feed business at Goodridge. Attorneys Stanton and Chommie represented Oliver Reson while Attorney Quale defended Yohn.

The two men went into business at Goodridge in 1915 and the place went into the hands of the receiver Feb. 15, 1918 and in order to come to a settlement and straighten out matters suit was begun by Reson. It was proven in court that the men had kept a very loose bookkeeping system and after the attorneys had battled with all sorts of figures, the court came to the conclusion that Reson was indebted to the firm in the sum of $1141 and Yohn 31124.

When the men entered upon the venture each one put a team of horses into the business, Yohn having a pair of grays and Reson a pair of blacks. The main controversy was over the ownership of the chargers in the business. Yohn lost one of his grays and then when the partnership dissolved, he was under the impression that he was to have a half ownership in Reson's horses. This Reson objected to and this is the main question left to the court to decide.

In the case of Supt. Gunderson versus Pennington county, the question as to whether the school superintendent is entitled to traveling expenses or not, is to be decided by the court. The county board has in the past refused to pay the bills of the superintendent, they being under the impression that his salary is large enough to include his expenses when traveling. With the advanced cost of everything taken into consideration, Supt. Gunderson thinks the bills should be allowed by the board and the decision of the court is awaited.

LEAPS TO DEATH OFF BRIDGE AT ST. PAUL

A. C. STOPPEL, RUG DEALER, BELIEVED INSANE TAKES HIS LIFE.

Albert C. Stoppel, age 40, owner of a St. Paul rug factory, and cousin of Mrs. B. E. Dalquist and Miss Laura Stoppel of this city, ended his life last Thursday morning at St. Paul, when he calmly drove his automobile to the middle of the high bridge, scribbled a farewell note to his wife and jumped into the river below.

His body was recovered late that day and funeral services were held at his former home at Alexandria the first of the week.

According to Mr. Seigle, a brother-in-law, of Mr. Stoppel, the victim had been acting strangely for several weeks and it is believed that business worries had partly deranged his mind and made him depressed and melancholy.

The deceased arose last Thursday morning at 4 a. m., after a sleepless night and began driving around aimlessly returning to his home at 8 a. m., and complained to his wife about business troubles. Tearing one of his coats that hung on a hat rack in half, he paced the floor for a few minutes and then left the house. It is that that he then drove directly to the bridge and leaped to his death.

The dead man's mother, Mrs. J. F. Stoppel, of Alexandria, was notified and the body was shipped there on recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dalquist of this city and Miss Laura Stoppel were in attendance at the funeral.

Odd Fellows on Visit.

Last Thursday evening a number of members of Long Pine Odd Fellows lodge went to St. Hilaire for the purpose of visiting the lodge at that place. The grand master of Minnesota, Rev. D. M. Johnston of St. Paul, who was here in the interests of the order, was in the party, which fact added much to its interest and importance. At the close of the regular session lunch was served by the Rebekah lodge of St. Hilaire.

Members of the local lodge who made the trip were: Bernhard Knutsen and family, John Gassow, T. L. Melgaard, E. P. Burstad, Henry Goethe, Hans Heckne, Emil Zeh, Ole Hodalen, Emil Nordquist and R. Mathews.

The boys were brought before the court as the result of an affray on Tuesday evening at the O. J. Odin residence, where it is charged the youngsters broke into the house and committed several acts that were not in keeping with orderly conduct. County Attorney Quale recommended that the boys be let off with a reprimand and pointed out the danger of entering places where they had no permission or business. The youngsters when asked if they would "be good," all blurted forth "yes sir."

LOCAL BOY ENLISTS WITH "DEVIL DOGS"

FRANCIS MIDDERIGH SIGNS UP FOR 4 YEARS IN MARINE CORPS.

Francis Midderigh, son of Fire Chief Paul Midderigh, offered his services to the government during the world's war but was cheated out of doing his bit for the reason that no more volunteers would be accepted at that time. Today he is in the uniform of the famous "devil dogs" at Mare Island, California, from which point he expects to go to either the Phillipines or China, after a course in training.

The gilt edged proposition the government is now offering on enlisting in the regular army or marine corps is attracting a large number of the young men. While in the service they are allowed to take up some sort of trade and when they have finished their term of service to flag and country they are ready to step into some valuable position in civilian life. The pay will be the same as that of war time days, Congress having passed a law fixing the lowest pay at $30 per month and then there is a chance of attaining the rank of a noncom, which would pay considerably more.

Young Midderigh has enlisted for a period of 4 years and will finish his term of service when 25 years of age.

The Midderigh home has the honor and distinction of being the first place in Thief River Falls to display a service flag on the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany, by the enlistment of their son, Willie. The young man went to France with one of the first regular divisions and saw service at the front from the beginning. Later he became a member of one of the motorized supply trains and is now able to handle one of the large trucks with skill. This son of the fire chief was among the first over and will be among the last back as he also enlisted for three years. The young man has hinted a desire to re-enlist when his term expires with the consent of his father.

On Long Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. McFarland and children left Wednesday morning for a trip by auto to Yellowstone and Glazier parks in Wyoming and Montana, respectively. They will stop off at different points in North Dakota, where they will visit with friends. They were equipped with a full camping outfit and on their arrival at the Yellowstone and Glazier parks they intend to spend their time camping. It is expected the trip will consume a period of three weeks.

We have a reason for everything we sell

Ask us about any product on our shelves—and find out why we sell it.

Take RYZON for example—a baking powder that we always recommend. Maybe you have wondered why.

Well, RYZON is economical and dependable.

Economical—because you pay less per pound than for other high-grade baking powders.

Because you use less.

Because it is light in weight and there are more teaspoonfuls per pound.

Because it is absolutely sure and permits no waste from unsuccessful baking.

Dependable—it is made of a new and superior kind of phosphate — monosodium phosphate.

It is less susceptible to moisture—it is made by a patented process.

The directions call for "level" measurements which insures accuracy.

The RYZON Baking Book takes the "guess" out of baking.

Doesn't it count for something with you to buy your groceries from someone who knows all about them?

THE SOW THISTLE MENACE.

It is doubtful if anyone not thoroughly acquainted with conditions in northwestern Minnesota realizes fully the inroads made by the sow thistle on the farms of the section. It is safe to say that the damage caused by the presence of this weed will run into the millions. The worst of it is that no one seems to know just what to do in order to get rid of the pest.

This species of thistle was first observed in Manitoba some years ago and it has steadily been working its way southward since that time, adding some fifty miles to its encroachments each season. Wherever it gets a foothold it practically stamps out every other kind of vegetation. Without a doubt it is the greatest nuisance with which the farmers of the region have had to contend.

No one, not even the agricultural college professors, have as yet presented anything in the way of a fairly certain remedy. Fields can be kept reasonably clean through the proper rotation of crops and the sowing of winter grain will keep the plague in check. Clover also is a good thing for holding it down. The surest remedy, however, seems to be summer fallowing. Keep black the plot on which it has secured a footing and it will have to move on. This is costly, but not nearly so costly as permitting it to thrive.

The strange thing about this weed is that it seems to go away of its own accord finally. Very little trouble is now experienced from this source in Canada and the northern tier of counties have about gotten rid of it. No explanation for this behavior is forthcoming and it would not be surprising to find that the precautions taken by the farmers themselves are responsible for its disappearance. They have learned to take measures for their protection and find that the weed does not flourish when properly combatted. Certain it is that where farms were nearly destroyed a few years ago hardly a thistle is to be found today.

Waiting for it to disappear is, however, a poor plan. In a race to see which is compelled to go first, the thistle or the farmer, the latter is liable to lose out. It is far better to meet the pest with every weapon at hand and check its inroads as far as possible. This can be done by the proper rotation, by summer fallowing, planting winter grains—and keeping sheep. The latter will leave the most tempting pasturage to feed on the thistle. Another important matter is keeping the sides of roads mowed and reporting promptly any person who permits the nuisance to flourish on his place.

THE VALUE OF REVIVALS.

The greatest religious revival in the history of Pennington county came to a close with the meeting held at the Auditorium in this city on Sunday evening. The large hall was packed to the doors and the occasion was one which will linger long in the memory of those present.

These revival meetings have been a greater success than the sponsors of the movement dared hope for. The attendance increased steadily from the first evening and there is no question in the mind of any unprejudiced person but that much good was accomplished.

There are those who do not believe in revivals of this kind. Their objections are based on the assertion that they make religion spectacular and introduce into the preaching of the Gospel an element that is neither necessary nor desirable. These people do not go so far as to maintain that the teachings of the evangelists are not sound or fail to conform in every way to Christian precept, but object to the general method of their dissemination. This is rather too narrow a view to be entertained in this day and age.

If it is generally accepted that the teachings of the Bible are right and therefore desirable as guides for the conduct of mortals (and it is so accepted) then it follows that there should be no serious quarrel over the method employed in their inculcation. If it was found advisable to preach in the wilderness, on the river bank or the seashore in times past in order to bring an understanding and appreciation of the Word to the people, there is no reason for supposing that the plan is not as well worth trying now as two thousand years ago.

Evangelist Mathis is a sincere, convincing speaker, and if his work here results in turning even one person toward searching for a better mode of life the campaign will have been worth vastly more than it cost. He employs neither gymnastics nor sensationalism to get his message across, differing in this respect from many who follow his calling.

The meetings were a decided success and The Times believes the community better off for their having been held.

THE GREATEST COUNTY FAIR.

Every year the annual fair of the Pennington County Agricultural association gets just a little better and the eighteenth event of the kind, which will hold the attention of the entire section for three days next week, will be the biggest and best in the history of the organization. More money has been set aside for prizes, more has been spent in securing exceptional amusement attractions, and more will be used for advertising purposes in one way and another than ever before. Unless the weather man develops a grouch there is no question but that more people will this year visit the show than in any previous year.

The new stock barns will undoubtedly prove the centers of greatest interest. There is a separate building for the leading varieties—Holsteins, Guernseys and Shorthorns. This will be a great improvement over the former method of displaying these animals and one that stockmen will take advantage of without urging. The cattle industry has assumed such importance in this section that it would not be surprising to find that a fair devoted entirely to the display and sale of cattle, sheep and hogs will in the near future prove almost a necessity. Until such time as this is brought about, however, the county fair will afford the best opportunity for stock owners to show their prize winners.

Particular attention has this year been paid to the amusement features of the fair. It is realized that farmers especially want something to enliven the proceedings, and these have been provided in abundance. Everyone who has given the matter any consideration has no hesitancy in stating that the arrangements in this respect are far better than in former years.

The fair management has certainly done its share toward making the event a success. Nothing now remains in order to score a triumph but that the citizens generally and farmers in particular break the attendance record.

THE SOCIABILITY RUN.

The Pennington County Fair, and incidentally the city of Thief River Falls, will be advertised through the medium of an automobile sociability run next Saturday. The itinerary includes visits to all the towns and villages between this city and Warroad, with a possibility that the journey will be extended to Baudette. The band will be taken along and speakers will give short addresses at each stop.

It is now more than three years since a similar trip was made and those who were along on that occasion will need no urging in order to make them enthusiastic boosters for the coming event. The neighbors to the north surely showed the visitors a good time on that expedition and have promised that there shall be nothing lacking in this respect now.

The intention is to particularly call attention to the fact that Pennington county is this year holding the best fair in northwestern Minnesota. Advertising matter calculated to fasten this idea firmly into the heads of all and sundry will be carried in abundance and scattered where it will do the most good. The merchants among the excursionists will improve the opportunity to call on such customers as are within reach, and it will be general visiting day all around.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

A resolution passed by the city council provided for the vacation of a considerable tract of land in the original Red Lake Rapids division of the city of Thief River Falls for the use of the Thief River Falls Lumber company. The lands included practically all of blocks 36, 37, 38 and 39.

Bonds in the sum of $20,000 were sold by the county for the purpose of taking up the floating indebtedness. The firm of Hanney & Co. of St. Hilaire, were awarded the issue, their bid being $20,500. The interest rate was four per cent.

The levy for county expenses for the ensuing year was placed at $24,500, divided as follows: Revenue, $15,000; poor, $4,000; road and bridge, $3,000; bond and interest, $2,500; court house and jail, $2,500.

The new saw mill was thoroughly tuned up and started running out lumber. The plant had a capacity of 100,000 feet per day.

John Bergval was awarded the contract for the building of the new Odd Fellows' hall. The basement was completed during the week.

TEN YEARS AGO.

The surveyors for the Great American railroad were busy in the eastern end of the county laying out the route of the road. The projectors expected to have a thousand miles of the line in readiness for business before the end of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Richardson went to Rochester for the purpose of attending the funeral of Mr. Richardson's father.

Irene Chittick went out in the river too far at Zeh park and would probably have been drowned had not Harold Provencher with rare presence of mind come to her rescue.

NEWSY CONFESSES TO BOOZE CHARGE

DAN STOYANOFF FINED $100 AND GIVEN SUSPENDED JAIL SENTENCE.

Confessing to the charge that he kept in store and for sale" six bottles of whiskey, Dan Stoyanoff, a news agent on the Duluth line, appeared before Judge Grindeland last Thursday evening at the district court rooms and pleaded guilty. He was given a fine of $100 and a jail sentence of thirty days, sentence being suspended during good behavior.

Stoyanoff was arrested several weeks ago after H. L. Byers, a Soo detective, had discovered that the newsy had the whiskey and claimed that the liquor was stored for sale. A preliminary hearing before Judge Tarrant resulted in Stoyanoff being bound over to the grand jury, which will not meet until January, and bail was fixed at $200.

Deciding that the best thing to do and to clear the matter up Stoyanoff came through with a clean story and paid his fine.

The nature of the case is different from most of the liquor cases coming up and is the first offense of its kind that has come before the court.

5000 EXTRA FARM HANDS IN MONTANA

DRY YEAR CAUSE OF MANY HAVING TO SEEK OTHER EMPLOYMENT.

There are between 5,000 and 6,000 surplus farm hands availabel in the state of Montana, according to a letter received by County Agent McCann from County Agent Leader J. C. Taylor, of Bozeman, Mont.

This is evidently on account of the dry year and farmers will be forced to go out and work in outside states as they have no crop to harvest. Meetings of county agents in the various counties of Montana have been held and each county will submit an approximate figure on the number of men who will want to seek employment outside their state during harvest. It is expected that within two weeks the survey will be completed and the number is being placed at between five and six thousand surplus farm hands.

County Agent McCann is in communication with Mr. Taylor of Bozeman, Montana, asking him for a number of men who are willing to come to Pennington county for employment during the harvest season. Several calls have been made at County Agent McCann's office in the auditorium for men but none were available.

EIGHT APPLICANTS GET FINAL PAPERS

ED DAHL AGAIN BECOMES CITIZEN OF GREAT AMERICAN REPUBLIC.

Eight new citizens of the land of the Stars and Stripes were made at the court house last Thursday evening, after U. S. Naturalization Officer R. K. Doe had completed the examinations prescribed.

Among the applicants for papers was Edwin Dahl, who recently returned from France, where he had served in the U. S. army with Camp Hospital 43. Mr. Dahl is well known here, having graduated from the local high school. Going to Canada to take up land, Mr. Dahl became a citizen of the dominion and on the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the U. S. forces. First papers were not necessary in his case, as he was made a citizen under the 7th sub-division of the Act of Congress approved May 9, 1918, which provides that those non-citizens, who donned the uniform during the emergency was sufficient evidence that they were fit to become citizens.

Others receiving their final papers were: Frederick Robert Head, Alfred Godfred Johnson, Oscar Bernhard Soderling, Stanley John Malone, Alfred Johnson, Andreas Hoyland and Pedor Nickolai Pederson.

Kept the Wrong Collateral.

A short time ago Mrs. Linstad, residing on the East side, lost her pocketbook containing $27 in money and certificates of deposit on two local banks. She notified Chief of Police Erickson and he got on the trail of a man reported to have picked up a pocketbook about the same time. He was able to get no satisfaction but kept watching the party in the hope of discovering whether or not his suspicions were correct.

On Friday the pocketbook was found in the front yard of premises occupied by a married daughter of Mrs. Linstad. The money was safe but the certificates of deposit were gone. These were of no value to the finder of the property as the banks had been notified to stop payment on them as soon as the loss was discovered.

Correct You Are.

(St. Hilaire Spectator:—Those who have supervision over the Jefferson Highway in this county should take immediate steps to eliminate the double turn over the railroad tracks between here and Thief River Falls without delay. It was rank engineering that permitted such a turn to be made in the first place, and the many accidents that have occurred there since the road was established, demonstrates beyond doubt that the turn is a menace to the traveling public. There is no particular reason why the road could not be angled across the tracks at that point as well as the first crossing north of town. If the county has power to straighten the road, it should be done without delay.

BETTER MEN MEET NEEDS OF HARVEST

STATE OFFICIALS SAY FARM LABOR SITUATION PRESENTS FAVORABLE OUTLOOK.

With the farm labor situation normal in Minnesota, North and South Dakota during the haying season, state officials are of the opinion that the outlook for harvest and threshing seasons is favorable. It is stated that a far better class of men are meeting the demands.

In Minnesota farmers have been paying $60 to $65 per month and board for labor. The scale of wages has not been fixed for the harvest season but officials of the United States Labor Bureau say that the wages paid in states farther south will be met by the northern farmer. In Kansas and Nebraska the harvest hand receives from $5 to $6 per day, the day averaging 10 hours.

The old type hobo is being crowded out by a new type of laborer, it is declared by those closely in touch with the harvest hands. The percentage of college and university men in the fields is said to be larger than ever before and there are a great number of returned soldiers.

So far there has not been a single report of sabotage in the northwest, while in former years the radicals caused much trouble.

A. A. Trovotten of Barnesville, Minn., is the retiring president. He refused re-election.

RUNAWAY INJURES GRYGLA MAN; DIES

HORSES BECOME FRIGHTENED WHEN SINGLE TREE DROPS ON THEIR HEELS.

Knute Moe, aged about 60, one of the old settlers in the Grygla country, received injuries in a runaway last Friday afternoon which caused his death in the Grygla hospital two hours afterward.

Mr. Moe was driving a team of horses and was on his way home alone after a trip to Grygla. When several miles from Grygla it is believed a bolt became loose on the single tree, allowing it to drop on the horses' heels. The horses at once became frightened and ran for a long distance before they crossed a ditch and then back onto the road again. It is evident that Mr. Moe lost control of the horses and on crossing the ditch, was thrown over the dash board. A general smashup resulted here and Mr. Moe became entangled in a peculiar manner, it being necessary to break the iron brace on the pole before his head could be separated from the wreck. A boy working in a garden nearby on seeing the smashup ran to the scene and managed to stop the horses, after they had again crossed the ditch and were back on the road, dragging the unconscious man with them.

The young lad was later assisted by Andy Anderson and the mail man who saw the wreck from another road and drove over to the scene.

The injured man was immediately taken to the Grygla hospital but he had been injured so severely that death ensued two hours afterward.

Funeral services were held from the Norwegian Lutheran church in Grygla on Monday, Rev. E. A. Sabo officiating, and interment was made in the Grygla cemetery. The victim is survived by a wife, two daughters and a son.

Can Convert Insurance Now.

Returned soldiers and sailors and others in military service holding War Risk Insurance policies will no doubt be pleased to learn that they may now convert these policies into a permanent form of insurance contract or policy. The government has developed six forms, namely: ordinary life, 20 payment life, 30 payment life, 20 year endowment, 30 year endowment and endowment maturing at the age of 62. Very few cases are on hand where ex-soldiers have dropped their insurance but have clung to it until the signing of peace which allowed them the privilege of converting the policies. An information bureau has been established at the Army Recruiting station, Minneapolis, for the sole purpose of serving ex-soldiers on insurance matters. Anyone desiring information regarding policy forms, rates, cash values, etc., as well as application blanks may be had by addressing Colonel Charles W. Castle, Recruiting Officer, Minnesota District 311 Nicollet avenue, Minneapolis.

NORGE LODGES HAVE GREAT TIME AT LAKE

PROGRAM OF SPEECHES, WATER SPORTS AND MUSIC FORM DAY'S AMUSEMENT.

Favored with ideal weather and with a program of speeches, water sports and music the annual picnic of the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges in this section of the country went off with a zip last Sunday afternoon at Maple Lake.

There were large representations from Thief River Falls, Crookston, Warren, Grand Forks, Fertile, Ada, McIntosh, Fisher, Eldred, Gary and other places. The start from this city was made at 8 a. m., and the roads all along were in good condition.

Among the speakers on the program were Attorney Hans Chommie of this city; Attorney F. Johnson, of Grand Forks and B. Bjorneraa. All the speeches teemed with patriotism and were given from the point of view of 100 per cent Americanism.

The Liberty Chorus of McIntosh was the only singing society there as a chorus and their numbers were all well received. Another feature of the day was a baseball game played in the water, which provoked much laughter on the part of spectators.

Rowing and swimming was indulged in by the younger set and gave relief from the sweltering rays of Old Sol.

All in all the day was one of enjoyment and all voted it to be the best in the history of the lodges.

Constantine's Cross.

The cross was the emblem of a slave's death and a murderer's punishment and was naturally looked upon by the Jew with horror. After the celebrated vision of Constantine, that ruler ordered to be made a cross of gold and gems such as he had seen and the "tree of cursing and shame sat upon scepters and was engraved and signed on the forehead of kings."

Let In the Sun.

A shuttered window does not put out the sun, but it keeps it out. Discontent in a girl's heart does not change the beauty and helpfulness there is all about her, but it keeps her from discovering it. Open the shutters of the soul's windows. It will not make any difference to the sunshine, but it will make all the difference in the world to you.—Exchange.

The "Lily of France."

The "Lily of France," the true "flower de luce," is Iris Florentina. Placed upon banners, shields, coats of arms, etc., it has led both armies and individuals, but it is now properly the symbol of a lost cause, though its use as a national emblem has been perpetuated.

A Successful Performance.

The assistant concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony orchestra asked his four-year-old son how he enjoyed an orchestral performance which he had conducted. The little fellow answered: "I watched you balancing yourself for two hours, daddy, and you didn't fall off the box."

PROPERTY HOLDERS GET 60-DAY NOTICE

PAVING FIRM HAS MAN ON JOB SURVEYING SEWER AND WATER LINES.

Property owners in the business and residence section, where the work of paving the streets is to be begun, were on Monday given a 60 day notice to lay branch sewers and water pipes from the mains to the curb or lot line of such abutting property.

Notices were served to property owners on Main avenue from the Great Northern railroad tracks north to the intersection of Fourth street; on LaBree avenue from the Great Northern Railroad tracks north to the intersection of Fourth street; on Horace avenue from First street north to the intersection with Fourth street; on First street from Red Lake river west to Knight avenue; on Third street from the Soo tracks west to Knight avenue.

The notices read that the owners are ordered to construct, within sixty days after service of notice, sewer and water service pipes from the mains and extending to a point inside of the curb line. The water service connections shall be lead service pipe at an internal diameter of at least three-fourths of an inch; the sewer service connection shall be constructed of salt glazed vitrified sewer pipe, at least six inches in diameter, inside measurement. Special permission must be secured from the engineer in charge, if a property owner desires that one connection suffice for two or more lots.

In case connections are not made within sixty days, the work will be done by the city and the charges will be assessed against the property and collected as taxes as provided for in Chapter 65, General Laws of Minnesota for 1919.

R. E. Borrowman, of the Bradley Engineering Service company, started to work this week surveying the water and sewer lines and will make recommendations as the occasion calls for.

FORMER LOCAL LAD SEES MUCH SERVICE

IS FIRST PENNINGTON COUNTY BOY TO BRING BACK BRIDE.

Among the boys of Pennington county, who saw actual service in the world's war, Roy Stevens has about the longest term on record. He left Canada in 1915 and returned July 10, 1919. And not only that—he is the first one from this section to bring back a bride. Young Stevens was residing in Canada in 1914 and enlisted in the 28th battalion of Canadian infantry and crossed the submarine infested Atlantic the following year.

During 1915 the Canadians were pushed to the front and took part in some of the big engagements. Stevens was wounded in the shoulder by a piece of flying schrapnel not long after he reached the line and was sent to England for treatment. It was here the little romance between him and his present wife began and on recovering sufficiently, Stevens was again fit for line duty. Two minor wounds again sent him back to England and he remained there until the good transport, that was to take him back to his parents and friends, arrived.

During the first part of July he was united in marriage and the newlyweds made the trip across together. Although things in the U. S. seem different to Mrs. Stevens than in "old Blighty," she is well pleased. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens expect to make their future home in Winnipeg. They are at present making Thief River Falls their home before moving to the Canadian metropolis.

DRAINAGE MATTERS DISCUSSED AT OKLEE

CONSIDER QUESTION OF FURNISHING BETTER OUTLETS FOR DITCHES.

Simultaneous with the monster drainage meeting held in this city last week, a similar gathering of representative men from Pennington, Red Lake and Polk counties was held at Oklee to discuss the question of furnishing better outlets for ditches already constructed rather than building new drains, for the country north and northeast of Oklee.

According to the reports the meeting started things in the right direction. The matter of improving three water courses was considered, namely, the Clearwater river, the Lost river and Judicial ditch No. 4.

Three men from each of the counties represented were appointed as committees to take the matter up in their respective counties and ascertain what can be done in the matter of making preparations for a general survey. Clearwater county is to be invited in on the proposition. The committees named will report at a future meeting.

In connection with the cost of the preliminary work, steps were taken to secure funds.

Those named on committees are: For Pennington county; Martin Hegstad, H. T. Hanson and John Eeibls; for Polk county: H. Oftelie, Anton Nass and Halvor Hofto; Red Lake county: Chas. Sall, Andrew Anderson and A. O. Wastend.

RETURNING YANKS COME IN A STREAM

JULY PROVING TO BE ONE OF BIGGEST TROOP MOVEMENT MONTHS.

According to predictions of the war department June and July are proving to be the banner months in the return of overseas men and practically every day sees the arrival of Thief River Falls and Pennington county boys from France. Since the first of June a steady stream has been pouring into the city and before the arrival of the khaki clad lads is known, they are camouflaged in civics.

During the past week and a half several men have arrived, among whom are: Sergeant James Walker, Schuyler Schmidt, Arthur Williams, Arthur Bryant and Morlan Bishop, all wearing from one to four service chevrons.

Morlan Bishop went into the service over a year ago and landed overseas in September with the 5th Infantry band, of the 41st division. During the last six months of his stay in France he was on detached service at a chateau. He was discharged at Camp Mills last week and arrived in Thief River Falls Sunday morning. Mr. Bishop expects to remain here in the city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop.

Sergeant Walker and Schuyler Schmidt, who wore the big R on their left shoulder, were with the railroad engineers. Among the last men to leave France will be the railroaders and a khaki clad engineer will be at the throttle when the last trainload is hauled over the rails in the famous "Homme 0 and Chevaux 8" box cars. Most of these men volunteered to stay when their company was called to sail, however. Schuyler says he likes to railroad on the Soo better, and has already gone to work. Jim Walker, formerly engaged in surveying, will also remain here to take up his old position.

Arthur Bryant left in April, 1917, a short time after war was declared and enlisted in the U. S. navy. After a training course at the Great Lakes station, he was sent aboard the battleship Minnesota and was operating in southern waters most of the time. He also saw service on the destroyer York. Young Bryant has accepted a position with the Soo at Fordville, N. D., and will be employed there until fall, when he will matriculate at one of the Minneapolis schools. Arthur was attending high school here when he answered his country's call.

One of the youngest boys from this city to become a member of the American Expeditionary Force, was Jordan Penney, who recently returned after several months service. The young man was in his junior year at the local high school when he answered the call and left with several other boys of his class for an Indiana camp of the Motor Transportation Corps, on May 26, 1918. There he obtained the rank of sergeant and his outfit arrived safely in Scotland on September 15.

Will Attend Convention.

Rev. A. A. Larson and family returned last week from a visit with relatives at Detroit. While away Rev. Larson attended the meetings of the Red River Valley conference at Fergus Falls, where the matter of general church reconstruction work was one of the principal subjects discussed. The family also visited Rev. Larson's brother at Eagle Lake and returned by way of Perham and Detroit. The journey was made by auto.

This week Rev. Larson is attending the meetings of the Red River district congregations at Lancaster and Hallock. The Sunday school convention of the denomination is being held at the latter place.

The Value of Your Tractor Is Based on the Service It Gives

IF it works all the time it is worth all you pay for it. You can keep it working all the time by using the right kind of lubricating oil.

One burned out bearing will offset the cost of a year's supply of lubricating oil. The Standard Oil Company has prepared three oils —

Heavy Polarine Oil
Stanolind Tractor Oil
Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Years of experience and study have developed that one of these three oils is the correct oil for you to use. The nearest Standard Oil representative has a chart prepared by our Engineering Staff, which indicates the correct oil for you to use to get the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book, "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our Engineering Staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss. It's free to you for the asking. Address

WILLARD SAYS DAMAGE DONE SOLONS' FAULT

DRAINAGE ENGINEER PLACES BLAME ON 1919 LEGISLATURE FOR FLOODS.

NOT FOR LOCAL CONTROL

DRAINAGE OFFICIAL SAYS LAWS WERE ENACTED BUT NO FUNDS PROVIDED.

That the 1919 legislature had passed laws for drainage but failed to provide funds to administer the law and placing the blame on the 1919 lawmakers, is the way E. V. Willard, state drainage engineer, summed the flood situation up on his return to St. Paul last week, after having gone over the flooded northwest area by motorboat. He immediately began taking the many appeals for aid received at the capitol.

Describing conditions in Roseau county, where most of the inspections were made, Engineer Willard said about 200,000 acres along the Roseau river were badly inundated and sometimes got out of sight of land. He also declared that settlers and farmers in the Thief River basin suffered losses also and mail reports indicate serious conditions in other parts of the state.

Five Townships Under.

In northwestern Roseau county five townships were under water a foot in depth, while settlers in Boler, Barto and Polonia townships, just ready to harvest their crops, lost all. On waste piles along drainage ditches were cattle marooned by water and living on scant grasses and weeds.

Urges Proper Drainage.

"It demonstrates the great importance of meeting and solving the problems of constructing proper outlets and of impounding flood waters," said Mr. Willard. "Poor people who have settled in good faith along the principal streams—the most fertile lands—must abandon their homes and lands to seek other locations if the destroying conditions are not remedied. If owners of upper lands may justly drain them and send the waters in increased volume on the lands of the lower proprietors without caring for excess, then valley lands must be vacated and left as playgrounds for the elements. If that is not justice, there must be a solution applied to the problems of preventing the devastation wrought with increasing frequency and intensity."

No Funds Blamed.

Mr. Willard pointed out that drainage affected every county in the state, and that it had ceased to become a local problem and as a matter of practice should never have been so considered, but viewed from a statewide position. Drainage ditches distort nature's plan to discharge surface waters, Mr. Willard said, and carry an obligation on the part of those benefiting from such drainage systems to care for the waters after they have reached outlets.

"Laws have been enacted but no funds were provided by the last legislature to administer the laws," he declared. "Without money to pay salaries of a most limited organization, the appeals for assistance and technical advice now coming from every part of the state, make the situation of the department of drainage and waters exasperating.

"The solution of this statewide problem cannot come from anyone's guess, if it is to be an improvement upon present methods, it must be based on a scientific and technical treatment of all factors involved and such treatment is possible only when adequate funds to finance the necessary investigations are made available."

Want Salary Raise.

Owing to the increased cost of living, which makes it nearly impossible to support a family on their present wages, the city police department last Tuesday sent a communication to the city council asking for a fifteen dollar raise per month. This would make the salary of Chief Erickson $95 and Patrolman Kelly $90. All the councilmen were in favor of the wage raise, but believed there were other practical city employees who were holding down jobs and deserved a raise. President Ihle suggested that the pay roll be gone over and that it be reported at the next council meeting and they would at that time take action on the matter of raising the pay. The motion of Alderman Brandon, seconded by Alderman Froseth, for the immediate raise in pay for the policemen was withdrawn after the discussion and no doubt they will begin the month of August with a raise.

Remains Taken East.

The remains of Mrs. Charles C. Swartz, who passed away last week, were shipped to Hanover, Pa., the girlhood home of the deceased, last Friday evening for burial. Charles Swartz, husband, his daughter, Doris, and little baby girl, accompanied the remains to Hanover, where funeral services will be held.

THREE DANCES TO BE GIVEN FAIR WEEK

ELKS HAVE FIRST AND THIRD NIGHTS WHILE BAND HAS SECOND.

The Auditorium will be the scene of three gay social affairs during the fair nights, as a result of the large hall having been rented to the B. P. O. Elks on the first and third days and the Thief River Falls band on the second evening.

The dances put on by the Elks have always proven highly popular and they are making strong efforts to make the affair out of the ordinary.

"Arrangements were made the first of the week with the auditorium management, whereby the band secured the large hall for the second night of the fair. As the second day of the exposition is always regarded as the best day of the three for the number of visitors, the band is preparing to meet the situation and is arranging for one of the best dances ever given by the organization.

A fifteen piece jazz orchestra will be formed from the band to furnish music for the affair and those who miss it will be missing a treat. The latest and jazziest music has arrived and Conductor Cordes promises there is going to be lots of pep.

Dancing will begin at all three of the dances at 9 p. m. and will continue until trippers of the light fantastic are satisfied.

House Kills Ice Cream Tax.

The house of representatives on Monday, by an overwhelming majority, voted to repeal the ten per cent tax on ice cream, soda water and soft drinks. No record vote was taken. The treasury department has estimated that if the tax is finally repealed by action of the senate, the government will lose $31,000,000 annual revenue.

DULUTH LADY GAINS 15 LBS., SHE SAYS

"Although it has been two years now since Tanlac relieved me of my suffering and built me up so wonderfully, every day is still a well day for me," was the statement made by Mrs. Liddia Norman, Route 4, Box 242, Duluth, Minn., while in Abbett & Company's drug store, recently.

"For three years," she continued, "I had suffered agonies with rheumatism all over my body. My feet were so swollen I could hardly get my shoes on. I had to wear gloves to keep down the swelling in my hands as much as possible. I was in so much pain that I was all bent over and had to use a cane in order to get about. My stomach was in a very bad condition too, and what I would eat seemed to lump up badly and lay in the pit of my stomach and ferment. I would bloat up terribly with gas and have such depressed feelings in my chest and around my heart that it was difficult for me to get my breath. My appetite was very poor—there were many things I couldn't eat at all—and at times I was very dizzy. I couldn't get any sound sleep, had fallen off a great deal in weight and just felt miserable most all the time.

"When I read and heard so much about Tanlac I made up my mind to try it and it was the wisest decision I ever made. By the time I had finished my third bottle I discarded my cane and could eat what I wanted without the least trouble afterwards. After taking five bottles the rheumatism was gone entirely and I could walk as well as I ever could, and I also found I had gained fifteen pounds in weight. Well, I haven't had an ache or a pain to this good day and I still eat and sleep like a child and feel fine all the time. I have related my experience with Tanlac many times and am willing to keep on telling it as long as I can help other people out of their suffering. I am getting a bottle of Tan[illegible] now just to take as a Spring [illegible] and I hope what I say in this [illegible]ement will start many others on [illegible] road to health."

BOYS COVER 15,000 MILES IN FLIVVER

STYRLUND BROTHERS OF VIKING, COMPLETE LONG, INTERESTING JOURNEY.

Not unlike their adventuresome ancestors, the Vikings of old, who roved the sea centuries ago, Thure, Emil and David Styrlund, three youths of Viking, have just completed a land voyage covering approximately 15,000 miles, says the Minneapolis Tribune.

The three boys are carpenters. They set out from their home in Viking several months ago with the intention of paying their expenses along the way by working at their trade. They journied west over the Rockies and Cascade mountains, through the National park district to Seattle, Wash. At Seattle they followed their trade for a time. Later they worked in Vancouver.

Snow in the Shasta mountains forced them to ship their car from Vancouver to San Francisco, the next lap of their journey. From Frisco they traveled leisurely down the western coast, traversing many byroads in the Yosemite Valley and Big Redwood district, and stopping at Los Angeles and San Diego.

Leaving the coast, they started east through the Imperial Valley and California desert, with Eastland, Texas, as their objective, and crossed the Sierra Nevadas and the Rockies a second time.

From the Rockies they plunged into the Great American desert. This they negotiated without mishap save the loss of their tire chains, which had become worn out, and reached Eastland in due time. From Eastland they traveled to Brownsville on the Rio Grande, passing through the Texas sand wastes en route. The deep sands of the Texas desert provided a most crucial test, the boys declare.

From Brownsville the Styrlunds made their way to Corpus Christi for an outing and from there began their trip homeward. They journied first to Baton Rouge, La., and then north through the Mississippi Valley to St. Louis. From St. Louis they proceeded to Duluth, then home.

NINE ARRESTED FOR SELLING BAD EGGS

INSPECTOR SAYS MERCHANTS SHOULD TEST EGGS BEFORE PAYING FARMER.

Charged with having willfully, knowingly and unlawfully sold decomposed eggs at their respective places of business, T. Gilbertson and N. G. Thorrison, president and secretary of the Goodridge Mercantile company, and Gus Anderson, proprietor of a store at Mavie, appeared in Municipal court last Friday morning and pleaded guilty, each paying a fine of $15 and costs. L. S. Munro, state food inspector, was the complaining party.

The Goodridge merchants said the eggs had been bought during the recent flood, and that they had all been candled. Gus Anderson, of Mavie, had sold six cases of eggs to the Peterson-Biddick company of this city and when inspected by the state food man, 13 dozen were found to be decomposed. Mr. Anderson was very much surprised when he learned of the fact and stated that it was the first time he had been called up. Mr. Munro, state food inspector, said merchants should be extremely careful in buying eggs and should do their testing at night and pay the farmers when the test had been completed, otherwise they were taking chances of having to pay for bad eggs and then being called up in court to pay a fine. He also suggested that merchants would profit by taking the farmers name when a case of eggs is brought to the store and in that way the farmer would be as liable as the merchant.

At points north of this city Inspector Munro secured several convictions all of them paying the minimum fine of $15 with the exception of T. L. Spilde, of Halma, who was assessed ten additional dollars. They were: Oslo Mercantile Co.; Farmers Supply Co., Oslo; T. L. Spilde and B. M. Bothun, of Halma; Vik Brothers, Bronson and Ed. Smith of Lancaster.

Inspector Munro states that there is a great deal of carelessness in the buying and selling of filthy and decomposed eggs and he is making a strenuous crusade to end it. At Foley, Minn., a large number were taken in and on a return trip to that place a great change was evidenced. The inspector expects to make a return visit to this section again to note if the present convictions have helped in any way. He pointed out that if a merchant's place of business were inspected and bad eggs were found on the premises the merchant would be just as liable.

Section 1, of Chapter 352, General Laws for Minnesota, reads as follows: No person shall deal in or sell for use as food any filthy, decomposed, diseased or otherwise unwholesome food or dairy products, either in a natural state or in any other manufactured, mixed or prepared condition, and if any of the aforesaid unwholesome articles or substances be found, offered or exposed for sale, or had in possession with intent to sell for use as food, the dairy and food commissioner, his assistants and employees shall have power and authority to seize the same, or in his or their discretion to render the same unsaleable for use as food; and the said commissioner and his several employees shall be exempt from liability for any such action; and the test as to the unwholesomeness for use as food of any of the aforesaid articles or substances shall be the conditions at the time of such discovery.

Every violation of the provisions of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, the punishment whereof shall be a fine of not less than $15 nor more than $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 90 days.

Mr. Peterson spent the [illegible] part of last week in [illegible] city renewing acquaintances after [illegible] he returned to Fosston for a short time. He will be back on the job at the city clerk's office within two weeks. Mr. Peterson landed in France with a detachment of the 6th Division, he being a member of the 66 Infantry band. DO NOT WASTE DOLLARS
IN TRYING TO SAVE PENNIES

Soon the grain harvest will be on in full blast. At this time the American farmer wastes millions of dollars every year. The yield may be heavy or light, failure to be prepared takes its toll just as regularly as threshing time comes around. The amount of grain wasted through failure to properly care for it is enormous.

BUILD A GRANERY TO HOLD THE CROP

The cost will be as nothing compared to the saving. A granery will be an asset to the farm for all time to come. It provides a sort of insurance against needless waste.

And have us figure the cost. As a progressive farmer you cannot longer get along without this modern necessity.

RECORD CROWDS AT LAST OF MEETINGS

MANY FARMERS COME IN TO HEAR SPECIAL SERMON ON SUNDAY.

The closing services of the great thirty-day revival campaign held last Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday were attended by record breaking audiences.

Evangelist Mathis drew a large crowd last Thursday evening when he gave an address on "Heaven and Hell," and as large an attendance was recorded the following evening when he discussed "Home."

Saturday evening also proved a banner night when a forceful sermon on "The Prodigal Son" was given and a sacred concert was rendered by the juniors. The concert was prepared by Mr. Armstrong and met the full approval of everyone present. It was pronounced the best of the series.

A special sermon was delivered to farmers on Sunday morning and a good sized crowd was present to listen to the message of Evangelist Mathis. Those coming in remained for all three of the farewell services, the last two being held at 3 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.

The largest crowd was present on Sunday evening when the evangelist closed his thirty day stay with a fine sermon on "Prepare to Meet Thy God."

For a month past the great thoughts of Christian faith have been presented to the mind and heart of the people of this city and surrounding country with telling effect and hundreds of people have determined to lead better lives in the future than in the past. People who heard Mr. Mathis whether they dedicated their lives to better service or not were all obliged to say that what he said was right. The real fruit of these meetings will not be measured entirely by those who will unite with the various churches of the city, nor by those in the church who have qualified into greater activity in the church. But it has demonstrated that the churches in the city working together and towards a common end can do big things and that they are still a mighty force which may well cause evil doers to tremble.

That the churches will work more efficiently in the future there can be no question. And persons and institutions that desire preferment in this city in the future must measure up to the standard or they will find they have some mighty factors to deal with—and not only that but this force will become stronger as the years go by.

The total offerings for the month came close to $1,400. The offerings for the evangelist was almost $700. At the Sunday evening service the audience when asked if they would desire another meeting in the future they responded almost unanimously in the affirmative.

The Saturday night concerts became more and more popular each evening and the final concert was easily worth fifty cents of any one's money. About 60 little folks under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong in three hours time gave three quarters of an hour's entertainment that equalled anything of its kind in the city. It was clean, wholesome and inspiring and everyone enjoyed it thoroughly.

The meeting Sunday evening will be remembered for some time to come by those present for a score of folks came from the audience and pledged their lives to better service.

The evangelistic party left Tuesday morning for Detroit, Minn., for a few days' fishing trip before they go for their summer vacation. After a month's rest they will hold a meeting at Ames, Iowa.

War Started Five Years Ago.

Five years ago Monday—July 28, 1914—marked the beginning of the great conflict that was destined to involve nearly all of the nations of the world in warfare. It was on that day that Vienna kindled the fire by a declaration of war against Serbia. The declaration followed by exactly one month the assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne, and his wife at Sarajevo, Russia, which assassination was made the pretext by the Central powers for the beginning of a war for world conquest.

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

The gates of the Pennington county three day fair swung open for the eighteenth time in its history yesterday morning.

Although the weather looked rather threatening in the morning, causing fair officials to consider adding another day to the exhibition, the sky cleared off in fine shape and prospects are good for ideal weather throughout. Plans for an additional day were therefore abandoned.

Yesterday's attendance was better than an average one for the first day and exceeded last year's crowd by a large margin. People began coming in early and kept arriving until the middle of the afternoon. The free acts went off in a good manner and was the only entertainment presented, while the program for today and tomorrow will be augmented with aeroplane flights and motor cycle racing. The grounds were in fine shape as a whole although there were a few wet spots caused from the heavy rain on Tuesday evening.

Exhibits Come In.

Exhibits of all kinds started to come in at an early hour and by six o'clock last evening the two exhibit halls were nearly filled and by noon today approximately all entries had been made. In the woman's building a fine display of fancy work, flowers and canned fruit is on exhibition, while adjoining the building in a tent is the educational exhibition, which is well worth visiting. Here is shown maps, fancy work by girls, manual training articles made by the boys and various other interesting things along educational lines.

Hogs, Sheep and Chickens.

Several hog and sheep entries were made yesterday morning and several additional ones were made today. One sheep entry has been made by the Pennington county boys' and girls' club, and is a feature of this section. The many coops of chickens are well filled and at least half of them were full last evening, while many more were entered today. The poultry exhibit at Pennington county's fair has been on the increase every year and some mighty excellent specimens are to be seen in this department. There are also many entries of ducks and geese.

Grain Building.

Interesting exhibits at the grain building are the individual exhibits of the various farmers' clubs, where a greater variety of the products of farm, orchard, field, garden, dairy, school and home are shown than ever before in the history of the fair and competition is very keen. Yesterday evening all exhibits were not entirely complete but by noon today everything was in readiness for the big crowd that is sure to be on hand. Among the clubs that have arranged exhibits are the Silverton Farmers' club, Rocksbury club, Goodridge Community club and others.

Interest at Stock Show.

Without a doubt the keenest interest is centered at the new live stock buildings, where one of the finest exhibition of Holstein, Guernsey and Shorthorn cattle ever at a Pennington county fair is assembled. All stalls were filled late yesterday and owners of some fine herds call special attention to them by the use of large signs. An exceptionally fine exhibit is that of Olaf Ramstad and T. L. Melgaard who have several head of Red Polled cattle on show. H. C. Woolson is another prominent stock exhibitor and has several head of Guernsey cattle in the building. Fred Beerbower, of the Oakland stock farm, has his famous Holsteins on hand and helps to make up the wonderful exhibit of Pennington county's selected herds. Other entries of horses and live stock have been made and the exhibition should not be missed.

Other Features.

An interesting machine exhibit of Gustafson & Son is on the grounds behind the grand stand as is that of the Peoples' Auto company. The rest room provided for women by the Nortz Lumber company is proving popular and is highly appreciated. Comfortable chairs and cots have been provided for the women and tables covered with magazines, papers and other reading material is always on hand.

The Thief River Falls band has been augmented considerably for the three day exhibition and pleasing concerts are given each afternoon and evening.

Shows Patronized.

Although the rain cheated the carnival crowd out of several "jitneys" on the opening night, Tuesday, they enjoyed a brisk business last night and a large crowd thronged the midway and enjoyed the ferris wheel, whip, carousal and the attractions that are found along the electric lighted pike.

Aeroplane Flights.

Lieut. Bacon, the intrepid Grand Forks aviator, is due in the city via the air route at 2:55 this afternoon and will give an exhibition flight during the afternoon and at night also.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT PLANS ANNOUNCED

HEARING FOR FIXING WATERSHED BOUNDARIES WILL BE HELD.

According to a statement sent out by Chairman G. C. Selvig of the flood control committee, petitions prepared by Senator F. L. Cliff, Ortonville, the author of Chapter 442, Minnesota Laws of 1917, commonly known as the Cliff Act, have been sent to the committees that were appointed at the flood control meeting held at Thief River Falls on July 22. The proposed district includes land in Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties and parts of Polk, Clearwater and Beltrami counties. The outline of the watershed and the boundary lines will be fixed at the hearing after the parties interested have been heard.

A hearing will be held as soon as the petitions are signed. A notice of this hearing will be published in all the counties. On account of the very busy season it is not expected that this hearing can be held during August. It will take some time to comply with the provisions governing the publication of notice after the petitions have been sent in.

It should be understood that at the hearing all interested will be given an opportunity to make their views known. It is hoped to secure information which will be of assistance in determining further plans.

If the district judges decide that the drainage and flood control district should be organized, a commission will be appointed. The law provides for another petition before any work can be done.

The petitions for the establishment of the district will be filed in Crookston and a hearing will be held there and at different points that can be easily reached by the people who are most interested. The law provides that hearings may be held at various places.

Steps will be taken to bring to the attention of both the state and federal authorities the drainage and flood control problem confronting northwestern Minnesota. Through concerted action it will be possible to accomplish something definite which would be impossible from hit or miss action by individuals which will not likely result in anything being done.

WHEAT PRICE NOT CAUSE OF H. C. OF L.

GRONNA SAYS INCREASE OF WAGES AND DECREASE OF HOURS NOT PANACEA.

While a vigorous agitation was going on in the senate on the high cost of living, prices of grain and provisions crashed downward heavily in value at Chicago on Monday.

Chairman Gronna of the agricultural committee called a meeting for Tuesday to discuss measures to reduce the high cost of living, and said he had no remedy to offer, but said that the increase of wages and the decrease in hours was not a penacea, nor would government ownership or control of utilities solve the problem.

Several senators debated the relation of the price of wheat to the cost of living and Mr. Gronna denied that the government's wheat price guarantee causes undue prices for bread. He was supported by Senators Nelson and Kellogg of Minnesota, who said wheat was being sold for above the government's guarantee at the principal terminals.

The three senators predicted that this year's crop would be lower than the government estimate, Senator Gronna saying that it would be 65 million bushels as against 1,250,000,000 bushels forecast by the department of agriculture.

Senator Gronna declared that packers and all dealers in food products "never made higher profits" than they did under the food administration's licensing plan during the war.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota said the Canadian government had taken over the wheat crop in that country and had wiped out the Canadian exchanges.

Hussey Still Missing.

August Hussey, farm hand, employed by Pat Gavin, who disappeared about two weeks ago is still missing. Not a trace has been found of him and no word has come as to his whereabouts. Sheriff LaBree has combed the country around Mavie for miles and has made several trips from this city. It is believed that Hussey, whose mind is said to be badly deranged, has wandered off into the big woods north of Mavie and committed suicide.

The following officers were elected:

LOCAL SOO CARMEN CONTINUE TO WORK

SECRETARY SAYS NO ORDERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED AS YET TO STRIKE.

While the shop and carmen's strike for higher wages continues to spread throughout the United States and while a body of the rail men are at Washington conferring with railroad administration officials in an effort to straighten the matter out, members of the shopmen's union in Thief River Falls were still at work today. Local car and shop workers declare they have received no orders from headquarters as yet and do not believe an order will be issued affecting them.

Yesterday the strike became more general in this state, walkouts occurring at Brainerd at the Northern Pacific shops. At Mankato, Albert Lea and other large division points round house men did very little repair work. It is believed that freight trains can go for a period of ten days before they feel any effect and passengers will be able to go about five days.

The shopmen's union is a strong organization in this city, the majority of the workers at the Soo round house and yards being members. A strike order here would affect about one hundred workers.

Attend the Pennington county fair today and tomorrow.

FRIENDLY CALL PAID TO NORTH COUNTRY FOLK

THIEF RIVER FALLS BOOSTERS HAVE GREAT TIME ON SOCIABILITY TOUR.

BAUDETTE EASILY STARS

PEOPLE THERE PROVE MOST WONDERFUL HOSTS IN THE WORLD.

Nothing like it was ever before so successfully carried out. It took two days and two nights to complete the trip and it will take five years before those who made up the party will quit talking about the delightful time they had.

There were in the neighborhood of 85 people, carried in 23 automobiles, when the Thief River Falls boosters started on their sociability run for the purpose of visiting their neighbors among the cities and villages to the north last Saturday morning. The start was scheduled for 8 o'clock and it was not more than fifteen minutes later that the cars were actually in motion. This getting away at somewhere near the right time augured well for the success of the journey.

Band Taken Along.

The Thief River Falls band, or enough of it to make a very good showing, was an important feature of the procession. Leader D. J. Cordes and about a dozen of his best performers were with the party all the time and their music added much to the success and pleasure of the run. The boys played at every opportunity, never pleading fatigue, although they were kept almost constantly at it during such time as the cavalcade was halted for any reason. The people along the route and at the northern terminus of the run were unsparing in their praise of the work of the organization, and every boost was deserved.

Many Stops Were Made.

The particular aim of the enterprise was the boosting of the Pennington county fair which is being held in this city this week. Posters and programs calling attention to this important event were distributed everywhere an opportunity presented and it is safe to say that never before has the big show been so well advertised through the sections of Marshall, Roseau and Beltrami counties traversed.

The first stop was made at Holt, the twelve miles having been negotiated within the time limit set by the committee in charge of arrangements. The people of the village turned out to hear the band and received an invitation from everybody to come down to Thief River Falls and be entertained.

At Middle River the same program was carried out, the cigar supply replenished, gasoline tanks inspected and a general tuning-up given to running gear and tires.

Roads in Fair Shape.

It was feared that by reason of the heavy rains a short time ago the roads might be badly cut up, particularly in the gumbo stretches, but such was not the case. Travel-

DECISION GIVEN IN CONTESTED LAND

FORMER AMERICAN SOLDIER GIVEN RIGHT OVER ALIEN EXEMPTION SEEKER.

A land contest decision to which considerable importance is attached was handed down last week by the U. S. Land office at Crookston, in which a man who holds two honorable discharges for service rendered with the American army and an alien holding first papers but sought exemption from the recent war, are involved.

From the evidence it showed that Olaf Torger Ness, defendent, had a homestead at Mud Lake and had also accumulated another quarter nearby. When the draft law was passed and the questionnaires sent out Ness claimed exemption on the ground of being an alien, although he had his first papers.

Ness later applied for citizenship and offered his services to the government after the armistice was signed. In the examination R. K. Doe, naturalization officer, produced his questionnaire and discovered he had claimed exemption and for this reason was turned down. His claim was then contested by Herbert Carl Severson, former soldier, on the ground that Ness was not a citizen.

The land office ruled that Ness was not a qualified holder of the land and gave the former soldier the preferred rights. His claim for exemption forever bars him from gaining citizenship and in that case he consequently loses right to the land.

The defendant has been given 30 days to appeal to the commisisoner of the general land office. Attorney J. M. Bishop of this city represents the plaintiff.

FOOD PRICES JUMP AS WAGES GO UP

ENFORCEMENT OF MINIMUM WAGE LAW, CAUSE OF HIGH RESTAURANT PRICES.

Old high cost of living was given another boost in Thief River Falls Tuesday morning when the minimum wage law was ushered into effect for women, minors and apprentice employees. Prices in most places went skyward and many edibles doubled in price among which were coffee, milk, tea and iced tea, which reached the 10c mark. Pie, cake, bread and many of the meats doubled and dishes that were formerly served with regular suppers were cut off the list.

Under the new wage law a minimum of $11 a week and 23 cents an hour for overtime for a working week of 48 hours must be paid woman labor. It is undecided whether the stores will be closed during Saturday evening as a result of the law.

A question has arisen as to whether domestics are included in the new law. Officials are wondering now whether they will be forced to work an eight hour day during the winter months or if they go back to the nine hour day and whether overtime must be paid and if so where the money will come from. At the present time a certain amount is allowed for deputy and clerk hire but nothing is made for the payment of overtime.

Sunday labor at the local hotels will be counted as overtime and at the Evelyn hotel there are ten girls employed, making a total of $23 overtime, for Sunday alone and for every hour extra that they work overtime, the amount of $2.30 will have to be paid.

In determining a minimum wage of $11 per week, $7 is allowed for room and board, and 22½c per meal is allowed for 21 meals per week.

Under the provisions of Order 10, where the person in question is a telephone operator and is usually on duty from 6 p. m. until 8 a. m. and is permitted to sleep while so on duty, 12 hours work is construed as the equivalent of 8 hours of work in computing the number of hours of work for the week.

THRESHERS REPORT ON CROP OUTLOOK

RYE GOES 20 BUSHELS AND WHEAT 15 BUSHELS NEAR ROSEWOOD.

Ole Lappegaard, residing near Rosewood, commenced the threshing of rye last Thursday. The grain looked plump and was fairly well filled and with an anticipated run of about 20 bushels per acre.

Olof Opseth, also of Rosewood, on Saturday of last week threshed some of his Marquis wheat grown on the sandridge, and was given a grading of No. 3 at the Hanson & Barzen elevator, where it was sold. The acre run was estimated at about 45 bushels.

Black rust has done some damage to wheat, and will decrease the yield from five to 10 per cent per acre where it has secured a foothold. Oats are better than for years.

4 CONTEST CASES HEARD LAST WEEK

MUD LAKE SETTLERS CLAIM THEY WERE UNABLE TO GO ONTO LAND.

Alleged to have abandoned their land for more than six months and having failed to make the proper improvements, defendants in four cases appeared before U. S. Commissioner Wilhelm Michelet last Friday. Attorney Theo. Quale appeared for the defense and Attorney L. E. Gorsman, of Crookston, for the contesting parties in all cases. Testimony was taken by Charles M. Lohn, court reporter for this judicial district, and will be filed in the land office, where decisions are expected in the near future.

All of the cases were started before the flood situation came up, but the defense claimed they were unable to go on the land even before that time.

The cases tried were as follows: Nels G. Sether versus Alfred Sollom; Paul Rude versus Edwin T. Dahle; Martin Rude versus Kittel Sollom; Donald Kerr versus Theodore T. Sollom.

FORMER BUSINESS MAN BUYS PLANE

THEODORE SALVERSON FLIES FROM MINNEAPOLIS TO ADA IN GOOD TIME.

Theodore Salverson, formerly engaged in business in this city, now residing at Ada, is to become a birdman.

Not long ago Mr. Salverson together with L. W. Hope, also of Ada, began negotiating with government officials regarding the purchase of an army plane and closed the contract recently.

On Saturday the trip by air from Minneapolis to Fargo was completed after a flight of two hours and forty-five minutes, landing there at 4:30 p. m. The trip from Fargo to Ada was made in twenty minutes.

Friends of Mr. Salverson in this city expect it will not be long before he will renew acquaintances here via the air route. Aeroplane owners in the state are getting numerous but Messrs. Salverson and Hope are the first in northern Minnesota to begin navigating among the clouds.

Auto Company Moves.

The job of moving the machinery and office equipment of the Peoples Auto company from the Prichard building on Horace avenue to the former Aga garage at the corner of Main and First has about been completed. Besides Mr. Streeter and his assistants there has been pressed into service the greater part of the Aga crew. The place has been somewhat torn up during the week but will soon be shipshape.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were issued to Knute E. Hagen and Elnore E. Goudy of Marshall county, Monday, August 4th and to Rupert Swanson and Julia Loberg of St. Hilaire, Tuesday, August 5th.

Ole Borgen, city	143,150

Here's the greatest extra point opportunity club members working in The Times Automobile and prize campaign will have:

One Hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) extra points for every club of new and old subscriptions amounting to $30.

Announcement of this most liberal special offer is made elsewhere in this issue. It points out in detail how it is possible to amass commanding point totals and thereby win one of the eight big prizes that will be awarded on Saturday, September 13th, at 4 p. m.

Two Weeks Only.

This special offer begins today, (Thursday) and continues until August 20th. Two reports will be made on this largest and never-to-be-repeated extra point offer. Wednesday, August 13th, and Wednesday, August 20th, at 6 p. m. All $30 subscription clubs must be in or mailed at that time to get the 150,000 extra points. Envelopes bearing postmarks of 6 p. m., August 20th, will be counted on this offer.

Right now is the time for those to get busy who so far haven't been able to accomplish much in the campaign. This big bargain period opens the way to success!

How to Get Them.

All that is necessary to get thousands and tens of thousands of extra points is to build $30 clubs of new and old subscriptions. Just as soon as you have enough subscriptions to total $30 worth, then you have a club, which entitles you to 150,000 extra points, besides all regular points you get on each subscription order.

It makes no difference about the length of the subscription, it can be from one to five years, but of course, the bigger the order the more regular points you get, and the $30 clubs will count up faster.

Not Limited to One Club.

And, to make it better still, you can turn in more than one club, if you so desire. Each and every club of $30 gets the 150,000 extra point bonus.

In building these $30 subscription clubs, workers should observe that it is not necessary to hold back subscriptions until a complete club is secured. It is much better to turn them in as fast as they are obtained. In this way none will get lost and the subscriber will get his paper regularly and promptly. Inasmuch as the campaign department keeps an accurate record of all subscriptions received, nothing will be gained by withholding them until the last day of the offer. The extra point offer now in effect will never be duplicated and none in the future will be as big so don't hold back subscriptions expecting something bigger to be forthcoming.

Biggest Chance Yet.

The next two weeks should prove a veritable point picnic for the ambitious ones who desire one of the automobiles, and it will be the best and greatest opportunity to achieve victory via the 150,000 route!

For instance, supposing we offered another automobile to the club member turning in the most $30 clubs between today and August 20th. We are inclined to believe there would be some "tall hustling" done. But we are not offering another car. We do, however, offer 150,000 extra points on each $30 collected on subscriptions and if you would get out and work straight thru this offer, not missing a single day in obtaining subscription orders it would no doubt mean one of the automobiles to you. You could well afford to lay your regular duties aside for the next 13 days to win one of the cars we are offering.

A Battle For Points.

It is needless to add, that the club members will work harder than ever before, from now on, and especially during our largest point offer. Those with a lead and a determination to hold that position, realize that the only way to play safe is to secure every available subscription. It is simply a matter of fighting to the "last ditch" that wins the battle. This is a battle—a battle for points for the greatest list of valuable prizes ever given away in this section.

Yesterday is dead, tomorrow does not exist, act today. Subscriptions and points are now the main issue. The workers in the race today are neither winners nor losers. The real points, the winning points are still to be collected. Don't forget that.

Emerson said that opportunities approach only those who use them. This campaign is opportunity. Meet it half way—and ride back—in YOUR

LAWLESS PERSONS DAMAGE PROPERTY

BISHOP'S BUILDING, AND CHICKEN COOPS AT FAIR GROUNDS DAMAGED.

Two cases of property destruction have come to light during the week, the first being at the fair grounds, where the chicken coops that were stored in one of the large exhibit buildings had been badly damaged. The building had been broken into at some time between last fair and now, the wire netting had been torn off and holes punched in screens. Carpenters were immediately put to work repairing the damage so that there would be no delay in arranging for the poultry exhibits.

The building known as the Riverside store on the East Side was damaged by lawless parties between last Saturday morning and Monday. The structure had been sawed and chopped into in places and part of the foundation had been damaged to some extent. The building is the property of Mrs. J. M. Bishop and is now occupied by a manufacturing company.

Falls From Box Car.

Herman Leven, an employee of the Worlds Fair shows, fell from one of their box cars while enroute to this city last Saturday and broke his right arm. The fall occurred near Chisholm and the young man received no medical aid until he arrived in Thief River Falls, a period of two days.

SOLDIER MUSICIANS PLEASE BIG CROWD

EXCELLENT PROGRAM IS RENDERED AFTER WHICH DANCE IS HELD.

"A finished concert" is the verdict of all those who heard the concert given by the 116th Engineers, better known as "The Million Dollar Band," at the auditorium last Thursday evening.

From the time Director Bachman raised his baton for the opening march to the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," bringing everyone to their feet, the program was one of enjoyment as was evidenced by the hearty applause. The weather being especially favorable, large numbers motored from nearby points to listen to the 35 musicians recently back from war-torn France.

The organization clearly showed they were masters of both classical and ragtime music. Their rendition of the overture "Martha" by Flotow was excellent. Their expression equalled that of the large professional bands, each move of the director's hand showing a distinct difference in volume and a marked accent.

Robert Bruce, the Indian cornetist, proved a wonder, his triple tongue work comparing with the best ever heard here. His brother, Fred, delighted the audience in several clarinet solos.

Following the concert the floor was cleared and a dance followed, the music being furnished by the band orchestra. The dance was equally as enjoyable as the concert, and a large crowd remained to trip the light fantastic.

WAR TIME DRY BILL IS CLAIMED ILLEGAL

That until the eighteenth amendment becomes effective on January 16, 1920, congress, under well settled rules of constitutional law, "has no express power to prohibit the manufacture and sale of beer whether or not intoxicating" is the opinion held by Elihu Root, William D. Guthrie and Wm. L. Marbury, counsel for the United States Brewers' association made public last Saturday.

They declare that the war time prohibition enforcement bill recently passed by the house and now pending before the senate committee, is unconstitutional.

There is no valid reason for the wartime prohibition act, the lawyers declare, and there is no evidence, they add, to support the claim that the proposed enforcement measure is necessary to conserve the nation's food supply.

FRIENDLY CALL PAID TO NORTH COUNTRY FOLKS

ing was at no stage of the journey difficult, while for the greater part of the distance the going left but little to be desired. There were quite a number of places where the citizens had evidently made special efforts to get the highway into shape for the run, and the excursionists surely appreciated the fact.

Stop at Roseau.

A considerable stop was made when Roseau was reached. Here there was a larger crowd gathered than at any point previously visited and the speeches a little longer. Everybody seemed glad to see the excursionists and the greetings everywhere were most hearty.

Supper at Warroad.

Through a misunderstanding the people of Warroad had received the impression that their pretty and interesting town was to be the end of the run and that the principal layover would be there. The program as outlined would not permit of this, however, and it is to be regretted that the people there were disappointed. The entire party stopped for supper and a very pleasant visit was enjoyed for about two hours. The mayor and others bid the tourists welcome and the entire populace did their best to show that no hard feelings existed. The good wishes were responded to by C. L. Hansen, who took the opportunity to put in a few telling blows for good roads. Shortly after supper the last leg of the journey was begun, with Baudette as the objective point.

Welcome at Baudette.

As a general proposition it may be said that the roads in Beltrami county are ahead of those of its neighbors. In a few places the rains had caused slight washouts, but the Baudette boosters had been there ahead of the party and fixed the bad places so that no serious difficulty was experienced in getting over them. The highway between the two lake towns is for the greater part of the way in exceptionally good condition and the autoists were able to make almost a record run.

It was only a few minutes past 9:30 when the party arrived at the last stop on the route, having negotiated the distance on almost exact schedule.

Baudette people were ready and waiting. In spite of the rather late hour every man, woman and child had evidently determined to be present when the bunch arrived. Their advent was heralded by the tooting of whistles and ringing of bells, shouts of welcome and expressions of delight on every hand. The joy at seeing their neighbors was unfeigned and unrestrained and warmed the hearts of the tired though happy pilgrims.

The band set to work immediately. In fact one of the best things that band did on the entire trip was "set to work." Citizens and visitors fraternized and had a lovely time, washed up, had supper and fraternized some more. Addresses of welcome were made and replies attempted. The speakers assailing the latter job were so full of supper and wonder and appreciation, however, that everything of this kind was cut short.

Rented a Theatre.

The second performance at the moving picture house was never permitted to start. The committee simply told the proprietor that his place was needed for a dance and that was all there was to it. Everybody danced. The music was good but it was figured that it would be improved by the addition of a trombone so one of the visiting bandmen volunteered his services. (Bandmen were always volunteering their services, it seemed.)

Hotel Cleared Out.

Landlord Fred Harmon of the Rex hotel, was right there to look after things. When he found that he was going to be crowded for room he ordered his regulars to find other sleeping quarters so that the guests might be accomodated. No argument was attempted—the pilgrims owned the town.

A Wonderful Boat Trip.

Everyone was ordered to be on hand at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning in order to board the steamer Aguinda, Capt. Baudreau, for a run among the islands in the Lake of the Woods. Oscar Flattner, one of Baudette's irrepressible and untiring boosters, had just returned from a trip covering two nights and a day on the lake in order to get the boat, which was about to be laid up at a Canadian port for the season, owing to lack of further business. This feat, like everything else, was accomplished on time and the start was made as intended.

Any attempt to describe the beauties of the Lake of the Woods will have to be left to Bill Noonon, editor of the Baudette Region. He has been at it for years and has by steady practice arrived at a point where he manages to get along without leaving out more than 98 per cent of the story. The lake is a wonder and some day the fact will be recognized. It is said to contain ten thousand islands, but none of the visitors can vouch for more than 3,417, as only a small part of the total area was traversed. Landings were frequently made and the tourists went bathing, souvenir hunting, berry picking and generally comported themselves like folks on a vacation. And the band played all the time.

Dinner on Shipboard.

As is usual under such conditions, there was a lunch furnished—but what a lunch. Mayor William Hicks was the cook, ably assisted by the previously mentioned Oscar Flattner. All the chickens in the north half of Beltrami county must have been commandeered to make that bouillon. And chicken was only one of the ingredients. Veal, pork, vegetables, spices—in fact everything that a past master in the art of cooking could possibly demand—was included in that delictable repast. It was thick and rich and satisfying and just good.

But this was not all. For fear that some of the visitors might be in the habit of eating a snack between meals a variety of viands had been provided to tide over those who might experience a craving. There was cold and canned meats and fish of every description, cheese, fruit, salad, and tubfulls of lemonade. Bill Noonan was a sort of general factotum and master of ceremonies, imploring everyone to eat and looking broken-hearted when told that for decency's sake one must sometime stop for a short spell. Columns could be written on the subject of that lunch alone without ever reaching past the fourth course.

When the Gang Returned.

Nothing was too good for the Thief River Falls bunch on that trip. Every citizen of Baudette who was not at home preparing for the return of the excursionists was along to see that each little want was supplied. Besides Mayor Hicks and the versatile Mr. Flattner, there was most particularly in evidence C. R. Middleton, spry, hale and hearty, jovial and somewhat flirtatious. Then there was J. A. Kennedy, president of the board of trade, urbane, dignified—but not too much so—realizing fully the responsibilities resting upon him. W. F. Zauche, city clerk, everywhere at once and anxious only that the visitors should want for nothing. Elmer Moorehead, smiling even when the rest of the gang appointed him chore boy, and willing to do anything asked of him and a number of things that no one dared suggest. There were dozens of others, each one trying to make a record in being agreeable—and succeeding.

The Evening Session.

After the band had played some more and the ladies had been permitted to go to the hotel to rest there was a social session for the men at the board of trade rooms. This was a regular old-fashioned visit and lasted until after the meat market and grocery stores had been raided. There seemed to be some fear lest the crowd go to bed hungry. Finally Noonon reported everybody safely stowed away and it is doubtful if anyone had much trouble in getting to sleep.

It was considered best to take a rest before starting back and it was 10 o'clock before the return journey was begun. A few cars had left the main body, but the majority of the visitors remained to see if there was going to be any more to eat. Capt. Middleton said farewell on behalf of his fellow citizens and if he was happy to see the gang depart he certainly did not show it. C. L. Hansen, E. O. Magenson and others told of how glad the bunch was that the trip had been made, etc. The band played some more, Noonan bid a tearful farewell to his particular friend among those present and the greatest community visit in the history of northern Minnesota came to an end with everybody delighted with everything connected in any manner with it.

The Sidelights.

Si Simonson lost a tire. It was a spare tire carried on side of the car or he might have noticed it.

C. L. Hansen had to wait a few hours for a new tire at Roseau on the way back. That's one of the penalties connected with owning a car larger than anyone else in the neighborhood.

Roy Lambert and L. H. Lawrence managed between them to forget a tripod. In order that the finder might have a full equipment The Times' editor forgot his kodak.

The Baudette people are coming to the county fair tomorrow. More concerning this in another column.

Those Who Went.

It is certain that in the enumeration of those making the trip some have been overlooked. An attempt was honestly made to include everybody, but the task was difficult for many reasons. Here they are:

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop, Miss Miriam and Mr. Morlan Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hermanson, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Streeter, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Protzeller, Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Akre, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogenson, Mr. and Mrs. Severn Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Ihle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. BAUDETTE VISITORS COMING 75 STRONG

VISIT FAIR FRIDAY; PREPARATIONS FOR THEIR ENTERTAINMENT.

The volunteer delegation that started out last Saturday to boost for the Pennington county fair must have accomplished something. The people of Baudette stated at the time that they were going to see the show and promised that there would be in the neighborhood of 50 in the party. On Tuesday afternoon they telephoned that they would be here on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock but that instead of 50 excursionists there would be at least 75.

This left it up to those who had enjoyed the hospitality of the border town last Saturday and Sunday to find some means of returning the many kindnesses shown on that occasion, at least in some degree. A meeting was accordingly called at the Commercial club rooms for the purpose of discussing the matter and the opinion was unanimous that the opportunity was one of which full advantage should be taken.

The visitors have sent notifications that they will go to the fair immediately upon their arrival. Friday is the night of the Elks' dance at the auditorium and it was decided that it would be a good plan to take the visitors there after supper. As a committee to see that this part of the program was properly carried out the following were appointed by F. H. Herrick, who acted as chairman; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogenson, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Akre, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lambert, Dr and Mrs. C. R. Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Protzeller.

As the visitors will remain here over Saturday it was considered proper to render them a banquet on the evening of that day. As a committee to look after this function were named H. W. Protzeller, Dr. G. W. Booren, C. L. Hansen, Dr. L. F. Fisher and F. C. Nicini.

The matter of funds was next taken up and a committee appointed to look after this important detail, as follows: C. A. Nason, Willis Akre, Dr. Fisher, Roy Lambert and R. H. Ross.

After the banquet Saturday evening there will be a little stag for the gentlemen of the party, while the ladies will be taken to the theatre. Mrs. L. H. Lawrence was placed in charge of the last-named detail with authority to appoint her own assistants. As a stag party committee the following were named: C. L. Hansen, W. L. Hall, C. A. Nason and C. S. Simonson.

Messrs. Lawrence, Crandall, and G. S. Streeter were appointed to look after the securing of space in the garages for the cars of the visitors and also to see that they were met at some point up the line and escorted to the city. George Loken volunteered to look after the musical end of the program.

This visit is one of much importance to Thief River Falls and particularly to the county fairs that may be held in the future. It is the first delegation of such size that has ever visited the fair from any one town and may well establish a precident that will prove of inestimable value later on. It is certain that anything in the line of entertainment furnished will be greatly appreciated and every business man particularly should be interested in seeing that it is the best of its kind.

RAIL MEN BACK U. S. OWNERSHIP PLAN

LEADERS EXPECT TO FORCE ADOPTION OF "PLUMB PLAN" WITHOUT STRIKE.

As a solution of the railroad problem, the railroad workers of the United States are to begin a big fight at once to force on Congress the acceptance of the "Plumb Plan." The fight will be unrelenting in its intensity.

Leaders of brotherhoods and organized labor generally, are convinced that their plan for the government to buy the railroads and nationalize them on a profit sharing basis with the workers is the only equitable proposal that has been devised and they are girding up for a struggle with capitalism on the issue before congress which promises to be more sensational than the fight for the Adamson eight hour law of 1917.

Over 6,000,000 American citizens and voters, through the organized railway employees of America, composed of 14 railroad internationals, together with the American Federation of Labor, the Nonpartisan league, various farmers' organizations and civic bodies, support the Plumb plan as the only rational solution of the railroad problem.

The brotherhood leaders, who held the watch over congress durin the Adamson law controversy with a nationwide strike club dangling over its head, are in Washington again, and they have served notice on the president, congress and the general public following introduction of the government ownership bill, known as the Plumb plan, and their forces are stronger than ever and can be marshaled into action at the word of command.

Division Jottings.

G. J. Hawes, former resident of this city, now traveling freight auditor for the Soo, came up from Minneapolis the first of the week to attend to matters connected with his position.

G. H. Husby left Monday evening for Minneapolis to interview an eye specialist in regard to his eye which was injured last week. The injury has given him much pain and he has been advised by local doctors to visit a specialist. Mr. Husby expects to be back the fore part of next week.

E. H. Holstrom, Jack Anderson, L. C. Dillon, C. Halbert and Charles Bartlett, all of whom are with the pile driving crew between Detroit and Vergas, passed Sunday in the city, returning in the evening.
